SCULPTURE OF FRIENDSHIP

This steel sculpture, reaching out to all, stands today in Carl Gabrielson Park in Sausalito, a permanent monument to friendship between Sausalito and its sister city, Vina del Mar, Chile. Sergio Castillo, a Chilean artist who has been a guest professor at the University of California at Berkeley for 10 months, completed the two-ton, 22-foot high sculpture yesterday after four months of work. The sculpture was commissioned by Sausalito's People to People sister city committee. (Independent-Journal photo by Jim Kean)

McNear Beach Sale Is Surprise

McNear's Beach and adjacent Peacock Gap Lagoon property was sold today at a foreclosure sale for $1,330,517.08, the minimum bid to satisfy the mortgage holders.

Only the single bid was received at a public sale in the office of Title Insurance and Trust Co. at Mission and Lincoln avenues, San Rafael. It was entered by George William Miller on behalf of the Sixty Trust, which sold the property in 1963 to Jerome Draper Jr.'s Peacock Gap, Inc.

Not bidding was the County of Marin, which has been considering McNear's Beach for a county park. County supervisors learned of the impending sale only yesterday.

Included in the sale were 98 lots and parts of five others, in Peacock Lagoon Unit One and Marin Bay Units One and 2-A.

The partial lots result from resubdivision of the property. The portions of lots not included in today's sale were deeded to New York-Cal Inc., a corporation controlled by Chinn Ho of Honolulu, original developer of Peacock Gapl in an earlier foreclosure.

County Supervisors John F. McInnis and Louis H. Baar conplained yesterday that members of the county staff authorized to investigate possible purchase of McNear's Beach had not advised them of the impending foreclosure sale.

McInnis said Pierre W. Joske, county parks and recreation directors, supposedly had been negotiating for the beach parcel for several months.

"This amazes me," put in Baar. "I sat down with Mr. Joske about two or three months ago, and we found out there was going to be a foreclosure. He was going to follow it up and alert us any time it got close . . .

"We've been talking about buying something and we've fallen asleep."

Joske is attending a convention in Chicago so was not present at yesterday's supervisors meeting to explain what happened.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney and William C. Sullivan of the county public works department advised against any attempt at a last-minute bid for the beach property. Sullivan said he was unable to determine from the description just what lots it embraced.

PENTAGON ALL BUT SETS DRAFT SLASH

Laird Sees Sharp Call Cutbacks As A Result Of Withdrawals From Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird today all but announced that draft calls late this year will be sharply cut as a result of troop withdrawals from South Vietnam. (Another draft story page 2. See editorial column, page 37.)

"The Vietnamization program will have a very significant effect on programmed draft calls for the months immediately ahead," the defense chief told a news conference.

Without saying so specifically, he thus implied that the previously set October draft of 29,000 men may be scaled down and later quotas kept low.

Laird said he expected to advise the Selective Service system of "changes in draft calls" on Friday.

He also signaled the start of a Nixon administration campaign to prod Congress into acting on proposed reforms in the draft such as instituting a lottery system and switching the order of inductions from older age groups to the 19-year category. He said he will testify on the "urgent need" for draft changes this week.

Spokesmen said Daird was referring to an appearance he will make before the House Appropriations Committee.

Laird's comments on the draft came as he detailed the administration's second troop cutback of 35,000 men—technically, 40,500 military space—in Vietnam.

All four services will share in the withdrawal, with the Marines cutting 18,457 spaces with the pullback of the remainder of

RALPH T. SMITH
To U.S. Senate

Successor To Dirksen Announced

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Ralph T. Smith, the 53-year-old speaker of the Illinois House, was named by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie today to fill the Illinois seat in the U.S. Senate left vacant by the death of Sen. Everett M. Dirksen.

Smith, a Republican from Alton, was the expected choice after Atty. Gen. William J. Scott withdrew from the race Monday. Rep. John B. Anderson, R-Ill., of Rockford, also was a strong contender to succeed Dirksen who died Sept. 7 in Washington.

Ogilvie made the announcement in his office. Smith, his wife and Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., were present.

The governor said he telephone President Richard M. Nixon yesterday to tell him of his decision.

"This difficult decision has been given most careful thought and undivided attention for several days. "It is probably the most important decision I will make in four years as governor.'

Smith will fly tomorrow to Washington to take the oath of the interim period until January 1971 when the winner of the 1970 general election will take office. Ogilvie said repeatedly that his appointee would be expected to be the party's candidate in the 1970 election. Smith may face opposition in the March 17 primary.

William H. Rentschler, a Chicago businessman, has already said he will oppose Smith. John Henry Altorfer of Peoria, who sought the Senate appointment from Ogilvie, and Anderson may also contest for the nomination.

The Democrats have two tested vote-getters they may offer as an opponent in November;

Marin Urged To Ax Commissions

Rec, Aviation, Other Bodies Held Surplus

By WAT TAKESHITA

Marin has so many county commissions that some of them such as the aviation and the juvenile delinquency prevention commissions could be merged or phased out, County Administrator Alan Bruce reported yesterday to the Marin County Board of Supervisors. (Other supervisors stories, page 10.)

The administrator also suggested that the supervisors consider dissolving the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission and restrict the activities of the personnel commission and the Marin County Transit District.

Bruce's blunt report was in answer to a request from the supervisor for a full report on the many county commissions and committees and suggestions on how to reduce overlapping and increase effectiveness. The supervisors took Bruce's 10-page report under submission for further study without comment.

Formation of any more commissions should be avoided if possible, said Bruce. If a new body must be formed, "an ad hoc committee, time-limited, often may be preferable to a permanent organization."

In all cases, the policy-making authority should remain with the board of supervisors, the administrator stressed.

His report lists 33 organizations on which members of the board of supervisors serve or which are appointed by the supervisors.

Here are some of the observations made by the administrator:

COMPREHENSIVE HEALTH PLANNING COUNCIL — This Marin group is affiliated with the four-county North Bay Council and the nine-county Bay Area Comprehensive Health Planning Council. "Public funds are wasted in the duplicate staffing and operating costs of these organizations," declared Bruce. "Cur-

15 Marines Due Home Are Killed

SAIGON (AP) — A unit of the Third Marine Division which is being pulled out of Vietnam under President Richard M. Nixon's withdrawal of 35,000 U.S. troops was attacked by a North Vietnamese force today and 15 Americans were killed.

Twenty-three Marines were wounded in the four-hour battle. The enemy lost 23 killed, military spokesmen said.

Further details were not available immediately.

It was also reported nine Americans and seven Vietnamese were killed in war accidents the past four days. Another 17 Vietnamees and 10 Americans were also wounded in the incidents.

Most of the American accidental casualties occurred Saturday when eight men from the First Infantry Division were killed and 10 wounded when an explosive charge they were placing near an artillery base blew up.

The accident occurred 33 miles northwest of Saigon and is being investigated.

A U.S. Marine was killed yesterday six miles south of the demilitarized zone when a helicopter rotor blade hit him. The helicopter was lifting a Marine patrol out after a brief fight.

The 24 South Vietnamese were killed or wounded in an American gunship attack yesterday in the Mekong Delta about 100 miles southwest of Saigon.

The U.S. helicopter gunships had opened fire with rockets and machine guns on suspected enemy troops who turned out to be civilians 18 miles northwest of Bac Lien, a provincial capital.

"The incident is being investigated," a communique said.

The enemy forces supposed to be in the area were never located, and there was no fighting, spokesmen said.

According to the U.S. account, South Vietnamese regional forces were landed in the area by American helicopters after intelligence reports that there were Viet Cong troops there.

Kennedy Note Sparks Row At Haynsworth Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP) — A row broke out at a Senate Judiciary Committee hearing today when Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., insisted his late brother, former Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, had not passed on whether Judge Clement F. Haynsworth should have disqualified himself from ruling in a controversial labor case.

Kennedy said a letter his brother wrote in 1964 expressing "complete confidence" in Haynsworth, nominated by President Richard M. Nixon for the Supreme Court, dealt only with a charge of corruption and bribery and not with the question of ethics and propriety.

Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., the committee chairman, strongly backed by Sens. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., and Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., said it was clear the former attorney general's letter referred to both issues.

"I don't think the attorney general would have made such a statement if he felt Judge Haynsworth was guilty of a conflict-of-interest," said Eastland, adding that Kennedy's letter was saying there was both no criminal violation and no conflict of interest.

"Where is that in the letter?" Kennedy snapped.

"That is the clear meaning," Eastland told him.

Kennedy said there were former Justice Department officials available who could testify about the meaning of his brother's letter.

Kennedy later told a reporter that he was reserving judgment on whether Haynsworth, chief judge of the Fourth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, should have disqualified himself in the Deering-Milliken Inc. case.

The court, in its 3-2 decision in 1963, rejected an unfair labor charge against the textile combine for the shutdown of its Darlington, S.C., plant after the textile workers union won a representation election there.

Haynsworth, who voted with the majority, had a one-seventh interest at the time in a vending machine company that was doing about 3 per cent of its business with Deering-Millikin.

At the outst of today's hearing Haynsworth declined to say whether he agreed with the thrust and direction of the Supreme Court under former Chief Justice Earl Warren.

Haynsworth testified he felt he should keep an open mind on cases he will be called on to decide if confirmed as a Supreme Court justice.

"I wish I could respond more directly," he said, "but I don't see how I could without giving some indication of how I feel cases should be handled."

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., who raised the question at the committee's second day of hear-

Ford Hikes Prices Of 1970 Models By $103

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co., the nation's No. 2 automaker, announced today its 1970 model cars would carry list prices averaging $103 more than current models, a 3.6 per cent increase.

Ford, shooting for a bigger share of the market now held by industry leader General Motors, came up with a price boost smaller than G.M.'s $119, or 3.9 per cent, increase.

The company also said it was holding the line on the price of its fast-selling, little Maverick, which goes for $1,995.

Next to the 1970 Hornet being marketed by American Motors, the Maverick will be the lowest priced American-made auto.

The $103 Ford figure and the $119 G.M. figure are for average list prices, which do not include taxes or dealer handling and delivery charges.

Figuring in the 7 per cent federal excise tax, the Ford price hike comes to $108 compared with $125 for G.M.

Both companies used a formula which weighed car sales volume against prices in computing the average increase.

Figuring a straight average of the increase in list prices the Ford price boost comes to $107.86 and the G.M. increase to $124.14.

The price announcement by Ford came while Ford and G.M. were appearing in Washington before the Federal Trade Commission to defend themselves against charges that the manufacturer's suggested retail price—the sticker price—is misleading since most cars are sold for less than the amount. G.M. yesterday refused to discuss an FTC complaint that its suggested retail prices are a fraud designed to allow "fictitously high trade-in allowances" on used cars.

A Ford executive defended the pricing system as "reasonable and appropriate and neither misleading or deceptive."

House Vote Kills Electoral Change

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House turned down today a plan to award electoral votes to presidential candidates on the basis of congressional districts rather than states.

The 192-159 vote against the district plan boosted then chances of another proposed electoral reform which would abolish the electoral vote system in favor of direct popular elections.

Many members who support the district plan have said they would vote for direct election on final passage if the district plan failed.

Nixon Plans To Seek Hike In Social Security Checks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Richard M. Nixon said today he will ask Congress for an increase of 10 per cent in Social Security payments, effective next April 1.

The President made the announcement, without elaboration, just before he signed a bill extending the federal support program for local projects for older Americans. (See picture page 4)

He said he considered the occasion an appropriate time to make the announcement about Social Security because older Americans are affected substantially by the rising cost of living.

Nixon said he will send the request to Congress next week.

Nixon signed the bill in the Roosevelt Room of the White House with several members of Congress who sponsored the bill watching and receiving the pens Nixon used for his signature.

The bill authorizes a new retired senior volunteer program for individuals over 60 years of age. Such volunteers will be compensated only for transportation, meals and other incidentals out of pocket expenses.

The act also extends the appropriation authorization for the older American project first enacted in 1965 and transfers the foster grandparent program from the Office of Economic Opportunity to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The administration estimates 600,000 persons over 60 have received some form of help from the program. Services include home visits, transportation, counseling and recreation programs.

Law Instructor Is Stabbed In Tam High Parking Lot

A Hastings Law College instructor was stabbed in the stomach last night in a Tamalpais High School parking lot by a youth who wanted his money, Mill Valley police reported.

Norman Dunham Lattin, 47, of 20 South Ridge West, Tiburon, was reported in poor condition today at Marin General Hospital with stab wounds in his stomach.

Police said Lattin and his wife, who had been practicing at the high school's music building, were placing their musical instruments in their car at 10:05 p.m. when a young man approached them and said, "Give me your money or I'll stab you."

Lattin replied, "What is this, a joke", police said, and then the youth stabbed him, turned and ran away.

A four-inch long switchblade knife was found a few feet away from Lattin, police said.

Lattin's wife described the assailant as a Negro in his early 20s, approximately 5 feet 8 inches tall and weighing 140 pounds.

White House Aides Doubt Draft Halt

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House sources express doubt President Richard M. Nixon's executive order on the draft will halt inductions, even temporarily although Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler indicates such a suspension has been considered.

"It doesn't seem to be in the cards," said one source.

Ziegler told newsmen yesterday suspending the draft is among the factors being considered in formulating selective service reforms, but White House aides quickly said such a suspension is not an immediate prospect.

One source expressed surprise at speculation the draft might be suspended temporarily.

He said that although no final decisions have been made, the Nixon order is likely to be limited to reform of administrative procedures such as establishing uniform criteria for handling of deferments by draft boards.

Earlier yesterday, Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, the acting Senate Republican leader, said after a White House meeting "there is a strong disposition to press for draft reform this year."

But he conceded the likelihood of congressional action is slim, and that the administration wants to spotlight the issue to show where the delay is.

The basic draft law runs until June 30, 1971, and there is strong feeling on Capitol Hill that no new legislation will be passed much before then.

The cornerstones of the Nixon program are proposals to reverse the present order of induction so younger men would be called first and to institute a random or lottery method of draft selection.

Ziegler did not indicate yesterday when the executive order on the draft might come, but other sources said it would likely be at least a week or two.

The question of whether a temporary halt in inductions was being considered arose when Ziegler was asked if the President has "given any consideration to outright suspension of the draft for a brief period?"

Ziegler responded:

"That is a question that has been coming up from time to time."

Most Nixon Programs Await Next Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Richard M. Nixon has acknowledged that virtually all his major legislative proposals will be held over by Congress until next year, Republican sources say.

At a lengthy session yesterday with GOP congressional leaders, Nixon put his legislative proposals on a green-light, red-light basis, the sources said.

In the green-light classification were bills the President will press for immediate action. But these generally were measures which Congress must consider this year since they extend programs already operating.

The red light group designated proposals Nixon is said to feel won'tbe acted on until next year—including most of his major recommendations among the measures rated in the red light category.

Postal reform creating a self-sustaining corporation to take over the mails.

Crime-fighting measures including bills on organized crime, illegal gambling, and immunity from prosecution so testimony can be pried from reluctant witnesses.

Among the other Nixon measures already assigned to the red light list are his welfare, manpower and revenue sharing proposals; drug control; mass transit development; unemployment insurance and voting rights version and extension.

Among the bills rated on Nixon's green light program were foreign aid, export control, food stamps, housing, aid for hospital construction, student loans, education aid, obscenity control and coal mine safety.

Nixon also told the leaders he wants action this year to extend the income surtax, and provide tax relief and reform.

Senate Democrats have refused to approve a long term surtax extension without tax reform. The latter issue is now before the Senate Finance Committee.

After nine months in session, Congress has acted on little major legislation. The Senate, for example, has been locked all summer in debate on a single bill, the $20 billion military authorization measure.

'Torch' Protest

SEOUL (AP) — Park Chung-boo wrapped himself in a blanket soaked in gasoline last night, lit it and as he burned shouted condemnation of the constitutional amendment to allow President Chung Hee Park to run for a third term.

Several passers-by saw the 27-year-old man burning in a park and put out the fire. Park, who is no kin to the president, was badly burned.

The National Assembly approved the constitutional amendment Sunday. It will be put before a national referendum in mid-October.

Demos Finally Hammer Together Committee To Watchdog GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic National Committee's new policy council is finally ready for business—and it may provide Hubert H. Humphrey with a platform from which to challenge President Richard M. Nixon's performance.

Humphrey, the party's 1968 defeated presidential nominee and a possible candidate again in 1972, is chairman of the panel assigned to keep vigil on the Republicans.

Sen. Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma, the party chairman, and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, the 1968 nominee for vice president, are vice chairmen of the Democratic policy council, which has been some eight months in the making.

Muskie and even Harris are considered possible 1972 candidates for the Democratic presidential nod.

Harris announced the council's makeup on the eve of a conference of Democratic state chairmen today, and a meeting of the national committee tomorrow.

He appointed 20 Democrats, among them three governors, three senators, three members of the House and two big-city mayors, to the council executive committee.

Harris said 30 prominent Democrats later would be named members at large and six committees which deal with policy and issues in major areas.

He said this would give the Democrats an agenda for the years ahead, and perhaps "a climate of public opinion conducive to Democratic victories" in 1970 and in 1972.

Harris hopes liaison, and general agreement on the issues, would avoid the problem faced by a similar group during the Republican Eisenhower administration when Democratic congressional leaders regarded the council as an intruder.

Sen. Mike Mansfield, the Democratic leader, said he would be glad to work with the new council. "We just have to make up our own minds here, and do what we think is best, because we vote."

Regime's Plans

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Mahmoud Soleiman el Moughrebi, premier of the Libyan revolutionary government, said today that his regime does not plan to nationalize any industry and that one of its main goals is justice for the Palestinian Arabs.

The premier, interviewed in Tripoli by a correspondent of the Milan daily Il Giorno, said his government would not align itself blindly with either Western or Eastern countries. But he indicated U.S. and British bases would be allowed to stay for the time being.

El Moughrebi, 36, a native of Haifa and a former employee of a Western oil company, said the coup d'etat in Libya on Sept. 1 was not inspired by other Arab governments.

"Our revolution is young and it is difficult to say now what our plans will be," he said.

80 Drowned

Continue Sail

ISTANBUL (AP) — Despite Soviet protests, two U.S. destroyers sailed through the Dardanelles today en route to the Black Sea on a four-day cruise.

It was the second visit to the Black ea this year by the Newman Perry and the Norris, both part of the U.S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

When the visit was announced two weeks ago, the Soviet naval attache in Ankara termed it "detrimental to the preservation of peace." A similar visit last year resulted in an official Soviet protest to the Turkish government.

Lodges Protest

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — The Cambodian government said today it has lodged a new "energetic protest" with the U.S. embassy charging "deliberate attacks by American-South Vietnamese forces on Cambodian villages."

The protest note, delivered last Saturday said a number of Cambodian villagers and cattle were killed or wounded in air and ground attacks by the allied forces between Aug. 3 and Sept. 2.

The note demanded compensation and called for "energetic measures to put an end to such unjustified attacks."

ANYONE FOR PENS?

President Richard M. Nixon holds up a pair of pens, offering them to those in attendance after he signed the Older Americans Act Amendments bill in the Roosevelt Room at the White House this morning. SMITH

State Treasurer Adlai Stevenson III and Lt. Gov. Paul Simon.

Smith's appointment maintained the GOP tradition of geographically splitting the Senate seats between Chicago and Downstate Illinois.

Percy is from Wilmette, a North Shore suburb of Chicago. Many GOP leaders argued that the seat held by Dirksen, a resident of Pekin in central Illinois, should go to a Downstate figure.

Alton is near St. Louis, 280 miles southwest of Chicago.

Another factor in Smith's favor was his decision last year to drop out of the race for the GOP nomination for governor and serve as Ogilvie's Downstate campaign manager.

Smith is a native of Granite City where attended grade and high schools. He was graduated from Illinois College in 1937 and received a law degree in 1940 from the University of Washington in St. Louis.

He served four years in the Navy during World War II and settled in Alton in 1946.

He lost his first try for a seat in the Illinois House in 1952 but and has represented the Alton area for 15 years.

Smith became the House majority whip in 1965 and was elected speaker in 1967 and 1969.

He is married to the former Mary Elizabeth Anderson and has one daughter, Sharon Lynne.

positively identified as Viet Cong, a U.S. spokesman said: "It is not a friendly area. They were probably making a move that led the Vietnamese commander to believe they were enemy."

Meanwhile, military sources said South Vietnamese troops will take over the entire defense of Saigon within the next 30 days, freeing a brigade of American paratroopers.

There was speculation that the Third Brigade of the 82nd Airborne Division would be among the troops which President Nixon announced yesterday would be withdrawn from Vietnam by Dec. 15.

The division's other two brigades are at Fort Bragg, N.C. The Third Brigade's three battalions, numbering about 5,000 men, have been guarding the western and northwestern flanks of Saigon. One battalion already has been replaced by South Vietnamese paratroopers and has moved to the north.

Old City Stamp

TOENSBERG, Norway (UPI) —A special stamp will be issued by the post office to honor Toensberg, Norway's oldest city, when it celebrates its 1,100th anniversary in 1971. The stamp will show the city's ancient seal, dating back to the Middle Ages.

Old Jewish Fortress Found In Jerusalem

JERUSALEM (UPI)—A fortress dating back to the end of the period of the First Temple (fifth century B.C.) was discovered by archeologists in Arab Jerusalem, at the foot of the French Hill.

The massive structure, overlooking Jerusalem and commanding the approaches of occupied Arab Nablus, is assumed to have been a fortress during the lifetime of the prophet Jeremiah.

its Third Division. The Army loses 14,263, the Navy 5,239, and the Air Force 2,541.

Only one Marine division will be left in the provinces immediately below the demilitarized zone and Laird said the gap will be filled by South Vietnam's First Division.

The latest reduction also will mean another 20,000-man drop in over-all U.S. military strength, dropping the American force worldwide to about 3.39 million by next July. Combined reductions in armed strength this year now total 150,000.

Laird disclosed that the Joint Chiefs of Staff wanted to proceed more cautiously than other top administration officials, but also sought to discourage the idea that any major arguing was involved in last week's White House deliberations involving the chiefs as well as Gen. Creighton W. Abrams of the command in Vietnam.

"I can assure you it was not a contentious affair in any way," Laird said.

Laird said the military "recommended a substantial figure" but acknowledged it was "not quite as high" as the 35,000 chosen by Nixon.

Asked whether he and Secretary of State William P. Rogers recommended more than 35,000, Laird said their recommendation was "substantially the same" as the Nixon decision.

He denied there was any disagreement among the three on the scope of the latest pull-out.

As for the over-all war situation, Laird said the United States "has not made substantial progress" in the Paris peace talks but has progressed in the Vietnamization program, the effort to make South Vietnam more capable of defending itself.

Laird seemed to expand the so-called Vietnamization program beyond the strictly military aspects. He suggested it also involves strengthening South Vietnam politically and economically and improving that country's police forces as well as the regular military forces.

HEARING

ings, said he was trying to find out of Haynsworth thought the direction of the Warren Court should be reversed or modified.

Instead of trying to put a label himself on the kind of Supreme Court justice he would be, said Haynsworth, it would be better for others who are more objective to decide on the basis of his 12-year record on the Circuit Court.

Hart told him that "certainly in the mind of the man who nominated you Earl Warren was not a strict constructionist" of the nation's laws and asked if Haynsworth considered himself to be a strict constructionist.

Haynsworth replied that he did not know what the term means and did not know that he was a strict constructionist. He said he has not so labeled himself.

Hart asked Haynsworth if he agreed that racially separate schools are not equal and are not constitutional. "I certainly do, sir," Haynsworth replied.

Hart said the Warren court had also held that a criminal defendant, whether rich or poor, has a right to counsel and that if he cannot afford a lawyer, he should be provided with one.

When he asked Haynsworth if he agreed with that, the judge replied that "We've upheld that right again and again in my court."

Kennedy said that it would be helpful to him to have some kind of expression from Haynsworth about what he feels to be the root causes of the alienation of youth and minority groups.

Haynsworth told him that "these things are coming before my court now" and he had written opinions on them, adding he didn't think he could be more specific on what he might do on the Supreme Court.

U.S. Industrial Output Drops

WASHINGTON (AP) — Industrial output in the United States dropped slightly during August, the Federal Reserve Board says.

The index of production—based on 1957-59 output of 100—went from 174.6 in July to 174.3 in August, the board said yesterday. The drop was cautiously hailed as an indication the government's fight against inflation is beginning to take hold.

Tempering the relief, however, was the announcement that the one sector of the economy which the government is trying to boost — housing — also dropped.

The Commerce Department said private housing starts were down again in August, continuing a decline that began in January.

About 57,000 tons of steel went into the Empire State Building.

rently, there is no established relationship with the Association of Bay Area Governments; no elected bodies will be making policy decisions as to expenditure of public funds . . . it may be advisable to include urgency legislation to restore reponsible elected local authority."

TRANSIT DISTRICT — As operational responsibilities are assumed by the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, "it would be reasonable to assume that the Marin County Transit District could pass into essentially a caretaker status, with staff reduced to a minimum."

AVIATION COMMISSION — "This commission served a useful role in the formative stages of the county airport (Gnoss Field), before skilled staff was employed. However, the commission now tends primarily to be a special purpose lobby . . . It is suggested that consideration be given to phasing out of the aviation commission . . . It is suggested respectfully that an aircraft owners association or airport users association or the like, per the Marin Property Owners Association or other effective private organizations, would be more direct and less likely to result in confusion between public and private interests."

JUVENILE COMMISSION — The Juvenile Delinquency Prevention Commission has held numerous meetings for two years "without tangible accomplishment." Bruce adds: "No recommendations are made concerning the juvenile justice commission, since it lies outside the authority of the supervisors. As to the juvenile delinquency prevention commission and the youth commission, it is suggested that the former be dissolved and its functions transferred to the youth commission."

PARKS AND RECREATION — "This commission served effectively during the formative period before a Department of Parks and Recreation was created and staffed. However, the current net usefulness of this commission is questionable . . . It probably constitutes a net drain, and consideration of dissolution may be in order."

PERSONNEL COMMISSION — "It is suggested that the functions of the commission be limited to quasi-judicial hearings and determinations under the merit system ordinance, rules and regulations." The administrator suggests that monthly meetings be discontinued, with the commission meeting only as necessary to hold hearings.

EMERGENCY MEDICAL CARE COMMITTEE — This seven-member committee is required by federal and state law. "To date the committee appears to have been dominated by two members, and has tended to be a vehicle for pursuit of their personal interests." The administrator suggests that the supervisors make new appointments or reappointments and set two-year terms instead of the present indefinite terms. "It is further suggested that the membership be reconstituted to give greater weight to consumers or potential consumers of emergency medical care services, rather than vendors or providers." Another alternative would be to dissolve the emergency medical care committee and designate the health planning council to carry on its functions."

Plea For Sausalito Fill Wins Favor

Sausalito City Council last night by a 3-2 vote recommended approval of Sausalito Yacht Harbor's plan to fill 34,600 square feet of tidelands at Humboldt and Johnson streets.

The city's recommendation will go to the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission, the final authority on bay fill.

The council voted after an hour of debate during which the area proposed for filling was described as an eyesore and "an absolute mess."

Mayor Earl F. Dunphy and Councilmen Alexander R. Imlay and Robin Sweeny voted for approval while Jan Paul Dyk and Wyman Hicks dissented.

Dyk said it wouldn't be appropriate to approve the fill since the city hasn't adopted a central waterfront plan.

J. H. Madden, the applicant, said the area "was good for nothing" unless it was filled, but conceded that he had no immediate plans for use of the land and wanted permission at this time largely because he has a chance to obtain fill.

Planning Director H. Eric Borgwardt said the area was muddy and contained debris, was by "no means true open space," and was "for practical purposes filled at this time."

Hicks felt that filling now would be premature, and said "there's six feet of water there a good part of the day."

City Mgr. George M. Patterson said: "You can't swim in it, boat in it, or use it for a yacht harbor. It's an absolute mess."

Borgwart said the filling would be in harmony with the Central Waterfront Plan recommended by the city planning commission.

The council also recommended to BCDC that Madden be required to provide public access to open water by dedicating and constructing a 10-foot wide public walkway on the waterfront.

FALL CLEANUP PLANS READY IN SAUSALITO

Sausalito City Council announced last night that there will be a free cleanup collection of debris in the city Oct. 6 through 10.

The service will be provided to customers on their regular pickup day, reported City Mgr. George M. Patterson.

There is a limit of three cubic yards per customer, the equivalent of 21 normal garbage cans, he said.

Clippings should be short in length and tied and out at the curb.

4-H Council Readies Barbecue On Coast

The Marin County 4-H Council will offer a chicken barbeque dinner from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday at the Red Barn in Point Reyes Station. Square dancing and game booths will be featured.

Tickets may be purchased at the gate.

Planner's Resignation Note Nettles Council Member

Sausalito City Councilman Wyman Hicks last night rapped outgoing Planning Commissioner Murray Smith for "improper and appropriate comments" in his letter of resignation.

Smith said he was moving from Sausalito because of the "situation" in the Sausalito School District, an integregated district.

He charged that the "basic attribute of the system which made it attractive is being destroyed, and the residential fabric of Sausalito may well be going down with it."

Hicks objected to a planning commissioner "gratuitously" commenting on the Sausliito School District. He said he hoped the mayor would find a black man to succeed Smith "so there would be someone from the other group to discuss these problems with."

Councilman Robin Sweeny said she saw "no reason to chide" Smith for expressing what he felt was a problem, that could have an effect on Sausalito's future.

Mayor Earl F. Dunphy cut short the comments about Smith. Councilmen voted to accept Smith's resignation effective Oct. 15, after City Atty. Leland H. Jordan reported that a planning commissioner can live outside the city.

The council also appointed Thomas H. Gildersleeve of 120 Crescent Avenue, to the planning commission to succeed Richard L. Whitaker, who resigned.

Gildersleeve is a staff assistant with the organization and finance control, Exploration Department, Standard Oil Co. of California in San Francisco. He will complete Whitaker's term which expires May 1971.

Shuttle Bus Eyed As Traffic Jam Solution

Sausalito City Council last night again looked at parking at the north end of the city to alleviate downtown traffic congestion.

Councilman Wyman Hicks suggested that the city sound out the Marin City Transit Co. on the possibility of providing shuttle service from the north end to downtown.

Downtown traffic congestion was under consideration when councilmen reviewed a plan by Public Works Director Norman Wohlschlaeger, for revising parking regulations along Bridgeway from Princess Street to El Portal.

Hicks said the city should concentrate on moving traffic into the city from the north, and that Marin City Transit Co. might be able to provide a parking lot there and operate the shuttle service.

Councilmen authorized City Mgr. George Patterson to check with the Marin City Transit Co. on the possibilities.

The council also adopted an ordinance setting bond proposals on the ballot Nov. 4, as 85,000 for fire station additions, $80,000 to purchase the police station building and adjacent property, and $65,000 to construct a new Tiffany Beach.

Councilmen are scheduled to attend a meeting at 8 p.m. today at city hall of persons interested in forming a bond committee to push for passage of the bonds.

Dunphy announced that absentee ballots for the election will be available at the Marin County elections office Oct. 6 and must be returned by Oct. 28.

The council authorized Patterson to negotiate with Eastman-Ravizza Agency, Sausalito real estate broker, on purchase of the police building at Johnson and Caledonia streets, now vented by the city, pending successful passage of the bondmeasure.

The Sausalito City Council Also:

PRINCESS PARK — Rejected the lone bid for construction of Princess Park, from Blailfy and Collishan, for $63,333, as compared to $26,000 budgeted for the job, and decided to rebid with the project broken down into major segments.

BAYSIDE PARK — Postponed until next spring, any action toward establishing a park on three-quarters of an acre in the Bayside School area, activities for all ages and a picnic and barbecue area.

TRUCK SIZE — Opposed a federal bill that would increase truck weight and size limitations on the U.S. Interstate Highway system, as detrimental to city streets.

CITY-COUNTY — Authorized a letter to the Marin County Board of Supervisors requesting it to follow through on suggestions by the Marin City-County Services Committee to correct inequities resulting from county taxation of municipal residents for fire and police services outside cities.

FIRE CADETS — Received a report from Fire Chief C. E. Masten on the 1969 Fire Cadet program under which three youths were given employment and training.

LATE CLAIM — Denied a bid by Robert K. Childs of 738 12th Avenue, San Francisco, to file a late claim for $50,000 for injuries he suffered Oct. 1, 1968, when his motorcycle flipped on Bridgeway near Olive Street, allegedly because of a hole in the pavement.

CLAIMS DENIED — Denied a claim by Mrs. A. B. Carr of 119 Cloudview Road, Sausalito for $39.45 damage to her car she said was caused by hitting a tow rope while trees were being cut down at Fire Station No. 2, and a claim from Thomas Hedrick of Box 431, Sausalito, for $239 in damage to his car, allegedly when it was struck by the city street sweeper at Spring Street and Bridgeway, Aug. 29.

SIDEWALK — Ordered construction of a sidewalk on the west side of Bridgeway, south of Pine Street, for about half a block, to the Standard Oil service station.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned until 8 p.m. tomorrow at city hall for its first hearing on the Central Waterfront Plan, with the next regularly scheduled session at 8 p.m. Oct. 7.

Gift Ruling Aids Baker Fee Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge—in a ruling the government hopes will strengthen its case against former Senate Democratic secretary Bobby Baker—has ordered a former Agriculture Department official to turn over some $40,000 in "secret gifts and gratuities" to the government.

U.S. District Court Judge Oren R. Lewis ordered Melville A. Drisko, former director of the Foreign Agriculture Service, to turn back $40,564 in gifts and cash he received from a salad oil manufacturer while in office.

U.S. attorneys who have a case pending against Baker say Judge Lewis' ruling may help them recover from the former secretary of the Democratic majority an "unknown" amount of private fees he allegedly collected for selling his influence while in office.

Collegiate Press Faces Crackdown

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A proposal for tighter control of California state college campus newspapers was circulating today among administration, faculty and student leaders in the 19-campus system.

The 10-page report from Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke's office recommends "that the chancellor direct all campuses that have official student publications to establish strong student publication boards to guard against misuse of the principle of freedom of the press."

The recommendation also says that "problems relating to content, control and financing" of student publications "are best solved at the local level."

It commented that criticism of content "involves the use of four-letter words, nude photographs, articles and-or phrases offensive to particular groups—religious, ethnic, patriotic, etc."

Criticism included "biased political reporting, and lack of balance in subject matter — criticism and concern in this area usually refers to full pages or issues devoted in large part to minority groups," the report said.

The document from the colleges' Los Angeles headquarters was sent to college presidents and faculty and student leaders earlier this month. It is scheduled for discussion at the college trustees' meeting Sept. 23 and 24, with action possible in October.

A study of student publication also is being made at the University of California.

The state college proposal recommends that campus administrators as well as faculty and students serve on publications boards at all campuses. At present, at least seven campuses have publications boards with no administrators represented.

One campus newspaper, the San Francisco State College Gater, has been suspended by President S. I. Hayakawa of Mill Valley, because of controversy over alleged misuse of student funds, especially during a lengthy student strike. The Gater continues to publish, financed by advertising revenue and donations.

The report was prepared by the statewide dean of students' office.

CALIFORNIA'S VOTERS LEAN MORE RIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Conservatism is on the rise among California voters, according to the California Poll. Pollster Mervin D. Field said yesterday 59 per cent of the state's registered Republicans identify themselves as "conservative" in 1969, compared with 47 per cent in 1964.

The trend also held among traditionally liberal Democrats, as 30 per cent identified themselves as conservative in 1969, compared with 22 per cent in 1964.

The poll showed that among all voters in the state, there has been a 10 per cent overall increase in those claiming to be conservative.

In 1964, 32 per cent of all voters said they were conservative compared with 42 per cent in 1969. Twenty-eight per cent of the state's voters in 1964 said they were liberal, compared with 24 per cent in 1969-a decrease of 4 per cent. Field said the conservative gain was largest in Southern California.

The first French nuclear test explosion occurred Feb. 13, 1960, in the Sahara Desert.

Reagan Eyes Mafia Links In California

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan says he would like to know if the Mafia has made inroads in California.

He told his news conference yesterday there "have been hints in recent months" from Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch' office and elsewhere that Mafia activity has increased in California.

"I want to know more about it," he said.

His comments came in response to questions about Look Magazine's article alleging that San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto had alliances with Mafia leaders — a charge Alioto denied.

Lynch said he would be glad to supply Reagan with his investigative reports. "We have a lot of confidential information," he told a reporter. "We would be happy to give it to the governor any time he wants it."

Earlier this year, Lynch's office reported "the existence of organized crime in this state is beyond dispute." A special crime fighting unit reached the conclusion after an investigation that included "Mafia type activity" and other facets of "the organized crime concept."

Reagan Economy Plan Brings Burton Threat

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan says more than $200 million in new state construction may be postponed as an antiinflation move, leading a Democratic Assemblyman to suggest a statewide general strike in protest.

Meanwhile, however, the state yesterday thawed the freeze it had imposed Sept. 4 on already-planned construction projects whose bids had been called for. Some $3.84 million in urgently needed road building was awarded, mainly for flood repairs, traffic safety work and maintenance on winter-threatened roads.

A total of $78 million in pending contracts had been held up after President Richard M. Nixon announced he was defering 75 per cent of new federal construction and asked governors to follow suit in the war against inflation.

Reagan quickly assented, and then at his first regular Capitol news conference in six weeks yesterday announced "more than $200 million" in new state construction may be put off as California's contribution.

That led to a news release from Assemblyman John L. Burton, D-San Francisco, president of the California Democratic Council.

He endorsed a proposal for a one-day general strike of California labor union members, which he said originally came from the State Building and Construction Trades Council.

"The dramatic impact of a general strike is the best weapon the working people have against this cutback which could cripple the construction industry," Burton declared.

The Democratic volunteer group leader said "It is typical of the Republican economic program to let the rich get richer, the poor get poorer, while the working man is forced on to unemployment."

But Reagan told his news conference that "we will watch very carefully" any cutbacks which was imposed.

He did not specify which projects would be put off, saying that will depend on where the federal government reins in. "We can and will act to implement our program as soon as we are informed of the federal cutbacks."

Novato Tries To Cut Cost Of Park Pool

Novato City Council last night instructed the parks and recreation staff to work with the landscape architect and the bidder to cut the cost of the spray pool and small boat lagoon at Pioneer Memorial Park to $33,000.

The 4-1 vote, with Mayor Harley McAskill against, came after a discussion by the council and the parks and recreation advisory commission in a joint meeting.

On Aug. 3 the council rejected the only bid, that of Colleshaw Sprinkler Co. of Santa Rosa of $53,333 to construct the pool and lagoon.

The council accepted the advisory commission proposal that asphalt walks, benches around the lagoon and concrete bottom be eliminated. The bottom of the lagoon would be dirt.

Councilman Babe Silva said that the city would lose a lot of water with a dirt bottom in the 40-by-150-foot lagoon. He said it might cost more to buy water for it than to concrete the bottom.

David Price Jones, president of the Novato Civic Foundation said that perhaps the foundation could get the concrete bottom put into the lagoon. He observed that the foundation has obtained approximately $80,000 in work on the park compared to city spending of $13,000.

Novato Proposes Bond Issue To Gain A Park

The Novato City Council tentatively agreed last night to put to the voters a bond issue of $1.5 million or $2 million for a major park.

It instructed the city parks and recreation advisory commission to come up with the exact cost of land and development.

The council also asked the commission to get a sampling of public support of a bond issue before the council takes the final step of placing it on the ballot.

Edward W. Adams, parks and recreation director, presented three possible sites for a major city park. They were the 35-acre Pinheiro property west of Highway 101 and north of Olive Avenue, the 45-acre Sil Olivia property north of Novato Bouleavard and west of Wilson Avenue and the 67-acre O'Hair ranch at Novato Boulevard and Sutro Avenue, opposite San Marin High School.

Adams estimated the cost of the Pinheiro property at $225,000. Councilmen J. Wayne Womack and Babe Silva said that when the city considered that site for a civic center several years ago, the asking price was $750,000. Adams also estimated the cost of the Olivia site at $300,000. Womack said that the asking price on that land is $10,000 per acre.

The O'Hair ranch has been offered to the city for $500,000 by Tankersley Realty.

The commission had estimated $1,495,000 for park development including $120,000 for the completion of Pioneer Memorial Park and $225,000 for land acquisition and development of a park containing a swimming pool, baseball diamonds, tennis courts, children's play areas and a community center.

THE ONE ON THE LEFT IS A NO-NO

Some neighbors don't think much of the new two-story home (left) which architect Brockhurst C. Eustice built himself in Arlington, Va. So they got a court order yesterday telling Eustice to tear down or haul away the starkly modern structure which cost him $20,000. They cited a covenant attached to the deed saying no home shall be "inharmonious" with the suburban type ramblers. The judge granted a 60 to 90 day stay to lessen Eustice's hardship. (AP Wirephoto)

New American Type Is Emerging Abroad

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "The oblivious American" abroad is on his way out, the head of Eastman Kodak told the International Industrial Conference here today.

The attitude of the American businessmen working overseas that he doesn't have to learn the language of the country is becoming a thing of the past, Eastman board chairman William S. Vaughn told the five-day gathering of 700 business leaders from 70 countries at the Fairmont Hotel.

The investments of American firms abroad may pass the $100 billion mark this year, he said, and much of this is going into manufacturing plants instead of the traditional extractive industries.

This means a new emphasis on people, he said.

"In my opinion, the most compelling opportunities for 'closing the world's income gap' (theme of this conference) lie not in the direction of development of natural resources or of new technology—though both of these are important, of course.

"But the most fruitful progress can be made simply by going after a greater return on the investment in the human resource, the one that is now coming to be identified as the most expensive and yet potentially the most productive of all economic resources."

The oblivious American, he said is like "the Italian who does not expect to find opera west of Lincoln Center, the German who does not expect to find a museum west of Fifth Avenue ... and the Frenchman who does not expect to find a good meal anywhere in this country."

American firms expanding overseas in the past have tended to "take on 10-year projects, assign them five-year timetables, and staff them with two-year people," he said, adding that this must be changed.

He pointed to his own firm's experience in setting up a new plant in Guadalajara, Mexico, to make photographic film.

Eastman engineers going there must learn the language and be prepared to stay until they work themselves out of a job by teaching Mexicans to do it, he said. The premium is on flexibility.

Novatan May Go To Youth Court

The case of Valient Gale Nims III, 18, of Novato was referred yesterday to probation officers for a report on whether he can be tried in Marin Juvenile Court.

The youth is accused of possessing marijuana, being in a place where narcotics were used and contributing to the delinquency of a minor. He was arrested with two juvenile girls in a car in a parking lot Sunday in Novato.

He was to return to Marin Municipal Court Sept. 30.

Pro-Seale Protesters Arrested By Marshal

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Nine demonstrators protesting the apparent disappearance of Black Panther leader Bobby Seale have been arrested.

The nine were arrested by police yesterday when they refused to leave the office of George Tobin, of Mill Valley, U.S. Marshal for Northern California.

The Revs. Cecil Williams of Glide Memorial Church and Eugene Boyle of Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church had led a group of 25 to the marshal's office. But the priests and all but nine of demonstrators had left the office when the arrests were made.

The protestors wanted to know the whereabouts of Seale. The Panther leader was taken from his cell in San Francisco city prison last Friday and has since been en route to Chicago by car, in the custody of federal agents. But officials at his presumed destination — Cook County Jail — said Seale still had not arrived.

Tobin refused to divulge Seale's whereabouts for "security" reasons. He denied the demonstrators' accusations that Seale had been shuttled from San Francisco secretly.

Federal authorities said Friday they were taking him to Chicago to face trial there Sept. 24 on charges of conspiring to incite a riot during the Democratic convention.

Seale was being held in San Francisco after being arrested on a warrant issued by a U.S. Commissioner in Connecticut. He was awaiting extradition to the New England state on charges he murdered and conspired to murder a Black Panther member in New Haven.

Attack On Skyscrapers By Marinite

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—San Francisco's skyline is being ruined by skyscrapers, according to the chairman of the San Francisco Planning and Urban Renewal Association.

William M. Roth, of Ross, made the statement yesterday — as reports circulated that U.S. Steel Corp. is considering a waterfront building which would be higher than the towers of the Bay Bridge.

Roth told a board meeting the city's zoning code should be restudied. He said there is no need to give concessions to big business that could only hurt the city.

"The city mustn't scream with delight, fall down and roll over each time money comes into the city with yet another outrageous insult to our sensibilities," Roth said.

He told the committee concrete giants like the Federal Building, the buildings of the Rockefeller Embarcadero Center and the new Trans-America pyramid are threatening to overpower much of the city and its hills.

Meanwhile, the San Francisco Examiner quoted "informed sources" as saying U.S. Steel was considering a building of 40 to 50 stories in the pier section of the San Francisco waterfront.

Tentative plans call for a building 30 feet above the 470-foot high point of the Bay Bridge, the Examiner said. It would be the first high rise construction on the waterfront pier area.

Crash Injures Mill Valley Pair

Two Mill Valley residents were injured yesterday when their motorcycle hit a car on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Inverness, the California Highway Patrol said.

Treated at Marin General Hospital for bruises and cuts on his chin, left knee and thigh was Perry Graham Fly, 26, of 275 Molino Avenue. His passenger, Barbara Cohen, 25, same address was treated for bruises on her left knee.

The patrol said their motorcycle hit a car driven by Sonja Vera Plant, 42, of Concord, at Inverness Way at 3:05 p.m.

Mrs. Plant was cited for failure to yield to oncoming traffic while making a turn and Fly was cited for speeding, the patrol said.

Rome Athletes Threatened In North Ireland Tension

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Northern Ireland's religious and political warfare spread to the sports arena today. Police put a visiting Italian soccer team under guard after it received a threat that it "will never reach home."

The threat was in a letter sent to a newspaper and signed by a person who identified himself as a captain in the outlawed Protestant "Ulster Volunteer Force."

It was leveled against Roma, a team scheduled to play a winners' cup match this afternoon and return to Italy tomorrow.

A downpour of rain and a new wait-and-see policy by British troops was delaying the removal of Belfast's street barricades, which were thrown up by Roman Catholics to keep Protestants out of their neighborhoods following last month's riots.

Residents cooperated with soldiers taking down barricades for part of the day yesterday, but some of the barriers were rebuilt almost immediately. By the end of the day only seven had been dismantled, and several hundred remained in various parts of the city.

The army reached an agreement last night with the Citizens' Defense Committee, which claims to speak for 75,000 Catholics, on a plan for voluntary, phased removal of the barricades by noon Friday. But the plan could hit snags.

Final acceptance of the plan depends on another meeting tonight at which the committee will examine army plans for protection against snipers. Any new eruption of violence could compromise the plan.

The army made most of its progress yesterday during the day while most men were at work. After they returned home and the committee began to assert its authority, the mood grew more tense.

An army spokesman said today that the army had decided to stand back at this stage, but had a bulldozer available if anyone wanted it.

Two rivers and at least four creeks in California are named "Bear."

Interest Conflict Just 'Ridiculous'

By MARY LEYDECKER

The San Anselmo councilman who was reported by Councilman Robert M. Scott to have a "possible conflict of interest" turned out last night to be himself.

Prior to last night's city council meeting, Scott had asked only to have a cryptic notice of the topic on the agenda, not identifying which councilman he intended to discuss.

Last night he explained that the possible conflict may lie in his wife's job as a part-time librarian with the San Anselmo Public Library.

In a written statement which he read aloud, Scott said on Sept. 7 he had learned that someone recently had asked City Atty. John G. Buresh whether Scott might have a conflict of interest because of this.

Although Scott said last night that he found "it difficult to believe that anyone can seriously contend that these facts constitute a conflict of interest," he did note that Buresh said the law was not clear on the subject.

"I have noted upon four annual city budgets in which have been included items for payment of salaries of city employees," he said.

He explained that his wife had been hired before he went on the council and that pay raises received by her were the same as all city employees were given.

Scott's fellow councilmen, who have often disagreed with him on many topics, rushed to his defense last night, Duane C. Ragan terming the accusation "ridiculous."

"In a small city there is much interconnection," Councilman James F. Reed added, "and Irma Scott is a very competent librarian."

Scott said that "in bargaining for a pleasant job amongst the books she loves, she has no desire to star in some political bickering no matter how baseless or far-fetched it might be."

Buresh declined to give a legal opinion without additional research but said that his "curbstone opinion" was that Mrs. Scott's job does represent a conflict of interest.

Scott, who said he was entering a hospital today for surgery, said that he would have "a positive statement to make" after he comes out of the hospital about whether he will run again next year or will resign.

Earlier this year, Scott brought anonymous charges to the council against Charles R. Leitzell, city public works director, who was accused of using city employees to put in a driveway at his home.

Leitzell was cleared of the charges and a public apology made to him.

Way Found To Bypass Funds To Coffee House

The San Anselmo City Council last night finally found a way to encourage teen-age activities without giving money directly to the much-discussed Third Rail coffee house, a teen center housed in a church basement.

Dumping the whole matter into the lap of the parks and recreation commission, the council unanimously agreed to let the commissioners spend $1,000 on various teen-age activities.

Earlier, City Atty. John G. Buresh had said that it would be illegal to comply with a request for $500 from the Third Rail, since it is "under the apparent sponsorship" of the First Presbyterian Church.

Several councilmen had not shown much enthusiasm for donating money to the coffee house, anyway, and Councilman Robert M. Scott had in the past accused the group's director, Norman Leach, of favoring the legalization of marijuana.

Leach had then responded that he had not advocated use of marijuana and that drugs are not used at the Third Rail.

Buresh explained last night that it will be legal for the commission to co-sponsor activities with the Third Rail or other teen-age groups, donating money for special activities and retaining some control over them.

Leach, who was present last night but did not speak, was described by Councilman James F. Reed as being agreeable to this arrangement, which had been approved Monday night by the parks and recreation commission. It was erroneously reported in yesterday's Independent Journal that the commission favored granting $500 to the Third Rail.

Although Mayor Woodrow V. Capurro suggested the city council should have the final say on divvying up the $1,000 already budgeted, the council voted unanimously to turn the whole matter over to the commission.

The San Anselmo City Council Also:

FLOOD CONTROL — Voted to donate $500 to a study to be made for alternate plans to the Corte Madera Creek flood control Project designs for the town of Ross since San Anselmo will tie in with the Ross system.

CONSULTANT — Voted to hire the firm of Williams and Mocine for $1,000 to prepare a reconnaissance report and application for federal funds for the proposed "701" planning study.

MINIBOARD — Appointed Dr. Martin G. Blinder to a vacancy on the Human Rights Commission miniboard, noting that one vacancy still exists.

ZONES — Introduced an ordinance changing zoning at 58 and 72 Magnolia Avenue from single family to neighborhood apartment classification.

Fear Is Voiced Over Earthquake School Standards

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Unless San Francisco spends an estimated $150 million to improve its schools up to state earthquake standards, the San Francisco Board of Education will have to close at least 54 schools by 1975.

The board was given those gloomy statistics last night by its attorney and administrators.

Attorney Irving Breyer said the district must ask the voters by mid-1970 to approve a bond issue financing the improvements, pass a tax increase or vote to abandon the schools.

He said the state Education Code requires a district plan by next January for bringing all buildings up to state earthquake standards. An election must be held within six months on methods of financing the modernization.

Forms Ready For Spring Semester

Application forms for admittance to Sonoma State College for the spring semester will be available Monday, according to Harold J. Soeters, dean of admissions and records.

Applications will be accepted at the admissions office on Oct. 1. The college will accept 50 first time freshmen, 750 upper division transfers and 170 graduate students.

Applicants will be largely limited to legal residents of Sonoma, Marin, Mendocino, Lake, Napa and Solano counties with only 4 per cent coming from outside the college service area. Selection will be on a first come, first served basis.

Marin To Ask For Erosion Controls At Righetti Ranch

Marin County can not stop logging in the Ethel Righetti Ranch along Bolinas Ridge, but it intends to press for erosion control and fire safety regulations, the Marin County Board of Supervisors declared yesterday.

On a motion by Peter Arrigoni Jr., supervisors continued for a week its hearing to determine whether the logging operations by Matthews, Humbert and Walker Timber Co. constitute a public nuisance.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said that in his opinion, logging can not be considered a public nuisance if the firm complies with safety conditions laid down by County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost. These include the clearing and piling of slash, and new water courses to be constructed to prevent debris from washing down. The accumulated slash will be burned by next spring under the direction of the county fire chief.

Logging has stopped in the canyon areas but is continuing on the ridges, Frost reported. He said the loggers are complying with all conditions agreed upon last month.

Arrigoni demanded that the agreement with the loggers be refined, and that a provision be added to control erosion.

Supervisors asked Frost to work out amendments to the agreement and come back next Tuesday with a precise document outlining all the conditions to be met by the loggers.

The loggers' attorney, Albert Bianchi, assured supervisors the logging firm is willing to work out further conditions, but stated that the county has no legal right to impose the conditions.

Douglas Ferguson, attorney for Nature Conservancy, declared flatly that the county "has the power and the duty to proceed immediately to abate the logging operations." Nature Conservancy owns property downslope of the Righetti Ranch.

Harold E. Gregg, president of the Marin Conservation League, warned "there would be hell to pay" if logging continued in the canyons and the winter rains began pouring earth and debris down the slopes.

On a motion by Arrigoni, supervisors also asked the Marin County Soil Conservation District for an immediate study of the erosion problems at Righetti Ranch.

Resolution To Nixon On Seashore Purchase

A formal resolution urging the Nixon administration to press for immediate purchase of all of Point Reyes National Seashore won the unanimous vote yesterday of the Marin County Board of Supervisors on a motion by Peter Arrigoni Jr.

Supervisors also approved a letter to be sent to other public agencies in the Bay Area to join the fight for purchase of the 54,000-acre Seashore before private holdings are sold off for subdivision.

Since the national seashore was authorized in 1962, the government has bought only 22,540 acres out of the total 53,480 acres of the Seashore boundary.

RESURFACING — Awarded a $45,117 contract to Forde Construction Co. of Novato resurface various roads in the county. Fords submitted the lowest of five bids.

INCOMPLETE HOUSE — Gave Jack Tefft of 23 Lomita Drive, Mill Valley, until Nov. 18 to complete at least the exterior of a house he is building, and clean up the debris. "If it isn't cleaned up by then, I'm going to move for abatement," said Michael Wornum.

BOARD OF APPEALS — Reappointed O. E. Dehnert as plumbing representative to the county's building code appeals board for another four-year term.

CABLE TV — Delayed a decision on a request by Storer Cable TV of Sonoma County for a franchise to operate cable television services in West Marin. Supervisors Louis H. Baar said he wants time to notify residents of West Marin and sound out their opinions. The Sonoma firm is operated by Edmond Iacopi of Petaluma. The firm is headed by George B. Storer Sr. (no relation to former supervisor Thomas T. Storer) of Miami, Fla.

RICHARDSON FILL — Rejected by unanimous vote a request by Adam Jackson to raise the level of his auto wrecking yard on George Kappas' property near Bolinas Street at Waldo Point. Jackson said the yard floods at high tide.

McInnis said he is County faces critical needs in highway improvement. Chair- concerned about a policy of cutbacks announced by both President Nixon and Reagan.

RAPE CASE — Asked the county administrator to contact Dr. Donovan O. Cooke, county medical officer, to see why a Novato rape victim had to wait several hours before she was examined and treated Monday morning. Supervisor William A. Gnoss said the present misunderstanding on who is responsible for such examination should be straightened out.

FLOOD CONTROL — Asked the county administrator for a status report on phase three of the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control project, from Lagunitas Bridge in Ross to the San Anselmo city limits. Arrigoni said the Town of Ross is justifiably concerned about pnase three, which traverses Ross.

OUTDOOR EDUCATION — Named Michael Wornum as supervisors' representative to the newly formed board of directors of the Outdoor Education Grant Progam sponsored by Mill Valley.

MENTAL HEALTH — Reappointed Julia Bloomfield, Peter Palmer and Jack Williams to another term of three years on the Marin Mental Health Advisory Board. Supervisors postponed naming a successor to a fourth member of the advisory board, Dr. Gerald Hill, who declined reappointment.

STATE BOARD — Recommended to Reagan that Sally Ryan of San Rafael be named to the Sonoma State Hospital Mental Retardation Advisory Board, and Mrs. James A. Rowen of San Rafael to the Napa State Hospital Advisory Board.

GRIEVANCE — Overruled the county personnel commission and declined to move the salary of Frances Jennings, a senior typist in the health department, to a higher range. Mrs. Jennings' job was reclassified during budget proceedings, leaving her at a lower salary than if the position had not been reclassified. The board recommended changes in the county code to deal with this type of a situation in the future.

EMPLOYEE — Approved transfer of $646 from reserves to cover increased salary of Frederick M. Latty, supervisor of field services in the probation department. Latty, who will now be paid $1,225 per month, appealed when his salary range went unchanged during budget discussions.

TEST FEES — Voted to raise to $10 the nightly standby fee for technicians from Marin Medical Laboratories who conduct blood-alcohol tests for law enforcement agencies. The laboratories, whose technicians are now paid $5 for weekend standby and $10 for weekdays, sought an across-the-board boost to $15. The board asked county staff to find out whether Marin General Hospital personnel could conduct the tests.

CLAIM — Rejected a late claim for $300,000 damages by Joan Seebach of Novato, injured in an auto accident in Novato on Aug. 30, 1968. She asserts that a construction vehicle was blocking the road.

STREET — Accepted dedication of Lorraine Avenue in Point Reyes Station.

SIGNAL — Awarded a $4,350 contract to R. Flatland Co. of San Francisco for traffic signal modifications on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Bon Air Road in Greenbrae.

NO PARKING — Voted to prohibit parking on Miller Creek Road near the Highway 101 ramps. The public works department said heavy parking in the area restricts drivers' vision. The board also banned parking on narrow Laverne Avenue in the Mill Valley area and near Meadowsweet School in Corte Madera.

Supervisors Discover A $30 'Windfall' In Stock Shares

Marin County owns six shares in the Pacific Breeders Association, the Marin County Board of Supervisors learned to its surprise yesterday.

But sale of the stocks won't help much in the way of lowering the tax rate. At $5 per share, its total worth is $30.

Deputy County Counsel Thomas G. Hendricks reported that the six shares were issued to the county in June of 1966 when the old county farm at Lucas Valley was converted from a cooperative to a corporation. Each certificate was worth $5 then, and it is still worth $5, said Hendricks.

"I will leave it to your sound discretion whether to cash out for the $30 or to hold onto the stock until, hopefully, it becomes more valuable."

"I'd like to check on this," said Supervisor William A. Gnoss, a retired Novato rancher. He explained that the county was in the dairy business in the old days when it raised cattle and sold milk at the old County Farm and Hospital.

Supervisors referred the matter to Gnoss for a report back on what should be done with the $30 windfall.

Israel is rapidly changing from an agricultural state to an industrial nation.

Committee Changes Meeting Location

The advisory committee to the Petaluma Board of Education will meet at the Rancho Cotate High School library at 8 p.m. today and not at the Rohnert Park Community and Recreation Center as previously planned.

Another function had been scheduled for the recreation center, forcing the change. The committee will continue to consider the appointment of committee heads to promote the Oct. 14 high school district bond election.

Marinite Is Facing Trial On Car Theft

I-J SPecial Report

PLACERVILLE — A 19-year-old Marin youth pleaded innocent yesterday in El Dorado Justice Court to a charge of car theft.

Thomas R. Cunningham Jr. of no fixed address was ordered to appear for a court trial at 2 p.m. Oct. 2 before Judge J. B. Johnson in the El Dorado Justice Court. He will be represented by Michael Tarlton, the public defender.

Cunningham was arrested Sept. 6 after he was stopped for speeding on Highway 50. Sheriff's deputies reported he had no identification or driver's license and a record check indicated he was driving a stolen car.

Cunningham is also wanted by Fairfax police on a warrant charging forgery. The warrant was issued after the youth allegedly passed a check for $98.37 at a Fairfax food store Sept. 5 and signed his father's name.

Conference Asked On Arson Suspect Policy

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday asked the sheriff, probation department and the district attorney for a discussion on what can be done about young offenders like arson suspects who are released immediately after apprehension to prowl the streets within hours after arrest.

Supervisor Peter Arrigoni Jr. raised the issue, noting that the Marinwood Firemen's Association is concerned about the rash of fires, and the fact that young suspects are released immediately.

He said the problem exists in other areas where young criminals, even those with narcotics problems, are allowed immediate freedom after arrest.

"I'd like to ask the staff to see what the heck is going on and what can be done about rehabilitating some of these youths."

State law is quite specific in insisting that youthful suspects be released immediately, said County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney.

"What steps can eb taken to change the law?" asked board chairman John F. McInnis.

McInnis said that about two years ago he tried to set up a workshop with the judges to discuss this problem, but the judges would not participate.

Supervisors decided to ark the probation department and other law enforcement officials for a discussion, either in private or in public, to see if the problem can be solved.

Supervisors also met for a half hour yesterday to pick a coordinator for the county's new Careers Program but failed to reach a decision. Another meeting will be held in the future to pick the coordinator.

NUCLEAR BLAST AFTERSHOCKS TO CONTINUE

PAHUTE MESA, Nev. (UPI) —Aftershocks from a manmade earthquake—yesterday's giant underground nuclear blast that displaced 10 million tons of rock—will continue for several weeks, a seismologist said today.

Dr. James N. Brune, head of the seismology laboratory at the California Institute of Technology in Pasadena, said "numerous tiny aftershock" have been recorded from the test.

He said the blast itself registered a magnitude of 6 on the open end Richter Scale. In comparison, the Alaska quake that claimed 115 lives registered 8.4.

Brune said four major aftershocks of magnitude 4 were recorded at Caltech in the hours following the test.

A maple or oak tree may expose as much as four acres of leaf surface to the sun.

Women In Spotlight At U.N. Session

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Having chosen a new woman president, the U.N. General Assembly turned today to the election of 17 vice presidents.

The vice presidents will sit on the assembly's steering committee with seven main committee chairmen who already have been elected and with Angie Elizabeth Brooks of Liberia, who was elected president yesterday as the 126-nation assembly began its 24th session.

ANGIE E. BROOKS
Woman to lead U.N.

Stealing thes potlight yesterday at a press conference for U.S. delegates to the U.N., was Mrs. Shirley Temple Black, onetime child movie star and unsuccessful candidate for Congress from San Mateo County.

She said the United Nations' task should be to "work toward peace and human brotherhood and to improve the environmental situation in our world."

The steering committee was scheduled to work this afternoon on the question of whether the assembly will take up all of the 104 items—a record—proposed for its agenda.

There was doubt about the Irish Republic's request that the assembly take up the situation in Northern Ireland, where the Roman Catholic minority and the Protestant majority fought a religious war last month.

British troops are now keeping the peace, Northern Ireland being part of the United Kingdom along with England, Scotland and Wales. Lord Caradon, the chief British delegate, said his government is "very much against" any assembly debate on Northern Ireland since the British government considers the situation there entirely a domestic matter.

President Richard M. Nixon will address the assembly tomorrow morning, then meet with Secretary-General U Thant. Miss Brooks and various delegates, probably including Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Miss Brooks, Liberia's assistant secretary of state, had no formal opposition in the election for president this year.

The 41-year-old woman lawyer, second of her sex to head the assembly, challenged the delegates to reverse a gradual decline in the prestige of the United Nations.

She said the U.N. Charter "possesses a positive panacea against all that is socially and politically evil," but complained that "we have not achieved the strength with which the charter in its totality has endowed us."

Last year, Miss Brooks said, "world problems were either sidetracked or ignored, be it advisedly or by default." She said world opinion of the United Nations has been declining gradually and "it would be sort of complacency on our part if we were to yield to the delusion that we are doing our best and the world is misjudging us."

Toastmasters Member Wins

Charles West of San Rafael, a member of Marin Toastmasters 890, won the Toastmasters International Area 6 humorous speech contest Monday night at Kent Woodlands restaurant, Kentfield.

West, who spoke about "One Day of Truth," will represent his club in the district finals in Orinda, Contra Costa County, next month.

Members of clubs from Marin and the East Bay participated.

Berkeley Riots Claims Rejected

SACRAMENTO (UPI) Claims totaling $5.3 million filed against the state by 92 persons injured during the Berkeley "People's Park" demonstrations were rejected yesterday by the state Board of Control.

Among those denied was a $50,000 claim filed by San Francisco Chronicle reporter Don Wegars, who said he was shot May 15 by a law officer during the demonstrations at the University of California's Berkeley campus.

The board action paved the way for court suits by the persons filing the claims.

Most of the 92 claimed they received gunshot wounds, bayonet cuts or were injured at the Santa Rita prison farm after being arrested for participating in the demonstrations last May 15-22.

None of the claimants, nor their attorneys, appeared at the board hearing.

San Rafael Schools Wooing Support

By DAVID DIETZ

The San Rafael Board of Education, twice rebuffed at the polls this year in bond issue elections, voted last night to try anew at winning public approval of school improvements.

In a move designed to give residents a greater voice in school planning, the board decided to create three citizen-teacher-administrator committees to investigate three plans to meet the needs of the high school district's 4,133 students.

After study of the three choices — modernize San Rafael and Terra Linda high schools at a cost of $2.73 million, begin year-round instruction or initiate staggered sessions — the public would have the right to select the plan it wanted, the board agreed.

Earlier, the board, re-endorsing the middle school concept that was an integral part of this year's bond elections, approved further study of tentative plans to establish a new middle school sixth through eighth grades at Davidson Junior High School and expand Santa Venetia School, already a middle school, and to provide other elementary school improvements at a total cost of $360,000.

The architects said Laurel Dell Intermediate School adjacent to the Davidson campus would temporarily become part of Davidson to enable an enrollment of 900 students. Davidson now houses 800 students.

Fourth and fifth grade students at Laurel Dell Intermediate would attend Short, Laurel Dell Primary and Bahia Vista schools, with the sixth graders remaining.

The cost of the improvements was estimated at $360,000, with seven classrooms added at Santa Venetia to increase enrollment to 700 from 400 at a cost of $140,000, replacing the music building at Davidson for $120,000 and various site work and alterations at Davidson and Santa Venetia costing $100,000.

According to the plans, Laurel Dell Intermediate would become a third through fifth grade school if a new Glenwood school were built.

Provision of a Glenwood middle school was the main feature of a $2.1 million bond issue defeated twice by elementary district voters this year — on Feb. 18 and June 10. Both measures failed to gain the necessary two-thirds majority.

The new elementary school plans would use remaining bond funds, according to the architects' report. Besides work at Santa Venetia and Davidson, there would be "alterations to West End (School) and some upgrading of other elementary schools," according to the architects.

Marshall said the plans were discussed at a meeting earlier yesterday of Supt. John F. Plank, school principals, other school officials and the architects.

Modernization of the two high schools would embrace the "school within a school" concept. The architects, largely resubmitting plans presented last November, said each school would be redesigned into 10 "houses," each containing 200 students and surrounding a central learning center.

The concept is designed to increase student understanding of himself and adults who direct him, the architects said.

Costs of modernization were estimated at $1.5 million at Terra Linda and $1.23 million at San Rafael.

As redesigned, the schools would accomodate only current student population. The board noted that, in view of a shrinking rate of increase in high school enrollment, needs were not as critical as projected several years ago.

Board chairman Herman L. Childress called for careful enrollment projections in the future. Plank noted that the elementary and high school districts stood to lose $184,000 in revenue because fall enrollment didn't meet predictions.

"I'm not of the opinion that the bond issues didn't lose because of what they might have cost in property taxes each year, but because the public didn't buy the projected growth figures presented," said Donald R. Wellington of San Rafael, seated in the audience.

Board member Paul L. Jones first suggested presenting the three alternative elementary school plans for public scrutiny, and was supported by members of the audience.

Jones hoped the committee studies would be completed within three months.

In other business last night, the board, with members Lawrence I. Kramer and Carl J. Brown absent, voted to ask for bids Oct. 20 to remodel the gymnasium and locker rooms at San Rafael High School to bring them up to Field Act earthquake standards. The project, estimated to cost between $250,000 and $300,000, is a month late because of review of plans in Sacramento and is now scheduled to be finished after spring.

Lee Larris, student body president at San Rafal High School, said students wanted to improve relations with the board and introduced student Sue Scherini, who will be attending board meetings to report back to the students.

High Turnout Votes Sanitary Annexation

Voters of outer Tiburon, with an 82.3 per cent turnout, approved annexing their area above Paradise Drive to the Corte Madera Sanitary District yesterday by a 39-26 margin.

A total of 65 of 79 registered voters appeared at the polls in the special election. The vote included seven absentee ballots.

The election was ordered after protests last spring by a quarter of the district's registered voters against the proposed annexation. The area, which includes lots on Paradise Drive, Taylor Road and Antoinette Drive, is now served by septic tanks.

After the vote is canvassed Tuesday by the sanitary district board, Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher said, assessment district proceedings can be started to finance sewer lines needed for hookups.

Some propertied on Paradise Drive, Usher said, can connect to existing lines. In other undeveloped areas, new lines may not be installed until houses are built, he said.

Connections to existing lines could be made this fall, and needed new lines could be installed next spring, Usher said.

Rohnert Park Again Pleads Crossing Case

The state Public Utilities Commission completed a third hearing yesterday in Rohnert Park to consider a grade crossing at the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks on Southwest Boulevard.

Testyfing to the need for the crossing were City Mgr. Peter M. Callinan, City Engineer Milton Hudis, Lesly H. Meyer, susuperintendent of the Petaluma School District; Maurice Fredericks of the Cotati School District; Nore Thiesfeld, planning director at Sonoma State College, and Robert O'Neel, president of Young America Homes.

All testified to the rapid growth of the city and stressed that the railroad tracks divide the town in half. School and college spokesmen said that increased enrollments make added access routes to schools necessary.

The commission staff is opposing the grade crossing and calling it premature. A decision is not expected until December. The first hearing was terminated by the death of the examiner and the city was denied the application at the second hearing.

Nicasio Trustees Discuss Tam Bussing Fare Proposal

A Tamalpais High School District proposal to charge fares for school bus service was discussed last night by the Nicasio School District board.

The board agreed to ask Tam Trustee David D. Ring — chairman of the Tamalpais High School District Transportation Committee, which recommended the new pay system —to come to a meeting in Nicasio, board clerk Marie S. Rogers reported.

Ring's committee has recommended that students living outside two miles pay 30 cents one-way, 60 cents round trip or $2.50 a week for a book of tickets.

A date for the meeting was not set pending Ring's availability.

The board also discussed buying about three acres of land adjacent to the school for possible future expansion. The land is owned by Marin Municipal Water District, Mrs. Rogers said.

A teacher's aide for the kindergarten, Marion Adams, was hired at $3.50 an hour.

Attendance on opening day was reported at 49, down two from last year, Mrs. Rogers said.

Nude Beach Set As Panel Topic

A proposal for a separate beach for nude bathers, made by Lothar Salin, chairman of the Marin Parks and Recreation Commission, will be discussed at 9 a.m. tomorrow on the KTIM Sounding Board.

Panelists will be Salin; Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales; Michael Praszker of San Rafael, and John F. McInnis, chairman of the board of supervisors who has publicly rebuked Salin for his suggestion.

Questions may be phoned in during the broadcast tomorrow. The program, moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer, will be repeated on tape at 10:05 a.m. Sunday.

Trustee Gordon Wright will be board representative to the research and assessment committee with John McChesney, Cliff Healy, John Nelson, Gail Rae and Dorothy Brandt as members.

Still Good News, Heatter Finds

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Gabriel Heatter, who kept World War II audiences tuned to their radios with, "There's good news tonight," said on his 80th birthday today there is still good news in the world.

Heatter, whose deep baritone brought accounts of the Nazi blitz and the Pacific jungle campaigns into American living rooms, was to spend the day quietly with his family.

His daughter, Mrs. Ralph Daniels, said a small private party is planned at her husband's restaurant here.

The pioneer newscaster retired from his national nightly broadcasts on the Mutual network in 1961.

Marijuana Case Driver Charged

John Lynn Portis, 25, of Sioux, City, Iowa, was arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on charges of transporting marijuana into California and possession of marijuana.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Vernon Smith Jr. said that FBI officers also planned to arrest Portis on suspicion of driving a stolen car over a state line.

A young woman arrested with Portis in San Rafael Monday, Ethel Marie Wilson, 18, of Sacramento, was not charged. Portis told police he had picked her up in Sausalito.

Portis was stopped in the reportedly stolen car because of a defective taillight. Officers said they found a pouch of marijuana in the vehicle.

Portis was held in jail in lieu of $10,000 bail and his case was continued today.

McGill daid final plans still have to submitted to the AAC and also must be approved by the planning commission and the city council.

The AAC rejected a proposed sign for a new take-out food establishment at 600 Meller Avenue and ordered the owners to come up with a new disign omitting advertising for a soft drink on the restaurant's name sign.

The contractor also was directed to take corrective measures on the restaurant where Loma stone was used instead of lava rock without authorization, McGill said.

Marin's Poor Count Questioned By Poverty Director

By LARRY D. HATFIELD

There probably are four times the number of poor people in Marin County than anyone is ready to admit officially and few of them live in Marin City, contends W. Robert Loma Jr., executive director of the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council.

"There are direct attempts to camouflage statistics from out of this county about how many poor there are," Lomax said. "We don't want to admit we have any problems."

Contending that the generally affluent residents of Marin County comfortably but incorrectly assume that the bulk of the county's poor live in Marin City, Lomax pointed out that about half of the recipients of Aid to Families of Dependent Children (AFDC) live in the San Rafael area and another fourth live in the Novato area.

"But as long as the board of supervisors can point fingers at Marin City, a lot of people are satisfied," Lomax said.

He added, "It is time for people to realize, time for people in Marin City to start rising up and saying, 'Look, there are other parts of the county where there are poor.' "

Furthermore, he contended, the number of poor people in the county is not accurately reflected in the AFDC payments. In August, there were 1,170 AFDC payments to families where the man of the house was disabled or absent, 133 payments to unemployed heads of households and 298 recipients of medical aid only.

But, Lomax said, these figures only reflect the number of poor people with families and receiving aid. "There are probably four times as many poor people (in the county)," he said.

Lomax made the comments in an interview on the progress of EOC programs in Marin County. The EOC currently is funded with about a half-million dollars and Lomax said several new programs are getting off the ground.

Among them, he said, is a developing countywide youth program which is aimed at organizing low-income youth into "viable groups (for) meaningful employment, recreation, self-identification through cultural and educational experiences and personal development."

The EOC's youth program will soon open a multiservice center at 918 C Street in San Rafael, has an office already operating at Manzanita Center in Marin City and is negotiating for office space in Novato, Lomax said.

Lomax is also working with the Marin County Human Rights Commission on expanding into a county-wide effort. The successful secretarial project, which has trained several Marin City women to enter the job market. The fall program of the secretarial project starts later this month.

A new program which is drawing wide response from the community — both in terms of contributing and receiving — is HELP, (Helping Elevate Low-income Persons), a community organization program to give immediate aid to low-income persons in need of food, clothing or furniture.

The basement of the EOC's San Rafael office is now chock full of clothing, appliances and other items that have been collected for HELP. Lomax said distribution of donations will start within several days.

One program Lomax hopes to start eventually but as yet does not have funds for is a vocational training program which would provide on-the-job training for low-income persons in clerical and secretarial work.

Already started is a blood bank account for disadvantaged persons in conjunction with the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank of the San Francisco Medical Society. Another health service will be provided to Marin City residents Oct. 16 when a mobile chest X-ray survey will be made in cooperation with the Marin Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association.

Later this month, Lomax said, a language arts improvement program for low-income, non-English speaking persons will be started. This pilot project will be assisted by the Marin County Volunteer Bureau and will provide tutorial services in languages to low-income, non-English-speaking persons twice a week for eight months.

Asked whether one of the biggest problems of the war on poverty was the bureaucracy's failure to communicate, Lomax said, "I can't say whether that's true or not but I can say — and I'm not beating my own drum — there has been a helluva lot more communication since I've been here. People don't start to holler until you're doing something. . . . right or wrong."

People are starting to holler, he indicated.

ROOMFUL OF HELP — Appliances, shoes, clothing and other items are inventoried by Marin County Economic Council and HELP personnel in preparation for distribution of the donations to low income persons. Workers are (from left) Judith Harris, administrative secretary; Estelle Porter, a HELP committee chairman; Doretha Mitchell, a council committee organizer, and W. Robert Lomax Jr., the council's executive director.

DRY SPELL TO CONTINUE

Maps prepared from U. S. Weather Bureau's 30-day forecasts indicate that Marin will enjoy normal Indian summer temperatures and probably rainless skies for a month. Last year, the hottest day of the period was Sept. 17, with a torrid 97 degrees; coolest morning was 45 on Oct. 8. The annual summer drought was broken Oct. 11 with a trace, followed by a 1.83-inch soaking the next 24 hours. (AP Wirephoto Maps)

Sanitary Districts Win Tax Cutting Job Laurels

Sanitary districts did the best job of tax cutting among the many taxing jurisdictions in Marin County this year.

Of 12 sanitary districts in the county, six reduced their rates, four left them unchanged, and only two increased them.

Although county supervisors increased the county tax rate by 12.5 cents, from $2.27 to $2.395 per $100 assessed valuation, they reduced rates in 15 of the 36 special districts which they control, left the levies unchanged in five, and increased them in 16.

Five cities left tax rates unchanged for the new fiscal year, but five others increased them and only one made a reduction.

Of 22 school districts levying taxes in Marin, all but four increased rates. One left the rate unchanged and three made reductions.

In general, taxing jurisdictions in Marin failed to hold the line as well this year as they did in 1968.

Comparisons are now possible since all districts' rates have been set for fiscal 1970.

The rate-reducing sanitary districts were: Corte Madera, down 2 cents to a 39.5-cent rate; Tiburon down 5 cents to 47 cents; Alto, down 26.5 cents to 15; Homestead Valley, down one cent to 36; Las Gallinas Valley, down 5 cents to 4 cents total; Richardson Bay, down 5 cents to 45. Almonte and Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary Districts and San Rafael Sanitation District left their rates unchanged at 20, 16 and 27 cents, respectively. Ross Valley Sanitary District boosted its rate by 27 cents, from 17 to 44.

County supervisors reduced the rates in the Murray Park Sewer Maintenance District; Loma Verde, Paradise Cay and Homestead Valley County Service Areas, and in 15 of the 16 lighting districts — the exception being Marin County Highway Lighting District, a new one with a 9.5-cent rate. They also cut rates in Novato, Bel Aire, Stinson Beach and Ross Valley flood control zones, while increasing them in Richardson Bay, Santa Venetia and San Rafael Meadows zones — all these changes up and down being 2 cents or less. They whacked 9 cents off the levy for Monte Cristo Permanent Road Division, but upped the Bolinas Highlands Road Division a whopping 52 cents, from 23 to 75 cents.

The only city to reduce its tax rate was Tiburon, where the rate was dropped from 67 to 65 cents. Unchanged were Belvedere ($1.75), Fairfax ($1.74), San Anselmo ($2.255), San Rafael (.86), and Sausalito ($1.315).

Corte Madera increased its city tax rate by 4 cents, to 99 cents; Larkspur, by 2 cents, to $1.26; Mill Valley, by 9.5 cents, to $2.355; Novato, by 6 cents, to .81; Ross, by 5 cents, to $1.72.

Two elementary school districts reduced rates: Nicasio, by 1.5 cents from $1.08 to $1.065, and Union, by 41 cents from 61 to 20 cents (no school). Larkspur School District kept its rate unchanged at $2.16.

Elementary districts increasing rates were: Bolinas-Stinson, up 25.5 cents to $1.25; Dixie, up 36.5 cents to $2.58; Fairfax, up 7.5 cents to $1.71; Kentfield, up 9 cents to $1.965; Laguna, up 12.5 cents to 60.5 cents; Lagunitas, up 25.5 cents to $2.065; Lincoln, up 4.5 cents to 12 cents (not operating a school); Mill Valley, up 19 cents to $1.83; Reed, up 23 cents to $2.26; Ross, up 72.5 cents to $2.16; San Anselmo, up 20 cents to $1.975; San Rafael, up 18.5 cents to $1.85; Sausalito, up 35 cents to $2.28.

There is one new school district: Shoreline Unified, with a $3.585 tax rate. It replaces the former Tomales High School and Tomales Bay and West Marin Elementary School districts.

Novato Unified School District increased its tax rate by 13 cents, to $4.825. There were small increases in the two high school districts: San Rafael, up 1 cent to $2.08, and Tamalpais, up 6 cents to $2.145. Petaluma High School District, which includes small parts of Marin, dropped its rate from $2.45 to $2.28, a 17-cent cut.

Marin Junior College District increased its rate by 10.5 cents, to 93 cents.

Bolinas Harbor District dropped its rate 6 cents, to 30 cents. Marin Mosquito Abatement District left its rate unchanged at 2.5 cents. Bya Area Air Pollution Control District added one mill to bring its rate to 1.2 cents.

Four community services districts increased rates, two left them unchanged, and two dropped them. Increases were: Gallinas Village, 2 cents, to $1.02; Muir Beach, 2 cents, to $1.02; Terra Linda, 9 cents, to 93 cents; Tamalpais, 12 cents, to 27 cents. Unchanged were Bel Marin Keys at $1.25 and Marin City at $1. Down were Marinwood, by 6.5 cents to $1.23, and Monte Maria, by one cent to 14 cents.

Five fire districts' rates went up and three down. Hikes were in Alto-Richardson Bay, one cent to 66 cents; Kentfield, 2 cents to 92 cents; Sleepy Hollow, 10 cents to 98 cents; Tamalpais, one cent to 90.5 cents, and Tiburon, 5.5 cents to 77.5 cents. Cuts were in Bolinas, by one cent to 32 cents; Novato, by 3 cents to 50 cents, and Stinson Beach, by 2.5 cents to 36.5 cents.

Inverness Public Utility District boosted its rate 7.5 cents to 37.5, but Bolinas Community Public Utility District cut its rate by 1.5 cents to $1.77.

Strawberry Recreation District upped its rate 4.5 cents to 50 cents. Terra Linda Recreation-Park District increased its rate by 1.5 cents to 19 cents.

Marin Hospital District, which levied 8 cents last year, cut that to 3.5 cents.

Although Marin Municipal Water District levies no general property tax, it instituted a tax rate of $2.77 this year for Marincello only, to finance water and sewer installations there. Only other water district levying a tax is Stinson Beach, which hiked its rate by 5 cents, from a dime to 15 cents.

BERKELEY (UPI) — A converted Victorian house used as an office building by the University of California was extensively damaged today by a fire apparently set by an arsonist.

Damage to the structure, located across the street from the site of the "People's Park" controversy last spring, was estimated at $30,000.

Berkeley fire officials said the three story wooden building was apparently set afire by a long-haired man, about 20, described as a "hippie type," who was seen fleeing the area.

This is the way it's going to be. Pontiac's 70's

Surprised that Pontiac's setting the style for the umpteenth straight year? Of course not.

But you may be a bit dazzled to find out that Pontiac finally outdid Pontiac.

Take Bonneville. From the strong, new bumper grille to the standard 455 under the hood, it's a rouser.

Inside: instant limousine. So luxurious some of the traditional big boys are already screaming.

One of the nicest things we could have done for Grand Prix's luxury was to leave it alone. We did. But we popped in a 455 V-8 for you to order. (It's an old Pontiac proverb that luxury should have power.)

Enter LeMans Sport. A brand-new series in the Pontiac stable. Wait'll competition sees it pull the new 400-cubes-under-the-hood trick. We'll show you that one if you check the right box on the order form.

By now, you've spotted our '70 GTO. But maybe you haven't heard it. A sound so tough we've thrown modesty to the wind and dubbed GTO "The Humbler."

This is Pontiac '70. And we figure this is the way driving's going to be. So why wait?

It's at your Pontiac dealer's now.

NEW CAT IN TOWN

Socrates, a beautiful, gentle puma, mediates dreamily in his new home at the Louise A. Boyd Marin Museum of Science. Socrates, a two-year-old native of Stuttgart, Germany, was raised by Gail Herzog of Los Gatos, with complete freedom of her home until her fiance indicated a lack of enthusiasm for pumas. Socrates is 3.5 feet high, weighs 175 pounds and eats nothing but beef which must be hand-fed to him. (Independent-Journal photo by Jim Kean)

Sierra Clubbers Cool To New Competition

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Sierra Club officials reacted cooly today to the launching of a new conservation movement by David Brower, ousted as the club's administrative leader in a bitter fight last spring.

And they contended the club, founded by John Muir in 1892, has continued to grow in size and prestige despite the absence of the controversial Brower whose personality dominated the organization for years.

"It's a bit obscure in our minds exactly what niche he'll occupy in the politics of conservation," said Michael McCloskey, the club's conservation director and Brower's successor as chief of staff.

Yesterday, Brower announced formation of his own international conservation organization known as Friends of the Earth. It will be an aggressive political and legislative group and will have an extensive book publication program, he said.

In the meantime, McCloskey said, "I think our conservation effort has been successful as ever and our growth is the greatest it's ever been. I think the club's prestige is as great as it has ever been."

But heavy investment in book publication has run the club short of working capital and it is in the midst of an economy drive.

Creation of Brower's group is bound to increase competition for members. One veteran Sierra Club observer doubted, however, whether any but the most militant young conservationists would leave the club to join Brower's organization. Current club membership is a record 80,000.

Brower's Friends of the Earth will have a companion tax-deductible organization called the John Muir Institute dedicated to conservation education and research. The institute will hold the first in a series of annual seminars at Aspen, Colo, this weekend.

McCloskey said heavy investment in the book program "in the time of tight money has given us insufficient liquidity to operate with the freedom of action we would like. As a result, we're having to tighten our belts a bit during this period."

The publications program is going through a reorganization, "partly for the reason we need capitalization and partly we need to find a new creative editor to replace Dave."

The club will bring out three new books this fall, he said. One is a revised version of the club's redwoods book, a second is a resume of the club's wilderness conference two years ago, and the third is a revision of the "Manual of Ski Mountaineering."

The universe contains about 100,000 million billion stars, says the National Geographic.

POOR WORMS NEVER TURN BUTTERFLIES

STANFORD (UPI) — Scientists at Stanford University said today they have discovered a fountain of youth — for insects.

Dubbed a "juvenile hormone" by Prof. William S. Johnson and his colleagues at the Peninsula school, the chemical compound of synthetic hormones keeps certain insect pests from maturing to a point where they are able to reproduce sexually.

So far, however, the substance has worked with just two kinds of insects—a "Galleria wax" moth that menaces bee hives and the "a. polyphemus" moth related to the American silk moth.

Bay Area Honors Ex-Mexico Chief

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Former president of Mexico Miguel Aleman celebrated Mexico's Independence Day yesterday with a call for international efforts to enhance human values.

Aleman, 64, Mexico's ambassador at large, noted that more than 300,000 Mexican-Americans live in the Bay Area. He urged them to continue exemplary behavior as representatives of their mother country although they may have changed citizenship.

Aleman was also honored at a luncheon sponsored by the World Affairs Council and several other groups.

Sonoma Supervisors Still Against Bay Agency Union

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Board of Supervisors yesterday reaffirmed its stand against joining the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District despite the urgings of the Sonoma County Mayors' and Councilmens' association.

Association president Talbert W. Bean, mayor of Sonoma, asked the supervisors to become a member of the district before court action forces the county to do so.

Also present to urge membership were Santa Rosa Mayor Jack Ryersen, Healdsburg Mayor Douglas V. Badger and Cloverdale Mayor Ralph J. Poltrone.

Supervisors said they may continue to send representatives to some of the district meetings, but saw no advantage to membership.

The district last month threatened to seek legislative action to force Sonoma, Napa and Solano counties into the district.

Collision Hurts Motorcyclist

A 16-year-old Mill Valley youth was injured yesterday when his motorcycle hit a car while changing lanes on Miller Avenue at Camino Alto in Mill Valley, police reported.

Mark Morrison of 190 Cascade Drive was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with a broken left arm.

Police said Morrison was riding westbound on Miller Avenue at 2:15 p.m. when he turned into the side of a car driven by Frederick Conrad Finzen, 17, of 16 Eugene Street, Mill Valley.

Governors Defeat Plan On Bussing

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — A resolution opposing the bussing of pupils to obtain racial balance was defeated today by the Southern Governors Conference. The resolution fell one vote short of the required three-fourths majority. The vote was 8-3, with one abstention.

The action came after Vice President Spiro T. Agnew told the conference last night he opposed bussing children "simply to achieve an integrated status of a larger geographic entity."

Gov. Arch Moore of West Virginia, a Republican, argued against the antibussing resolution as going beyond the conference's scope.

"I believe the resolution perhaps had been well answered by the vice president last night," Moore said. "I believe the resolution is empty."

Joining with Moore in voting against the resolution offered by Alabama's Democratic Gov. Albert Brewer were Govs. Marvin Mandel of Maryland, a Democrat, and Russell Peterson of Delaware, a Republican. The third Republican at the closing session was Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller of Arkansas. He abstained.

Voting for the resolution with Brewer were the governors of Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolint, South Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia. A conference aide quickly reported the affirmative vote was 72.8 per cent, with 75 per cent needed for passage.

Mandel said he felt the resolution went far beyond problems involving Alabama and some other states. He said he would have supported a resolution calling for a firm statement of federal policy.

Hub Enrollment Drop Trims Teacher Hiring

Enrollment in the San Anselmo School District Friday was 2,093, a drop of 64 from the reported first-day enrollment, the school district board was told last night.

Supt. Stephen L. Parodi said the drop was largely in kindergarten, where 221 pupils enrolled instead of the expected 265.

The board, which two weeks ago authorized hiring five more kindergarten teachers to put all kindergarteners on single sessions, last night told Parodi to go ahead and hire three teachers. The board will study whether the other two are needed at the Oct. 7 meeting.

The board hired one kindergarten teacher last night, Marilyn Skinner, at a salary of $7,164. She will teach at Brookside School.

The board heard several recommendations from Opal Torrance, director of health services, to improve health care in the district. She recommended more health counseling be given seventh and eighth graders, first aid be taught in health education at seventh and eighth grade levels, funds be earmarked for health teaching materials, and first aid proficiency be required of physical education teachers, noon playground supervisors and secretaries in the district.

The San Anselmo School District board also:

PROGRAM — Approved submitting a request for participation in a county-wide project in language arts and mathematics for culturally disadvanteged children. The district share of federal funds for the program will be $14,767.

HOURS — Set class hours at three hours for kindergarten, four for first through third grades, five hours and 10 minutes for seventh and eighth graders.

LIBRARY AIDES — Hired two library aides, Martha Combi for Red Hill School and Marianne McConnell for Wade Thomas School, both at $315 a month.

Uncle Sam Does Flop On Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — After first saying it went down, then saying it stayed the same, the government now says a key economic indicator—wholesale prices—went up in August.

Blaming the mixup on a "computational error," the Bureau of Labor Statistics said yesterday wholesale prices went up one-tenth of one per cent last month.

"There was an error in the way the thing was computed," says assistant commissioner Arnold Chase, whose statisticians took issue two weeks ago with a White House statement heralding a downturn in wholesale prices. But at that time, the NLS said there had been no change since July.

Although not as optimistic about how government-imposed curbs on inflation were working, the BLS noted that the newly discovered one-tenth of one per cent rise—the same as from June to July—is smaller than in any other period this year.

New Fairfax Zoning Ordinance Delayed

A public hearing on a new Fairfax zoning ordinance which had been tentatively scheduled for last night was canceled because the zoning ordinance has not been completed by the county, Albert E. Gately, chairman of the planning commission, reported.

No new date for the hearing has been set because the commission doesn't know when it will receive the material, Gately said.

Program On Drugs To Start

Local young drug users will be taught about the problems of drugs in a 12-series educational program to start Tuesday in Olney Hall at the College of Marin.

The program, sponsored and supervised by the Catholic Social Service, was planned by members of the Community Planning Group for Alcohol and Drug Addiction Problems.

Each series will consist of eight sessions with two sessions taught weekly.

The second series will begin Oct. 21 at Robertson Hall at the Golden Gate Baptist Seminary and the third will begin there Nov. 17.

Students will be sent to the classes by the courts, police juvenile hall, high schools, social agencies or parents.

Among the instructors are: Dr. William Lamers of Kentfield; Municipal Judge Hadden Roth; Dan Meyerson, Marin Institute executive director; Martha Parsons of the Langley Porter Clinic; James Roosien, University of California pharmacologist and Charles Newman of the Corte Madera police department.

Builders Say U.S. Building Cutback Bad

Marin Builders Exchange has written President Richard M. Nixon charging that his call to reduce federal construction by 75 per cent will result "in deepening the crisis of the construction industry."

"We question its value in alleviating the inflationary spiral in general and in construction costs specifically," Louis Della Valle, president, wrote in behalf of the exchange.

The builders said the provision for manpower training and vocational education industry "is anachronistic" in view of the fact that the procedure for training skilled workers is on the job.

Creating scarcity in a product people need encourages inflationary forces in that industry, they contended the builders suggested the president take action to control the causes of inflation in the construction industry "such as the rising cost of financing inequitable wage settlements, spiralling material costs, land availability and restrictive zoning and code regulations."

Kabuki Dancers To Be Featured Before Expo Film

Kabuki dancers and Japanese hostesses will greet the audience in a combined live performance and film at 8:15 p.m. tomorrow at Olney Hall, College of Marin.

The film on the 1970 exposition at Osaka, Japan, will open a series of travelogue films sponsored by the college and Associated Marin Travel Agents.

Other films and performances will be "Steamship Cruise Night" with a fashion show Oct. 23, "Dalmatia and Greece" with Greek dancers Nov. 20, and "Easter Holy Land Pilgrimages" with native dancers Dec. 11.

Singer's Large Family Helped

MONTE CARLO, Monaco (AP) — With the help of Prince Rainier and Princess Grace, American-born singer Josephine Baker has been provided with a permanent home for her 12 adopted children.

Her chateau in southern France was sold this year to pay debts, and she and the children—of various racial origins—had been staying in Barcelona.

After Miss Baker took part in the Monaco Red Cross ball, Rainier and the former Grace Kelly decided to help buy her a villa at nearby Roquebrune Cap Martin. Furnishings were provided by the Monaco Red Cross.

The singer and the kids move in Thursday.

Partisan Transit Session Canceled

A confrontation between bus and ferry partisans, scheduled tomorrow morning at a meeting of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District's committee of the whole, was canceled today.

Bridge board president William Moskovitz of San Francisco issued the cancellation order from Washington, where he and four other bridge officials are hunting for federal grants to help get the district into the commuter transit business.

Moskovitz, telephoned by the Independent-Journal, said he canceled the meeting because it was uncertain whether there would be a quorum. Dist. Secty. Helen Jack, however, confirmed that the board's regular practice is to convene meetings even when a majority of the members have not advised her they will be present. Meetings then are canceled only after a quorum fails to appear, she said.

Moskovitz, who said he and the other officials still expected to return to San Francisco tonight, said his cancellation order had nothing to do with the Monday vote by the San Francisco Board of Supervisors to oppose the commuter bus system being considered by the bridge board. The supervisors unanimously favored a ferry system until rail rapid transit can be built to Marin.

Tomorrow's meeting had been called by Moskovitz on Friday at the regular meeting of the bridge board, and a majority of the directors said they wouuld attend.

North Marin Water Books Still In Black

The North Marin County Water District last year had a slightly smaller income than predicted, but still showed a net profit, according to the preaudit financial statement given the board last night, said Mgr. Eugene Churchill.

The district had an income from sale of water and other revenues of $730,218 which was $10,416 less than budgeted for last fiscal year, he said. The district had $457,782 in operating expenses and $136,979 in bond redemption, leaving a profit of $133,457 for the year, according to Churchill.

North Marin County Water District Also:

TV ANTENNA — After receiving a protest from Eric Kinsey of 18 Terry Circle and a letter of protest from the Lynwood Park Improvement Association, the board postponed action on granting an antenna lease until a special meeting at 8 p.m. Sept. 30. G'Tec had asked to lease a site for a 74-foot television antenna on the Lynwood tank site at South Novato Boulevard and Sunset Parkway. The item will come before the Novato City Planning Commission at 8 p.m. Monday at the Novato Community House. The water board wanted to wait for the planning commission decision, Churchill said.

EASEMENTS — Granted Pacific Gas and Electric Co. an easement to place two pole anchors on the district property at the end of Center Road. It postponed action on a request by Western California Telephone Co. to put an underground cable under the spillway at Stafford dam pending a legal opinion the district's attorney Frederick Bold Jr.

WATER USAGE — Heard a report that water usage was up 25 per cent in August this year over a year ago. This year the district sold 231.2 million gallons compared to 184.9 million gallons last year.

FISHING — Received a report that the district lost $3,383 in its fishing program at Stafford Lake. Its expenses were $7,499 with its income of $4,116 on the sale of fishing permits, with 16,010 people fishing the lake this year compared to 9,875 last year.

LEASES — Renewed for three years leases on 114 acres to George Grossi at $892 per year and on 27 acres with Clarence and David Leveroni at $120 per year.

Taxpayer Watchdog Group Being Formed By Novatan

A group called the Marin County Taxpayers Association, was launched yesterday by Donald M. Van Dyke of Novato.

Van Dyke mailed out a tax newsletter to 2,200 businessmen and civic leaders in Marin County. He outlined a plan for keeping track of where tax money is spent and included an application blank to join the organization.

"This is intended to be a broad-based organization to provide needed professional service on all taxing agencies," Van Dyke said.

Dues in the organization were listed as $10 for a homeowner and from $35 to $100 for businesses, depending on their assessed valuation.

He said the organization would cover all taxing agencies in Marin County, including the Marin Junior College District, transit district and the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District.

The letter said the population of Marin County has grown 43.9 per cent in 10 years while budget "requirements" have grown 180 per cent, of 4.12 times as fast as the population.

Van Dyke said the agency would ultimately operate a full-time office. It can now be reached through P.O. box 993, Novato.

Van Dyke, of 53 Sotelo Way, has been a frequent critic of the Novato School District, city and other taxing agencies in the area.

Traffic Check Leads To Arrest On 39 Warrants

A Sausalito man stopped for a routine vehicle equipment violation was arrested early today was wanted on a total of 39 warrants from San Francisco and one from Fresno.

Booked into Marin County Jail after the 1:30 a.m. arrest was Gary Edgar Hill, 33, of 141 Crescent Street. He was being held for arraignment this afternoon in lieu of $1,835 bail.

Sausalito police said Hill was wanted on a grand theft warrant and 38 traffic warrants in San Francisco and one traffic warrant in Fresno.

They said they stopped Hill's car on Second Street for defective tail lights and a records check revealed the outstanding warrants.

The world is divided into 24 zones, each 15 degrees of arc, or one hour in time apart.

Trio To Select Leaders For New Advisory Panel

The Marin Family and Children's Advisory Committee last night appointed a three-man nominating committee to recommend a chairman and a vice chairman for the newly formed group.

The nominating committee, consisting of James Kilty, Lottie Maie Hall, and Carmen Kline, will bring in nominees at the next meeting on Oct. 21.

The committee was appointed by the Marin County Board of Supervisors in July to advise the director of public social services on policies and programs for families and children getting public assistance.

The group last night discussed such programs as job training, education, and job placement for welfare recipients.

Marinites Bid On Antismog Steam Tests

Special I-J Report

SACRAMENTO — A young San Rafael research and development firm, Fluid Energy Technology, was one of seven to submit proposals to the state for a $750,000 feasibility test of smog-free steam engines in buses.

The 11 proposals are to be reviewed this weekend by a technical advisory panel, and the names of the four firms selected will be announced by the Assembly Rules Committee by early October.

The San Rafael firm, working on many applications in the field of fluids, was formed two years ago. Its office is in Northgate Industrial Park at 35 Mitchell Boulevard.

The four steam engines are to be tested on buses by the San Francisco Municipal Railway and the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District. The one-year test is to begin in November, and has been funded by the federal Department of Transportation.

Quentin Inmate Is Found Dead

A 29-year-old San Quentin prisoner was found dead in his cell at 7 a.m. today but no evidence of foul play or violence was discovered, according to Associate Warden James W. L. Park.

Park identified the dead men as Arlie C. Nation, 29, who was serving a sentence for manslaughter and possession of marijuana after a Fresno County conviction. He had been an inmate since February, 1968.

Park said that an autopsy will be performed by the corner's office.

THIEF TAKES CARE OF SUMMER'S HARD WORK

Tony Barbera, 18, rode proudly on his newly purchased motorcycle last Wednesday to the first day of classes at the College of Marin.

In the words of his mother, Mrs. Anthony V. Barbera of 300 Oakcrest Road, San Anselmo, "he worked like you wouldn't believe all summer to make the down payment."

Tony parked the machine, a purple Triumph which cost $1,000, near the college's main entrance. Later, he made a crushing discovery—the motorcycle had been stolen.

Tony, frustrated but undaunted, is offering $100 reward for return of the motorcycle intact.

Items Stored In Old Villa Stolen

Possessions stored in an old villa on Tamarack Road in San Geronimo which belonged to two Mill Valley residents were stolen sometime last week, sheriff's officers said today.

Among the articles missed by Frederick A. Liebes and Rachel L. Warner, former residents of the villa, were a $400 guitar, turntable, amplifier, dentist's cabinet, steamer trunk and pipe wrench.

Novato Shooting Charge Reduced

A 55-year-old Novato housewife accused of shooting her husband will stand trial on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon but not the more serious count of assault with intent to commit murder.

Judge Hadden W. Roth of Marin Municipal Court yesterday decided after a preliminary hearing to bind Constance Abercrombie over to superior court for trial on the lesser felony charge.

She will appear in superior court Monday for arraignment.

Mrs. Abercrombie is accused of shooting her husband, Robert, a retired Army major, in the back at their home at 5 Harding Drive on July 5.

Mrs. Abercrombie was treated for an overdose of pills after the alleged shooting, and her husband was hospitalized but has now returned home. He still is using crutches.

Central Yemen Taking On An American Look

AL-MATAWIR, Yemen (AP) — Yemeni emigrants, returning from the United States to the remote mountains of central Yemen, have established an American colony, and with their know-how have transformed the once barren rocky landscape into a green and passably pleasant land.

New stone houses of three or four stories perch on hilltops and in the steep valleys. The dark brown and grey land is now green with fruit and rustling wheat and speckled with patches of reddish maize.

There are about 500 American citizens in the colony, which centers around the village of Al-Matawir tucked away in the steep mountains six and a half hours tortuous drive from the nearest town.

The existence of the colony was virtually unknown until last November when one of its native sons, Ahmend Rajih el-Namir, was held briefly by the New York police on suspicion of plotting the assassination of President-elect Richard Nixon. Because it was so poor, the Yemenis themselves hardly ever visited the region, and even today know little about it.

The American Yemenis who returned here came with precious seeds, and installed water pumps to irrigate the once barren land. Some even brought refrigerators with kerosene motors.

Some homes here have electric light -- a phenomenon in a country, for the most part, is virtually non-existent.

Changes in the traditional way of life are still very few.

The houses here, compared to the majority in this tiny country, are clean, and they contain cotton mattresses and blankets, brought all the way from the United States.

The American's families look well fed, warm and healthy in their woolen clothes. The womenfolk proudly display gold and silver necklaces, earrings and other trinkets. But in many ways the "Americans," revert to the old ways as soon as they return home.

For example, Aly Abdouhel-Zandany, 35, who spent several years in New York, said in heavily accented English: "Merca (America) been good for us. We work, get money, build good house here, come back rest. Plant Qat, chew it. Finish money, go back."

Qat, is the Yemeni plant whose leaves all Yemenis chew daily for hours on end as a mild narcotic. "In States no Qat, we drink whisky, gives same pleasre," el-Zandany is proudest of four rifles, two of which are M-1s, which Yemenis in this part of the country prefer to any other weapon. "A rifle is more precious than anything," el-Zandany said.

Yemeni men take pleasure in showing off a new rifle at special gatherings, like weddings and births. Because inter-tribal feuds are common, Yemeni boys start learning to shoot at age nine.

Aerotrain Is Tested In France

PARIS (London Express) — An air-conditioned and soundproofed unit of France's aerotrain has completed its first tests at 150 miles per hour a 10-mile elevated concrete track near Orleans, the train's constructors have announced.

The aerotrain will carry 80 passengers at speeds of up to 180 miles per hour and if tests are successful, the present length of track will be extended between Paris and Orleans. The aerotrain will link the two cities in half an hour less than half the present train time.

An outsize propeller powered by two turbine engines of aeronautical design powers the aerotrain which is suspended above its concrete runway hovercraft style on a cushion of air.

Engineers on the first test run said they were "well satisfied" with the aerotrain which may be formally inagurated next month.

How's Your Potted Croton Tree?

Ours is about 5 ft. tall, bushy and wild and looks as if it could eat people! It comes in an unbreakable pot and sells for $49. Of course it's not real but then it takes so little care.

Chinese Inspire Barbecued Pork Loin

Many of the world's most delectable pork recipes were devised by the Oriental peoples, particularly the Chinese who made pork the meat mainstay of their diet.

This recipe for Barbecued Pork Loin has been inspired by several Chinese recipes. The meat is cooked above glowing charcoal to give it the distinctive smoky flavor characteristic of many Oriental meat dishes.

Marinate the pork before cooking in a molasses-soy mixture then whirl on a rotisserie for about 45 minutes basting with a superbly seasoned Sweet and Sour Barbecue Sauce.

Make the sauce from a can of smooth-blending tomato sauce mixed with soy, molasses, mustard and herbs. The bright tomato taste of the sauce "wakes up" ever so many meat dishes; versatile canned tomato sauce takes to a variety of flavor changes just with the addition of different herbs and spices.

Serve Barbecued Pork Loin with curried rice (use a mix), an avocado-grapefruit-green salad and hot rolls. For dessert serve sweetened, sliced fresh peaches mixed with chopped candied ginger over vanilla ice cream.

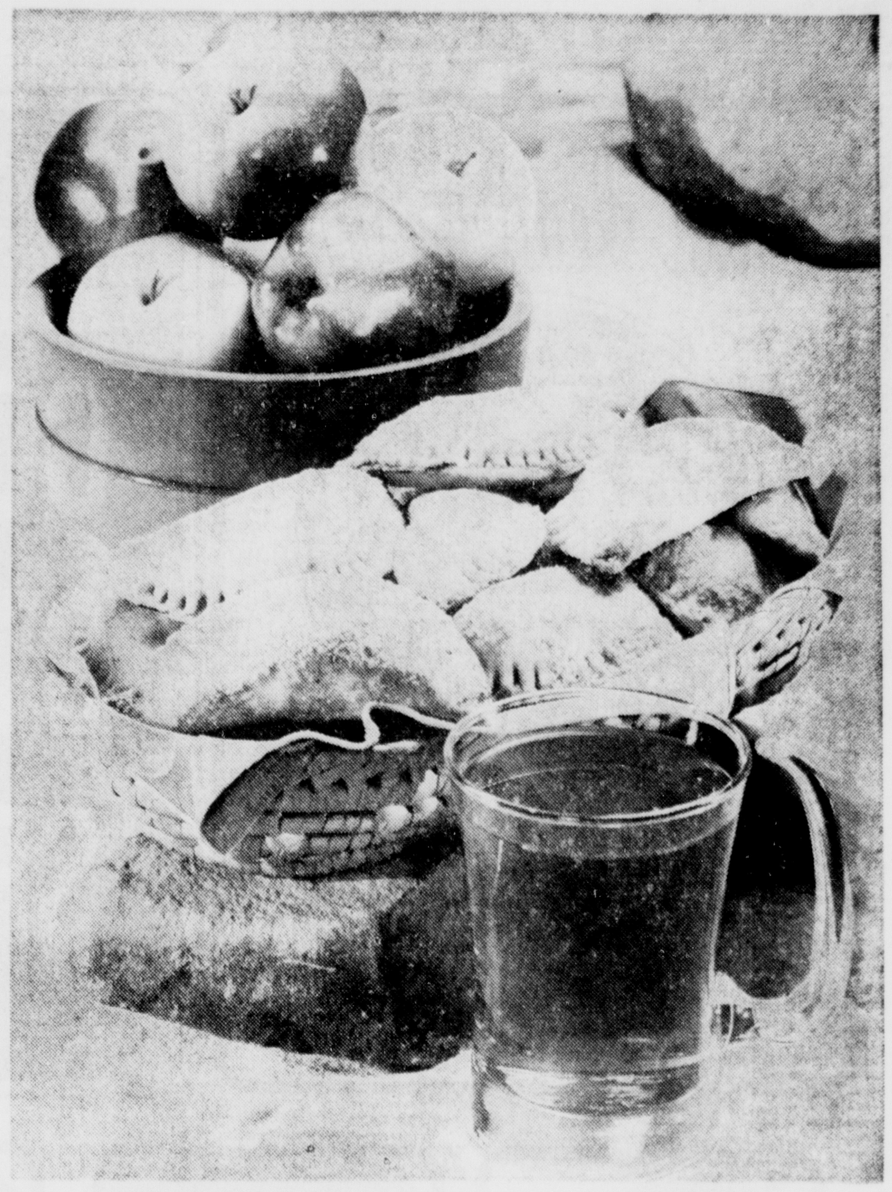
BARBECUED PORK LOIN

- 2 pounds pork tenderloin, trimmed
- 2 tablespoons molasses
- 1 tablespoon soy sauce
- 1 tablespoon vinegar
- 1 teaspoon monsodium glutamate
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- Sweet and Sour Barbecue Sauce

Split meat lengthwise in half. Blend molasses, soy sauce, vinegar, monsodium glutamate and pepper until smooth; brush over meat. Let stand at room temperature 1 hour. Meanwhile, prepare Sweet and Sour Barbecue Sauce. Insert spit of rotisserie lengthwise through meat. Cook above glowing charcoal for about 45 minutes, basting frequently with Sweet and Sour Barbecue Sauce. (Meat may also be cooked directly on grill about 5 inches above coals; turn meat frequently and baste often with sauce.) Makes 6 servings.

Sweet and Sour Barbecue Sauce: In saucepan combine 1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce, 2 tablespoons molasses, 2 tablespoons prepared mustard, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 1 tablespoon soy sauce, ¼ teaspoon rosemary and ¼ teaspoon curry powder. Simmer 5 minutes. Use for basting pork loin. Makes about 1¼ cups sauce. Incidentally, this is a superb barbecue sauce for chicken and spareribs, too.

APPROPRIATELY GARNISHED with preserved kumquats, barbecued pork loin is basted with a tomato-flavored, Oriental-inspired sweet and sour barbecue sauce.



Spike Applesauce Turnover With Minced Chutney, Lemon

Applesauce, ready to use right from the can, spiked with minced chutney and lemon juice, made crunchy with walnuts and tucked inside a turnover of flaky pastry — what a wonderful "fingerfood" dessert for a picnic! Add cubes of sharp cheddar cheese if you like, for an added flavor fillip.

APPLESAUCE TURNOVERS

- 2 packages pie-crust mix
- 1 can (1-lb.) applesauce
- ¼ cup mined chutney
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice
- ½ cup finely chopped walnuts

Prepare pie-crust mix as directed on package; wrap in foil; chill. Combine remaining ingredients. Roll out pie crust (about ¼ at a time; ⅛-inch thick on lightly floured board or canvas.

Cut with 4-inch round cookie cutter. Place spoonful of applesauce mixture on each circle; fold over; press edges together with tines of fork. If desired, brush with milk; sprinkle with cinnamon-sugar. Bake at 425 degrees for 25 minutes to 30 minutes or until deep golden brown. Makes about 24.

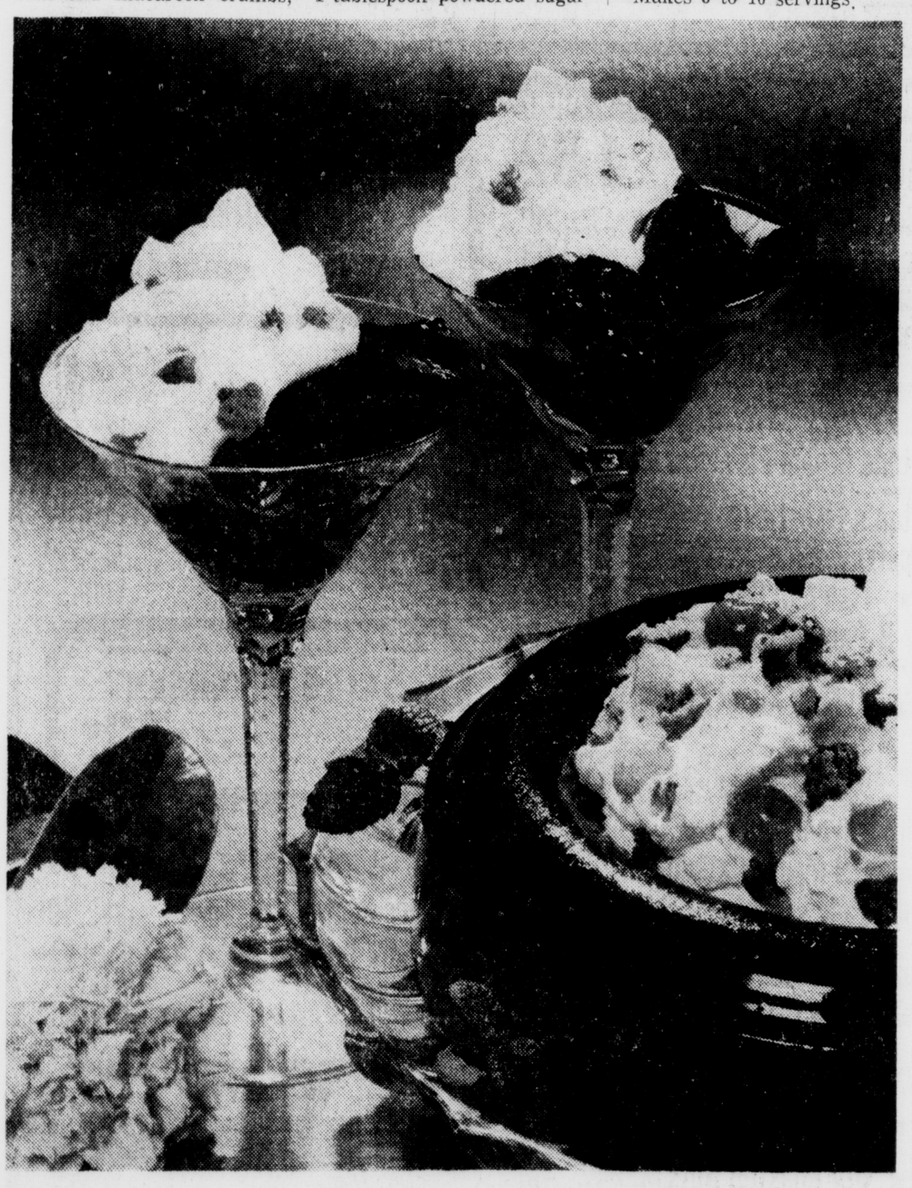
Luscious Fruit And Cream Combo Create Sparkling Ring Dessert

It's so easy to pick up a package of fruit gelatin powder. We often forget just how delicious favorite fruit juices can be when combined with plain gelatin. Choose the most colorful tropical punch mix you can find for the ring mold, and then fill it with a luscious melt-in-your mouth fruit and cream combination. The sparkly color and flavor of canned fruit cocktail combines so beautifully with the cream and macaroon crumbs, and the whole dessert is set off against the shimmering red satin color of the gelatin ring. Perfect as a special party dessert or a treat for the family.

CREAMY TORTONI MOLD

- 4 cups Hawaiian punch or other fruit juice
- 2 envelopes gelatin
- 6 almond macaroons, crushed
- ¼ cup light rum or ¼ teaspoon rum extract
- 1 cup whipping cream
- 1 tablespoon powdered sugar
- 1 can (1 lb. 1 oz.) fruit cock tail

Place 1 cup punch in a small sauce pan. Sprinkle gelatin over top. Heat to dissolve gelatin. Combine with remaining punch. Stir well and pour into 4-cup ring mold. Chill until set. To serve: Mix macaroons and rum. Whip cream with sugar. Combine whipped cream and crumbs. Drain fruit cocktail and fold into cream. Unmold fruit ring and fill center with cream mix. Makes 8 to 10 servings.



Make Some Christmas Mincemeat

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press

The moment you can lay your hands on a batch of green tomatoes, make up this old-fashioned recipe for mincemeat. Come Christmas, you can use the mincemeat for making utterly delicious pies, cookies and coffee cakes.

The green tomatoes used in testing this recipe ranged in size from large ones to some no bigger than a walnut, a few had barely started to ripen. Wash the tomatoes in slightly warm water containing detergent, then rinse well in clear cold water and dry; discard any that have decayed spots. Cut out both the stem and blossom end of the tomatoes but don't remove their skins.

If you can get veal suet at your meat market, ask for fat trimmed from quality steak.

GREEN TOMATO MINCEMEAT

- 2 quarts knife-chopped (coarse) green tomatoes
- 2 cups juice drained from chopped tomatoes
- 2½ quarts chopped pared apples
- ½ pound suet, chopped
- 2 teaspoons grated orange rind
- 2 medium seedless oranges, peeled
- 2 cups raisins
- 2 cups currants, rinsed in hot water and drained
- 2 cups mixed candied fruit
- 1 cup firmly packed dark brown sugar
- 2½ cups firmly packed light brown sugar
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 2 teaspoons ground cinnamon
- ½ teaspoon each ground allspice, nutmeg and ginger
- ¼ teaspoon ground cloves
- 1¼ to 1½ cups cider or red wine vinegar

Into a kettle turn all the ingredients. Cook over moderate heat, stirring often until liquid is about as thick as heavy cream.

Fill pint, 1½ pint or quart jars with boiling hot mincemeat to about ¼-inch of tops. Wipe off anything spilled on tops or threads of jars. Put dome lids on jars; screw bands tight. Process all three sizes of jars 20 minutes in boiling water deep enough to cover tops of jars. Water should be almost but not quite boiling when jars are lowered into it. Keep jars in straight upright position so entire bottom of jar will touch hot water at same instance. If preferred, the jars may be processed 10 minutes at 5 pounds pressure.

Makes 8 to 10 quarts. Store in cool dark place and let ripen for 2 to 4 weeks before using.

To make mincemeat pie: Turn 1 pint Green Tomato Mincemeat into a pastry-lined 8-inch pie plate. Top with lattice pastry; seal edges and flute. Bake in a preheated 425-degree oven, on rack below center, until pastry is browned — about 35 minutes.

Putting A Little Ginger In Salad Is Spirited Way To Dress Greens

To ginger, says the dictionary is to make lively or to put spirit into. Use the spice of the Orient and add "ginger" to salad greens.

HOT GINGER DRESSING

- 2 tablespoons dark corn syrup
- 2 tablespoons corn oil
- 1 tablespoon corn starch
- ½ teaspoon ginger
- ½ teaspoon grated onion
- ⅛ Teaspoon pepper
- 1 chicken bouillon cube
- 1 cup water

Mix corn syrup, corn oil, corn starch, ginger, onion, pepper and bouillon cube in small sauce-pan. Gradually stir in water. Stirring constantly, bring to boil and boil 1 minute. Pour hot dressing over greens. Toss. Serve immediately. Makes 1¼ cups dressing.

Suggested greens: Romaine, escarole, water cress, shredded cabbage, spinach.

Training Should Begin For Mothers Before Pregnancy

LONDON EXPRESS SERVICE

LONDON — Women who want a baby should get into training for their pregnancy before it starts rather like an athlete trains for a race, a doctor says.

And he provides a simple guide for women to decide for themselves whether they are in a fit state to face a pregnancy.

He also urges family doctors to use the formula on their patients. Those who are slightly more at risk of getting complications in pregnancy, such as high blood pressure, could be given help in getting their weight down before the pregnancy starts, he says.

The method is this: the woman's weight in pounds should not be much more than twice her height in inches.

This means that a woman of, say, five feet, six inches should not weigh much above 129 pounds before beginning the pregnancy.

Dr. John Taylor, from Paignton in Devon, England, has worked out the method after a study of 245 pregnancies.

Using the information could help women cut down or even avoid "the risks to health and life that are apt to arise in pregnancy and child-bearing," he says in the Journal of the Royal College of General Practitioners.

He believes that women should be supervised before they start their pregnancy instead of waiting until the pregnancy is under way.

"No athlete sets out to run a race without some training, but the aspiring mother gets none until the pregnancy is in being," he says.

"There are thin and fit young girls who can take pregnancy in their stride and there are older and fatter women who should not run for a bus," he says.

New York Stage Suffering From Shortage Of Talent

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — If that young man or young woman at your house has a rubber face, switches in and out of dialects, apes performers in the entertainment and political world — don't fret for fear you have an embryonic actor at the hearth.

Rather — fan the talent, nurture it and one day send it jetting to New York. Then sit home, fill the scrapbook with rave notices and pop the vest buttons.

YOU SEE, great talent never had such a chance to succeed on the stage side of the footlights in New York, says Jean Dalrymple, member of the National Council on the Arts and executive director of the American National Theatre and Academy.

"I don't know of any light under a bushel that goes undiscovered," said this woman who has spent scores of years backstage, onstage and in every other realm of theater.

"Talent gets discovered. And there is a shortage of great talent in New York right now, especially when a lot of young people with talent head to California and television roles."

MISS DALRYMPLE, author of "Careers and Opportunities in the Theatre" Dutton, first became involved in the theater as an actress and a writer.

She served as publicist manager for artists including Jose Iturbi, Grace Moore, Lily Pons, Glinka Milanov and Leopold Stokowski.

As general director of the New York City Center Drama Company and the City Center Light Opera Company, she has produced revivals of such major musicals as South Pacific, Pajama Game and My Fair Lady.

SHE WAS coordinator of the U. S. Performing Arts Program at the Brussels World's Fair of 1958 and received the Order of the Crown from King Baudouin of Belgium.

The aim of ANTA is to use the theater as a showcase for the best professional regional theaters nationwide. The showcase starts off in New York Sept. 29.

The American Conservatory Theatre from San Francisco will perform first — Tiny Alice, A Flea in Her Ear and Three Sisters. This will be followed by the American Shakespeare Festival from Stratford, Conn. — putting on Henry V, the mod Shakespeare.

To the young with talent, Miss Dalrymple cautions that hard work and a disciplined way of life are essential. In her book she spells it all out.

IN PRIVATE life, Miss Dalrymple is the widow of Gen. Philip DeWitt Ginder.

She thinks nudity in the theater is a bore. A lot of off-Broadway shows feature it. Most of what's on Broadway she considers family fare including "1776," about the birth of America.

"Every young person should see it to understand what this nation's about," she said.

Nothing New In Fashion Future, Students Say

By LOUISE COOK

NEW YORK (AP) — A peek into fashion's future indicates the well-dressed woman of 1979 may not look very different from her style-conscious sister of today.

The Parsons School of Design offered that peek when it presented its annual fashion show of clothes created by its graduating students.

The would-be Norman Norells and Chester Weinbergs generally chose conservative shapes and styles. Skirts were extremely short or down-to-the-floor, no midis or maxis. Shapes were fitted through the bust and waist with free-flowing skirts.

The youngsters also scorned the see-through look, although they bared much of the body with cut-outs and halter tops. Simple jersey dresses, with a bib in front and lacing in back were offered in black, burgundy and navy for both day and evening wear by several students.

There were fewer pants than one might have expected from students of the trouser revolution. When slacks were presented, they always formed part of an ensemble, topped by tunics, sleeveless vests or tweed suit jackets.

One unusual costume included a black and white tweed wool dress worn over white linen shorts which peeped out for about an inch under the hem of the skirt.

Several students made interesting use of fabrics, combining panels of tweeds and jersey, suede and shiny leather or wool and satin.

Among the hits of the show was a simple evening shirtwaist with short skirt. The front of the dress was made of layers of white organdy, the back of black velvet.

The dress was designed by Joel Kruger, 20, of Silver Spring, Md., who won the Norman Norell "Gold Thimble" award for his styles.

Other students who received Gold Thimbles from noted American designers were Betsy Gonzalez of New York City who won the Chester Weinberg and Donald Brooks awards; Jann Johnson of Sacramento, Calif., who won the David Kidd award; Louis Dell'Olio of Elmont, N.Y., who won the Ilie Wacs award; and Linda Fox of New York City, who won the Leo Narducci award.

Bill Robinson of Clark, N.J., won the John Moore Gold Thimble for outstanding resort wear, the J. C. Penny Student Designer-of-the- Year award and the Penny coat award.

PAMELA KOPAN and Steven J. Kompf, both of Mill Valley, were married in the United Methodist Church of Mill Valley. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Kopan and he is the son of Ivan Kompf and Emma Monoogan of Larkspur.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Forget The Uptight Neighbors Who Stare At Silly Family Games

DEAR HELEN:

Maybe our family acts silly, but we enjoy each other. My husband wrestles with the kids, we play exuberant games. There's always some sort of happy commotion at our house, and sometimes it overflows to the lawn where we have water fights and everyone ends up getting soaked.

The kids think all this is great, and so do we. But here is the problem: I've been noticing lately a few funny looks from neighbors and also a few roundabout remarks such as "What do you do for an encore?"

Honest, Helen, we aren't showing off. We just have fun being nutty. My husband tells me I shouldn't worry about what a few uptight neighbors think, but — SHOULD WE OR SHOULDN'T WE CHANGE?

DEAR SWOSWC:

You should listen to your husband! — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Could you give us the address of Youth Life Line, so that we may get more detailed information on how to start a teen telephone service in our town? We know that young people need a place where they can pour out their problems anonymously, and our local woman's club would like to start such a telephone listening-counseling center. — MRS. J.P.

DEAR MRS. P:

The address is, Youth Life Line, care of Town and Country Junior Womens' Club, P.O. Box 15843, Sacramento, California, 95815. Please send a stamped self-addressed envelope with your query.

Because so many clubs and individuals have asked for guidelines on starting a teen telephone service, Sacramento's Youth Life Line has prepared a complete, step-by-step booklet on organization, maintenance, financing, counselor-training, etc.

But because YLL is perennially short of funds, it must charge $1.00 per booklet.

A stamped envelope will bring you a one-page resume, but if your club is ready to go on a young peoples' telephone service, I'd suggest you send a dollar for total "how-to" information.

Good luck! — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Our last chick has flown, but we aren't lonely. How could we be with all the relatives who descend on us each vacation time? They now give as their reason, "You must really be at loose ends, rattling around in that house all alone." So of course they come in hoards to cheer us up. When our children were still home, they had other excuses, like it's so lovely for our kids to get together.

Take last night: We expected dinner for two, and we ended up feeding 12. Which meant we had to run out and buy steaks — and you know what that does to a limited budget. Oh yes, they all drink, but no one thinks to bring a bottle.

Those who couldn't crowd into our guest room and the living room couch slept on the lawn. Anything to avoid motel bills.

They make our house their headquarters, then take off to visit friends, but always return at meal time.

This is the sixth group of happy vacationers we've had in two months, and I'm sick of it. Yet I can't be rude to relatives. How do I get it across that I no longer want to provide free lodgings, food, laundry and maid service, especially since we go on trips, we never take advantage like this? — BROKE: BACK AND BUDGET

DEAR BB AND B:

So long as you're an easy mark, you'll get hit up for free services. When relatives turn up unexpectedly, suggest they go out for dinner, and recommend a good motel. Discourage the regulars by telling them your doctor insists you take it easier, and that means no more visitors for a while.

Then, take a trip and relax. You've earned your rest. — H.

Wives May Suffer From Agoraphobia

By ARLEEN ABRAHAMS
AP Newsfeatures

Susan D. has suffered from agoraphobia for 10 years but, nevertheless, she has manged to keep this crippling illness a secret from her husband. Susan, herself, probably is not aware of the technical term for her anxiety state — which is a Greek word meaning "fear of the market place." But she is very conscious of the fact that leaving the safety of her home causes her great anxiety.

Sometimes Susan runs out of excuses to stay home and must go out to do a particular errand. On those occasions, she is careful only to follow a prescribed route, or to take along a prop or another person.

Susan's neighbor, Virginia M., is another nervously ill housebound housewife, but her case is not as acute as Susan's. She can take a vacation trip, with some help. But once at her destination, she will not unpack. Her suitcase must always be ready for quick escape "just in case."

ALTHOUGH SUSAN D. and Virginia M. rarely discuss their sickness with anyone, they are not alone. It is estimated that in England 100,000 people suffer with this complaint and that in America there are at least 300,000 nervously ill housebound housewives. There are male agoraphobiacs too, but not as many.

Dr. Claire Weekes, an Australian physician who specializes in treating anxiety states, is convinced that agoraphobiacs can recover. "And part of their cure and the cure of others in varying degrees of anxiety states (not psychotics) rests with the individuals themselves," she says.

DR. WEEKES doesn't like to discuss agoraphobia or other fears by their technical names because she believes that labeling a patient's illness does more harm than good. "Patients are individuals," asserts the veteran doctor who is now consulting physician to the Rachel Forster Hospital in Sydney, "and labeling a patient only tends to give him added fears."

During all the years in which she has engaged in private practice, Dr. Weekes claims that she has found only one person in an anxiety state who needed to undergo analysis to recover. She comments: "In my experience most nervous people who come for help have no deep-seated cause for their illness. Indeed, many have no particular problem that is keeping them ill other than the difficulty of finding a way to recovery, after having been 'tricked' into illness by sensitization, bewilderment and fear.

THE AVERAGE person, she claims, helps to increase or maintain his fear by doing exactly the opposite of things that could foster recovery. "The anxiety-laden person tries to withdraw from his symptoms," she observes. "He tenses himself to meet the feelings or attempts to forcefully forget, either by fighting or running away. Because he's impatiently hoping for an overnight miracle, he refuses to let time pass."

She suggests a four-point program: "Facing, accepting, floating, and letting time pass." The clue, she believes, lies in letting your feelings come and functioning with them. "The main thing in life" she says is "to learn how to walk through it not so immaculately. Accept what can't be rectified."

If, for example, "a nervously ill housebound housewife can go forward, however hesitatingly, understanding what is happening and ready to accept the tricks that fear may play on her," Dr. Weekes believes that the patient's reactions and sensitized nerves gradually calm down.

"The fear is within the patient, not the place or the distance. If she can go out even to the corner, then ultimately she can go anywhere."

Self-Help Ideas Cure Common Nervous Ills

These four treatment principles, developed by Dr. Claire Weekes, form the basis of her book "Hope and Self-Help for Your Nerves." Dr. Weekes cautions the reader, however, that no matter how deceptively simple the advice seems, a nervously ill person learning to stand on his own feet needs constant support and encouragement, especially at the beginning.

1. Face the fact that you do have fears. Do not shrink or withdraw from the sensations that have been upsetting you. "It's withdrawal that is the jailer." Analyze each sensation and describe it to yourself.

2. Accept your fears and realize that you must live with them for the time being. Don't make the mistake of thinking your fears will vanish as soon as you cease to fear them. Your nerves are sensitized, claims Dr. Weekes, and take time to recover. By true acceptance, you break the fear-adrenalin cycle.

3. Float, don't fight. Let your body go with the feelings the nervous reactions bring instead of trying to withdraw from them or force your way through them. When you float you relax and this helps action.

4. Let time pass. As long as it's a positive program be prepared to let time pass.

EMPHASIS ON EYES

"Moon Bonnet," left, is the name Paris hatmaker Jean Barthot gave this creation in fluffy white wool rings with matching glasses. Genuine diamonds, sapphires, amethysts and rubies surround the eyes of the jeweled creation, right, from the new Christian Dior eyeglass and sunglass collection. The price is the same, $22,000, for plain or prescription lenses. But, if you are economy minded, Dior offers the same model with imitation jewels for $250.

Pregnancy Isn't For All Women

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Annette Benjamin, co-author with her internist-husband of the book, "New Facts of Life for Women," believes that some women should never be mothers.

"Just because we have the same reproductive capacity," she said, "doesn't mean that we should all employ it, or to the same degree."

She pointed out that "some women get scared to death when they discover they are pregnant, for fear of an entire lifetime of attachment and responsibility."

The medical writer feels that today, with the presence of the pill, the choice of becoming pregnant is the woman's.

PRESS GUIDE IS AVAILABLE

A new guide for press chairmen of organizations which are interested in getting news to the Marin Women's Section of the Independent-Journal is now available at the San Rafael main office and the Novato, Mill Valley and Southern Sonoma I-J offices.

The guide explains policies of coverage, how to prepare news stories and meeting notices, and the special stories and features emphasized by the section.

The booklets at the San Rafael office may be obtained from the switchboard on the main floor.

FINALLY COMES TO WESTERN

Since hardly a movie goes by these days without at least one bedroom scene, it was only a matter of time before the covers were figuratively removed from that hardy American staple—the Western. It appears, however, that James Stewart doesn't really appreciate the charms of his bearded, walnut-cracking friend, Henry Fonda, in a scene from National General's comedy-western, "The Cheyenne Social Club," now in production.

OPENING NIGHT

San Francisco In The Opera Spotlight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The printed program for the opening of the nation's opera season said, "No applause during performance."

But a sellout audience of 3,500 which paid from $12 to $50 a seat stopped the performance of Verdi's "La Traviata" with a burst of applause after each aria by Jeanette Pilou last night.

The New York Metropolitan Opera had canceled its Monday night opening—traditionally first in the country—because of a labor dispute. So the honor of opening the season fell to San Francisco.

At the end of the first act, Gov. Ronald Reagan of California left his box seat to congratulate Herbert Kurt Adler, director of the San Francisco Opera Co.

In a box half a house away was Reagan's prospective Democratic challenger in next year's gubernatorial election, Mayor Joseph Alioto.

Hundreds of spectators, clotted outside the San Francisco Opera House as always for an opening, saw the governor roll up to the red carpeted entrance in a Rolls Royce.

The patrons of the opera came from a champagne dinner in the San Francisco Art Museum across the mall from the opera house.

They had barely settled into their seats when the curtain rose on a champagne party on stage, which stage director August Everding enlivened by having a corps of waiters pop the corks and send them flying across the stage.

The Reagans were taken backstage by Adler after the second act and met Toni Businger, who designed the production.

They congratulated Miss Pilou, tenor Frank Bonisolli who sang Alfredo and Swedish baritone Ingvar Wixell who played Germont.

Businger's new production of "La Traviata" has an ending that likely will be talked about for years.

As Violetta—Miss Pilou—sings her dying aria she recalls the champagne party at which she met Alfredo. Suddenly in the back of the dingy bedroom the walls seem to give way and there is another Violetta and Alfredo climbing a curving staircase between the tall candelabra—a re-creation of the first scene.

As it fades, the audience knows the now silent Violetta, crumpled on the floor, is dead.

The North Carolina legislature has voted the gray squirrel the state's official mammal.

New Dancers Ready For Marin Ballet

Three new young dancers will perform with the Marin Civic Ballet Company during the 1969-70 season, director Leona Norman has announced.

They are: Bonnie Bent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philard McAtee of Novato; Cynthia Harvey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Harvey of Novato, and Kathy McCormick, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. T. E. McCormick of San Rafael.

The number of men in the Marine Corps Reserve is now about 45,000.

New Jurors For Festival In Mill Valley

Artists Serge Trubach of Sausalito and Maggie Hazel Rosen of Mill Valley have been named as jurors for the juried section of the Mill Valley Fall Arts Festival to be held Oct. 11 and 12 in Old Mill Park.

The two replace originally selected jurors Fred Herschleb and Lore Fisher-Smith, who recently resigned.

Entries for the juried show will be received from 2 to 4 p.m. Sept. 25 and from 2 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. Sept. 26 at the Mill Valley Library.

Final date to reserve panels and spaces for the show is Sept. 30. Applications are available at most Marin County art stores and from Mrs. Richard J. Young of Mill Valley.

ALONE AND DEJECTED

Cincinnati pitcher Gary Nolan sits in the corner of the dugout after watching his 1-0 shutout turn into a 2-1 defeat at the hands of the Los Angeles Dodgers. Nolan was relieved with the bases loaded in the ninth inning of last night's first game of a double-header. A walk brought in one Dodger run and the winner scored on a throwing error by catcher Johnny Bench. Things got worse when the Reds lost the second game, 3-2. (UPI Telephoto)

Candlestick Park Crowds Not Up To Expectations

13,802 See Marichal's Shutout

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—With the San Francisco Giants in the midst of a torrid scramble for the National League West pennant, the turnouts at Candlestick Park should be much larger than they have been.

Take last night for instance. With San Francisco only a half game behind Atlanta, only 13,802 braved the night to take in the Giants-Braves encounter.

As it turned out, those who attended were the ones who were richly rewarded. Not only did the Giants beat the Braves, 2-0, to move into first place, they also watched masterful Juan Marichal turn in another one of his superb pitching performances.

19-19 RECORD

Marichal, who upped his season record to 19-10 with the win, raised his career shutout total to 45—highest among active pitchers in the major leagues—with the four-hitter.

It was the second straight whitewash performance by the 30-year-old righthander, who only six days ago stopped another power-hitting team, the Cincinnati Reds, on just one safety.

In fact, even Marichal agreed the back-to-back shutouts were the best he's put together since he joined the Giants nine seasons ago.

"These two have got to be my best," Marichal said, "especially since they came against two of the best-hitting teams in the league."

OVATION

The fans were well aware of Marichal's performance, too. In the eighth inning when he came to bat, Marichal was greeted with a standing ovation.

"It surprised me but it made me feel good," he said of the sudden burst of enthusiasn. "It's been a long time since I had a hand that big."

All told, Marichal struck out nine and walked only one as he permitted only one Atlanta runner to advance as far as third base.

Former teammate Orlando Cepeda got two of the Brave hits with Gil Garrido and Rico Carty the other pair. Garrido kept the third base coach company briefly in the third when he moved to the far bag on a sacrifice and groundout after his safety.

HAL'S HIT

And the guy who got Marichal the only run he needed was Hal Lanier, who knocked in the game's only tally last Friday when Marichal went against the Reds.

The run came in the third when the San Francisco shortstop singled after hits by Ken Henderson and Jack Hiatt. Just prior to the first hit, Bobby Bonds was robbed of a home run when Atlanta leftfielder Carty leaped high and over the fence to make a sensational catch.

Marichal got an insurance run in the fifth when Tito Fuentes singled and scored on Willie Mays' double to the centerfield fence.

The Giants, who hold a slim half-game lead over Atlanta and Los Angeles, opened a two-game stand against Houston today with Gaylord Perry (17-13) toiling for the hometowners against the Astros' Larry Dierker (19-10).

JIM GILMARTIN

Ford Vs. Chevy
At Sears Point

I don't want to start any feuds between you Ford and Chevy drivers. Lord knows, you have enough problems fighting the commute traffic these days without starting a deliberate fender war.

But you should approach this weekend's Trans-American Sedan Championship Series 200-miler at Sears Point Raceway with more than casual interest.

DAN GURNEY

The main interest in this series for both large and small sports sedans is on the Detroit-built pony cars of the Mustang, Camaro, Javelin and Firebird class limited to 3-liter (302 cubic inch) engines. But after 10 races, it all boils down to Chevrolet versus Ford. You Chevy Camaro owners can look forward to Sunday's 80-lap main event with a feeling of smug pride while you Ford Mustang fans should have fire in your eyes.

You see, the Roger Penske Camaro team featuring Mark Donohue, Ed Leslie and Ron Bucknum already has clinched at least a tie for its second straight Trans-Am crown, needing only a first at Sears or the 1969 finale at Riverside to pick up all the marbles.

It's Do Or Die For Mustangs

Which means, simply, there is no tomorrow for the Mustangers who dominated this glamorous series in 1966 and '67. They must win the final two races to tie in the final standings, giving each manufacturer six victories and three seconds (only the best nine races count).

To put it a little more bluntly, blanking Camaro is something akin to telling the Giants to shut out the Reds in both ends of a doubleheader or asking the 49ers to stop the Colts for eight downs inside the five-yard line.

But Ford won't give up without a fight. The Mustangs have rented exclusive use of the Sears facility on three of the four available days this week with American Motors' Javelins, led by Ron Grable, taking the other day. Friday is an open practice day.

(There is no truth to the rumor, by the way, that Ford tried to rent the track on Sunday to assure itself of victory, making Donohue & Co. park their Camaros out in the public lots and buy admission tickets.)

Glittering Array Of Drivers

I don't want to sound like a name-dropper, but Ford (how's that for a start?) is bringing in its most glittering array of drivers in an attempt to Stop Camaro. Like Parnelli Jones of Indianapolis fame. And Dan Gurney, the versatile international headliner who gained much of his motoriety on the Grand Prix circuit. He is the only American to have won championships in the four major classifications of international racing.

With them in the Mustang corral will be fast-rising Peter Revson and former U.S. Road Racing champ George Follmer.

Names like Parnelli and Gurney and Donohue alone should give Sears Point its biggest gate of the year. Blend them with the bitter Ford-Chevrolet rivalry, the Mustangs' do-or-die situation and the challenge of Sears Point's 11-turn, twisting, 2.5-mile road circuit and it adds up to the greatest motorsports spectacle ever staged in this neck of the woods. I look for a crowd in excess of 20,000.

Main Event On Sunday

Practice, qualifying and regional races will be held both Saturday and Sunday with the main event scheduled for a flying start at 2 p.m. on the Sabbath.

To ease post-race traffic pains Sunday afternoon, a third lane from the track to the intersection of highways 37 and 121 will be ready for use.

49ers Cut Veteran Bosley

REDWOOD CITY (AP)—Bruce Bosley, the No. 1 old pro on the San Francisco 49ers, stepped aside today for a center who is younger, faster and bigger.

The 35-year-old Bosley, who with 14 years was the longest serving player on the roster, was cut along with three other players yesterday.

The move was "something I really hated to make," said 49er coach Dick Nolan. "With the emphasis on youth, I felt it was the only thing to do. Boz is a helluva guy but I'm build-something here with the kids."

YOUNGER

Bosley had lost the first string center job to second-year man Forrest Blue from Auburn. Blue is 6-foot-5, weighs 250 and is 12 years younger than Bosley.

Bosley, a graduate of West Virginia, first appeared in the Pro Bowl game in 1961 as a guard, and appeared in the Pro Bowl again in '66, '67 and last season as a center. Since he made the switch in positions in 1964, Bosley had been considered one of the top centers in the National Football League.

Other players cut were soccer-style kicker Momcilo Gavric, halfback Tom Manning and defensive end Tom Holzer, a No. 2 draft choice in 1967. Gavric joins five other players on the taxi squad.

The 49ers' roster total dropped to 40 as linebacker Jim Sniadecki, No. 4 draft choice this year, reported to his military draft board. Kevin Hardy, recuperating from a knee operation, is expected to be put on the injured list, cutting the roster to 39.

New Women's Golf Champion For Peacock Gap

The Peacock Gap Women's Golf Club has a new champion.

That's news, because Mrs. Harold Baer has had a stranglehold on the championship of the San Rafael course for the past four years. Until yesterday, that is.

Mrs. Seymour Hyman finished with a 264 total over three days of play yesterday to wrest the crown from Mrs. Baer, who finished second, six strokes behind at 270.

Mrs. Hyman, who runs the Bay Area Weightwatchers Club with her husband, is a San Franciscan who joined the club this past spring.

Low net winner was Mrs. Richard DeKay with a 216.

Other results from Peacock Gap:

Warriors' Mieuli Rips Into ABA

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Franklin Mieuli says there will never be a merger of the two professional basketball leagues until "the other guys come to the table with clean hands."

By other guys the outspoken owner of the NBA San Francisco Warriors was referring to the rival ABA. He made his remarks yesterday at a club luncheon.

"We are in no hurry for a merger, though," said Mieuli. "We feel we are in a better position to last out the battle than they are. We'll talk with them any time they want but they will have to come to the table with clean hands."

Mieuli accused the ABA of upsetting merger talks and said he was the only NBA owner to vote against holding talks with the ABA in the first place. He said he questioned ABA motives all along.

"After we signed Lew Alcindor the ABA filed a suit against us and later came forward and said they would dismiss the suit if we voted for a merger," Mieuli said. "Well, I'll say it now and get the record straight. The vote in the NBA was 13-1 for talks and I voted against."

Mieuli said for a while he was beginning to question the motives of some of his fellow NBA owners but added that now "they seem to be acting as one after realizing what kind of the game the ABA was playing."

Mieuli concluded that it would be pretty hard now to get anyone in the NBA to vote for merger talks.

"That's a pretty dead issue now," he said, "unless there is some kind of change of attitude on the other side."

Bears Practice Against Texas T

BERKELEY (AP) — The California Bears are looking for defenses against the Texas wishbone T offense, which features the running and passing of option specialist James Street and the power plunges of fullback Steve Worster.

The Bears, who open the football season Saturday at home against the Longhorns, figure Worster is the key to the Texas offense.

A key Bear defensive player, end Irby Augustine of Port Arthur, Tex., remained a doubtful starter. Augustine, ailing with a knee sprain, wore pads yesterday but was held out of contact drills.

Sagging A's Move Into K.C.

KANSAS CITY (UPI)—They started tolling the bells over the Oakland A's 10 days ago and now the countdown has reached six.

That means any combination of Minnesota Twins victories and A's losses totalling six will give the American League West title to Minnesota.

That's been a pretty foregone conclusion for awhile now and the A's did nothing to slow the Twins down in a two game set at Minnesota, dropping a 6-3 decision on Monday and an 11-3 count yesterday.

The A's moved into Kansas City today for a two-game series.

Harmon Killebrew hit his 44th homer, a three-run poke in the first, yesterday, and the game was over almost at that early point. But Leo Cardenas and John Roseboro added circuit clouts and the Twins kept right on rolling along.

Jim Nash was tagged for five runs and five hits inside of four innings and took his eighth defeat in 16 decisions.

Indians To End Heavy Drills

STANFORD (AP)—The Stanford Indians planned to conclude heavy contact drills today in preparation for Saturday's home football opener against San Jose State.

Coach John Ralston said work outs were "starting to pick up quite a bit," after yesterday's practice.

Two injured players, defensive back Dick Oliver and fullback Howie Williams, returned to action and are expected to start against San Jose. Williams suffered a hip pointer and Oliver received a whiplash injury in an auto accident.

Cossacks' Home Games In Petaluma

Sonoma State College will play its home football games at Petaluma High School's Durst Field, it was learned today.

The Cossacks, fielding a football team this season for the first time in the school's history, weren't able to get bleachers installed on their field and financial problems indicate there will be none this year. So the SSC eleven will rent Petaluma High's home field.

Thus Durst Field now has seven "tenants." In addition to Petaluma High and Sonoma State, Rancho Cotate, St. Vincent and Tomales high schools and the city's two Pop Warner teams — the Chicks and the Cougars — play their home games there.

Sonoma State opens the season Saturday when it hosts Arizona Western College at 1 p.m.

O.J. A Big Threat As Pass Catcher

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Coach Wally Lemm of the Houston Oilers thinks O. J. Simpson is "possibly a greater threat as a receiver than as a runner."

"He's one hell of a threat," Lemm said yesterday after viewing a film of Simpson's performance with the Buffalo Bills against the New York Jets last Sunday, his first regular season pro game.

Lemm said the fabled running back from Southern Cal should make the Oilers' clash with Buffalo a tough game, even though he believes he has the best potential Oiler team since he returned as head coach in 1966.

IMPROVED

"Simpson wasn't with the Bills when we beat them 24-7 in August so we know they are improved," Lemm said.

Simpson was limited to 35 yards in 10 carries, including an eight-yard run for his first pro touchdown. But he showed his breakaway ability on two pass receptions for a 64-yard gain and on three kickoff returns for another 68 yards.

Simpson's heroics were not enough, however, as the Bills lost to the world champion Jets 33-19.

Houston dropped the opener against Oakland 21-17 but Lemm said "Oakland had two weeks to prepare for us and came out with some defense patterns we hadn't seen before. We didn't solve our adjustments entirely until we got to the blackboard at halftime."

Lemm said his only line-up change at Buffalo will find eight-year veteran Sonny Bishop at right guard in place of Jim Lemoine, a three-year man, "because we'll need Sonny's greater experience and ability to adjust to situations."

FINAL CUTS

In other developments, National Football League clubs revealed final, no-recall cuts made to reach Monday's 40-man limit.

Minnesota said it had claimed aging quarterback Zeke Bratkowski on waivers from Green Bay where he's serving as an assistant coach. But it's been reported Bratkowski will retire rather than play for the Vikings, and remain on the Green Bay staff.

A Minnesota spokesman said Vikings' General Manager Jim Finks probably will talk to Bratkowski today.

Washington sprung a mild surprise by cutting veteran running back A. D. Whitfield, who gained 72 yards on 17 carries in preseason games. Coach Vince Lombardi also dropped receiver Sonny Randle.

Late Inning Homers Plague Gaylord Perry

Home runs harass the best of pitchers. No pitcher enjoys immunity from the gopher ball. Warren Spahn used to serve them by the score each season. Juan Marichal yields his share each year.

Most home runs are incidental statistics in most ball games. Some are spectacular smashes such as Bobby Thomson's homer in the final game of the 1951 playoffs that made the Giants a pennant-winner over the Dodgers. Every baseball fan knows about Thomson's "shot that was heard round the world."

Less important homers fade in memory. Usually only the batter and pitcher can recall them or the fans who personally witnessed them. Marichal never will forget two homers, one a happy hit, the other depressing.

SEVERAL YEARS ago in Candlestick Park Marichal and Spahn dueled each other for 15 scoreless innings. In the 16th Willie Mays hit a homer off Spahn and Marichal became a 1-0 winner.

A month ago in New York Marichal shutout the Mets for 13 innings. In the 14th he became a 1-0 loser to a homer by Tommie Agee.

GAYLORD PERRY now is plagued by the memory of recent homers that beat the rangy righthander of the Giants in late innings. Donn Clendenon hit a 10th inning homer in Candlestick Aug. 30 to beat Perry 3-2 for the Mets. Denis Menke beat him in the Astrodome 2-0 Sept. 5 with a two-run ninth inning homer. And last Saturday in Candlestick Lee May hit Perry for a two-run ninth inning homer and a 6-4 win for the Reds.

May's homer was the 20th off Perry this season. The first one was a grand slam by Felix Millan that beat him in his first 1969 start at Atlanta. Most fans have forgotten that one. Perry, of course, hasn't.

NEITHER HAS he forgotten a pair of homers Jim Wynn hit off him May 2 in the Astrodome for a 3-1 Houston decision nor one Ed Charles hit May 31 in New York for a 4-2 Met win.

Still, Perry, a fierce competitor, has done a good job in not permitting the memory of his game-losing homers to depress him to the point of ineffectiveness.

FOLLOWING the Clendenon and Menke shocks, Perry pulled the Giants out of a skid on their last road trip with a six-hit win over the Reds in Cincinnati. It was his 17th win.

With two weeks remaining in the 1969 season, Perry hopes to bring in three more wins for his second 20-game season. His teammates heartily approve of that because top prize money in this year's World Series is a guaranteed $15,000.

THE OTHER money guarantees of $10,000 to the losing World Series team and $5,000 to division winners have their fascination, too.

Like Holiday For Walker Cup Golfers

SOUTHPORT, England (AP) — The 42-year-old Ryder Cup got around today to the simple question of whether the relaxed rich will win again or will the battling poor pull off an upset.

The 12-man American professional team, which has won $1.5 million this year, scratched around Royal Birkdale's 7,140-yard par 74 golf course as though on holiday.

There being no money at stake, they acted like kids—except for one.

Jack Nicklaus, 29, of Columbus, Ohio, who already is rich but made the Ryder Cup team for the first time only this year crushed Birkdale's punishing back nine in six under par yesterday afternoon and then promptly went back to the practice tee.

"I've had no match play competition since the Walker Cup a long time ago and I want to prove myself on this," the blond bomber said.

Sam Snead, the nonplaying American captain, watched the practice just to decide as he said "who to leave out and who to leave in."

That means which formation the Americans will present in foursome, four-balls and singles matches from tomorrow to Saturday in the Anglo-American competition unique in golf history.

The British, spurred by Scottish captain Eric Brown, sharpened their games in serious, dour fashion.

The Americans relaxed.

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Juan's Fantastic Candlestick Record

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bacon and eggs . . . ham and swiss . . . lettuce and tomatoes. None of them go together as well as Juan Marichal and Candlestick Park.

Marichal, the high-kicking right-hander, pitched the San Francisco Giants into first place in the National League's hectic West Division race last night, beating Atlanta 2-0 on a four-hitter.

It was routine, almost automatic for Marichal, who is virtually unbeatable in Candlestick Park. The victory gave him a 13-1 record at home this season. He is 19-10 over-all, meaning away from home, Juan's mark is a somewhat mediocre 6-9.

SCORES

Elsewhere in the National League yesterday, Chicago tripped Montreal 5-4, San Diego drubbed Houston 8-1, Pittsburgh downed Philadelphia 9-5 and Los Angeles swept a doubleheader from Cincinnati, winning the opener 2-1 and taking the nightcap 3-2 in 12 innings. New York's game at St. Louis was postponed by rain.

In the American League, New York nipped Detroit 7-6 in 13 innings, Kansas City trimmed Seattle 2-1, Minnesota blasted Oakland 11-3, Cleveland clipped Boston 5-2, Baltimore blanked Washington 1-0 and Chicago took a doubleheader from California 7-4 and 3-2.

TO SECOND

L.A.'s sweep moved the Dodgers into second place, one-half game behind the Giants and one percentage point ahead of the Braves.

Wes Parker drove in all three Dodger runs in the nightcap victory including the winner on a 12th inning single after Ted Sizemore had doubled and reached third on a fielder's choice.

The Dodgers rallied for two runs in the ninth inning to take the opener. The first run scored on a bases-loaded walk to Willie Crawford and the second on Johnny Bench's throwing error as the Cincinnati catcher attempted an inning-ending double play.

San Diego dealt another jolt to Houston's waning hopes, tagging the Astros with their sixth consecutive loss. Tommie Sisk coasted on a seven-hitter with Nate Colbert and rookie Ron Slocum slamming home runs.

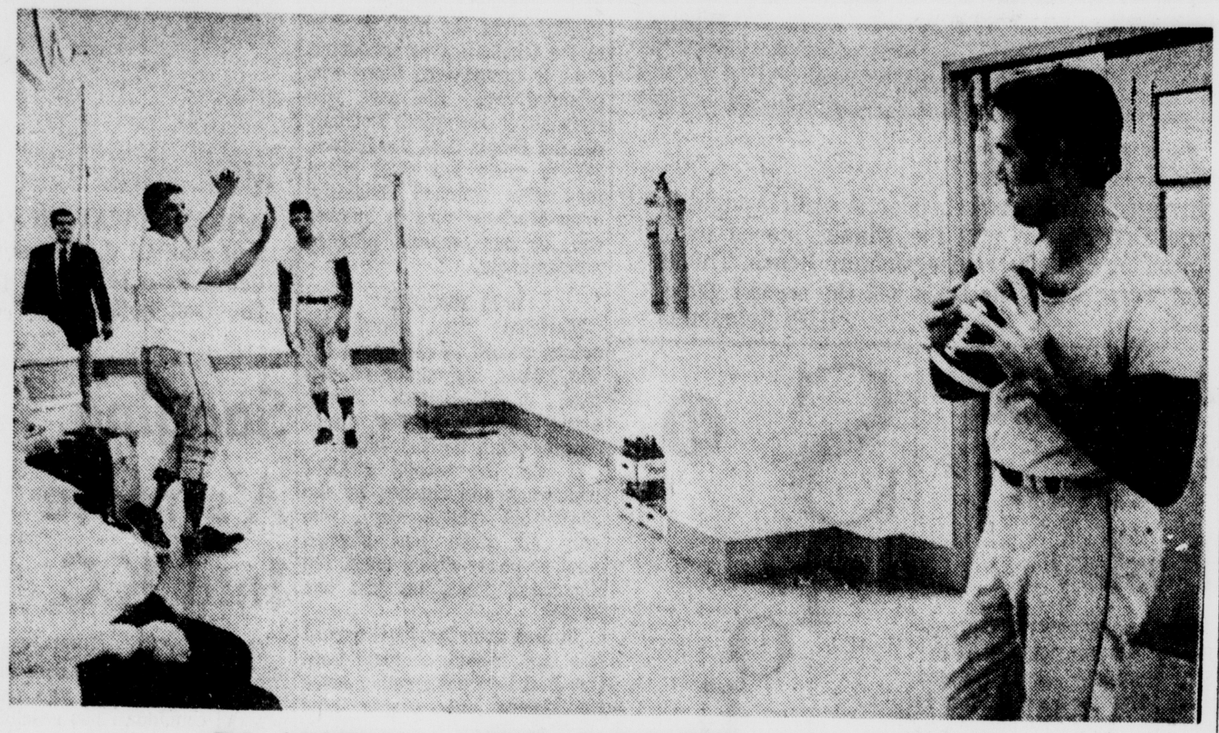
SIX OUT

The loss left the fifth place Astros six games behind the Giants with just 16 games remaining.

Chicago used home runs by rookie Oscar Gamble and veteran Billy Williams to beat Montreal. The victory combined with the Mets' rainout at St. Louis, moved the Cubs back to within four games of New York. The Mets' magic number remained at 11.

Pittsburgh used a 13-hit attack including homers by Jose Pagan and Al Oliver to whip Philadelphia. Matty Alou tagged three hits and Bob Moose, 11-3, struck out 13 Phillies for the victory.

Johnny Callison homered for the Phillies.



PLAYFUL MET FOOTBALL GAME

A trio of New York Mets playfully wait out the rain in St. Louis with a game of indoor football as quarterback Art Shamsky fades back to hit end Tom Seaver with a pass, while defensive back Duffy Dyer just watches. The rain never did stop and the game was postponed. (UPI Telephoto)

Raiders Report No Injuries

OAKLAND (UPI) — Coach John Madden says his Oakland Raiders emerged from their victory over Houston "quite well physically." He said yesterday that the club will be healthy for Saturday night's contest against the Miami Dolphins.

Madden praised strong-side safety Howie Williams for his play against the Oilers in the league opener Sunday. The Raiders, hit by injuries in their defensive backfield, had planned to start rookie Jackie Allen. But Madden brought Williams up from the taxi squad and the 32-year-old veteran stymied the Oilers' game plan by blanketing their tight end Alvin Reed.

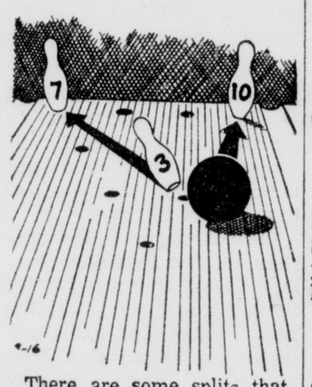
BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG



There are some splits that can be converted with a little nerve and maybe some luck. One of those is the 3-7-10. Hit the 3-pin on the right side. It may bounce into the 7, while your ball picks up the 10. If the shot is successful, think of the thrill you'll get.

THE LONG WAIT

Al Kaline Feels For Ernie Banks

NEW YORK (UPI)—Al Kaline feels for Ernie Banks.

He knows what it is to wait. And wait. And wait.

For Al Kaline the wait ended one year ago tonight. Maybe you remember that night. It was the night the Tigers officially assured themselves the 1958 American League pennant by beating the Yankees, 2-1. It was also the night Kaline was assured his first taste of a World Series after 16 frustrating seasons.

MORE WAITING

For Ernie Banks it's beginning to look as if he may have to wait some more and that's rather said because he has gone 17 years already without being in a World Series, he'll be 39 in four months and if there is such a thing as a ballplayer earning the right to play in a World Series, then Ernie Banks earned that right a long time ago.

It says something for Ernie Banks that a majority of the other ballplayers are rooting more for him personally to make it than they are for the Chicago Cubs.

Al Kaline doesn't care to put himself in the middle between the Cubs and Mets—"I have friends on both clubs"—but he'd be less than human if he wasn't pulling for Ernie Banks a little bit.

He is.

"You have no idea how much respect I have for Ernie Banks," Kaline says. "I think he's one of the finest advertisements for baseball. Everybody knows what a fine person he is. Always cheerful and full of optimism. I remember him at the (World Series) games last year. I believe he was doing some commentating for a Chicago radio station. I had a chance to say a few words to him and I could see he was enjoying the series atmosphere."

BIG SERIES

Al Kaline had an excellent series against the Cardinals. He batted .379, knocked in eight runs with two homers, two doubles and seven singles and had a great deal to do with the Tigers winning the world championship. Consequently a number of stories were written about him during and after the series.

"A lot of nice things were said about me, and about me waiting a long time," Kaline says. "When I read the stories, Ernie Banks' name came into my mind. I thought about how he had waited as long as I did and he still hadn't gotten into a World Series."

Oilers' Coach Blasts Raiders' Home Field

HOUSTON (UPI) — Wally Lemm, head coach of the Houston Oilers, thinks he has found the worst playing field in professional football.

Lemm, though he said he was not making excuses about his teams 21-17 loss to the Oakland Raiders last Sunday, said the dusty baseball infield at one end of Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum made footing difficult for his players.

"It's the worst pro football field I've ever seen," he said.

Lemm said Oilers defensive back Zeke Moore slipped on the grassless ground where a pitchers mound used to be and the man he was covering, Raider Warren Wells, caught the pass and went for a touchdown. The score turned a 17-14 Oiler lead into a win for Oakland.

Lemm said a little grass in that area might have kept Moore from falling.

The Houston coach also complained about a sandy area extending out of one end zone to the 15-yard line. He said wide receiver Mac Haik slipped in the dust as he tried to cut on a crucial pass pattern during the Oilers final possession. The Houston team had a second and 10 inside the Raider 30-yard line with less than two minutes to play.

Puck Means Luck

DENVER (AP) — One swing of a hockey stick won a new automobile for Charles Horner, 19-year-old junior college student from the Denver area. He was the first holder of a lucky ticket to knock a puck 120 feet down the ice and into a six-inch opening in a rectangle of plyboard fastened over the goal. This was a regular feature between periods of Denver Spurs games in the Western Hockey League.

All-Time Grid Team Announced

NEW YORK (AP) — Harold "Red" Grange is the only unanimous choice on the modern all-time college football team named today by the Football Writers of America.

Grange ran to college football immortality from 1923 through 1925 as Illinois' Galloping Ghost.

Just one vote shy of unanimous selection was Bronislaw "Bronko" Nagurski who starred at tackle for Minnesota from 1927-29.

Only one player on the team played his college ball after 1940—Jim Parker, Ohio State guard from 1954-56.

Other members of the team are ends Bennie Oosterbann, Michigan, and Don Hutson, Alabama; tackle Frank "Bruiser" Kinard, Mississippi; guard Bob Suffridge, Tennessee; center Mel Hein, Washington State, and backs Sammy Baugh, Texas Christian; Jay Berwanger, Chicago, and Ernie Nevers, Stanford.

MARIN, SONOMA GOLF NOTES

Club Titles On The Line

By RALPH CHATOIAN

It's club championship time for many of the golf clubs scattered throughout Marin and Sonoma counties, a high point of the golf season.

At Indian Valley Golf Club in Novato, they'll be going into the quarterfinals Sunday, eight golfers surviving first round matches in the Championship Flight.

It will be George Scherba, a former champ, vs. Jim Creighton; Mike Dunham vs. Bud Sparrow; Al Randig vs. Bill Malstrom, and Bob Hachmyer vs. Al DeLucas.

BYRON EGGLESTON will be defending his title at the Mill Valley Men's Golf Club Championship tourney starting Sunday. There will be more than 140 golfers competing in 13 flights. It will be all match play, running four straight Sundays.

THE CHAMPIONSHIP Flight of the Rohnert Park club tourney has been pared to four. Defending champ Barrett Lewis defeated Vern Lull of San Anselmo, 1-up, in the quarterfinals Sunday. Other results were Burl Kroener defeating John Henderson, 2 and 1; Bill Davis defeating Sam Nofziger, 2 and 1, and Don Davis downing Eldon Davis by default.

FIRST ROUND pairings are up for the Marin Country Club Championship tourney, beginning this weekend at the Novato course. Two rounds will be played this weekend, one each Saturday and Sunday, with the final two rounds the final weekend.

New pro Wally Murray of Marin Country Club has brought in two new assistants. Tom Beene has come over from DeAnza Country Club at Borrego Springs, San Diego County, and Jayne O'Connor, a women's golf teacher, came over from Riviera Country Club in Los Angeles, where Murray was head pro.

OVER AT Peacock Gap course in San Rafael, golfers will be moving to the second round of their championship tournament. Pairings for the second round will be John Sterling vs. Gordon Hellwig; Bob Bond vs. Bill Cardinal; Robert Baciocco vs. Bill Breen, and Jack Hurley vs. Sid NuDellman. Defending champ Al Newman has moved to Los Angeles and defending runner-up John D. Culp Jr. has moved out of the area, so the tourney is wide open.

Cardinal, one of the championship flight winners in the first round, is also still on Cloud Nine after scoring a hole-in-one during the Leftie-Rightie tourney last weekend at Incline Village. He used a seven-iron on the 175-yard 15th hole.

BUT CHARLES MERCER, a retired lawyer, thought he'd score his hole-in-one a little closer to home. Mercer, playing in one of the Peacock Gap lower flights, used a two-iron on the 165-yard 16th in the tourney's first round Saturday to score his ace. Merver, who lives at "The Knoll" in Peacock Gap, has been playing golf 47 years and it was his first hole-in-one. It was witnessed by Stan Park and Roger Atkinson.

DON RUMPF, 26, is still trying to get acquainted with his new job as head pro at San Geronimo National course. Former assistant pro at Olympic Club in San Francisco, this is his first job as head pro. He and wife Nancy still live in San Francisco, "but we're looking for a place in Marin," says Rumpf.

EVEN THE GALS are getting in their championship tourneys. At Petaluma Golf and Country Club, defending champ Jan Ley was favored to beat Dede Gilardi in today's finals.

Jan's husband, Gene, and Dr. Wayne Musser are defending their Sorenson Cup team match title as the annual tourney moves into the quarterfinals this weekend at Petaluma. The defending champs have already won their first two matches.

THE WOMEN AT Rohnert Park course have started their new club rolling and have two people running the show. Serving as president are both Mrs. H. V. Stratton and Mrs. Willard Wicklund. Secretary-treasurer is Mrs. Fred Carter.

They held their first tournament yesterday and according to pro Bob Porter, it was the first game of golf for many of them. And by the way, adds Porter, membership is still open.

WINNERS OF the Marin Country Club Invitational Best Ball Twosome tourney for women were Mrs. Tom Major and Mrs. Betty Hanson, their Friday score of 252 doing the job. Runners-up were Mrs. Robert Vannucci and Mrs. Jean Marchant, 255.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Sept 17, the 260th day of 1969 with 105 remaining.

The moon is approaching its first quarter. The morning stars are Venus and Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1787, the U.S. Constitution was completed in Philadelphia, and signed by a majority of the 55 delegates.

In 1796, President George Washington delivered his farewell address and warned the American people to avoid foreign alliances.

In 1939, Russia invaded Poland, 16 days after Poland had been invaded by Nazi Germany.

In 1968, George Wallace, former governor of Alabama, was nominated for president by the American Independent party.

A thought for the day: British philosopher Bertrand Russell said, "A good society is a means to a good life for those who compose it; not something having an excellence on its own account."

Popular Names

HELSINKI (UPI)—Marja is the most popular girl's name in while Kari is the most popular among boys. Other popular names for girls: Pirjo, Riitta, Tuula, Anne, Eija, Tarja, Merja, Piivi and Leena; for boys: Markku, Hannu, Jukka, Timo, Juha, Jari, Pekka, Matti and Ari.

Piano Saves Day

LONDON (UPI)—A bride waited half an hour outside St. Peter's Church while the vicar tried to force open the locked church organ. The couple finally decided to settle for "Here Comes the Bride" on the piano.

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Where Did South Leave The Straight And Narrow Path?

You don't have to call out the bloodhounds to detect the criminal in today's hand: South is clearly the criminal. But get out your magnifying glass to make sure that you spot exactly where he left the straight and narrow path.

Opening lead — ♣ Q

TRUMP SETUP

West opened the queen of clubs, and South won with the ace in order to lead a low trump as quickly as possible from his own hand. West took the ace of spades and led the jack of clubs.

Declarer played the king of clubs from dummy, and East ruffed. South still had to lose a club and a diamond, and he was eventually down one.

All of the evidence is in. Decide for yourself, before you read on, how South should have played the hand and where he committed his crime.

CORRECT TRUMP PLAY

It was correct for South to lead the first trump from his own hand. This made West accept only small trumps for his ace, leaving it possible for South to draw the jack and the ten of spades with dummy's queen and his own king.

If South had led the first trump from dummy he would have made the natural play of the king from his own hand, losing to the ace. Then East would have a natural trump trick, with either the jack or the ten.

South was in such a hurry to get to his own hand for a trump lead that he won the first club in the wrong hand. The correct play is to win the first trick with the king of clubs and then get to the South hand with the ace of hearts. This puts South in position to lead a low trump from his hand.

NO DAMAGE

West takes the ace of trumps and leads the jack of clubs, but East can do no damage. If East ruffs, he gets only South's losing club, not a high club. The contract is safe, and nobody would call South a criminal.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player bids two clubs.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

You would surely raise partner's suit if he had opened with one heart or one diamond, but your support for spades is a bit thin. Some experts would raise to two spades even with this hand, but the majority would pass.

Tobacco Link

SCARBOROUGH, Tobago (UPI)—Tobago's name is a corruption of the word tobacco. One version of its origin is that Spanish explorers found Indians growing tobacco on the island and another is that the island is shaped like a typical Indian pipe.

Printing Firm Liquidates Part Of Press, Office Equipment

Although certain press and office equipment of Trans Rotary Co., 580 Irwin Street, San Rafael, goes up for auction Saturday at 10 a.m., printing operations of owner William Shirley are not being discontinued.

In order to settle certain major obligations, Shirley recently elected to go voluntarily in the Board of Trade and liquidators are disposing of some equipment. He owns the building at 580 Irwin and will put up about 7,200 square feet of this for lease, retaining the rest for his printing business which still includes the Holiday Magic account.

Meanwhile he is establishing his sales office and headquarters at 681 Market Street, San Francisco, under the corporate name, Trans Forms, Inc.

MARIN COUNTY real estate sales were down again in August.

Almost paralleling July, the monthly total of August reported multiple listing sales was $7,378,418, down from $10,055,524 for the same month a year ago and a 26.6 per cent drop. (July was down 28 per cent).

Completed sales totaling $7,522,387 were also down from $8,973,797 a year ago, but due to a margin built up during the first six months of this year, 1969 completed sales to date are still ahead ($51 million to $44 million).

WILLIAM M. ROTH of Ross has been elected a director of Norton Simon, Inc. of Fullerton. He was board chairman of Pacific National Life Assurance Co., San Francisco, before entering government service in 1963 as deputy special representative for trade negotiations in Washington, D. C., with the rank of ambassador. Appointed special representative in 1967, he held this post until last January. He is currently a director of Pacific National Life.

JEROME MEISLIN, board chairman and chief operating officer of Dyna-Growth Financial Corp., Oakland, announces its merger with Congeneric Corp., also of Oakland, a diversified firm with its stock traded over the counter.

Dyna-Growth is engaged in the development, construction and sale of convalescent hospitals and apartments. It will operate as a wholly owned subsidiary of Congeneric, with Meislin retaining his present post.

INSURANCE: Michael G. Bunker and Walter O. Johnson, field underwriters with Mutual of New York at Northgate Industrial Park, have qualified for the company's Career Conference next week in New York. . .

New staff manager of the Redwood Empire Agency for Prudential Insurance, San Rafael, is John V. Simmons, who formerly held the same post in Oakland. He joined the company in 1964. . . . Charles E. Abrams of Tiburon, with the San Francisco agency of Paul Revere Life, was cited for his sales record at a three-day conference in Worcester, Mass. . . . Al Miller, president of the Marin Association of Life Underwriters and general agent for General American Life, and Carroll Walker, manager of his own San Rafael agency, attended the annual convention of the national association at Houston last week.

BECAUSE OF A SHORT vacation period, there will be no Other People's Business column in this space until sometime next week.

NIXON'S CHOICE — Dean Burch, Tucson, Ariz. lawyer who managed Sen. Barry Goldwater's presidential campaign, has been nominated as chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, a $40,000-a-year post. President Richard M. Nixon announced the selection yesterday, along with that of Kansas radio executive Robert Wells to fill another FCC vacancy. (UPI Telephoto)

Flap Over Equipment Ironed Out

In the wake of a mixup yesterday which delayed a Black Students Union forum, the student government at College of Marin issued new policies taking over authority for issuing public address equipment for student functions.

The BSU forum, which is continuing through the week, was held up yesterday because the union was unable to get microphones and loudspeakers without clearance of student adviser David Garber, who was at a meeting.

The BSU went to the council where the problem was argued out. The council ordered that students and student groups can use facilities in the student center with clearace of Ron Davis, center commissioner.

A second resolution said use of audio-visual equipment will be open to all students and student groups if one member of the group takes responsibility for the equipment.

The council said it will buy public address equipment solely for student use as soon as possible.

The council also passed a rule on distribution of pamphlets and printed material on campus. It says students and student groups may distribute any free material on campus, but sale of material will require approval of the executive council. The rule formalizes what has been an unwritten practice.

RENO, Nev. (UPI)—A school bus carrying 50 children overturned today near Washoe Lake 15 miles south of here.

Twenty-two youngsters were taken to Washoe Medical Center here for treatment, mostly for cuts and bruises.

To Transit Panel

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Richard M. Nixon today named a Republican Arizona state senator, Mrs. Isabel A. Burgess, to the $38,000-a-year post on the National Transportation Safety Board, succeeding Joseph H. O'Connel, who resigned.

TV Set Stolen

A burglar who climbed through a window at the home of Geraldine K. Nowell of 209 Julia Street, Almonte, last Wednesday took a portable color television set valued at $250 apparently wrapped up in a bedsheet, sheriff's officers said today.

Expensive Burglary

Burglars who crawled through a bedroom window at the home of Emmy G. Miller fo 463 Live Oak Drive, Tamalpais Valley, last Wednesday took a stereo-radio set, portable television set, transistor radio, .44-caliber revolver and 100 record albums, sheriff's deputies said today.

Manzanita School Looted Of Items

Several windows and doors were broken and several pieces of equipment were stolen at Manzanita School last night, deputies at the Marin City Sheriff's substation reported today.

Preliminary reports said one 16-millimeter projector, an adding machine and two typewriters were taken but the inventory of the recently refurbished school's property was still underway.

In addition, deputies said, thieves broke at least one window and kicked panels out of three doors.

Logging Protesters Get Charges Dropped

Criminal charges against four persons arrested last spring during protests of logging on the Righetti Ranch on Bolinas Ridge have been dismissed by the district attorney's office, the lawyer for the protesters said today.

Robert P. Praetzel said that Bruce B. Bales, district attorney, had dropped misdemeanor charges "in the interest of justice" after discussion of the cases set for trial tomorrow.

"We had planned to call the board of supervisors and others as witnesses at the trial," Praetzel said.

(The supervisors recently blasted the logging operation, calling it a mess yesterday asked for checks on erosion control and fire safety regulations. See story page 10.)

"The jury probably would have hung medals around the necks of the defendants after we had shown them the situation on the ranch," Praetzel continued.

Those charged with failing to yield the right of way to vehicles and failure to disperse were Gillian LeProvest Baxter, 18; Michael Alan Bond, 26; Lorraine Barrow, 35, and Leslie Allen Ferris, 18, all of Bolinas.

Marijuana Case To Superior Court

William Stephen Weir, 29, of Covello, Mendocino County, was bound over to Marin Superior Court yesterday on a charge of possessing marijuana, to appear Monday for arraignment.

Weir, who originally gave his name as Stephen Michael Miller, was arrested Sept. 8 by the California Highway when officers saw him writhing on the ground along Highway 101 near San Pedro Road.

Chicagoans Sue Auto Companies Over Pollution

CHICAGO (AP) — A $3-billion damage suit has been filed against the Big Three auto manufacturers, charging that they conspired to delay development of antipollution devices on cars, trucks and buses.

The suit filed yesterday in U.S. District Court alleged that Chrysler Corp., Ford Motor Co., and General Motors Corp. had conspired since 1953 to "restrain trade in the distribution of motor vehicle air pollution control equipment."

A similar suit was filed in California by the Justice Department last January. But Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell announced last Thursday in Washington that agreement on a consent decree had been reached in that case, which in effect amounted to abandonment of the suit.

Defendants in the government action in U.S. District Court in Los Angeles were the Big Three, American Motors Corp., and their trade association, the Automobile Manufacturers Association.

METER SHOPPING PROPOSAL

Pay A Dime, Get A Dime Back

By JOANNE GRANT

A proposal to provide free parking in downtown San Rafael while doubling the city's revenue from the meters involved sounds almost too good to be true.

But the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, which is promoting the idea, believes it will work, and a host of downtown merchants are backing it.

The plan calls for changing meters in the shopping area from 5 cents to 10 cents an hour and adding a token-return mechanism.

Then, when a shopper inserts the dime, a token, probably a golden circle, would pop out. The token would be redeemed when purchases are made in participating stores.

Charles W. Try, manager of the San Rafael J. C. Penney Co. store and chairman of a chamber committee working on the proposal, estimated it would cost merchants about one-half of 1 per cent of their gross revenue.

Costs for changing parking meters would be absorbed by the increase in price per hour, he added.

More definite statistics on costs and results are expected soon with a visit of the manufacturer's representative planned to discuss the program with the city.

The idea originally came from the late City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen, Glenn Adair, manager of the chamber, said. Anderson had apparently read of other cities which are using the system.

In the last fiscal year, San Rafael parking meters brought in $115,577. The change would involve about half of them, and increase total revenue to about $163,000, Adair estimated.

Chamber officials reported merchants are ready to go for the plan and a random sampling of Fourth Street businessmen confirmed the report.

Only one of several merchants surveyed indicated displeasure with the idea.

Men's clothier Carl Schwartz objected on the grounds "a dime doesn't mean that much." He wondered if people would be embarrassed to ask to have their parking money returned.

He suggested instead picking up overtime parking tickets — "a much better gesture," he contended.

He and other merchants also suggested increasing the time limit on some of the meters so shoppers wouldn't have to leave in the middle of a shopping trip.

Following the visit of the manufacturer's representative, the proposal is expected to go to the chamber board of directors for a final decision before the city council is asked to act.

Prices of all farm products have risen 5 per cent over 1968, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reports.

Docking Grants Pardon To Inmate

TOPEKA, Kan. (UPI)—Gov. Robert B. Docking today pardoned Frank Sawyer, 70-year-old Kansas State Penitentiary inmate serving time for a bank robbery confessed to by the once-notorius Alvin Karpis.

Sawyer, serving a 20-to-100-year sentence for the holdup of a Fort Scott, Kan., bank in 1932, said he was innocent of the crime.

Karpis, a former member of the Ma Perkins gang, said in an affidavit to Kansas authorities that he participated in the robbery and Sawyer did not.

Karpis was released last year from federal prison at McNeil Island, Wash., and is living in Canada.

Woman Accused Of Auto Theft

A 19-year-old Forest Knolls woman, Victoria Ann Wilson, was arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on a car theft charge, but no charge was filed against Richard Sheldon Knowles, 17, of San Rafael, who was arrested with her Monday.

Miss Wilson's case was continued until today for entry of plea.

The pair was stopped in a Volkswagen bus reported stolen from San Francisco but Knowles told officers that, although he knew Miss Wilson, he was just a hitchhiker.

Sausalito School Bloc Organizing

Organization of a new citizen group in Sausalito School District, called Citizens for Excellence in Integrated Education, was announced today.

It is not a booster group, but is intended to weld together those who are dissatisfied with the present course of the school district for various reasons, according to Barbara Nelson, chairman.

"For some time now, many people in the Sausalito School District have been dissatisfied with the implementation of a goal they set for themselves four years ago," she said. "That is, to make available excellent, integrated education for all children in the district.

"If all the people who have been dissatisfied in the past could join with the people who are dissatisfied now, there'd be no question that they could decide a course of action that would better see their aims carried out."

She asked that persons interested in organizing for that purpose write her at P.O. Box 245, Sausalito.

Market Robbery Prison Sentence

I-J Special Report

SAN LUIS OBSIPO — A 34-year-old man who said he lived in San Rafael has been sentenced in San Luis Obispo County Superior Court to a state prison term of not less than five years for the armed robbery of a food market here on June 28.

Billy Ray Jackson, who gave an address on Stevens Place, was sentenced Monday by Judge Richard F. Harris.

Jackson and Jerome William Jenks, 36, who also gave a San Rafael address, pleaded guilty to the armed robbery. They took $895 and then had a gunfight with officers when cornered.

Jenks was sentenced earlier to a similar term.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

The Specific Meaning Of Felony Conviction

I saved your editorial of May 5, 1965 and on reading it over again, and realizing the many young people facing some sort of punishment at this time, would it not be well to reprint this editorial? Who knows, it may be the deterrent some young person needs.

Mrs. SYDNEY ALEXANDER
San Anselmo

Here is the Independent-Journal editorial which appeared May 5, 1965, reprinted at Mrs. Alexander's suggestion as equally applicable today:

CRIME DOES NOT pay. Honesty is best policy.

These are high-sounding phrases but almost meaningless to a large segment of modern society. The young, in particular, are unimpressed by trite and generalized expressions handed down from the elders. They want specifics. They want to be shown before they will begin to accept any tenet as truth.

A district court judge in Grinnell, Iowa, recently did get down to specifics. Before him stood two juveniles convicted of car theft, a felony. The judge did not pound the table. He gave no prolonged lecture. He did not shout, "Crime does not pay!"

He merely laid out the law in language that youth can understand. We pass it on to you, in the hope that specifics will sink in where generalizations are treated with cynical contempt.

Here, in essence, is what the judge told the juveniles;

YOU STAND CONVICTED of a felony. The record will be here as long as the courthouse stands. No amount of good conduct in the future can ever erase it. Next year, or 10 years from now, or when you are old men, if you are ever called to be witnesses in any court, some lawyer will point his finger at you and ask: "Have you ever been convicted of a felony?"

And you will hang your head and admit that you have . . .

Some day you may have a chance to get into one of the expanding countries of South America, and you apply for a passport. You will not get it. No country will allow you to become a resident.

Your world is, oh so much smaller than it was.

You may seek a position in civil service. On the application blank you will find this question: "Have you ever been convicted of a felony?" Your truthful answer will bar you from examination . . .

IN A FEW YEARS you will be 21 and others of your age will have the right to vote, but you will not. Your father may be a candidate for public office, but you will not be allowed to vote for him . . .

You will be a citizen of your state and country, but you will have no voice in public affairs.

It may be that some day the governor will pardon you and restore your rights, but it is going to be humiliating to ask him. He'll want to know your whole record. It is a bad one.

Your country is calling men to the colors. Its need is such that men are being drafted. But the Army will never accept you, nor will the Navy. Military men are proud of the service; they will not permit it to be debased by enlistments of convicted felons . . .

I AM GRANTING you a parole. A parole is in no sense a pardon. You will report to the men who have accepted your parole as often as they may ask. Your convenience is not a matter of importance.

You will also obey your parents. If your parents send you to bed at 9 o'clock you will go without complaint. You will perform such tasks as are assigned to you. Your parole is a fragile thing.

Should the slightest complaint of your conduct be received, your probation will be revoked immediately and you will begin serving your sentence. You will not be brought back here for questioning or explanations. You will be picked up and taken to prison without notice to you and without delay.

THESE WERE the words of a judge sentencing two young car thieves.

You may sneer at phrases like "Crime does not pay." But let's hope the specifics have a more sobering effect.

"Greetings: You have been chosen by your fellow workers to fight inflation . . ."

THE DRUMMONDS

Republicans Need To Appeal To Youth And Suburbanites

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — The evidence is increasing that Richard Nixon and the Republican Party can't build their political future on a southern strategy.

If Mr. Nixon and his Republicans expect to shed their minority status, they will find that appealing to those who voted for George Wallace for racial reasons will be a delusion and a trap.

They would lose more than they could gain.

If the President expects to lift his squeak-through 43 per cent vote to a durable national consensus capable of keeping the GOP in power for some years, he will have to go where the voters are in the '70s, not just where they were in the '60s.

THE GREAT MAJORITY of voters came to rest last fall at the political center about evenly divided between Hubert Humphrey and Mr. Nixon.

But they are not going to remain that way. A new and commanding voter coalition is within the President's reach — if he doesn't reach in the wrong direction. The principal ingredients are these:

1—The mounting number of young people who, because of the post-World War II baby boom, will be coming to voting age in the early '70s.

2—The relatively affluent, well-educated suburban voter earning $10,000 a year or more. Their numbers are growing fast at a time when 55 per cent of all high school students are going on to college.

In 1968, for the first time, the relatively affluent suburban voters became a major voting bloc in a national election. They accounted for 28 per cent of the electorate. In 1972 they will be more than 35 per cent and by 1976 they will make up over 40 per cent of all voters.

But the often overlooked political reality is that Mr. Nixon and the GOP will repel most of these suburban voters if they try to woo the race-oriented Wallace supporters.

Basing his findings on all the polls on issues taken during the 1968 campaign, pollster Louis Harris gives this profile of the suburban voters:

"The mark of this affluent group is that it is committed to change. These dominantly white people are in favor of open housing, in favor of accommodation with the Communist nations and for compromise in Vietnam, and are highly tolerant of student, hippie and antiwar demonstrations, as well as boys with long hair and girls with short skirts."

AS TO MUCH of American youth, the Republicans could make a grievous mistake if they assume they are Democratic liberal traditionalists hopelessly lost to the opposition. They aren't, in part, because they have benefited from the post-World War II prosperity without having been persuaded during the New Deal and the war that government, not private enterprise, was most responsible for that prosperity. As the Republican Ripon Society points out, "Their philosophy is ours, of impatience with bureaucracies and concerned with the results of social policies."

The number of young people reaching voting age has recently been increasing by one million a year, but in the years immediately ahead they will be increasing by two million a year.

The suburban voter and the young voter are now in the process of becoming the dominant elements in the electorate and neither is resistant to change nor attracted to the Wallace philosophy.

THERE IS LITTLE prospect that Mr. Nixon could draw to the GOP those southern voters and northern lower-middle-class workers who supported Wallace on racial grounds, especially the blue-collar laborers fearful of losing their jobs to Negroes.

President Nixon's progressive, problem-solving approach has the best chance of building a durable coalition on the foundation of the big states where Republican governors already prevail everywhere in the nation except New Jersey and Texas. That's where the voters of the '70s are and that's where Mr. Nixon will have to win if he is to be more than a one-term President.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Townsend Plan Should Be Revived

I am in full accord with Mr. Harvey Anderson, in regard his recent remarks concerning Social Security. It's about time that people who are retired, or about to, should join together and ask for a more equitable rate of benefit.

Most working people don't even live long enough to collect anything. And if they do, must exist like paupers. In the early '30s a plan was proposed by Dr. (Francis E.) Townsend, and in my opinion, should be revived. At present the payment for a lifetime of work is about $150 a minth. How can anyone live on that? The average skilled worker may earn $7,000 to $8,000 per year. Of this amount, he must furnish tools, transportation, etc. There is no room here to acquire large sums of money for his old age. So most of these people work until they drop dead.

ARTHUR ROSCOE
Petaluma.

Letters to "What Our Readers Say" are welcomed. Only letters with signatures and addresses will be considered. Please keep them under 200 words. We reserve the right to cut letters.

(The Townsend Plan, to which reader Roscoe refers, called for payment of $200 per month to all those over the age of 60. It was immensely popular, and "Townsend Clubs" sprang up over the country. The amount, however, was regarded by fiscal experts as excessive at that time, when average income was considerably below $200 per month. — Editor.)

A FOREIGN REPORTER'S VIEW

'End Of Rioting' May Prove Too Optimistic

By RANDAL HEYMANSON
Of the Melbourne Herald

NEW YORK — The Nixon administration, with a weakness for self-congratulation inherited from the administration's of Presidents Kennedy and Johnson, has been smugly proclaiming that the days of major rioting and violence are past.

True, the long hot summer — one of the most unpleasant in many years — has been only meteorologically discomforting. The big cities have been spared arson and looting. However, the National Guard was called out to cool disorders in no less than 40 towns and the New York Times may not be unduly pessimistic in predicting that the administration's "self-serving political statements may go up in smoke."

Even officials in Washington admit to concern about the possibility of renewed violence in the universities and schools now that the academic year is underway for America's seven million students.

THAT THE universities should be regarded as focal points of trouble is something new in American history, and a sad commentary on the corruption of student activism which, in the early '60s, was essentially idealistic in outlook and non-violent in methods.

The tide began to turn in the closing years of the Johnson administration. Since that time most universities have been battlefields.

Qualified administrators refuse to accept college presidencies. There are more than 50 now going begging. Even Columbia, one of America's most prestigious universities, has been unable to persuade anyone to direct it and Dr. Andrew Cordier, a former assistant secretary-general of the United Nations who was called out of retirement as a stopgap, has agreed to stay, despite his age, while the search goes on.

IRONICALLY, THE student revolt, which began in the early '60s as a movement for free speech and civil rights, now threatens freedom of speech and the rights of the majority. Radical white students and black militants disrupt meetings and classes, harass and even assault professors who teach anything that displeases them, deny their right to conduct research without interference, and in their dealings with university administrations, declare that their demands are "non-negotiable."

They reject as naive and outdated the liberal position that scientific and scholarly pursuits must be protected against political interference and passion. Their views are the mirror image of the neanderthal right and, contrary to their claims to be innovators, break no new ground. It has all happened before, notably in Germany during the last years of the Weimar Republic when Nazis and Communists — the youth parties of that day — had more in common with each other than with liberal democracy.

NATURALLY, right-wing politicians are reacting in kind. The New York Times points out that "the old guard and the young radicals, with a strangely shared contempt for intellectual leadership and the democratic process of consensus, may together erode the independence of the universities."

To its credit, the Nixon administration is resisting congressional pressures for repressive legislation. The President believes that the universities can and should solve their own problems.

The noble American tradition of freedom of thought may depend on their solution.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

'Right Of Privacy' Urged In New Attempt At Secrecy

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The question of an individual's right of privacy can be carried to ridiculous extremes at times.

Take for instance, the request of Assemblyman William Campbell, R-Hacienda Heights, for a "blue ribbon committee" to study "the possible detrimental effects of the state Department of Motor Vehicles releasing registrant records to the general public."

This is the same Campbell who was author of a bill earlier this year which would have prevented the department from selling lists of automobile owners to private companies.

THE ASSEMBLYMAN suffered a crushing defeat when he attempted to get legislation through on this subject. His measure was defeated in the Assembly transportation committee, which realized the economic importance of making the lists public.

The department has followed this policy for many years. It allowed private concerns to check its files free of charge at one time, and commenced selling the lists when the traffic got so heavy that it interfered with normal work.

However, the department did not attempt to cut off the supply of information. It merely established a policy of performing the work of looking up names and addresses and charging for them on a cost basis.

CAMPBELL, HAVING lost his battle to halt the free flow of information to the people from the peoples' government, now wants to squelch commercial organizations from obtaining lists of public records from which hundreds of persons throughout the state make a living.

He has asked Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, chairman of the special Assembly committee on state-wide information policy, to investigate the state's sale of motor vehicle registrants, and has indicated he will again introduce his measure to deny the public the right to obtain such lists.

Campbell's theory is that giving the name of a car registrant is a violation of the owner's "right of privacy;" which is about as far out as a legislator can go to drum up an issue against freedom of information.

Nixon Could Alter Draft Without Changing Law

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — President Nixon has been assured by the experts that he can alter military draft procedures, pretty much to his own dimensions, by executive order and without congressional action.

That is the substance of a joint study prepared for the White House by the Defense Department and the Selective Service System.

Some advocates of draft reform are cautioning; however, that presidential action in the complex field is still uncertain. They will believe it when they actually see the presidential order and resulting directives to local draft boards across the nation.

EARLY IN the summer the President asked Congress to enact draft reforms. He envisioned a system under which 19-year-olds, and older students deferred after four years of college, would face a year's vulnerability to military service, with selection determined by a random choice lottery; rather than the current induction of oldest eligibles first.

Only the proposed lottery system really required action by the House and Senate. President Nixon, like President Johnson before him, has had the power to shift from inducting the oldest eligibles and focus on the 19-year-olds. The military brass have long favored such a shift.

The joint study indicates that the resident could couple a shift to the 19-year-old group with adjustments in the frequency and size of draft calls so as to produce a haphazard, lottery-like process for selecting among the younger eligibles. The effect would be quite similar to the plan recommended to Congress.

For the individual young man, the plan would mean that after a year of draft vulnerability — at about 19 years old or after four years of college — he could be sure, barring an all-out emergency, that he would not have to serve. That sort of assurance might help to quiet the unrest on college campuses.

THE PLAN for presidential action evolved after leaders in the House and Senate made it clear that congressional action was out of the question this year. Some of those congressional experts have long argued that most of the proposed reforms could be effected by the White House.

There are, however, perils and pitfalls for the plan for independent action by the President.

For one thing, there are some technical problems. As draft calls diminished it would be less effective as a random selection system among draft eligibles.

Then there is the question of the position of the unpredictable draft boss, Gen. Lewis B. Hershey. The venerable Selective Service director has been supporting the reform proposals of Presidents Johnson and Nixon, but his enthusiasm for them is much in doubt.

Action by Congress will eventually be required to extend and modify the Selective Service law.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

A persistent office seeker had been endeavoring unsuccessfully to bribe; bully, or wheedle his way into President Abraham Lincoln's office for weeks, and finally wrote a heart-breaking note to Lincoln begging for an appointment. Lincoln knew the man to be an incompetent bore, and turned down the request with this typically Lincolnian letter:

"When I was young, I was pleased to receive an invitation to a dance; and bought a fine new hat for the occasion. I was among the last to leave the dance, and at the cloakroom the attendant handed me a shabby, battered old hat. I, told him, 'This isn't my hat, sir. I wore a brand new one.' The attendant replied, 'Mr. Lincoln, the new ones were all gone an hour ago.' "

The office seeker never bothered Lincoln again.

COUNTRY PARSON

"Polluted thinking could wipe out mankind before air and water get that bad."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By FRANK FARRARA

Survey Of Students Spans Generation Gap—Sort Of

The over-30 crowd recently has been wondering what high school students are thinking, but apparently few have bothered to ask tham.

Field Research Corp. did the asking for a fee supplied by Tamalpais High School District.

They got 704 students — a representative sampling, I gather — to answer questionnaires on various aspects of school life and perhaps even more revealing, current social and political attitudes.

The way it was worked, students didn't express their thinking directly, but agreed, disagreed, or neither to a series of statements.

THIS IS SOMEWHAT limiting, and statistics are never too thrilling, but for the sake of those who won't get to see a report on the survey, here are some of the findings in the realm of society!

"Our country should solve its domestic problems before we police the rest of the world" 80 per cent agree, 6 per cent disagree, others either giving no opinion or no answer.

"Countries should give up national pride in favor of the brotherhood of man": 65 per cent agree, 14 per cent disagree.

"Social rules are bad if they prevent people from doing their thing when they aren't hurting others": 66 per cent agree, 18 per cent disagree.

"The democratic process is too slow for today's problems": 37 per cent agree, 27 per cent disagree.

"Living up to a valid commitment our country makes with another is always worth fighting for": 35 per cent agree, 37 per cent disagree.

"Civil disobedience and breaking the law are never justified": 32 per cent agree, 43 per cent disagree.

"It is often important to do away with a bad system even before you can think of a better one": 31 per cent agree, 45 per cent disagree.

"Resistance to the draft is never justified": 25 per cent agree, 57 per cent disagree.

"An education is important as a way to change things, rather than as a way to make out well in the established system": 51 per cent agree, 17 per cent disagree.

Field Research advised that "such findings, as isolated statements, can be made to appear rebellious," and should be put into context, but conceded that there is "a tendency for students to disagree with and reject the traditional obedient-citizen values."

While the students lean toward involvement in social change, they don't seem willing to accept "solutions" offered by the direct activists, the firm concluded.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

Poll Shows What Areas Students Think Important

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Last spring at Walt Whitman High School in Bethesda, Md., students ran the school for a week. They arranged the classes, brought in guest speakers, introduced such new subject as Israeli folk dancing and current trends in religion.

Generally favorable faculty impressions were reported by the National School Public Relations Association. But there was no suggestion the students should dictate curriculum for the whole year.

Many students think they should, though, and an increasing number of educators urge that students at least be given a voice in curriculum planning.

WHAT KIND of studies would be emphasized if the students planned the program? Some indications were provided last week when Field Research Corp., the organization that conducts the California Poll, reported results of a survey it made for Tamalpais High School District.

The survey was to assess attitudes among students, faculty and community. The sample included about 12 per cent of the enrollees in the district's three high schools.

One section of the questionnaire asked for importance ratings of a list of educational tasks, including subject areas and other matters emphasized by the schools.

The students rated "developing ability to get along with others" as the most important of these, with 72 per cent of those responding calling it "very important."

Next in order of importance in the students' ratings were counseling (68 per cent), developing a spirit of inquiry (63), preparation for jobs (54), and developing a sense of social responsibility (52).

The only subject fields rated very important by more than half the students were English and sciences, each of which received a 51 per cent vote. Humanities were rated very important by 44 per cent, athletics and physical education by 33 per cent, and fine arts by 27 per cent.

NEARLY HALF the faculty members in the district were polled. They gave first priority in importance to developing social responsibility (82 per cent), but followed that with English (77), developing a spirit of inquiry (71), getting along with others (67), job preparation (66), counseling (65), humanities (44), fine arts (41), science (25), and athletics (21).

In the community poll, only about 4 per cent of registered voters were questioned, but they gave far higher ratings to subject matter than did either students or teachers. In the community sample, English was rated very important by 84 per cent to top the list. Sciences (75) and humanities (64) also were rated very important by more than half.

Other "vey important" ratings by the community: developing spirit of inquiry, 79 per cent; developing social responsibility, 76; counseling, 71; job preparation, 66; getting along with others, 64; fine arts, 32, and athletics, 28.

ALTHOUGH FINE ARTS were rated very important by only 27 per cent of the students, 50 per cent of them said art was one of the subjects they found most interesting — the highest for any subject, with history second at 42 per cent. Athletics (36 per cent) and physical education (35) nosed out English composition (34) and literature (33) as subjects of most interest. Only 23 per cent gave top rating to chemistry, 22 per cent to foreign languages, and 14 per cent to physics.

Most of the Tamalpais district students agree with those educators who think there should be more "student power." Sixty-eight per cent said students should have a bigger voice in running the schools than they now have.

Tucked away in the questionnaire was a query as to how much planning of their own futures the students had done. Only 27 per cent said they had definite plans, with 66 per cent checking, "I have some thoughts, but nothing definite."

But of the seniors — polled when they were within a few weeks of graduation from the high school someone else had planned for them — 54 per cent checked, "I have definite plans."

Doctor Sets Interim Policy On Rape Case

Rape victims in Marin will be examined and treated by the counuty medical staff — at least until a definite policy is established — to prevent a recurrence of Monday's fiasco when a Novato rape victim was refused immediate attention.

Dr. Donovan O. Cooke, county medical director said he has instructed his staff to examine and treat rape victims, although he doesn't believe it is a legal responsibility.

However, "as a citizen of the community it is our responsibility," said Dr. Cooke.

He said he planned to contact all of the agencies involved, hospitals, county health officials and law enforcement soon. "We have to work up a definite policy," he said.

He was uncertain where, other than Marin General Hospital, county staff would provide treatment.

The Novato woman, 28-year-old mother of three and the wife of a Vietnam serviceman, told police she was bound, raped twice and robbed by two men.

Police took her to Novato General Hospital where she was refused treatment by two doctors and then to Marin General where a private physician finally agreed to care for her.

The private physician, police said, first established that his fee would be paid. The Marin Medical Society which is investigating the problem said he was misunderstood.

"We find that he simply was trying to clarify whether the patient or the Novato police, who brought the woman to the hospital, would accept the responsibility for payment for her treatment," said Don W. Sower, executive director of the medical society.

Sower pointed out "a physician is free to choose who he serves, unless it's an emergency." He maintained the woman was treated without delay at Marin General "although her case was not a medical emergency."

Novatans Find A Rabid Skunk

A rabid skunk was found Saturday in a Novato pasture near Wilson Avenue and 200 Mill Road, reported Marin County health officer Carolyn B. Albrecht.

Dogs and other household animals in the area should be vaccinated, urged Dr. Albrecht. There was no human contact with the skunk but the health department is unsure of animal contact.

This is the third rabid animal found in the County this year: In July a rabid steer was found near the Point Reyes National Seashore and a skunk in the Indian Valley area of Novato.

Low Income May Reduce Expected Federal Surplus

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lower-than-expected income may reduce the federal budget surplus below the target figure of $6 billion this year, the Budget Bureau said today.

In its tentative seasonal review of the budget, the bureau estimated a surplus of $5.9 billion will remain when the fiscal year ends next June 30. That would be a $400-million reduction from the estimate of $6.3 billion made last April. Last year the surplus was $3.1 billion.

A surplus of about $6 billion is essential to fight against inflation, the government contends but a spokesman said no major conclusions should be drawn from the $5.9 billion.

"These figures are as close as you can come and they're all guess work," he said.

The bureau assumed in making the estimate that Congress will extend the income surtax from January to June at 5 per cent and will accept all of the administration's tax reform recommendations.

The administration's budget watchers say spending still will go no higher than the $192.2 ceiling President Richard M. Nixon set in April. But income, instead of totaling $199.2 billion as predicted in May, will be $198.8 billion.

The largest single reduction in income is in the estimated yield from corporate income taxes.

Jury Convicts Brothers In Brutal Novarro Slaying

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two young brothers were convicted of first-degree murder today in the brutal slaying last year of Ramon Novarro, last of the dashing Latin lover the the silent screen.

The seven-man, five-woman jury returned the verdict against Paul Ferguson, 23, and his brother Thomas, 18, soon after beginning its second day of deliberation.

The brothers, from Chicago, maintained their innocence throughout the trial before Superior Court Judge Mark Brandler. Each blamed the other for the 69-year-old actor's death.

Novarro's nude, bound body was found last Oct. 31 in a blood-spattered bedroom of his luxirious $150,000 home in suburban Studio City.

Police said he had been bludgeoned with a cane he kept as a memento from one of his movies. He suffocated in his own blood, officers said.

The younger brother will receive an automatic life sentence because he was a minor, 17 years of age, when the crime was committed. The elder brother faces a penalty of either life imprisonment or death in the gas chamber. The penalty will be set by the same jury.

The Fergusons were arrested after police traced long-distance telephone calls from the Novarro home the night before his body was found.

Deputy Dist. Atty. James Ideman contended the brothers intended to rob the aging actor, then tortured him when he persisted in saying he had no money hidden.

Paul Ferguson testified that on the night of Novarro's death he passed out on a sofa after drinking too much. He awakened, he said, when his younger brother told him, "This guy is dead."

When Thomas took the stand, he told the exact opposite story. He testified he made a long-distance call while Paul fought with the actor. He said he found his older brother standing over the body.

Thomas said at first he tried to take the blame to shield his brother, but that when court testimony indicated Novarro had been beaten with a cane, "it turned my stomach against Paul."

Paul denied that he and his brother had tried to rob Novarro.

He said that during dinner at the actor's home Novarro talked of a potential movie career for the elder brother as a superstar, "a young Burt Lancaster . . . another Clint Eastwood."

A defense psychiatrist testified early in the trial that the brothers had told him Thomas beat Novarro after the actor made improper advances.

From instant fame as the chariot - driving "Ben Hur" in 1925, Novarro became the last of the silent screen Latin lovers. In recent years he had taken bit parts on television.

Shortly before his death he had been working on a book of his life in which he promised to "tell everything."

Mideast Crisis Talks To Renew

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. and Soviet governments have agreed to resume discussions of the Middle East crisis in New York tomorrow, a State Department spokesman said today.

The New York meeting will be held by sst. Secretary of State Joseph J. Sisco and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin who originally began the talks on the Israeli-Arab crisis in Washington early this year.

State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey said Sisco and Dobrynin were trying to arrange their meeting for 1 p.m. tomorrow. He thought it would be at either the U.S. or Soviet delegation, United Nations headquarters.

Another Hike In Discount Rate

BRUSSELS (UPI)—The Belgian National Bank today announced a 0.50 per cent increase in its discount rate to 7.5 per cent as of tomorrow.

It was the fifth bank rate raise this year. Previous hikes upped the rate from 4.50 in December 1968, to 7 per cent on July 31.

The move followed by one week a 1 per cent increase in the German bank rate which went up from 5 to 6 per cent last Thursday.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Several Forms Of Lung Cancer Not Related To Cigarette Smoking

VAN DELLEN

We recently received a letter from Mrs. H. G. who is tired of hearing people harping about cigarettes. "It hasn't been proven that they cause cancer or heart trouble. Furthermore, a friend of mine just found out she has cancer in both lungs and throughout her bloodstream and she never smoked a cigarette in her life. I have had a heart condition for years and do not smoke now and never have smoked. One gets a little tired of hearing these unfounded threats all the time."

The decision to smoke or not to smoke should be made by each and every individual. This woman should read Dr. Harold S. Diehl's new book, Tobacco and Your Health: The Smoking Controversy (McGraw-Hill Book Company, New York.)

DR. DIEHL wrote it because he was surprised how many people were ill informed on the subject. His purpose was to explore many of the questions concerning cigarettes that still trouble smokers and nonsmokers alike. He also discusses in depth the cleverness of advertising campaigns that promote the habit and the misleading propaganda of those whose interests are strictly on a financial basis.

There are different forms of lung cancer and some are unrelated to smoking. The type described in the letter has all the earmarks of a malignancy that began elsewhere in the body and spread to the lungs via the lymph passageways and bloodstream. It may have originated in the uterus, gastrointestinal tract, or breast. The lung cancer caused by smoking is in the wall of the bronchus where the irritation occurs. It is not in the lung tissue along the edge of the chest nor do the cancerous lesions arise in other organs.

IN ADDITION, many forms of heart disease are unrelated to tobacco. These include congenital heart defects, rheumatic heart disease, subacute bacterial endocarditis, and syphilitic involvement of the aorta and aortic valve. On the other hand, government statistics show that cigarette smokers have a higher death rate from coronary artery disease than do nonsmokers.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

MANY REASONS FOR FAINTING

Y. N. writes: Can blackouts be due to a heart condition even though numerous electrocardiograms are normal?

REPLY

Yes. Not all heart conditions that cause blackouts can be diagnosed via the electrocardiogram. Certain heart blocks tend to come and go and they cannot be detected unless the EKG is attached a moment or two before the blackout occurs. Furthermore, fainting has many origins, the least common of which is heart disease.

FOOD, NOT SURGERY

Mrs. M. writes: I would like to know if a woman who has had gallbladder surgery can keep from gaining weight. I had this operation two years ago and have put on a few pounds since then — 20 pounds, to be exact.

REPLY

Don't blame the operation. Possibly you are eating too much because you feel better. Eat one-third less than you do or consult your medico for a low-calorie diet.

SALT NOT ABSORBED

O. O. writes: Is salt absorbed by the body while bathing in sea water?

REPLY

No. On the other hand, the average swimmer is bound to swallow small amounts.

San Rafael Rec Adds Art Classes To Slate

San Rafael's fall recreation program will open next week with two new activities and more than 30 returning classes.

A new adult oil painting class will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Thursdays beginning Sept. 25 and a new youth art class, for children 6 through 12 years, will be held from 10 a.m. to noon Saturdays beginning Sept. 27. Both classes are at the San Rafael Recreation Center.

Tiny tot activities scheduled for fall include the regular pre-school programs from 10 to 11:30 a.m. Monday through Thursday; acrobatics and tumbling, and children's creative dance.

Youth programs include tumbling, modern dance and ballet, judo, tennis and the art class.

Activities for teens are soccer, tennis, wrestling, weight training, gymnastics and open gym.

Adult classes include yoga, slimnastics, folk guitar, cake decorating, dog obedience, badminton, golf, tennis, star observers, open gym, volleyball, scuba diving and basketball.

The Triads, a club for seventh and eighth grade students, will continue its activities such as dances, trips, movies and open recreation.

The playground activities program, held at all schools after classes end each weekday, will begin Sept. 29.

Special events planned for the fall season include the annual pass, punt and kick competition to be held Oct. 11 at San Rafael High School.

Information on times, places and fees for the programs is available from the parks and recreation department at San Rafael City Hall.

First Business For Industrial Park Approved

The Petaluma Planning Commission last night approved the use permit and site design for Colloidal Products Corp. As the first business at the Petaluma Industrial Park.

The business, which will abandon its Sausalito headquarters, will be located on a four-acre site at 1300 North McDowell Boulevard.

The firm manufactures nontoxic agricultural spray additives.

Construction is scheduled to begin in December with occupancy by April.

The Petaluma Planning Commission also:

SUBDIVISION — Approved the final map for the Castlewood subdivision planned by Cherry Valley Estates, off Schuman Lane. The approval was subject to final rezoning of the land.

DUPLEX — Approved the site design for a duplex at 607 Fourth Street planned by Lorraine Smith.

SALES OFFICE — Approved the site design of a sales office and open wood deck display area at 741 Petaluma Boulevard South planned by Henris Supply.

USE REVIEW — Reviewed use permit conditions of a beauty salon at 1617 Jeffrey Drive operated by James and Barbara Zurcher. Neighbors had complained about parking problems caused by patrons. Possible revocation was dropped when Zurcher said they planned to move the shop to the Petaluma Plaza when completed.

PLAN LINES — Set a public hearing for Oct. 7 at 7:30 p.m. on the proposed Washington Street plan lines.

TELEVISION IN REVIEW

Debbie Reynolds Bows In A Bread-And-Butter Show

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — NBC-TV's Debbie Reynolds series, a half-hour comedy that had its premiere Tuesday night, is simply an attempt by the network to add a bread-and-butter show to its schedule.

It is a straight situation comedy, with plenty of slapstick, that is obviously trying to follow in the tradition of the Lucille Ball series. It is, in fact, the kind of series one would normally expect to find on Miss Ball's network, CBS-TV, rather than on NBC-TV.

But NBC-TV knows it has a pretty surefire thing in Miss Reynolds, who is cut to form for just such a show, being "cute" in the popular sense, an adept comedienne, wholesome in the old girl-next-door way, and pre-sold as a film star.

So it was hardly likely that NBC-TV was going to mess around with anything experimental or unique involving Miss Reynolds, or, for that matter, that the comedienne would have wanted to try anything unique or experimental.

There is, therefore, really nothing much to say about Miss Reynolds' show, in which, married to a sports columnist, she repeatedly tries to prove her ability to become a newspaper feature writer. It should be made clear that this is a domestic comedy above all, not a newspaper comedy.

In the premiere, Miss Reynolds disguised herself as a golf caddy in attempting to land a "scoop" I believe that is the word used in the press release about the show. The half-hour got a few good moments out of the comedienne, but thus far it is not in the "I Love Lucy" league.

Miss Reynolds, however, is a deceptively strong performer — in my opinion one of the truly natural and superior talents in popular show business. And if given the material there is little reason why she cannot be a long-term ratings success. It is, in fact, a good bet, for she definitely has the same kind of appeal as Miss Ball.

Tonight, on CBS-TV Dionne Warwick, an exceptionally fine singer with a glowing inner beauty, has an hour variety special of her own. The only moment that mars it is a tasteless plug for an album. Other than that, however, it is often buoyant and listenable, particularly when composer Burt Bacharach joins Miss Warwick, who has recorded his songs.

George Kirby is of help also, with comedy; the Creedence Clearwater Revival is good too; and Glen Campbell, a ratings booster, works nicely enough with Miss Warwick, although one would have preferred to hear more of her and less of him.

Sets Interviews

Ann Halprin will hold scholarship interviews and preregistration for her teen-age dance class from 4:30 to 6 p.m. tomorrow at the Newman Center at College of Marin, the Marin Dance Co-op has reported.

BEST SHOWS

Best bets on television tonight:

KPIX (5), KXTV (10), 7:30 p.m.—"The Dionne Warwick Special . . . Souled Out!" is an hour of music starring Dionne Warwick with guests Burt Bacharach, George Kirby, the Creedence Clearwater Revival and Glen Campbell.

KQED (9), 8 p.m.—Pianist James McKissic plays Bach's "Partita No. 6 in E Minor" and Schubert's "Wanderer Fantasy, Oppus 15," on "Performance."

KRON (4), KCRA (3), 10 p.m. — Premiering is ". . . Then Came Bronson," a drama starring Michael Parks as Jim Bronson, a footloose free spirit with "a lot of living to do." Featured are David Westberg, Stephen Vinovich, Penny Marshall and Arlene Kaiser.

The origin of the word honeymoon may have come from an old custom of eating honey at the marriage feast.

Breathing Peril Alarms Doctors

NEW YORK (UPI)—With the death rate from bronchitis and emphysema showing an increase of approximately nine times in the past 20 years, this health problem is one of the country's most alarming, according to Robert M. Cooney, C.P.T. coordinator of inhalation of the Catholic Medical Center for Brooklyn and Queens.

At the present rate of increase, approximately 180,000 persons will die of the disease in 1983, according to Cooney. In the light of this estimate by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, modern medical science is seeking ways of control and new methods of treatment.

Garbage Trucks On Way Out?

NEW YORK (UPI)—The garbage truck as we know it may be headed for the scrap heap.

The ultimate solution to the nation's mounting refuse problem will include removal of trash and garbage from the home by pipelines or pneumatic tubes, according to John H. Abrahams Jr., manager of environmental pollution control programs for the Glass Container Manufacturers Institute.

He said studies at Philadelphia and the University of Pennsylvania have proved that refuse can be removed pneumatically from the home and ground up and piped as a slurry to a central collection point.

Bad Salesmanship

STEINKJAER, Norway (UPI)—The Polish seaman who went ashore with a couple of bottles of vodka hidden in a bag will be more careful the next time he tries to sell his illegal moonshine to Norwegians. The first man he approached promptly arrested him and confiscated the liquor. It was the local chief of police.

U.C. Students Learning To Grow Food

(Special to the I-J)

BERKELEY — One hundred and twenty University of California families are learning first hand about agriculture. They have signed up to grow food on 20 by 25-foot plots of University land adjacent to their living quarters in the U.C.-owned Albany Village, near Berkeley.

The project was proposed by the University's College of Agricultural Sciences and is being coordinated by Dr. R. L. Doutt, chairman of the division of biological control for the University. The gardens are designed to give married students and their families in Albany Village a chance to grow their own vegetables — and to give these mostly urban students some experience in food production.

The land has been plowed and prepared by the University's staff. It will be up to the student and his family to plant, cultivate, and harvest his own patch. The University staff will see that the gardens are irrigated, along with the adjoining research plots. The University's cultivation crew will be available to advise the students on planting and culture of their vegetables.

Agricultural Extension and Agricultural Experiment Station circulars on vegetable gardening will be made available. A sheltered bulletin board will be erected to provide information on crops most suitable for planting, best planting dates, and the irrigation schedule.

The land has been made available through the U.C. genetics department, which uses several acres of the tract each year for research. Planting is moved annually to prevent concentration of root diseases in the soil. Usually the land is allowed to lie fallow for a season, but University officials said it certainly would be suitable for a season's use by student gardeners. Harvesting, however, will have to be completed by Oct. 1.

Negro Watchmaker Scores Two Firsts

NEW YORK (UPI)—Benjamin Banneker, the first watchmaker to make a clock in America, also was the first Negro to receive a presidential appointment, according to researchers, for a watch company.

President George Washington appointed Banneker, who was born a free man in Maryland in 1731, to assist in the survey of what was to become Washington, D. C. Banneker, who was also an expert on astronomy, the science on which timekeeping is based, again to issue annual astronomical almanacs, starting in 1791.

Meet The People In Travel By Bus

By BRUCE HANDLER
Associated Press Writer

Pick out any two cities in South America, and the chances are pretty good that you can get from one to the other by bus. Despite the lack of good roads on this huge continent, buses are found just about any place there are people. For millions of South Americans the bus is the only available transportation.

To really "meet the people" in South America, all you have to do is climb on a bus. The person next to you might be a mining engineer in Surinam on his way to inspect a hydroelectric project, an Otavalo Indian in Ecuador with handwoven blankets for sale, or a wealthy grandmother in Argentina on her way to the beach.

The quality of bus service in South America varies with the place. On paved highways between certain major cities, buses often are equipped with reclining seats, heating and a toilet. Some companies even provide piped-in music, stewardesses — even a bar.

But, in the more remote and impoverished sections of the continent, buses are drafty, rattling junkpiles that agonizingly wheeze up and down roads, which often are merely dirt trails.

Except on extremely heavily traveled routes (Rio de Janeiro to Sao Paulo, Brazil, or Buenos Aires to Mar Del Plata, Argentina), bus schedules in South America are wildly unreliable.

Delays can amount to hours — sometimes days.

One Brazilian driver accidentally locked himself and all the passengers out of the bus during a breakfast stop. Bus drivers in the mountains of Peru often don't remember to fill up with gas and oil until all passengers are aboard and anxious to leave.

Another problem is lack of coordination among most bus companies in South America. The people in one city know nothing about bus connections to other cities. The non-native must ask lots of questions.

When the bus stops, roadside vendors converge outside the windows and shove fruit, bread and drinks at the passengers, hoping to make a quick sale before the driver pulls away.

Unlike bus trips in the United States — where one buys a ticket and climbs aboard — South American bus travel can involve lots of red tape. To ride an intercity bus in Peru it's necessary to state your name, age and profession and to show proof of identity.

In Colombia, Ecuador, Peru and Bolivia the police stop buses for spot checks of passengers and baggage. In Chile inspectors board buses to confiscate fruit. In Paraguay, Argentina, Brazil and Uruguay, the authorities usually leave bus travelers alone.

Many South American buses are homemade, while others are imported from the United States, Europe or Japan. The newly independent nation of Guyana has a fleet of leaky wooden buses laughingly called "Luxury Liners."

One company in Peru bought some old U.S. buses, but never bothered to remove the destination markers. Thus, you can ride from Piura to Trujillo, along the northern Peruvian coast, in a bus that says "Tallahassee" over the front window.

THE PENNEY STORY

Mrs. Penney's answer to her husband

By ROBERTA NASH

One day we were up in Mr. Penney's office talking about how hard it is to get "the Penney difference" across to people outside the company. Mr. Penney told this anecdote:

"Once after a very inspiring meeting with store managers, I said to Mrs. Penney, 'You know, I am not yet satisfied that I have ever been able to tell the real story of this company. Why?'

"Mrs. Penney turned to me. 'Because you cannot define the soul,' she answered."

SCULPTURE OF FRIENDSHIP

This steel sculpture, reaching out to all, stands today in Carl Gabrielson Park in Sausalito, a permanent monument to friendship between Sausalito and its sister city, Vina del Mar, Chile. Sergio Castillo, a Chilean artist who has been a guest professor at the University of California at Berkeley for 10 months, completed the two-ton, 22-foot high sculpture yesterday after four months of work. The sculpture was commissioned by Sausalito's People to People sister city committee. (Independent-Journal photo by Jim Kean)

McNear Beach Sale Is Surprise

McNear's Beach and adjacent Peacock Gap Lagoon property was sold today at a foreclosure sale for $1,330,517.08, the minimum bid to satisfy the mortgage holders.

Only the single bid was received at a public sale in the office of Title Insurance and Trust Co. at Mission and Lincoln avenues, San Rafael. It was entered by George William Miller on behalf of the Sixty Trust, which sold the property in 1963 to Jerome Draper Jr.'s Peacock Gap, Inc.

Not bidding was the County of Marin, which has been considering McNear's Beach for a county park. County supervisors learned of the impending sale only yesterday.

Included in the sale were 98 lots and parts of five others, in Peacock Lagoon Unit One and Marin Bay Units One and 2-A.

The partial lots result from resubdivision of the property. The portions of lots not included in today's sale were deeded to New York-Cal Inc., a corporation controlled by Chinn Ho of Honolulu, original developer of Peacock Gapl in an earlier foreclosure.

County Supervisors John F. McInnis and Louis H. Baar complained yesterday that members of the county staff authorized to investigate possible purchase of McNear's Beach had not advised them of the impending foreclosure sale.

McInnis said Pierre W. Joske, county parks and recreation directors, supposedly had been negotiating for the beach parcel for several months.

"This amazes me," put in Baar. "I sat down with Mr. Joske about two or three months ago, and we found out there was going to be a foreclosure. He was going to follow it up and alert us any time it got close . . .

"We've been talking about buying something and we've fallen asleep."

Joske is attending a convention in Chicago so was not present at yesterday's supervisors meeting to explain what happened.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney and William C. Sullivan of the county public works department advised against any attempt at a last-minute bid for the beach property. Sullivan said he was unable to determine from the description just what lots it embraced.

PENTAGON ALL BUT SETS DRAFT SLASH

Laird Sees Sharp Call Cutbacks As A Result Of Withdrawals From Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird today all but announced that draft calls late this year will be sharply cut as a result of troop withdrawals from South Vietnam. (Another draft story page 2. See editorial column, page 37.)

"The Vietnamization program will have a very significant effect on programmed draft calls for the months immediately ahead," the defense chief told a news conference.

Without saying so specifically, he thus implied that the previously set October draft of 29,000 men may be scaled down and later quotas kept low.

Laird said he expected to advise the Selective Service system of "changes in draft calls" on Friday.

He also signaled the start of a Nixon administration campaign to prod Congress into acting on proposed reforms in the draft such as instituting a lottery system and switching the order of inductions from older age groups to the 19-year category. He said he will testify on the "urgent need" for draft changes this week.

Spokesmen said Daird was referring to an appearance he will make before the House Appropriations Committee.

Laird's comments on the draft came as he detailed the administration's second troop cutback of 35,000 men—technically, 40,500 military space—in Vietnam.

All four services will share in the withdrawal, with the Marines cutting 18,457 spaces with the pullback of the remainder of

RALPH T. SMITH
To U.S. Senate

Successor To Dirksen Announced

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Ralph T. Smith, the 53-year-old speaker of the Illinois House, was named by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie today to fill the Illinois seat in the U.S. Senate left vacant by the death of Sen. Everett M. Dirksen.

Smith, a Republican from Alton, was the expected choice after Atty. Gen. William J. Scott withdrew from the race Monday. Rep. John B. Anderson, R-Ill., of Rockford, also was a strong contender to succeed Dirksen who died Sept. 7 in Washington.

Ogilvie made the announcement in his office. Smith, his wife and Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., were present.

The governor said he telephone President Richard M. Nixon yesterday to tell him of his decision.

"This difficult decision has been given most careful thought and undivided attention for several days. "It is probably the most important decision I will make in four years as governor."

Smith will fly tomorrow to Washington to take the oath of the interim period until January 1971 when the winner of the 1970 general election will take office. Ogilvie said repeatedly that his appointee would be expected to be the party's candidate in the 1970 election. Smith may face opposition in the March 17 primary.

William H. Rentschler, a Chicago businessman, has already said he will oppose Smith. John Henry Altorfer of Peoria, who sought the Senate appointment from Ogilvie, and Anderson may also contest for the nomination.

The Democrats have two tested vote-getters they may offer as an opponent in November;

Marin Urged To Ax Commissions

Rec, Aviation, Other Bodies Held Surplus

By WAT TAKESHITA

Marin has so many county commissions that some of them such as the aviation and the juvenile delinquency prevention commissions could be merged or phased out, County Administrator Alan Bruce reported yesterday to the Marin County Board of Supervisors. (Other supervisors stories, page 10.)

The administrator also suggested that the supervisors consider dissolving the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission and restrict the activities of the personnel commission and the Marin County Transit District.

Bruce's blunt report was in answer to a request from the supervisor for a full report on the many county commissions and committees and suggestions on how to reduce overlapping and increase effectiveness. The supervisors took Bruce's 10-page report under submission for further study without comment.

Formation of any more commissions should be avoided if possible, said Bruce. If a new body must be formed, "an ad hoc committee, time-limited, often may be preferable to a permanent organization."

In all cases, the policy-making authority should remain with the board of supervisors, the administrator stressed.

His report lists 33 organizations on which members of the board of supervisors serve or which are appointed by the supervisors.

Here are some of the observations made by the administrator:

COMPREHENSIVE HEALTH PLANNING COUNCIL — This Marin group is affiliated with the four-county North Bay Council and the nine-county Bay Area Comprehensive Health Planning Council. "Public funds are wasted in the duplicate staffing and operating costs of these organizations," declared Bruce. "Cur-

15 Marines Due Home Are Killed

SAIGON (AP) — A unit of the Third Marine Division which is being pulled out of Vietnam under President Richard M. Nixon's withdrawal of 35,000 U.S. troops was attacked by a North Vietnamese force today and 15 Americans were killed.

Twenty-three Marines were wounded in the four-hour battle. The enemy lost 23 killed, military spokesmen said.

Further details were not available immediately.

It was also reported nine Americans and seven Vietnamese were killed in war accidents the past four days. Another 17 Vietnamees and 10 Americans were also wounded in the incidents.

Most of the American accidental casualties occurred Saturday when eight men from the First Infantry Division were killed and 10 wounded when an explosive charge they were placing near an artillery base blew up.

The accident occurred 33 miles northwest of Saigon and is being investigated.

A U.S. Marine was killed yesterday six miles south of the demilitarized zone when a helicopter rotor blade hit him. The helicopter was lifting a Marine patrol out after a brief fight.

The 24 South Vietnamese were killed or wounded in an American gunship attack yesterday in the Mekong Delta about 100 miles southwest of Saigon.

The U.S. helicopter gunships had opened fire with rockets and machine guns on suspected enemy troops who turned out to be civilians 18 miles northwest of Bac Lien, a provincial capital.

"The incident is being investigated," a communique said.

The enemy forces supposed to be in the area were never located, and there was no fighting, spokesmen said.

According to the U.S. account, South Vietnamese regional forces were landed in the area by American helicopters after intelligence reports that there were Viet Cong troops there.

Kennedy Note Sparks Row At Haynsworth Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP) — A row broke out at a Senate Judiciary Committee hearing today when Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., insisted his late brother, former Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, had not passed on whether Judge Clement F. Haynsworth should have disqualified himself from ruling in a controversial labor case.

Kennedy said a letter his brother wrote in 1964 expressing "complete confidence" in Haynsworth, nominated by President Richard M. Nixon for the Supreme Court, dealt only with a charge of corruption and bribery and not with the question of ethics and propriety.

Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., the committee chairman, strongly backed by Sens. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., and Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., said it was clear the former attorney general's letter referred to both issues.

"I don't think the attorney general would have made such a statement if he felt Judge Haynsworth was guilty of a conflict-of-interest," said Eastland, adding that Kennedy's letter was saying there was both no criminal violation and no conflict of interest.

"Where is that in the letter?" Kennedy snapped.

"That is the clear meaning," Eastland told him.

Kennedy said there were former Justice Department officials available who could testify about the meaning of his brother's letter.

Kennedy later told a reporter that he was reserving judgment on whether Haynsworth, chief judge of the Fourth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, should have disqualified himself in the Deering-Milliken Inc. case.

The court, in its 3-2 decision in 1963, rejected an unfair labor charge against the textile combine for the shutdown of its Darlington, S.C., plant after the textile workers union won a representation election there.

Haynsworth, who voted with the majority, had a one-seventh interest at the time in a vending machine company that was doing about 3 per cent of its business with Deering-Millikin.

At the outst of today's hearing Haynsworth declined to say whether he agreed with the thrust and direction of the Supreme Court under former Chief Justice Earl Warren.

Haynsworth testified he felt he should keep an open mind on cases he will be called on to decide if confirmed as a Supreme Court justice.

"I wish I could respond more directly," he said, "but I don't see how I could without giving some indication of how I feel cases should be handled."

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., who raised the question at the committee's second day of hear-

Ford Hikes Prices Of 1970 Models By $103

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co., the nation's No. 2 automaker, announced today its 1970 model cars would carry list prices averaging $103 more than current models, a 3.6 per cent increase.

Ford, shooting for a bigger share of the market now held by industry leader General Motors, came up with a price boost smaller than G.M.'s $119, or 3.9 per cent, increase.

The company also said it was holding the line on the price of its fast-selling, little Maverick, which goes for $1,995.

Next to the 1970 Hornet being marketed by American Motors, the Maverick will be the lowest priced American-made auto.

The $103 Ford figure and the $119 G.M. figure are for average list prices, which do not include taxes or dealer handling and delivery charges.

Figuring in the 7 per cent federal excise tax, the Ford price hike comes to $108 compared with $125 for G.M.

Both companies used a formula which weighed car sales volume against prices in computing the average increase.

Figuring a straight average of the increase in list prices the Ford price boost comes to $107.86 and the G.M. increase to $124.14.

The price announcement by Ford came while Ford and G.M. were appearing in Washington before the Federal Trade Commission to defend themselves against charges that the manufacturer's suggested retail price —the sticker price—is misleading since most cars are sold for less than the amount. G.M. yesterday refused to discuss an FTC complaint that its suggested retail prices are a fraud designed to allow "fictitously high trade-in allowances" on used cars.

A Ford executive defended the pricing system as "reasonable and appropriate and neither misleading or deceptive."

House Vote Kills Electoral Change

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House turned down today a plan to award electoral votes to presidential candidates on the basis of congressional districts rather than states.

The 192-159 vote against the district plan boosted then chances of another proposed electoral reform which would abolish the electoral vote system in favor of direct popular elections.

Many members who support the district plan have said they would vote for direct election on final passage if the district plan failed.

Nixon Plans To Seek Hike In Social Security Checks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Richard M. Nixon said today he will ask Congress for an increase of 10 per cent in Social Security payments, effective next April 1.

The President made the announcement, without elaboration, just before he signed a bill extending the federal support program for local projects for older Americans. (See picture page 4)

He said he considered the occasion an appropriate time to make the announcement about Social Security because older Americans are affected substantially by the rising cost of living.

Nixon said he will send the request to Congress next week.

Nixon signed the bill in the Roosevelt Room of the White House with several members of Congress who sponsored the bill watching and receiving the pens Nixon used for his signature.

The bill authorizes a new retired senior volunteer program for individuals over 60 years of age. Such volunteers will be compensated only for transportation, meals and other incidentals out of pocket expenses.

The act also extends the appropriation authorization for the older American project first enacted in 1965 and transfers the foster grandparent program from the Office of Economic Opportunity to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The administration estimates 600,000 persons over 60 have received some form of help from the program. Services include home visits, transportation, counseling and recreation programs.

Law Instructor Is Stabbed In Tam High Parking Lot

A Hastings Law College instructor was stabbed in the stomach last night in a Tamalpais High School parking lot by a youth who wanted his money, Mill Valley police reported.

Norman Dunham Lattin, 47, of 20 South Ridge West, Tiburon, was reported in poor condition today at Marin General Hospital with stab wounds in his stomach.

Police said Lattin and his wife, who had been practicing at the high school's music building, were placing their musical instruments in their car at 10:05 p.m. when a young man approached them and said, "Give me your money or I'll stab you."

Lattin replied, "What is this, a joke", police said, and then the youth stabbed him, turned and ran away.

A four-inch long switchblade knife was found a few feet away from Lattin, police said.

Lattin's wife described the assailant as a Negro in his early 20s, approximately 5 feet 8 inches tall and weighing 140 pounds.

White House Aides Doubt Draft Halt

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House sources express doubt President Richard M. Nixon's executive order on the draft will halt inductions, even temporarily although Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler indicates such a suspension has been considered.

"It doesn't seem to be in the cards," said one source.

Ziegler told newsmen yesterday suspending the draft is among the factors being considered in formulating selective service reforms, but White House aides quickly said such a suspension is not an immediate prospect.

One source expressed surprise at speculation the draft might be suspended temporarily.

He said that although no final decisions have been made, the Nixon order is likely to be limited to reform of administrative procedures such as establishing uniform criteria for handling of deferments by draft boards.

Earlier yesterday, Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, the acting Senate Republican leader, said after a White House meeting "there is a strong disposition to press for draft reform this year."

But he conceded the likelihood of congressional action is slim, and that the administration wants to spotlight the issue to show where the delay is.

The basic draft law runs until June 30, 1971, and there is strong feeling on Capitol Hill that no new legislation will be passed much before then.

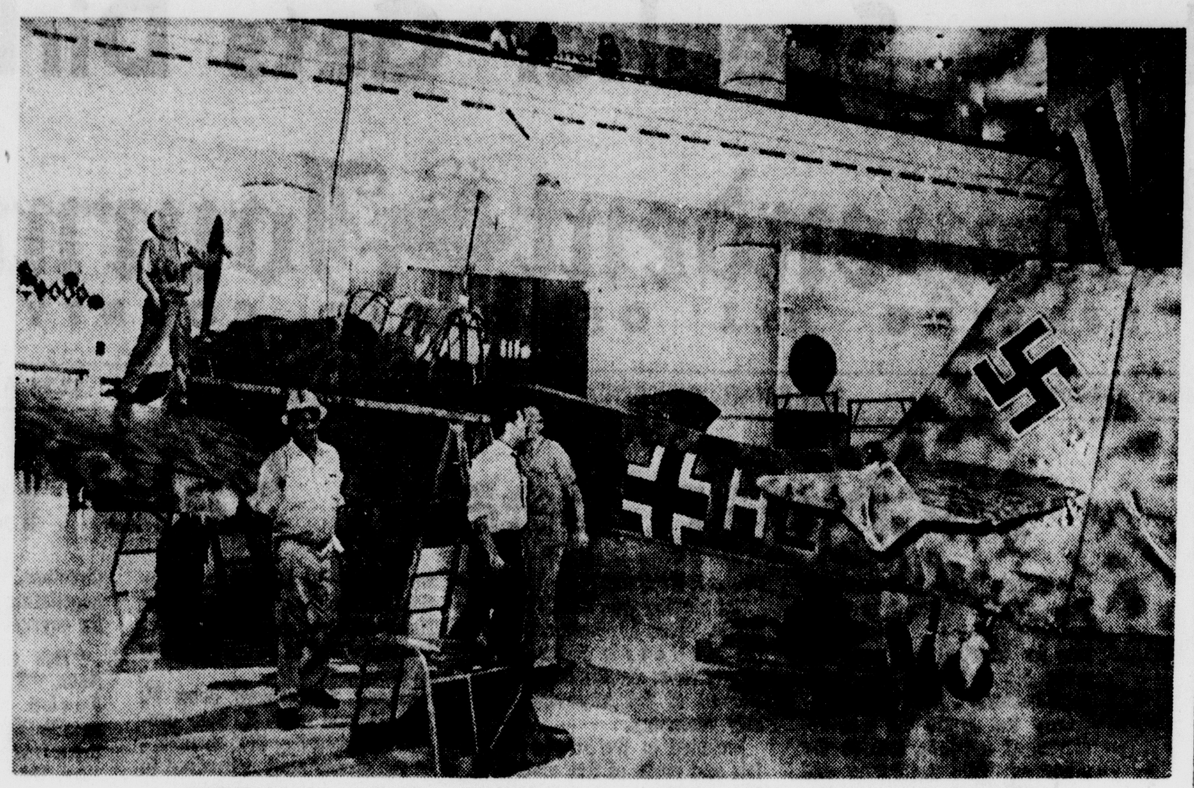
The cornerstones of the Nixon program are proposals to reverse the present order of induction so younger men would be called first and to institute a random or lottery method of draft selection.

Ziegler did not indicate yesterday when the executive order on the draft might come, but other sources said it would likely be at least a week or two.

The question of whether a temporary halt in inductions was being considered arose when Ziegler was asked if the President has "given any consideration to outright suspension of the draft for a brief period?"

Ziegler responded:

"That is a question that has been coming up from time to time."



STUKA CRASHES DURING CLEANING

Workmen examine damage to a World War II German Stuka that fell to the floor from the 40-foot ceiling of the Chicago Museum of Science and Industry while it was being lowered for its annual cleaning. Two workmen on the balcony (top center) were injured when a winch failed yesterday and the plane's wing grazed the edge of the balcony. Only damage sustained by the plane, which landed on its wheels was a crumpled wing and flat tires. (UPI Telephoto)

Most Nixon Programs Await Next Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Richard M. Nixon has acknowledged that virtually all his major legislative proposals will be held over by Congress until next year, Republican sources say.

At a lengthy session yesterday with GOP congressional leaders, Nixon put his legislative proposals on a green-light, red-light basis, the sources said.

In the green-light classification were bills the President will press for immediate action. But these generally were measures which Congress must consider this year since they extend programs already operating.

The red light group designated proposals Nixon is said to feel won'tbe acted on until next year—including most of his major recommendations among the measures rated in the red light category.

Postal reform creating a self-sustaining corporation to take over the mails.

Crime-fighting measures including bills on organized crime, illegal gambling, and immunity from prosecution so testimony can be pried from reluctant witnesses.

Among the other Nixon measures already assigned to the red light list are his welfare, manpower and revenue sharing proposals; drug control; mass transit development; unemployment insurance and voting rights version and extension.

Among the bills rated on Nixon's green light program were foreign aid, export control, food stamps, housing, aid for hospital construction, student loans, education aid, obscenity control and coal mine safety.

Nixon also told the leaders he wants action this year to extend the income surtax, and provide tax relief and reform.

Senate Democrats have refused to approve a long term surtax extension without tax reform. The latter issue is now before the Senate Finance Committee.

After nine months in session, Congress has acted on little major legislation. The Senate, for example, has been locked all summer in debate on a single bill, the $20 billion military authorization measure.

'Torch' Protest

SEOUL (AP) — Park Chung-boo wrapped himself in a blanket soaked in gasoline last night, lit it and as he burned shouted condemnation of the constitutional amendment to allow President Chung Hee Park to run for a third term.

Several passers-by saw the 27-year-old man burning in a park and put out the fire. Park, who is no kin to the president, was badly burned.

The National Assembly approved the constitutional amendment Sunday. It will be put before a national referendum in mid-October.

Demos Finally Hammer Together Committee To Watchdog GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic National Committee's new policy council is finally ready for business—and it may provide Hubert H. Humphrey with a platform from which to challenge President Richard M. Nixon's performance.

Humphrey, the party's 1968 defeated presidential nominee and a possible candidate again in 1972, is chairman of the panel assigned to keep vigil on the Republicans.

Sen. Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma, the party chairman, and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, the 1968 nominee for vice president, are vice chairmen of the Democratic policy council, which has been some eight months in the making.

Muskie and even Harris are considered possible 1972 candidates for the Democratic presidential nod.

Harris announced the council's makeup on the eve of a conference of Democratic state chairmen today, and a meeting of the national committee tomorrow.

He appointed 20 Democrats, among them three governors, three senators, three members of the House and two big-city mayors, to the council executive committee.

Harris said 30 prominent Democrats later would be named members at large and six committees which deal with policy and issues in major areas.

He said this would give the Democrats an agenda for the years ahead, and perhaps "a climate of public opinion conducive to Democratic victories" in 1970 and in 1972.

Harris hopes liaison, and general agreement on the issues, would avoid the problem faced by a similar group during the Republican Eisenhower administration when Democratic congressional leaders regarded the council as an intruder.

Sen. Mike Mansfield, the Democratic leader, said he would be glad to work with the new council. "We just have to make up our own minds here, and do what we think is best, because we vote."

Policemen Scanning News For Burglars

TULSA, Okla. (UPI)—Tulsa policemen have found a new way to find out where burglars are likely to strike: they read the local newspapers.

A special task force reads the newspapers to find out about events likely to draw a large number of people out of a neighborhood, something burglars also do. Then the task force patrols the area.

BONN (UPI)—All applicants for driver licenses in West Germany must take an eight-hour course in first aid to automobile accident victims, under the terms of a new amendment to the Roadtraffic law.

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli planes hit Egyptian military targets on the western shore of the Gulf of Suez today in Israel's seventh air strike across the gulf in nine days, the Israeli army announced.

The planes returned safely from the 30-minute attack at Raz Zaharana, 70 miles south of Port Suez, the spokesman said.

Farther north, Israeli and Egyptian artillery batted intermittently across the Suez Canal today, and one Israeli soldier was wounded, the Israeli army reported.

Egyptian antitank and artillery fire hit an Israeli patrol north of the Bitter Lakes, a spokesman said.

'Secret Weapon'

NEASTVED, Denmark (AP) — North Atlantic Treaty Organization troops involved in large-scale war games near here this weekend may be bombarded by a secret weapon—pornography.

A leftist-Socialist group has threatened to divert the soldiers' attention from military matters with leaflets of "an eye-catching photographic depiction of a highly erotic situation."

Denmark has abolished censorship of pictorial pornography.

More than 5,000 troops from seven foreign nations and 7,000 Danish soldiers and home guard troops will take part in the exercise named Green Express.

Regime's Plans

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Mahmoud Soleiman el Moughrebi, premier of the Libyan revolutionary government, said today that his regime does not plan to nationalize any industry and that one of its main goals is justice for the Palestinian Arabs.

The premier, interviewed in Tripoli by a correspondent of the Milan daily Il Giorno, said his government would not align itself blindly with either Western or Eastern countries. But he indicated U.S. and British bases would be allowed to stay for the time being.

El Moughrebi, 36, a native of Haifa and a former employee of a Western oil company, said the coup d'etat in Libya on Sept. 1 was not inspired by other Arab governments.

"Our revolution is young and it is difficult to say now what our plans will be," he said.

80 Drowned

SEOUL (AP) — A radio broadcast said about 80 persons drowned today when their ferry capsized on the flooded Naktong River near Namchi, about 160 miles southeast of Seoul.

Radio Dong-A reported that 20 others swam ashore.

Continue Sail

ISTANBUL (AP) — Despite Soviet protests, two U.S. destroyers sailed through the Dardanelles today en route to the Black Sea on a four-day cruise.

It was the second visit to the Black ea this year by the Newman Perry and the Norris, both part of the U.S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

When the visit was announced two weeks ago, the Soviet naval attache in Ankara termed it "detrimental to the preservation of peace." A similar visit last year resulted in an official Soviet protest to the Turkish government.

Lodges Protest

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — The Cambodian government said today it has lodged a new "energetic protest" with the U.S. embassy charging "deliberate attacks by American-South Vietnamese forces on Cambodian villages."

The protest note, delivered last Saturday said a number of Cambodian villagers and cattle were killed or wounded in air and ground attacks by the allied forces between Aug. 3 and Sept. 2.

The note demanded compensation and called for "energetic measures to put an end to such unjustified attacks."

ANYONE FOR PENS?

President Richard M. Nixon holds up a pair of pens, offering them to those in attendance after he signed the Older Americans Act Amendments bill in the Roosevelt Room at the White House this morning. SMITH

State Treasurer Adlai Stevenson III and Lt. Gov. Paul Simon.

Smith's appointment maintained the GOP tradition of geographically splitting the Senate seats between Chicago and Downstate Illinois.

Percy is from Wilmette, a North Shore suburb of Chicago. Many GOP leaders argued that the seat held by Dirksen, a resident of Pekin in central Illinois, should go to a Downstate figure.

Alton is near St. Louis, 280 miles southwest of Chicago.

Another factor in Smith's favor was his decision last year to drop out of the race for the GOP nomination for governor and serve as Ogilvie's Downstate campaign manager.

Smith is a native of Granite City where attended grade and high schools. He was graduated from Illinois College in 1937 and received a law degree in 1940 from the University of Washington in St. Louis.

He served four years in the Navy during World War II and settled in Alton in 1946.

He lost his first try for a seat in the Illinois House in 1952 but and has represented the Alton area for 15 years.

Smith became the House majority whip in 1965 and was elected speaker in 1967 and 1969.

He is married to the former Mary Elizabeth Anderson and has one daughter, Sharon Lynne.

positively identified as Viet Cong, a U.S. spokesman said: "It is not a friendly area. They were probably making a move that led the Vietnamese commander to believe they were enemy."

Meanwhile, military sources said South Vietnamese troops will take over the entire defense of Saigon within the next 30 days, freeing a brigade of American paratroopers.

There was speculation that the Third Brigade of the 82nd Airborne Division would be among the troops which President Nixon announced yesterday would be withdrawn from Vietnam by Dec. 15.

The division's other two brigades are at Fort Bragg, N.C. The Third Brigade's three battalions, numbering about 5,000 men, have been guarding the western and northwestern flanks of Saigon. One battalion already has been replaced by South Vietnamese paratroopers and has moved to the north.

Old City Stamp

TOENSBERG, Norway (UPI) —A special stamp will be issued by the post office to honor Toensberg, Norway's oldest city, when it celebrates its 1,100th anniversary in 1971. The stamp will show the city's ancient seal, dating back to the Middle Ages.

Old Jewish Fortress Found In Jerusalem

JERUSALEM (UPI)—A fortress dating back to the end of the period of the First Temple (fifth century B.C.) was discovered by archeologists in Arab Jerusalem, at the foot of the French Hill.

The massive structure, overlooking Jerusalem and commanding the approaches of occupied Arab Nablus, is assumed to have been a fortress during the lifetime of the prophet Jeremiah.

its Third Division. The Army loses 14,263, the Navy 5,239, and the Air Force 2,541.

Only one Marine division will be left in the provinces immediately below the demilitarized zone and Laird said the gap will be filled by South Vietnam's First Division.

The latest reduction also will mean another 20,000-man drop in over-all U.S. military strength, dropping the American force worldwide to about 3.39 million by next July. Combined reductions in armed strength this year now total 150,000.

Laird disclosed that the Joint Chiefs of Staff wanted to proceed more cautiously than other top administration officials, but also sought to discourage the idea that any major arguing was involved in last week's White House deliberations involving the chiefs as well as Gen. Creighton W. Abrams of the command in Vietnam.

"I can assure you it was not a contentious affair in any way," Laird said.

Laird said the military "recommended a substantial figure" but acknowledged it was "not quite as high" as the 35,000 chosen by Nixon.

Asked whether he and Secretary of State William P. Rogers recommended more than 35,000, Laird said their recommendation was "substantially the same" as the Nixon decision.

He denied there was any disagreement among the three on the scope of the latest pull-out.

As for the over-all war situation, Laird said the United States "has not made substantial progress" in the Paris peace talks but has progressed in the Vietnamization program, the effort to make South Vietnam more capable of defending itself.

Laird seemed to expand the so-called Vietnamization program beyond the strictly military aspects. He suggested it also involves strengthening South Vietnam politically and economically and improving that country's police forces as well as the regular military forces.

HEARING

ings, said he was trying to find out of Haynsworth thought the direction of the Warren Court should be reversed or modified.

Instead of trying to put a label himself on the kind of Supreme Court justice he would be, said Haynsworth, it would be better for others who are more objective to decide on the basis of his 12-year record on the Circuit Court.

Hart told him that "certainly in the mind of the man who nominated you Earl Warren was not a strict constructionist" of the nation's laws and asked if Haynsworth considered himself to be a strict constructionist.

Haynsworth replied that he did not know what the term means and did not know that he was a strict constructionist. He said he has not so labeled himself.

Hart asked Haynsworth if he agreed that racially separate schools are not equal and are not constitutional. "I certainly do, sir," Haynsworth replied.

Hart said the Warren court had also held that a criminal defendant, whether rich or poor, has a right to counsel and that if he cannot afford a lawyer, he should be provided with one.

When he asked Haynsworth if he agreed with that, the judge replied that "We've upheld that right again and again in my court."

Kennedy said that it would be helpful to him to have some kind of expression from Haynsworth about what he feels to be the root causes of the alienation of youth and minority groups.

Haynsworth told him that "these things are coming before my court now" and he had written opinions on them, adding he didn't think he could be more specific on what he might do on the Supreme Court.

U.S. Industrial Output Drops

WASHINGTON (AP) — Industrial output in the United States dropped slightly during August, the Federal Reserve Board says.

The index of production—based on 1957-59 output of 100—went from 174.6 in July to 174.3 in August, the board said yesterday. The drop was cautiously hailed as an indication the government's fight against inflation is beginning to take hold.

Tempering the relief, however, was the announcement that the one sector of the economy which the government is trying to boost — housing — also dropped.

The Commerce Department said private housing starts were down again in August, continuing a decline that began in January.

About 57,000 tons of steel went into the Empire State Building.

rently, there is no established relationship with the Association of Bay Area Governments; no elected bodies will be making policy decisions as to expenditure of public funds . . . it may be advisable to include urgency legislation to restore reponsible elected local authority."

TRANSIT DISTRICT — As operational responsibilities are assumed by the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, "it would be reasonable to assume that the Marin County Transit District could pass into essentially a caretaker status, with staff reduced to a minimum."

AVIATION COMMISSION — "This commission served a useful role in the formative stages of the county airport (Gnoss Field), before skilled staff was employed. However, the commission now tends primarily to be a special purpose lobby . . . It is suggested that consideration be given to phasing out of the aviation commission . . . It is suggested respectfully that an aircraft owners association or airport users association or the like, per the Marin Property Owners Association or other effective private organizations, would be more direct and less likely to result in confusion between public and private interests."

JUVENILE COMMISSION — The Juvenile Delinquency Prevention Commission has held numerous meetings for two years "without tangible accomplishment." Bruce adds: "No recommendations are made concerning the juvenile justice commission, since it lies outside the authority of the supervisors. As to the juvenile delinquency prevention commission and the youth commission, it is suggested that the former be dissolved and its functions transferred to the youth commission."

PARKS AND RECREATION — "This commission served effectively during the formative period before a Department of Parks and Recreation was created and staffed. However, the current net usefulness of this commission is questionable . . . It probably constitutes a net drain, and consideration of dissolution may be in order."

PERSONNEL COMMISSION — "It is suggested that the functions of the commission be limited to quasi-judicial hearings and determinations under the merit system ordinance, rules and regulations." The administrator suggests that monthly meetings be discontinued, with the commission meeting only as necessary to hold hearings.

EMERGENCY MEDICAL CARE COMMITTEE — This seven-member committee is required by federal and state law. "To date the committee appears to have been dominated by two members, and has tended to be a vehicle for pursuit of their personal interests." The administrator suggests that the supervisors make new appointments or reappointments and set two-year terms instead of the present indefinite terms. "It is further suggested that the membership be reconstituted to give greater weight to consumers or potential consumers of emergency medical care services, rather than vendors or providers." Another alternative would be to dissolve the emergency medical care committee and designate the health planning council to carry on its functions."

The average person takes a breath every four to six seconds.

Plea For Sausalito Fill Wins Favor

Sausalito City Council last night by a 3-2 vote recommended approval of Sausalito Yacht Harbor's plan to fill 34,600 square feet of tidelands at Humboldt and Johnson streets.

The city's recommendation will go to the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission, the final authority on bay fill.

The council voted after an hour of debate during which the area proposed for filling was described as an eyesore and "an absolute mess."

Mayor Earl F. Dunphy and Councilmen Alexander R. Imlay and Robin Sweeny voted for approval while Jan Paul Dyk and Wyman Hicks dissented.

Dyk said it wouldn't be appropriate to approve the fill since the city hasn't adopted a central waterfront plan.

J. H. Madden, the applicant, said the area "was good for nothing" unless it was filled, but conceded that he had no immediate plans for use of the land and wanted permission at this time largely because he has a chance to obtain fill.

Planning Director H. Eric Borgwardt said the area was muddy and contained debris, was by "no means true open space," and was "for practical purposes filled at this time."

Hicks felt that filling now would be premature, and said "there's six feet of water there a good part of the day."

City Mgr. George M. Patterson said: "You can't swim in it, boat in it, or use it for a yacht harbor. It's an absolute mess."

Borgwart said the filling would be in harmony with the Central Waterfront Plan recommended by the city planning commission.

The council also recommended to BCDC that Madden be required to provide public access to open water by dedicating and constructing a 10-foot wide public walkway on the waterfront.

FALL CLEANUP PLANS READY IN SAUSALITO

Sausalito City Council announced last night that there will be a free cleanup collection of debris in the city Oct. 6 through 10.

The service will be provided to customers on their regular pickup day, reported City Mgr. George M. Patterson.

There is a limit of three cubic yards per customer, the equivalent of 21 normal garbage cans, he said.

Clippings should be short in length and tied and out at the curb.

4-H Council Readies Barbecue On Coast

The Marin County 4-H Council will offer a chicken barbeque dinner from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday at the Red Barn in Point Reyes Station. Square dancing and game booths will be featured.

Tickets may be purchased at the gate.

Planner's Resignation Note Nettles Council Member

Sausalito City Councilman Wyman Hicks last night rapped outgoing Planning Commissioner Murray Smith for "improper and appropriate comments" in his letter of resignation.

Smith said he was moving from Sausalito because of the "situation" in the Sausalito School District, an integregated district.

He charged that the "basic attribute of the system which made it attractive is being destroyed, and the residential fabric of Sausalito may well be going down with it."

Hicks objected to a planning commissioner "gratuitously" commenting on the Sausliito School District. He said he hoped the mayor would find a black man to succeed Smith "so there would be someone from the other group to discuss these problems with."

Councilman Robin Sweeny said she saw "no reason to chide" Smith for expressing what he felt was a problem, that could have an effect on Sausalito's future.

Mayor Earl F. Dunphy cut short the comments about Smith. Councilmen voted to accept Smith's resignation effective Oct. 15, after City Atty. Leland H. Jordan reported that a planning commissioner can live outside the city.

The council also appointed Thomas H. Gildersleeve of 120 Crescent Avenue, to the planning commission to succeed Richard L. Whitaker, who resigned.

Gildersleeve is a staff assistant with the organization and finance control, Exploration Department, Standard Oil Co. of California in San Francisco. He will complete Whitaker's term which expires May 1971.

Shuttle Bus Eyed As Traffic Jam Solution

Sausalito City Council last night again looked at parking at the north end of the city to alleviate downtown traffic congestion.

Councilman Wyman Hicks suggested that the city sound out the Marin City Transit Co. on the possibility of providing shuttle service from the north end to downtown.

Downtown traffic congestion was under consideration when councilmen reviewed a plan by Public Works Director Norman Wohlschlaeger, for revising parking regulations along Bridgeway from Princess Street to El Portal.

Hicks said the city should concentrate on moving traffic into the city from the north, and that Marin City Transit Co. might be able to provide a parking lot there and operate the shuttle service.

Councilmen authorized City Mgr. George Patterson to check with the Marin City Transit Co. on the possibilities.

The council also adopted an ordinance setting bond proposals on the ballot Nov. 4, as $5,000 for fire station additions, $80,000 to purchase the police station building and adjacent property, and $65,000 to construct a new Tiffany Beach.

Councilmen are scheduled to attend a meeting at 8 p.m. today at city hall of persons interested in forming a bond committee to push for passage of the bonds.

Dunphy announced that absentee ballots for the election will be available at the Marin County elections office Oct. 6 and must be returned by Oct. 28.

The council authorized Patterson to negotiate with Eastman-Ravizza Agency, Sausalito real estate broker, on purchase of the police building at Johnson and Caledonia streets, now vented by the city, pending successful passage of the bondmeasure.

The Sausalito City Council Also:

Gift Ruling Aids Baker Fee Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge—in a ruling the government hopes will strengthen its case against former Senate Democratic secretary Bobby Baker—has ordered a former Agriculture Department official to turn over some $40,000 in "secret gifts and gratuities" to the government.

U.S. District Court Judge Oren R. Lewis ordered Melville A. Drisko, former director of the Foreign Agriculture Service, to turn back $40,564 in gifts and cash he received from a salad oil manufacturer while in office.

U.S. attorneys who have a case pending against Baker say Judge Lewis' ruling may help them recover from the former secretary of the Democratic majority an "unknown" amount of private fees he allegedly collected for selling his influence while in office.

Collegiate Press Faces Crackdown

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A proposal for tighter control of California state college campus newspapers was circulating today among administration, faculty and student leaders in the 19-campus system.

The 10-page report from Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke's office recommends "that the chancellor direct all campuses that have official student publications to establish strong student publication boards to guard against misuse of the principle of freedom of the press."

The recommendation also says that "problems relating to content, control and financing" of student publications "are best solved at the local level."

It commented that criticism of content "involves the use of four-letter words, nude photographs, articles and-or phrases offensive to particular groups—religious, ethnic, patriotic, etc."

Criticism included "biased political reporting, and lack of balance in subject matter — criticism and concern in this area usually refers to full pages or issues devoted in large part to minority groups," the report said.

The document from the colleges' Los Angeles headquarters was sent to college presidents and faculty and student leaders earlier this month. It is scheduled for discussion at the college trustees' meeting Sept. 23 and 24, with action possible in October.

A study of student publication also is being made at the University of California.

The state college proposal recommends that campus administrators as well as faculty and students serve on publications boards at all campuses. At present, at least seven campuses have publications boards with no administrators represented.

One campus newspaper, the San Francisco State College Gater, has been suspended by President S. I. Hayakawa of Mill Valley, because of controversy over alleged misuse of student funds, especially during a lengthy student strike. The Gater continues to publish, financed by advertising revenue and donations.

The report was prepared by the statewide dean of students' office.

CALIFORNIA'S VOTERS LEAN MORE RIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Conservatism is on the rise among California voters, according to the California Poll. Pollster Mervin D. Field said yesterday 59 per cent of the state's registered Republicans identify themselves as "conservative" in 1969, compared with 47 per cent in 1964.

The trend also held among traditionally liberal Democrats, as 30 per cent identified themselves as conservative in 1969, compared with 22 per cent in 1964.

The poll showed that among all voters in the state, there has been a 10 per cent overall increase in those claiming to be conservative.

In 1964, 32 per cent of all voters said they were conservative compared with 42 per cent in 1969. Twenty-eight per cent of the state's voters in 1964 said they were liberal, compared with 24 per cent in 1969-a decrease of 4 per cent. Field said the conservative gain was largest in Southern California.

The first French nuclear test explosion occurred Feb. 13, 1960, in the Sahara Desert.

Reagan Eyes Mafia Links In California

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan says he would like to know if the Mafia has made inroads in California.

He told his news conference yesterday there "have been hints in recent months" from Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch' office and elsewhere that Mafia activity has increased in California.

"I want to know more about it," he said.

His comments came in response to questions about Look Magazine's article alleging that San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto had alliances with Mafia leaders — a charge Alioto denied.

Lynch said he would be glad to supply Reagan with his investigative reports. "We have a lot of confidential information," he told a reporter. "We would be happy to give it to the governor any time he wants it."

Earlier this year, Lynch's office reported "the existence of organized crime in this state is beyond dispute." A special crime fighting unit reached the conclusion after an investigation that included "Mafia type activity" and other facets of "the organized crime concept."

Reagan Economy Plan Brings Burton Threat

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan says more than $200 million in new state construction may be postponed as an antiinflation move, leading a Democratic Assemblyman to suggest a statewide general strike in protest.

Meanwhile, however, the state yesterday thawed the freeze it had imposed Sept. 4 on already-planned construction projects whose bids had been called for. Some $3.84 million in urgently needed road building was awarded, mainly for flood repairs, traffic safety work and maintenance on winter-threatened roads.

A total of $78 million in pending contracts had been held up after President Richard M. Nixon announced he was defering 75 per cent of new federal construction and asked governors to follow suit in the war against inflation.

Reagan quickly assented, and then at his first regular Capitol news conference in six weeks yesterday announced "more than $200 million" in new state construction may be put off as California's contribution.

That led to a news release from Assemblyman John L. Burton, D-San Francisco, president of the California Democratic Council.

He endorsed a proposal for a one-day general strike of California labor union members, which he said originally came from the State Building and Construction Trades Council.

"The dramatic impact of a general strike is the best weapon the working people have against this cutback which could cripple the construction industry," Burton declared.

The Democratic volunteer group leader said "It is typical of the Republican economic program to let the rich get richer, the poor get poorer, while the working man is forced on to unemployment."

But Reagan told his news conference that "we will watch very carefully" any cutbacks which was imposed.

He did not specify which projects would be put off, saying that will depend on where the federal government reins in. "We can and will act to implement our program as soon as we are informed of the federal cutbacks."

Novato Tries To Cut Cost Of Park Pool

Novato City Council last night instructed the parks and recreation staff to work with the landscape architect and the bidder to cut the cost of the spray pool and small boat lagoon at Pioneer Memorial Park to $33,000.

The 4-1 vote, with Mayor Harley McAskill against, came after a discussion by the council and the parks and recreation advisory commission in a joint meeting.

On Aug. 3 the council rejected the only bid, that of Colleshaw Sprinkler Co. of Santa Rosa of $53,333 to construct the pool and lagoon.

The council accepted the advisory commission proposal that asphalt walks, benches around the lagoon and concrete bottom be eliminated. The bottom of the lagoon would be dirt.

Councilman Babe Silva said that the city would lose a lot of water with a dirt bottom in the 40-by-150-foot lagoon. He said it might cost more to buy water for it than to concrete the bottom.

David Price Jones, president of the Novato Civic Foundation said that perhaps the foundation could get the concrete bottom put into the lagoon. He observed that the foundation has obtained approximately $80,000 in work on the park compared to city spending of $13,000.

Novato Proposes Bond Issue To Gain A Park

The Novato City Council tentatively agreed last night to put to the voters a bond issue of $1.5 million or $2 million for a major park.

It instructed the city parks and recreation advisory commission to come up with the exact cost of land and development.

The council also asked the commission to get a sampling of public support of a bond issue before the council takes the final step of placing it on the ballot.

Edward W. Adams, parks and recreation director, presented three possible sites for a major city park. They were the 35-acre Pinheiro property west of Highway 101 and north of Olive Avenue, the 45-acre Sil Olivia property north of Novato Bouleavard and west of Wilson Avenue and the 67-acre O'Hair ranch at Novato Boulevard and Sutro Avenue, opposite San Marin High School.

Adams estimated the cost of the Pinheiro property at $225,000. Councilmen J. Wayne Womack and Babe Silva said that when the city considered that site for a civic center several years ago, the asking price was $750,000. Adams also estimated the cost of the Olivia site at $300,000 Womack said that the asking price on that land is $10,000 per acre.

The O'Hair ranch has been offered to the city for $500,000 by Tankersley Realty.

The commission had estimated $1,495,000 for park development including $120,000 for the completion of Pioneer Memorial Park and $225,000 for land acquisition and development of a park containing a swimming pool, baseball diamonds, tennis courts, children's play areas and a community center.

THE ONE ON THE LEFT IS A NO-NO

Some neighbors don't think much of the new two-story home (left) which architect Brockhurst C. Eustice built himself in Arlington, Va. So they got a court order yesterday telling Eustice to tear down or haul away the starkly modern structure which cost him $20,000. They cited a covenant attached to the deed saying no home shall be "inharmonious" with the suburban type ramblers. The judge granted a 60 to 90 day stay to lessen Eustice's hardship. (AP Wirephoto)

New American Type Is Emerging Abroad

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "The oblivious American" abroad is on his way out, the head of Eastman Kodak told the International Industrial Conference here today.

The attitude of the American businessmen working overseas that he doesn't have to learn the language of the country is becoming a thing of the past, Eastman board chairman William S. Vaughn told the five-day gathering of 700 business leaders from 70 countries at the Fairmont Hotel.

The investments of American firms abroad may pass the $100 billion mark this year, he said, and much of this is going into manufacturing plants instead of the traditional extractive industries.

This means a new emphasis on people, he said.

"In my opinion, the most compelling opportunities for 'closing the world's income gap' (theme of this conference) lie not in the direction of development of natural resources or of new technology—though both of these are important, of course.

"But the most fruitful progress can be made simply by going after a greater return on the investment in the human resource, the one that is now coming to be identified as the most expensive and yet potentially the most productive of all economic resources."

The oblivious American, he said is like "the Italian who does not expect to find opera west of Lincoln Center, the German who does not expect to find a museum west of Fifth Avenue ... and the Frenchman who does not expect to find a good meal anywhere in this country."

American firms expanding overseas in the past have tended to "take on 10-year projects, assign them five-year timetables, and staff them with two-year people," he said, adding that this must be changed.

He pointed to his own firm's experience in setting up a new plant in Guadalajara, Mexico, to make photographic film.

Eastman engineers going there must learn the language and be prepared to stay until they work themselves out of a job by teaching Mexicans to do it, he said. The premium is on flexibility.

Novatan May Go To Youth Court

The case of Valient Gale Nims III, 18, of Novato was referred yesterday to probation officers for a report on whether he can be tried in Marin Juvenile Court.

The youth is accused of possessing marijuana, being in a place where narcotics were used and contributing to the delinquency of a minor. He was arrested with two juvenile girls in a car in a parking lot Sunday in Novato.

He was to return to Marin Municipal Court Sept. 30.

Pro-Seale Protesters Arrested By Marshal

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Nine demonstrators protesting the apparent disappearance of Black Panther leader Bobby Seale have been arrested.

The nine were arrested by police yesterday when they refused to leave the office of George Tobin, of Mill Valley, U.S. Marshal for Northern California.

The Revs. Cecil Williams of Glide Memorial Church and Eugene Boyle of Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church had led a group of 25 to the marshal's office. But the priests and all but nine of demonstrators had left the office when the arrests were made.

The protestors wanted to know the whereabouts of Seale. The Panther leader was taken from his cell in San Francisco city prison last Friday and has since been en route to Chicago by car, in the custody of federal agents. But officials at his presumed destination — Cook County Jail — said Seale still had not arrived.

Tobin refused to divulge Seale's whereabouts for "security" reasons. He denied the demonstrators' accusations that Seale had been shuttled from San Francisco secretly.

Federal authorities said Friday they were taking him to Chicago to face trial there Sept. 24 on charges of conspiring to incite a riot during the Democratic convention.

Seale was being held in San Francisco after being arrested on a warrant issued by a U.S. Commissioner in Connecticut. He was awaiting extradition to the New England state on charges he murdered and conspired to murder a Black Panther member in New Haven.

Attack On Skyscrapers By Marinite

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—San Francisco's skyline is being ruined by skyscrapers, according to the chairman of the San Francisco Planning and Urban Renewal Association.

William M. Roth, of Ross, made the statement yesterday — as reports circulated that U.S. Steel Corp. is considering a waterfront building which would be higher than the towers of the Bay Bridge.

Roth told a board meeting the city's zoning code should be restudied. He said there is no need to give concessions to big business that could only hurt the city.

"The city mustn't scream with delight, fall down and roll over each time money comes into the city with yet another outrageous insult to our sensibilities," Roth said.

He told the committee concrete giants like the Federal Building, the buildings of the Rockefeller Embarcadero Center and the new Trans-America pyramid are threatening to overpower much of the city and its hills.

Meanwhile, the San Francisco Examiner quoted "informed sources" as saying U.S. Steel was considering a building of 40 to 50 stories in the pier section of the San Francisco waterfront.

Tentative plans call for a building 30 feet above the 470-foot high point of the Bay Bridge, the Examiner said. It would be the first high rise construction on the waterfront pier area.

Crash Injures Mill Valley Pair

Two Mill Valley residents were injured yesterday when their motorcycle hit a car on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Inverness, the California Highway Patrol said.

Treated at Marin General Hospital for bruises and cuts on his chin, left knee and thigh was Perry Graham Fly, 26, of 275 Molino Avenue. His passenger, Barbara Cohen, 25, same address was treated for bruises on her left knee.

The patrol said their motorcycle hit a car driven by Sonja Vera Plant, 42, of Concord, at Inverness Way at 3:05 p.m.

Mrs. Plant was cited for failure to yield to oncoming traffic while making a turn and Fly was cited for speeding, the patrol said.

Texas has 69,000 miles of highways.

Rome Athletes Threatened In North Ireland Tension

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Northern Ireland's religious and political warfare spread to the sports arena today. Police put a visiting Italian soccer team under guard after it received a threat that it "will never reach home."

The threat was in a letter sent to a newspaper and signed by a person who identified himself as a captain in the outlawed Protestant "Ulster Volunteer Force."

It was leveled against Roma, a team scheduled to play a winners' cup match this afternoon and return to Italy tomorrow.

A downpour of rain and a new wait-and-see policy by British troops was delaying the removal of Belfast's street barricades, which were thrown up by Roman Catholics to keep Protestants out of their neighborhoods following last month's riots.

Residents cooperated with soldiers taking down barricades for part of the day yesterday, but some of the barriers were rebuilt almost immediately. By the end of the day only seven had been dismantled, and several hundred remained in various parts of the city.

The army reached an agreement last night with the Citizens' Defense Committee, which claims to speak for 75,000 Catholics, on a plan for voluntary, phased removal of the barricades by noon Friday. But the plan could hit snags.

Final acceptance of the plan depends on another meeting tonight at which the committee will examine army plans for protection against snipers. Any new eruption of violence could compromise the plan.

The army made most of its progress yesterday during the day while most men were at work. After they returned home and the committee began to assert its authority, the mood grew more tense.

An army spokesman said today that the army had decided to stand back at this stage, but had a bulldozer available if anyone wanted it.

Two rivers and at least four creeks in California are named "Bear."

Interest Conflict Just 'Ridiculous'

By MARY LEYDECKER

The San Anselmo councilman who was reported by Councilman Robert M. Scott to have a "possible conflict of interest" turned out last night to be himself.

Prior to last night's city council meeting, Scott had asked only to have a cryptic notice of the topic on the agenda, not identifying which councilman he intended to discuss.

Last night he explained that the possible conflict may lie in his wife's job as a part-time librarian with the San Anselmo Public Library.

In a written statement which he read aloud, Scott said on Sept. 7 he had learned that someone recently had asked City Atty. John G. Buresh whether Scott might have a conflict of interest because of this.

Although Scott said last night that he found "it difficult to believe that anyone can seriously contend that these facts constitute a conflict of interest," he did note that Buresh said the law was not clear on the subject.

"I have noted upon four annual city budgets in which have been included items for payment of salaries of city employees," he said.

He explained that his wife had been hired before he went on the council and that pay raises received by her were the same as all city employees were given.

Scott's fellow councilmen, who have often disagreed with him on many topics, rushed to his defense last night, Duane C. Ragan terming the accusation "ridiculous."

"In a small city there is much interconnection," Councilman James F. Reed added, "and Irma Scott is a very competent librarian."

Scott said that "in bargaining for a pleasant job amongst the books she loves, she has no desire to star in some political bickering no matter how baseless or far-fetched it might be."

Buresh declined to give a legal opinion without additional research but said that his "curbstone opinion" was that Mrs. Scott's job does represent a conflict of interest.

Scott, who said he was entering a hospital today for surgery, said that he would have "a positive statement to make" after he comes out of the hospital about whether he will run again next year or will resign.

Earlier this year, Scott brought anonymous charges to the council against Charles R. Leitzell, city public works director, who was accused of using city employees to put in a driveway at his home.

Leitzell was cleared of the charges and a public apology made to him.

Way Found To Bypass Funds To Coffee House

The San Anselmo City Council last night finally found a way to encourage teen-age activities without giving money directly to the much-discussed Third Rail coffee house, a teen center housed in a church basement.

Dumping the whole matter into the lap of the parks and recreation commission, the council unanimously agreed to let the commissioners spend $1,000 on various teen-age activities.

Earlier, City Atty. John G. Buresh had said that it would be illegal to comply with a request for $500 from the Third Rail, since it is "under the apparent sponsorship" of the First Presbyterian Church.

Several councilmen had not shown much enthusiasm for donating money to the coffee house, anyway, and Councilman Robert M. Scott had in the past accused the group's director, Norman Leach, of favoring the legalization of marijuana.

Leach had then responded that he had not advocated use of marijuana and that drugs are not used at the Third Rail.

Buresh explained last night that it will be legal for the commission to co-sponsor activities with the Third Rail or other teen-age groups, donating money for special activities and retaining some control over them.

Leach, who was present last night but did not speak, was described by Councilman James F. Reed as being agreeable to this arrangement, which had been approved Monday night by the parks and recreation commission. It was erroneously reported in yesterday's Independent Journal that the commission favored granting $500 to the Third Rail.

Although Mayor Woodrow V. Capurro suggested the city council should have the final say on divvying up the $1,000 already budgeted, the council voted unanimously to turn the whole matter over to the commission.

The San Anselmo City Council Also:

FLOOD CONTROL — Voted to donate $500 to a study to be made for alternate plans to the Corte Madera Creek flood control Project designs for the town of Ross since San Anselmo will tie in with the Ross system.

CONSULTANT — Voted to hire the firm of Williams and Mocine for $1,000 to prepare a reconnaissance report and application for federal funds for the proposed "701" planning study.

MINIBOARD — Appointed Dr. Martin G. Blinder to a vacancy on the Human Rights Commission miniboard, noting that one vacancy still exists.

HORSES — Approved signs prohibiting horses and motorcycles in Memorial Park except on the roadway.

ZONES — Introduced an ordinance changing zoning at 58 and 72 Magnolia Avenue from single family to neighborhood apartment classification.

Fear Is Voiced Over Earthquake School Standards

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Unless San Francisco spends an estimated $150 million to improve its schools up to state earthquake standards, the San Francisco Board of Education will have to close at least 54 schools by 1975.

The board was given those gloomy statistics last night by its attorney and administrators.

Attorney Irving Breyer said the district must ask the voters by mid-1970 to approve a bond issue financing the improvements, pass a tax increase or vote to abandon the schools.

He said the state Education Code requires a district plan by next January for bringing all buildings up to state earthquake standards. An election must be held within six months on methods of financing the modernization.

Marin To Ask For Erosion Controls At Righetti Ranch

Marin County can not stop logging in the Ethel Righetti Ranch along Bolinas Ridge, but it intends to press for erosion control and fire safety regulations, the Marin County Board of Supervisors declared yesterday.

On a motion by Peter Arrigoni Jr., supervisors continued for a week its hearing to determine whether the logging operations by Matthews, Humbert and Walker Timber Co. constitute a public nuisance.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said that in his opinion, logging can not be considered a public nuisance if the firm complies with safety conditions laid down by County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost. These include the clearing and piling of slash, and new water courses to be constructed to prevent debris from washing down. The accumulated slash will be burned by next spring under the direction of the county fire chief.

Logging has stopped in the canyon areas but is continuing on the ridges, Frost reported. He said the loggers are complying with all conditions agreed upon last month.

Arrigoni demanded that the agreement with the loggers be refined, and that a provision be added to control erosion.

Supervisors asked Frost to work out amendments to the agreement and come back next Tuesday with a precise document outlining all the conditions to be met by the loggers.

The loggers' attorney, Albert Bianchi, assured supervisors the logging firm is willing to work out further conditions, but stated that the county has no legal right to impose the conditions.

Douglas Ferguson, attorney for Nature Conservancy, declared flatly that the county "has the power and the duty to proceed immediately to abate the logging operations." Nature Conservancy owns property downslope of the Righetti Ranch.

Harold E. Gregg, president of the Marin Conservation League, warned "there would be hell to pay" if logging continued in the canyons and the winter rains began pouring earth and debris down the slopes.

On a motion by Arrigoni, supervisors also asked the Marin County Soil Conservation District for an immediate study of the erosion problems at Righetti Ranch.

Supervisors Discover A $30 'Windfall' In Stock Shares

Marin County owns six shares in the Pacific Breeders Association, the Marin County Board of Supervisors learned to its surprise yesterday.

But sale of the stocks won't help much in the way of lowering the tax rate. At $5 per share, its total worth is $30.

Deputy County Counsel Thomas G. Hendricks reported that the six shares were issued to the county in June of 1966 when the old county farm at Lucas Valley was converted from a cooperative to a corporation. Each certificate was worth $5 then, and it is still worth $5, said Hendricks.

"I will leave it to your sound discretion whether to cash out for the $30 or to hold onto the stock until, hopefully, it becomes more valuable."

"I'd like to check on this," said Supervisor William A. Gnoss, a retired Novato rancher. He explained that the county was in the dairy business in the old days when it raised cattle and sold milk at the old County Farm and Hospital.

Supervisors referred the matter to Gnoss for a report back on what should be done with the $30 windfall.

Israel is rapidly changing from an agricultural state to an industrial nation.

Committee Changes Meeting Location

The advisory committee to the Petaluma Board of Education will meet at the Rancho Cotate High School library at 8 p.m. today and not at the Rohnert Park Community and Recreation Center as previously planned.

Another function had been scheduled for the recreation center, forcing the change. The committee will continue to consider the appointment of committee heads to promote the Oct. 14 high school district bond election.

Marinite Is Facing Trial On Car Theft

I-J SPecial Report

PLACERVILLE — A 19-year-old Marin youth pleaded innocent yesterday in El Dorado Justice Court to a charge of car theft.

Thomas R. Cunningham Jr. of no fixed address was ordered to appear for a court trial at 2 p.m. Oct. 2 before Judge J. B. Johnson in the El Dorado Justice Court. He will be represented by Michael Tarlton, the public defender.

Cunningham was arrested Sept. 6 after he was stopped for speeding on Highway 50. Sheriff's deputies reported he had no identification or driver's license and a record check indicated he was driving a stolen car.

Cunningham is also wanted by Fairfax police on a warrant charging forgery. The warrant was issued after the youth allegedly passed a check for $98.37 at a Fairfax food store Sept. 5 and signed his father's name.

Conference Asked On Arson Suspect Policy

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday asked the sheriff, probation department and the district attorney for a discussion on what can be done about young offenders like arson suspects who are released immediately after apprehension to prowl the streets within hours after arrest.

Supervisor Peter Arrigoni Jr. raised the issue, noting that the Marinwood Firemen's Association is concerned about the rash of fires, and the fact that young suspects are released immediately.

He said the problem exists in other areas where young criminals, even those with narcotics problems, are allowed immediate freedom after arrest.

"I'd like to ask the staff to see what the heck is going on and what can be done about rehabilitating some of these youths."

State law is quite specific in insisting that youthful suspects be released immediately, said County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney.

"What steps can eb taken to change the law?" asked board chairman John F. McInnis.

McInnis said that about two years ago he tried to set up a workshop with the judges to discuss this problem, but the judges would not participate.

Supervisors decided to ark the probation department and other law enforcement officials for a discussion, either in private or in public, to see if the problem can be solved.

Supervisors also met for a half hour yesterday to pick a coordinator for the county's new Careers Program but failed to reach a decision. Another meeting will be held in the future to pick the coordinator.

Week's Disease List

Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, Marin health officer, has reported 25 cases of gonorrhea, 41 of streptoccocus infections, one of syphillis, two of tuberculosis and two of infectious hepatitis last week.

Resolution To Nixon On Seashore Purchase

A formal resolution urging the Nixon administration to press for immediate purchase of all of Point Reyes National Seashore won the unanimous vote yesterday of the Marin County Board of Supervisors on a motion by Peter Arrigoni Jr.

Supervisors also approved a letter to be sent to other public agencies in the Bay Area to join the fight for purchase of the 54,000-acre Seashore before private holdings are sold off for subdivision.

Since the national seashore was authorized in 1962, the government has bought only 22,540 acres out of the total 53,480 acres of the Seashore boundary.

GRIEVANCE — Overruled the county personnel commission and declined to move the salary of Frances Jennings, a senior typist in the health department, to a higher range. Mrs. Jennings' job was reclassified during budget proceedings, leaving her at a lower salary than if the position had not been reclassified. The board recommended changes in the county code to deal with this type of a situation in the future.

NUCLEAR BLAST AFTERSHOCKS TO CONTINUE

PAHUTE MESA, Nev. (UPI) —Aftershocks from a manmade earthquake — yesterday's giant underground nuclear blast that displaced 10 million tons of rock—will continue for several weeks, a seismologist said today.

Dr. James N. Brune, head of the seismology laboratory at the California Institute of Technology in Pasadena, said "numerous tiny aftershock" have been recorded from the test.

He said the blast itself registered a magnitude of 6 on the open end Richter Scale. In comparison, the Alaska quake that claimed 115 lives registered 8.4.

Brune said four major aftershocks of magnitude 4 were recorded at Caltech in the hours following the test.

A maple or oak tree may expose as much as four acres of leaf surface to the sun.

Women In Spotlight At U.N. Session

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Having chosen a new woman president, the U.N. General Assembly turned today to the election of 17 vice presidents.

The vice presidents will sit on the assembly's steering committee with seven main committee chairmen who already have been elected and with Angie Elizabeth Brooks of Liberia, who was elected president yesterday as the 126-nation assembly began its 24th session.

ANGIE E. BROOKS
Woman to lead U.N.

Stealing thes potlight yesterday at a press conference for U.S. delegates to the U.N., was Mrs. Shirley Temple Black, onetime child movie star and unsuccessful candidate for Congress from San Mateo County.

She said the United Nations' task should be to "work toward peace and human brotherhood and to improve the environmental situation in our world."

The steering committee was scheduled to work this afternoon on the question of whether the assembly will take up all of the 104 items—a record—proposed for its agenda.

There was doubt about the Irish Republic's request that the assembly take up the situation in Northern Ireland, where the Roman Catholic minority and the Protestant majority fought a religious war last month.

British troops are now keeping the peace, Northern Ireland being part of the United Kingdom along with England, Scotland and Wales. Lord Caradon, the chief British delegate, said his government is "very much against" any assembly debate on Northern Ireland since the British government considers the situation there entirely a domestic matter.

President Richard M. Nixon will address the assembly tomorrow morning, then meet with Secretary-General U Thant. Miss Brooks and various delegates, probably including Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Miss Brooks, Liberia's assistant secretary of state, had no formal opposition in the election for president this year.

The 41-year-old woman lawyer, second of her sex to head the assembly, challenged the delegates to reverse a gradual decline in the prestige of the United Nations.

She said the U.N. Charter "possesses a positive panacea against all that is socially and politically evil," but complained that "we have not achieved the strength with which the charter in its totality has endowed us."

Last year, Miss Brooks said, "world problems were either sidetracked or ignored, be it advisedly or by default." She said world opinion of the United Nations has been declining gradually and "it would be sort of complacency on our part if we were to yield to the delusion that we are doing our best and the world is misjudging us."

Toastmasters Member Wins

Charles West of San Rafael, a member of Marin Toastmasters 890, won the Toastmasters International Area 6 humorous speech contest Monday night at Kent Woodlands restaurant, Kentfield.

West, who spoke about "One Day of Truth," will represent his club in the district finals in Orinda, Contra Costa County, next month.

Members of clubs from Marin and the East Bay participated.

Berkeley Riots Claims Rejected

SACRAMENTO (UPI) Claims totaling $5.3 million filed against the state by 92 persons injured during the Berkeley "People's Park" demonstrations were rejected yesterday by the state Board of Control.

Among those denied was a $50,000 claim filed by San Francisco Chronicle reporter Don Wegars, who said he was shot May 15 by a law officer during the demonstrations at the University of California's Berkeley campus.

The board action paved the way for court suits by the persons filing the claims.

Most of the 92 claimed they received gunshot wounds, bayonet cuts or were injured at the Santa Rita prison farm after being arrested for participating in the demonstrations last May 15-22.

None of the claimants, nor their attorneys, appeared at the board hearing.

JUST SLOM IT DOWN

"I can spell better than that," says Joan Koski, a 6-year-old student in Newburyport, Mass., when she saw a street sign advising drivers to slom because of a nearby school. The goof was made by a road sign painter who unintentionally placed one stencil upside down. (UPI Telephoto)

San Rafael Schools Wooing Support

By DAVID DIETZ

The San Rafael Board of Education, twice rebuffed at the polls this year in bond issue elections, voted last night to try anew at winning public approval of school improvements.

In a move designed to give residents a greater voice in school planning, the board decided to create three citizen-teacher-administrator committees to investigate three plans to meet the needs of the high school district's 4,133 students.

After study of the three choices — modernize San Rafael and Terra Linda high schools at a cost of $2.73 million, begin year-round instruction or initiate staggered sessions — the public would have the right to select the plan it wanted, the board agreed.

Earlier, the board, reendorsing the middle school concept that was an integral part of this year's bond elections, approved further study of tentative plans to establish a new middle school sixth through eighth grades at Davidson Junior High School and expand Santa Venetia School, already a middle school, and to provide other elementary school improvements at a total cost of $360,000.

The architects said Laurel Dell Intermediate School adjacent to the Davidson campus would temporarily become part of Davidson to enable an enrollment of 900 students. Davidson now houses 800 students.

Fourth and fifth grade students at Laurel Dell Intermediate would attend Short, Laurel Dell Primary and Bahia Vista schools, with the sixth graders remaining.

The cost of the improvements was estimated at $360,000, with seven classrooms added at Santa Venetia to increase enrollment to 700 from 400 at a cost of $140,000, replacing the music building at Davidson for $120,000 and various site work and alterations at Davidson and Santa Venetia costing $100,000.

According to the plans, Laurel Dell Intermediate would become a third through fifth grade school if a new Glenwood school were built.

Provision of a Glenwood middle school was the main feature of a $2.1 million bond issue defeated twice by elementary district voters this year — on Feb. 18 and June 10. Both measures failed to gain the necessary two-thirds majority.

The new elementary school plans would use remaining bond funds, according to the architects' report. Besides work at Santa Venetia and Davidson, there would be "alterations to West End (School) and some upgrading of other elementary schools," according to the architects.

Marshall said the plans were discussed at a meeting earlier yesterday of Supt. John F. Plank, school principals, other school officials and the architects.

Modernization of the two high schools would embrace the "school within a school" concept. The architects, largely resubmitting plans presented last November, said each school would be redesigned into 10 "houses," each containing 200 students and surrounding a central learning center.

The concept is designed to increase student understanding of himself and adults who direct him, the architects said.

Costs of modernization were estimated at $1.5 million at Terra Linda and $1.23 million at San Rafael.

As redesigned, the schools would accomodate only current student population. The board noted that, in view of a shrinking rate of increase in high school enrollment, needs were not as critical as projected several years ago.

Board chairman Herman L. Childress called for careful enrollment projections in the future. Plank noted that the elementary and high school districts stood to lose $184,000 in revenue because fall enrollment didn't meet predictions.

"I'm not of the opinion that the bond issues didn't lose because of what they might have cost in property taxes each year, but because the public didn't buy the projected growth figures presented," said Donald R. Wellington of San Rafael, seated in the audience.

Board member Paul L. Jones first suggested presenting the three alternative elementary school plans for public scrutiny, and was supported by members of the audience.

Jones hoped the committee studies would be completed within three months.

In other business last night, the board, with members Lawrence I. Kramer and Carl J. Brown absent, voted to ask for bids Oct. 20 to remodel the gymnasium and locker rooms at San Rafael High School to bring them up to Field Act earthquake standards. The project, estimated to cost between $250,000 and $300,000, is a month late because of review of plans in Sacramento and is now scheduled to be finished after spring.

Lee Larris, student body president at San Rafal High School, said students wanted to improve relations with the board and introduced student Sue Scherini, who will be attending board meetings to report back to the students.

High Turnout Votes Sanitary Annexation

Voters of outer Tiburon, with an 82.3 per cent turnout, approved annexing their area above Paradise Drive to the Corte Madera Sanitary District yesterday by a 39-26 margin.

A total of 65 of 79 registered voters appeared at the polls in the special election. The vote included seven absentee ballots.

The election was ordered after protests last spring by a quarter of the district's registered voters against the proposed annexation. The area, which includes lots on Paradise Drive, Taylor Road and Antoinette Drive, is now served by septic tanks.

After the vote is canvassed Tuesday by the sanitary district board, Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher said, assessment district proceedings can be started to finance sewer lines needed for hookups.

Some propertied on Paradise Drive, Usher said, can connect to existing lines. In other undeveloped areas, new lines may not be installed until houses are built, he said.

Connections to existing lines could be made this fall, and needed new lines could be installed next spring, Usher said.

Rohnert Park Again Pleads Crossing Case

The state Public Utilities Commission completed a third hearing yesterday in Rohnert Park to consider a grade crossing at the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks on Southwest Boulevard.

Testyfing to the need for the crossing were City Mgr. Peter M. Callinan, City Engineer Milton Hudis, Lesly H. Meyer, susuperintendent of the Petaluma School District; Maurice Fredericks of the Cotati School District; Nore Thiesfeld, planning director at Sonoma State College, and Robert O'Neel, president of Young America Homes.

All testified to the rapid growth of the city and stressed that the railroad tracks divide the town in half. School and college spokesmen said that increased enrollments make added access routes to schools necessary.

The commission staff is opposing the grade crossing and calling it premature. A decision is not expected until December. The first hearing was terminated by the death of the examiner and the city was denied the application at the second hearing.

Nicasio Trustees Discuss Tam Bussing Fare Proposal

A Tamalpais High School District proposal to charge fares for school bus service was discussed last night by the Nicasio School District board.

The board agreed to ask Tam Trustee David D. Ring — chairman of the Tamalpais High School District Transportation Committee, which recommended the new pay system —to come to a meeting in Nicasio, board clerk Marie S. Rogers reported.

Ring's committee has recommended that students living outside two miles pay 30 cents one-way, 60 cents round trip or $2.50 a week for a book of tickets.

A date for the meeting was not set pending Ring's availability.

The board also discussed buying about three acres of land adjacent to the school for possible future expansion. The land is owned by Marin Municipal Water District, Mrs. Rogers said.

A teacher's aide for the kindergarten, Marion Adams, was hired at $3.50 an hour.

Attendance on opening day was reported at 49, down two from last year, Mrs. Rogers said.

Nude Beach Set As Panel Topic

A proposal for a separate beach for nude bathers, made by Lothar Salin, chairman of the Marin Parks and Recreation Commission, will be discussed at 9 a.m. tomorrow on the KTIM Sounding Board.

Panelists will be Salin; Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales; Michael Praszker of San Rafael, and John F. McInnis, chairman of the board of supervisors who has publicly rebuked Salin for his suggestion.

Questions may be phoned in during the broadcast tomorrow. The program, moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer, will be repeated on tape at 10:05 a.m. Sunday.

Still Good News, Heatter Finds

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Gabriel Heatter, who kept World War II audiences tuned to their radios with, "There's good news tonight," said on his 80th birthday today there is still good news in the world.

Heatter, whose deep baritone brought accounts of the Nazi blitz and the Pacific jungle campaigns into American living rooms, was to spend the day quietly with his family.

His daughter, Mrs. Ralph Daniels, said a small private party is planned at her husband's restaurant here.

The pioneer newscaster retired from his national nightly broadcasts on the Mutual network in 1961.

Marijuana Case Driver Charged

John Lynn Portis, 25, of Sioux, City, Iowa, was arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on charges of transporting marijuana into California and possession of marijuana.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Vernon Smith Jr. said that FBI officers also planned to arrest Portis on suspicion of driving a stolen car over a state line.

A young woman arrested with Portis in San Rafael Monday, Ethel Marie Wilson, 18, of Sacramento, was not charged. Portis told police he had picked her up in Sausalito.

Portis was stopped in the reportedly stolen car because of a defective taillight. Officers said they found a pouch of marijuana in the vehicle.

Portis was held in jail in lieu of $10,000 bail and his case was continued today.

Police Network On Agenda For Council

An agreement with Sonoma County to install and operate the California law enforcement telecommunications system will be considered at the Cotati City Council meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Cotati fire station.

Also on the agenda is an engineer's report on street improvements on West Sierra Avenue and Redwood Highway.

Gulf Station Design Wins First Nod

Preliminary plans for a Gulf Oil Co. station at the northwest corner of East Blithedale Avenue and Camino Alto were approved last night by the Mill Valley Architectural Advisory Committee, Zoning Adminsitrator Howard McGill said today.

McGill daid final plans still have to submitted to the AAC and also must be approved by the planning commission and the city council.

The AAC rejected a proposed sign for a new take-out food establishment at 600 Meller Avenue and ordered the owners to come up with a new disign omitting advertising for a soft drink on the restaurant's name sign.

The contractor also was directed to take corrective measures on the restaurant where Loma stone was used instead of lava rock without authorization, McGill said.

The Mill Valley Architectural Advisory Committee also:

Marin's Poor Count Questioned By Poverty Director

By LARRY D. HATFIELD

There probably are four times the number of poor people in Marin County than anyone is ready to admit officially and few of them live in Marin City, contends W. Robert Loma Jr., executive director of the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council.

"There are direct attempts to camouflage statistics from out of this county about how many poor there are," Lomax said. "We don't want to admit we have any problems."

Contending that the generally affluent residents of Marin County comfortably but incorrectly assume that the bulk of the county's poor live in Marin City, Lomax pointed out that about half of the recipients of Aid to Families of Dependent Children (AFDC) live in the San Rafael area and another fourth live in the Novato area.

"But as long as the board of supervisors can point fingers at Marin City, a lot of people are satisfied," Lomax said.

He added, "It is time for people to realize, time for people in Marin City to start rising up and saying, 'Look, there are other parts of the county where there are poor.' "

Furthermore, he contended, the number of poor people in the county is not accurately reflected in the AFDC payments. In August, there were 1,170 AFDC payments to families where the man of the house was disabled or absent, 133 payments to unemployed heads of households and 298 recipients of medical aid only.

But, Lomax said, these figures only reflect the number of poor people with families and receiving aid. "There are probably four times as many poor people (in the county)," he said.

Lomax made the comments in an interview on the progress of EOC programs in Marin County. The EOC currently is funded with about a half-million dollars and Lomax said several new programs are getting off the ground.

Among them, he said, is a developing countywide youth program which is aimed at organizing low-income youth into "viable groups (for) meaningful employment, recreation, self-identification through cultural and educational experiences and personal development."

The EOC's youth program will soon open a multiservice center at 918 C Street in San Rafael, has an office already operating at Manzanita Center in Marin City and is negotiating for office space in Novato, Lomax said.

Lomax is also working with the Marin County Human Rights Commission on expanding into a county-wide effort. The successful secretarial project, which has trained several Marin City women to enter the job market. The fall program of the secretarial project starts later this month.

A new program which is drawing wide response from the community — both in terms of contributing and receiving — is HELP, (Helping Elevate Low-income Persons), a community organization program to give immediate aid to low-income persons in need of food, clothing or furniture.

The basement of the EOC's San Rafael office is now chock full of clothing, appliances and other items that have been collected for HELP. Lomax said distribution of donations will start within several days.

One program Lomax hopes to start eventually but as yet does not have funds for is a vocational training program which would provide on-the-job training for low-income persons in clerical and secretarial work.

Already started is a blood bank account for disadvantaged persons in conjunction with the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank of the San Francisco Medical Society. Another health service will be provided to Marin City residents Oct. 16 when a mobile chest X-ray survey will be made in cooperation with the Marin Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association.

Later this month, Lomax said, a language arts improvement program for low-income, non-English speaking persons will be started. This pilot project will be assisted by the Marin County Volunteer Bureau and will provide tutorial services in languages to low-income, non-English-speaking persons twice a week for eight months.

Asked whether one of the biggest problems of the war on poverty was the bureaucracy's failure to communicate, Lomax said, "I can't say whether that's true or not but I can say — and I'm not beating my own drum — there has been a helluva lot more communication since I've been here. People don't start to holler until you're doing something. . . . right or wrong."

People are starting to holler, he indicated.

DRY SPELL TO CONTINUE

Maps prepared from U. S. Weather Bureau's 30-day forecasts indicate that Marin will enjoy normal Indian summer temperatures and probably rainless skies for a month. Last year, the hottest day of the period was Sept. 17, with a torrid 97 degrees; coolest morning was 45 on Oct. 8. The annual summer drought was broken Oct. 11 with a trace, followed by a 1.83-inch soaking the next 24 hours. (AP Wirephoto Maps)

Sanitary Districts Win Tax Cutting Job Laurels

Sanitary districts did the best job of tax cutting among the many taxing jurisdictions in Marin County this year.

Of 12 sanitary districts in the county, six reduced their rates, four left them unchanged, and only two increased them.

Although county supervisors increased the county tax rate by 12.5 cents, from $2.27 to $2.395 per $100 assessed valuation, they reduced rates in 15 of the 36 special districts which they control, left the levies unchanged in five, and increased them in 16.

Five cities left tax rates unchanged for the new fiscal year, but five others increased them and only one made a reduction.

Of 22 school districts levying taxes in Marin, all but four increased rates. One left the rate unchanged and three made reductions.

In general, taxing jurisdictions in Marin failed to hold the line as well this year as they did in 1968.

Comparisons are now possible since all districts' rates have been set for fiscal 1970.

The rate-reducing sanitary districts were: Corte Madera, down 2 cents to a 39.5-cent rate; Tiburon down 5 cents to 47 cents; Alto, down 26.5 cents to 15; Homestead Valley, down one cent to 36; Las Gallinas Valley, down 5 cents to 4 cents total; Richardson Bay, down 5 cents to 45. Almonte and Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary Districts and San Rafael Sanitation District left their rates unchanged at 20, 16 and 27 cents, respectively. Ross Valley Sanitary District boosted its rate by 27 cents, from 17 to 44.

County supervisors reduced the rates in the Murray Park Sewer Maintenance District; Loma Verde, Paradise Cay and Homestead Valley County Service Areas, and in 15 of the 16 lighting districts — the exception being Marin County Highway Lighting District, a new one with a 9.5-cent rate. They also cut rates in Novato, Bel Aire, Stinson Beach and Ross Valley flood control zones, while increasing them in Richardson Bay, Santa Venetia and San Rafael Meadows zones — all these changes up and down being 2 cents or less. They whacked 9 cents off the levy for Monte Cristo Permanent Road Division, but upped the Bolinas Highlands Road Division a whopping 52 cents, from 23 to 75 cents.

The only city to reduce its tax rate was Tiburon, where the rate was dropped from 67 to 65 cents. Unchanged were Belvedere ($1.75), Fairfax ($1.74), San Anselmo ($2.255), San Rafael (.86), and Sausalito ($1.315).

Corte Madera increased its city tax rate by 4 cents, to 99 cents; Larkspur, by 2 cents, to $1.26; Mill Valley, by 9.5 cents, to $2.355; Novato, by 6 cents, to .81; Ross, by 5 cents, to $1.72.

Two elementary school districts reduced rates: Nicasio, by 1.5 cents from $1.08 to $1.065, and Union, by 41 cents from 61 to 20 cents (no school). Larkspur School District kept its rate unchanged at $2.16.

Elementary districts increasing rates were: Bolinas-Stinson, up 25.5 cents to $1.25; Dixie, up 36.5 cents to $2.58; Fairfax, up 7.5 cents to $1.71; Kentfield, up 9 cents to $1.965; Laguna, up 12.5 cents to 60.5 cents; Lagunitas, up 25.5 cents to $2.065; Lincoln, up 4.5 cents to 12 cents (not operating a school); Mill Valley, up 19 cents to $1.83; Reed, up 23 cents to $2.26; Ross, up 72.5 cents to $2.16; San Anselmo, up 20 cents to $1.975; San Rafael, up 18.5 cents to $1.85; Sausalito, up 35 cents to $2.28.

There is one new school district: Shoreline Unified, with a $3.585 tax rate. It replaces the former Tomales High School and Tomales Bay and West Marin Elementary School districts.

Novato Unified School District increased its tax rate by 13 cents, to $4.825. There were small increases in the two high school districts: San Rafael, up 1 cent to $2.08, and Tamalpais, up 6 cents to $2.145. Petaluma High School District, which includes small parts of Marin, dropped its rate from $2.45 to $2.28, a 17-cent cut.

Marin Junior College District increased its rate by 10.5 cents, to 93 cents.

Bolinas Harbor District dropped its rate 6 cents, to 30 cents. Marin Mosquito Abatement District left its rate unchanged at 2.5 cents. Bya Area Air Pollution Control District added one mill to bring its rate to 1.2 cents.

Four community services districts increased rates, two left them unchanged, and two dropped them. Increases were: Gallinas Village, 2 cents, to $1.02; Muir Beach, 2 cents, to $1.02; Terra Linda, 9 cents, to 93 cents; Tamalpais, 12 cents, to 27 cents. Unchanged were Bel Marin Keys at $1.25 and Marin City at $1. Down were Marinwood, by 6.5 cents to $1.23, and Monte Maria, by one cent to 14 cents.

Five fire districts' rates went up and three down. Hikes were in Alto-Richardson Bay, one cent to 66 cents; Kentfield, 2 cents to 92 cents; Sleepy Hollow, 10 cents to 98 cents; Tamalpais, one cent to 90.5 cents, and Tiburon, 5.5 cents to 77.5 cents. Cuts were in Bolinas, by one cent to 32 cents; Novato, by 3 cents to 50 cents, and Stinson Beach, by 2.5 cents to 36.5 cents.

Inverness Public Utility District boosted its rate 7.5 cents to 37.5, but Bolinas Community Public Utility District cut its rate by 1.5 cents to $1.77.

Strawberry Recreation District upped its rate 4.5 cents to 50 cents. Terra Linda Recreation-Park District increased its rate by 1.5 cents to 19 cents.

Marin Hospital District, which levied 8 cents last year, cut that to 3.5 cents.

Although Marin Municipal Water District levies no general property tax, it instituted a tax rate of $2.77 this year for Marincello only, to finance water and sewer installations there. Only other water district levying a tax is Stinson Beach, which hiked its rate by 5 cents, from a dime to 15 cents.

Arson Damages U.C. Offices

BERKELEY (UPI) — A converted Victorian house used as an office building by the University of California was extensively damaged today by a fire apparently set by an arsonist.

Damage to the structure, located across the street from the site of the "People's Park" controversy last spring, was estimated at $30,000.

Berkeley fire officials said the three story wooden building was apparently set afire by a long-haired man, about 20, described as a "hippie type," who was seen fleeing the area.

This is the way it's going to be. Pontiac's 70's

Surprised that Pontiac's setting the style for the umpteenth straight year? Of course not.

But you may be a bit dazzled to find out that Pontiac finally outdid Pontiac.

Take Bonneville. From the strong, new bumper grille to the standard 455 under the hood, it's a rouser.

Inside: instant limousine. So luxurious some of the traditional big boys are already screaming.

One of the nicest things we could have done for Grand Prix's luxury was to leave it alone. We did. But we popped in a 455 V-8 for you to order. (It's an old Pontiac proverb that luxury should have power.)

Enter LeMans Sport. A brand-new series in the Pontiac stable. Wait'll competition sees it pull the new 400-cubes-under-the-hood trick. We'll show you that one if you check the right box on the order form.

By now, you've spotted our '70 GTO. But maybe you haven't heard it. A sound so tough we've thrown modesty to the wind and dubbed GTO "The Humbler."

This is Pontiac '70. And we figure this is the way driving's going to be. So why wait?

It's at your Pontiac dealer's now.

Sierra Clubbers Cool To New Competition

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Sierra Club officials reacted cooly today to the launching of a new conservation movement by David Brower, ousted as the club's administrative leader in a bitter fight last spring.

And they contended the club, founded by John Muir in 1892, has continued to grow in size and prestige despite the absence of the controversial Brower whose personality dominated the organization for years.

"It's a bit obscure in our minds exactly what niche he'll occupy in the politics of conservation," said Michael McCloskey, the club's conservation director and Brower's successor as chief of staff.

Yesterday, Brower announced formation of his own international conservation organization known as Friends of the Earth. It will be an aggressive political and legislative group and will have an extensive book publication program, he said.

In the meantime, McCloskey said, "I think our conservation effort has been successful as ever and our growth is the greatest it's ever been. I think the club's prestige is as great as it has ever been."

But heavy investment in book publication has run the club short of working capital and it is in the midst of an economy drive.

Creation of Brower's group is bound to increase competition for members. One veteran Sierra Club observer doubted, however, whether any but the most militant young conservationists would leave the club to join Brower's organization. Current club membership is a record 80,000.

Brower's Friends of the Earth will have a companion tax-deductible organization called the John Muir Institute dedicated to conservation education and research. The institute will hold the first in a series of annual seminars at Aspen, Colo, this weekend.

McCloskey said heavy investment in the book program "in the time of tight money has given us insufficient liquidity to operate with the freedom of action we would like. As a result, we're having to tighten our belts a bit during this period."

The publications program is going through a reorganization, "partly for the reason we need capitalization and partly we need to find a new creative editor to replace Dave."

The club will bring out three new books this fall, he said. One is a revised version of the club's redwoods book, a second is a resume of the club's wilderness conference two years ago, and the third is a revision of the "Manual of Ski Mountaineering."

The universe contains about 100,000 million billion stars, says the National Geographic.

POOR WORMS NEVER TURN BUTTERFLIES

STANFORD (UPI) — Scientists at Stanford University said today they have discovered a fountain of youth — for insects.

Dubbed a "juvenile hormone" by Prof. William S. Johnson and his colleagues at the Peninsula school, the chemical compound of synthetic hormones keeps certain insect pests from maturing to a point where they are able to reproduce sexually.

So far, however, the substance has worked with just two kinds of insects—a "Galleria wax" moth that menaces bee hives and the "a. polyphemus" moth related to the American silk moth.

Bay Area Honors Ex-Mexico Chief

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Former president of Mexico Miguel Aleman celebrated Mexico's Independence Day yesterday with a call for international efforts to enhance human values.

Aleman, 64, Mexico's ambassador at large, noted that more than 300,000 Mexican-Americans live in the Bay Area. He urged them to continue exemplary behavior as representatives of their mother country although they may have changed citizenship.

Aleman was also honored at a luncheon sponsored by the World Affairs Council and several other groups.

Sonoma Supervisors Still Against Bay Agency Union

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Board of Supervisors yesterday reaffirmed its stand against joining the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District despite the urgings of the Sonoma County Mayors' and Councilmens' association.

Association president Talbert W. Bean, mayor of Sonoma, asked the supervisors to become a member of the district before court action forces the county to do so.

Also present to urge membership were Santa Rosa Mayor Jack Ryersen, Healdsburg Mayor Douglas V. Badger and Cloverdale Mayor Ralph J. Poltrone.

Supervisors said they may continue to send representatives to some of the district meetings, but saw no advantage to membership.

The district last month threatened to seek legislative action to force Sonoma, Napa and Solano counties into the district.

Collision Hurts Motorcyclist

A 16-year-old Mill Valley youth was injured yesterday when his motorcycle hit a car while changing lanes on Miller Avenue at Camino Alto in Mill Valley, police reported.

Mark Morrison of 190 Cascade Drive was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with a broken left arm.

Police said Morrison was riding westbound on Miller Avenue at 2:15 p.m. when he turned into the side of a car driven by Frederick Conrad Finzen, 17, of 16 Eugene Street, Mill Valley.

Governors Defeat Plan On Bussing

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — A resolution opposing the bussing of pupils to obtain racial balance was defeated today by the Southern Governors Conference. The resolution fell one vote short of the required three-fourths majority. The vote was 8-3, with one abstention.

The action came after Vice President Spiro T. Agnew told the conference last night he opposed bussing children "simply to achieve an integrated status of a larger geographic entity."

Gov. Arch Moore of West Virginia, a Republican, argued against the antibussing resolution as going beyond the conference's scope.

"I believe the resolution perhaps had been well answered by the vice president last night," Moore said. "I believe the resolution is empty."

Joining with Moore in voting against the resolution offered by Alabama's Democratic Gov. Albert Brewer were Govs. Marvin Mandel of Maryland, a Democrat, and Russell Peterson of Delaware, a Republican. The third Republican at the closing session was Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller of Arkansas. He abstained.

Voting for the resolution with Brewer were the governors of Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolint, South Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia. A conference aide quickly reported the affirmative vote was 72.8 per cent, with 75 per cent needed for passage.

Mandel said he felt the resolution went far beyond problems involving Alabama and some other states. He said he would have supported a resolution calling for a firm statement of federal policy.

Foolhardy Thief

Hub Enrollment Drop Trims Teacher Hiring

Enrollment in the San Anselmo School District Friday was 2,093, a drop of 64 from the reported first-day enrollment, the school district board was told last night.

Supt. Stephen L. Parodi said the drop was largely in kindergarten, where 221 pupils enrolled instead of the expected 265.

The board, which two weeks ago authorized hiring five more kindergarten teachers to put all kindergarteners on single sessions, last night told Parodi to go ahead and hire three teachers. The board will study whether the other two are needed at the Oct. 7 meeting.

The board hired one kindergarten teacher last night, Marilyn Skinner, at a salary of $7,164. She will teach at Brookside School.

The board heard several recommendations from Opal Torrance, director of health services, to improve health care in the district. She recommended more health counseling be given seventh and eighth graders, first aid be taught in health education at seventh and eighth grade levels, funds be earmarked for health teaching materials, and first aid proficiency be required of physical education teachers, noon playground supervisors and secretaries in the district.

The San Anselmo School District board also:

PROGRAM — Approved submitting a request for participation in a county-wide project in language arts and mathematics for culturally disadvanteged children. The district share of federal funds for the program will be $14,767.

HOURS — Set class hours at three hours for kindergarten, four for first through third grades, five hours and 10 minutes for seventh and eighth graders.

LIBRARY AIDES — Hired two library aides, Martha Combi for Red Hill School and Marianne McConnell for Wade Thomas School, both at $315 a month.

Uncle Sam Does Flop On Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — After first saying it went down, then saying it stayed the same, the government now says a key economic indicator—wholesale prices—went up in August.

Blaming the mixup on a "computational error," the Bureau of Labor Statistics said yesterday wholesale prices went up one-tenth of one per cent last month.

"There was an error in the way the thing was computed," says assistant commissioner Arnold Chase, whose statisticians took issue two weeks ago with a White House statement heralding a downturn in wholesale prices. But at that time, the NLS said there had been no change since July.

Although not as optimistic about how government-imposed curbs on inflation were working, the BLS noted that the newly discovered one-tenth of one per cent rise—the same as from June to July—is smaller than in any other period this year.

New Fairfax Zoning Ordinance Delayed

A public hearing on a new Fairfax zoning ordinance which had been tentatively scheduled for last night was canceled because the zoning ordinance has not been completed by the county, Albert E. Gately, chairman of the planning commission, reported.

No new date for the hearing has been set because the commission doesn't know when it will receive the material, Gately said.

Program On Drugs To Start

Local young drug users will be taught about the problems of drugs in a 12-series educational program to start Tuesday in Olney Hall at the College of Marin.

The program, sponsored and supervised by the Catholic Social Service, was planned by members of the Community Planning Group for Alcohol and Drug Addiction Problems.

Each series will consist of eight sessions with two sessions taught weekly.

The second series will begin Oct. 21 at Robertson Hall at the Golden Gate Baptist Seminary and the third will begin there Nov. 17.

Students will be sent to the classes by the courts, police juvenile hall, high schools, social agencies or parents.

Among the instructors are: Dr. William Lamers of Kentfield; Municipal Judge Hadden Roth; Dan Meyerson, Marin Institute executive director; Martha Parsons of the Langley Porter Clinic; James Roosien, University of California pharmacologist and Charles Newman of the Corte Madera police department.

Builders Say U.S. Building Cutback Bad

Marin Builders Exchange has written President Richard M. Nixon charging that his call to reduce federal construction by 75 per cent will result "in deepening the crisis of the construction industry."

"We question its value in alleviating the inflationary spiral in general and in construction costs specifically," Louis Della Valle, president, wrote in behalf of the exchange.

The builders said the provision for manpower training and vocational education industry "is anachronistic" in view of the fact that the procedure for training skilled workers is on the job.

Creating scarcity in a product people need encourages inflationary forces in that industry, they contended the builders suggested the president take action to control the causes of inflation in the construction industry "such as the rising cost of financing inequitable wage settlements, spiralling material costs, land availability and restrictive zoning and code regulations."

Kabuki Dancers To Be Featured Before Expo Film

Kabuki dancers and Japanese hostesses will greet the audience in a combined live performance and film at 8:15 p.m. tomorrow at Olney Hall, College of Marin.

The film on the 1970 exposition at Osaka, Japan, will open a series of travelogue films sponsored by the college and Associated Marin Travel Agents.

Other films and performances will be "Steamship Cruise Night" with a fashion show Oct. 23, "Dalmatia and Greece" with Greek dancers Nov. 20, and "Easter Holy Land Pilgrimages" with native dancers Dec. 11.

Singer's Large Family Helped

MONTE CARLO, Monaco (AP) — With the help of Prince Rainier and Princess Grace, American-born singer Josephine Baker has been provided with a permanent home for her 12 adopted children.

Her chateau in southern France was sold this year to pay debts, and she and the children—of various racial origins—had been staying in Barcelona.

After Miss Baker took part in the Monaco Red Cross ball, Rainier and the former Grace Kelly decided to help buy her a villa at nearby Roquebrune Cap Martin. Furnishings were provided by the Monaco Red Cross.

The singer and the kids move in Thursday.

Partisan Transit Session Canceled

A confrontation between bus and ferry partisans, scheduled tomorrow morning at a meeting of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District's committee of the whole, was canceled today.

Bridge board president William Moskovitz of San Francisco issued the cancellation order from Washington, where he and four other bridge officials are hunting for federal grants to help get the district into the commuter transit business.

Moskovitz, telephoned by the Independent-Journal, said he canceled the meeting because it was uncertain whether there would be a quorum. Dist. Secty. Helen Jack, however, confirmed that the board's regular practice is to convene meetings even when a majority of the members have not advised her they will be present. Meetings then are canceled only after a quorum fails to appear, she said.

Moskovitz, who said he and the other officials still expected to return to San Francisco tonight, said his cancellation order had nothing to do with the Monday vote by the San Francisco Board of Supervisors to oppose the commuter bus system being considered by the bridge board. The supervisors unanimously favored a ferry system until rail rapid transit can be built to Marin.

Tomorrow's meeting had been called by Moskovitz on Friday at the regular meeting of the bridge board, and a majority of the directors said they wouuld attend.

Marinites Bid On Antismog Steam Tests

Special I-J Report

SACRAMENTO — A young San Rafael research and development firm, Fluid Energy Technology, was one of seven to submit proposals to the state for a $750,000 feasibility test of smog-free steam engines in buses.

The 11 proposals are to be reviewed this weekend by a technical advisory panel, and the names of the four firms selected will be announced by the Assembly Rules Committee by early October.

The San Rafael firm, working on many applications in the field of fluids, was formed two years ago. Its office is in Northgate Industrial Park at 35 Mitchell Boulevard.

The four steam engines are to be tested on buses by the San Francisco Municipal Railway and the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District. The one-year test is to begin in November, and has been funded by the federal Department of Transportation.

Quentin Inmate Is Found Dead

A 29-year-old San Quentin prisoner was found dead in his cell at 7 a.m. today but no evidence of foul play or violence was discovered, according to Associate Warden James W. L. Park.

Park identified the dead men as Arlie C. Nation, 29, who was serving a sentence for manslaughter and possession of marijuana after a Fresno County conviction. He had been an inmate since February, 1968.

Park said that an autopsy will be performed by the corner's office.

THIEF TAKES CARE OF SUMMER'S HARD WORK

Tony Barbera, 18, rode proudly on his newly purchased motorcycle last Wednesday to the first day of classes at the College of Marin.

In the words of his mother, Mrs. Anthony V. Barbera of 300 Oakcrest Road, San Anselmo, "he worked like you wouldn't believe all summer to make the down payment."

Tony parked the machine, a purple Triumph which cost $1,000, near the college's main entrance. Later, he made a crushing discovery—the motorcycle had been stolen.

Tony, frustrated but undaunted, is offering $100 reward for return of the motorcycle intact.

Items Stored In Old Villa Stolen

Possessions stored in an old villa on Tamarack Road in San Geronimo which belonged to two Mill Valley residents were stolen sometime last week, sheriff's officers said today.

Among the articles missed by Frederick A. Liebes and Rachel L. Warner, former residents of the villa, were a $400 guitar, turntable, amplifier, dentist's cabinet, steamer trunk and pipe wrench.

Novato Shooting Charge Reduced

A 55-year-old Novato housewife accused of shooting her husband will stand trial on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon but not the more serious count of assault with intent to commit murder.

Judge Hadden W. Roth of Marin Municipal Court yesterday decided after a preliminary hearing to bind Constance Abercrombie over to superior court for trial on the lesser felony charge.

She will appear in superior court Monday for arraignment.

Mrs. Abercrombie is accused of shooting her husband, Robert, a retired Army major, in the back at their home at 5 Harding Drive on July 5.

Mrs. Abercrombie was treated for an overdose of pills after the alleged shooting, and her husband was hospitalized but has now returned home. He still is using crutches.

North Marin Water Books Still In Black

The North Marin County Water District last year had a slightly smaller income than predicted, but still showed a net profit, according to the preaudit financial statement given the board last night, said Mgr. Eugene Churchill.

The district had an income from sale of water and other revenues of $730,218 which was $10,416 less than budgeted for last fiscal year, he said. The district had $457,782 in operating expenses and $136,979 in bond redemption, leaving a profit of $133,457 for the year, according to Churchill.

North Marin County Water District Also:

TV ANTENNA — After receiving a protest from Eric Kinsey of 18 Terry Circle and a letter of protest from the Lynwood Park Improvement Association, the board postponed action on granting an antenna lease until a special meeting at 8 p.m. Sept. 30. G'Tec had asked to lease a site for a 74-foot television antenna on the Lynwood tank site at South Novato Boulevard and Sunset Parkway. The item will come before the Novato City Planning Commission at 8 p.m. Monday at the Novato Community House. The water board wanted to wait for the planning commission decision, Churchill said.

EASEMENTS — Granted Pacific Gas and Electric Co. an easement to place two pole anchors on the district property at the end of Center Road. It postponed action on a request by Western California Telephone Co. to put an underground cable under the spillway at Stafford dam pending a legal opinion the district's attorney Frederick Bold Jr.

WATER USAGE — Heard a report that water usage was up 25 per cent in August this year over a year ago. This year the district sold 231.2 million gallons compared to 184.9 million gallons last year.

FISHING — Received a report that the district lost $3,383 in its fishing program at Stafford Lake. Its expenses were $7,499 with its income of $4,116 on the sale of fishing permits, with 16,010 people fishing the lake this year compared to 9,875 last year.

LEASES — Renewed for three years leases on 114 acres to George Grossi at $892 per year and on 27 acres with Clarence and David Leveroni at $120 per year.

Taxpayer Watchdog Group Being Formed By Novatan

A group called the Marin County Taxpayers Association, was launched yesterday by Donald M. Van Dyke of Novato.

Van Dyke mailed out a tax newsletter to 2,200 businessmen and civic leaders in Marin County. He outlined a plan for keeping track of where tax money is spent and included an application blank to join the organization.

"This is intended to be a broad-based organization to provide needed professional service on all taxing agencies," Van Dyke said.

Dues in the organization were listed as $10 for a homeowner and from $35 to $100 for businesses, depending on their assessed valuation.

He said the organization would cover all taxing agencies in Marin County, including the Marin Junior College District, transit district and the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District.

The letter said the population of Marin County has grown 43.9 per cent in 10 years while budget "requirements" have grown 180 per cent, of 4.12 times as fast as the population.

Van Dyke said the agency would ultimately operate a full-time office. It can now be reached through P.O. box 993, Novato.

Van Dyke, of 53 Sotelo Way, has been a frequent critic of the Novato School District, city and other taxing agencies in the area.

Traffic Check Leads To Arrest On 39 Warrants

A Sausalito man stopped for a routine vehicle equipment violation was arrested early today was wanted on a total of 39 warrants from San Francisco and one from Fresno.

Booked into Marin County Jail after the 1:30 a.m. arrest was Gary Edgar Hill, 33, of 141 Crescent Street. He was being held for arraignment this afternoon in lieu of $1,835 bail.

Sausalito police said Hill was wanted on a grand theft warrant and 38 traffic warrants in San Francisco and one traffic warrant in Fresno.

They said they stopped Hill's car on Second Street for defective tail lights and a records check revealed the outstanding warrants.

Trio To Select Leaders For New Advisory Panel

The Marin Family and Children's Advisory Committee last night appointed a three-man nominating committee to recommend a chairman and a vice chairman for the newly formed group.

The nominating committee, consisting of James Kilty, Lottie Maie Hall, and Carmen Kline, will bring in nominees at the next meeting on Oct. 21.

The committee was appointed by the Marin County Board of Supervisors in July to advise the director of public social services on policies and programs for families and children getting public assistance.

The group last night discussed such programs as job training, education, and job placement for welfare recipients.

The world is divided into 24 zones, each 15 degrees of arc, or one hour in time apart.

Central Yemen Taking On An American Look

AL-MATAWIR, Yemen (AP) — Yemeni emigrants, returning from the United States to the remote mountains of central Yemen, have established an American colony, and with their know-how have transformed the once barren rocky landscape into a green and passably pleasant land.

New stone houses of three or four stories perch on hilltops and in the steep valleys. The dark brown and grey land is now green with fruit and rustling wheat and speckled with patches of reddish maize.

There are about 500 American citizens in the colony, which centers around the village of Al-Matawir tucked away in the steep mountains six and a half hours tortuous drive from the nearest town.

The existence of the colony was virtually unknown until last November when one of its native sons, Ahmend Rajih el-Namir, was held briefly by the New York police on suspicion of plotting the assassination of President-elect Richard Nixon. Because it was so poor, the Yemenis themselves hardly ever visited the region, and even today know little about it.

The American Yemenis who returned here came with precious seeds, and installed water pumps to irrigate the once barren land. Some even brought refrigerators with kerosene motors.

Some homes here have electric light — a phenomenon in a country, for the most part, is virtually non-existent.

Changes in the traditional way of life are still very few.

The houses here, compared to the majority in this tiny country, are clean, and they contain cotton mattresses and blankets, brought all the way from the United States.

The American's families look well fed, warm and healthy in their woolen clothes. The womenfolk proudly display gold and silver necklaces, earrings and other trinkets. But in many ways the "Americans," revert to the old ways as soon as they return home.

For example, Aly Abdouhel-Zandany, 35, who spent several years in New York, said in heavily accented English: "Merca (America) been good for us. We work, get money, build good house here, come back rest. Plant Qat, chew it. Finish money, go back."

Qat, is the Yemeni plant whose leaves all Yemenis chew daily for hours on end as a mild narcotic. "In States no Qat, we drink whisky, gives same pleasre," el-Zandany is proudest of four rifles, two of which are M-1s, which Yemenis in this part of the country prefer to any other weapon. "A rifle is more precious than anything," el-Zandany said.

Yemeni men take pleasure in showing off a new rifle at special gatherings, like weddings and births. Because inter-tribal feuds are common, Yemeni boys start learning to shoot at age nine.

Aerotrain Is Tested In France

PARIS (London Express) — An air-conditioned and soundproofed unit of France's aerotrain has completed its first tests at 150 miles per hour a 10-mile elevated concrete track near Orleans, the train's constructors have announced.

The aerotrain will carry 80 passengers at speeds of up to 180 miles per hour and if tests are successful, the present length of track will be extended between Paris and Orleans. The aerotrain will link the two cities in half an hour less than half the present train time.

An outsize propeller powered by two turbine engines of aeronautical design powers the aerotrain which is suspended above its concrete runway hovercraft style on a cushion of air.

Engineers on the first test run said they were "well satisfied" with the aerotrain which may be formally inagurated next month.

Teachers Association To Host Open House

A public open house to show their new offices in Suite 212 of the Key Building at 1516 Grant Avenue, Novato, will be held from 4 to 7 p.m. Friday by the Novato Teachers Association.

Hugh Page, executive secretary of the Bay Area of the California Teachers Association, with which the NTA is affiliated, will be on hand to greet teachers and guests.

Tung oil is used in making paint and varnish.

North Carolina will produce 123,000 bales of cotton in 1969.

Trip To Africa To Be Meeting Topic

A San Anselmo woman will talk on her recent trip to Africa at a meeting of the San Rafael Goldenaires at 11 a.m. next Wednesday at the San Rafael Recreation Center, Second and Brooks streets.

Ethel Bryce will be the speaker at the meeting which is open to all Marin adults over 50.

Chinese Inspire Barbecued Pork Loin

Many of the world's most delectable pork recipes were devised by the Oriental peoples, particularly the Chinese who made pork the meat mainstay of their diet.

This recipe for Barbecued Pork Loin has been inspired by several Chinese recipes. The meat is cooked above glowing charcoal to give it the distinctive smoky flavor characteristic of many Oriental meat dishes.

Marinate the pork before cooking in a molasses-soy mixture then whirl on a rotisserie for about 45 minutes basting with a superbly seasoned Sweet and Sour Barbecue Sauce.

Make the sauce from a can of smooth-blending tomato sauce mixed with soy, molasses, mustard and herbs. The bright tomato taste of the sauce "wakes up" ever so many meat dishes; versatile canned tomato sauce takes to a variety of flavor changes just with the addition of different herbs and spices.

Serve Barbecued Pork Loin with curried rice (use a mix), an avocado-grapefruit-green salad and hot rolls. For dessert serve sweetened, sliced fresh peaches mixed with chopped candied ginger over vanilla ice cream.

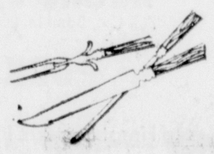
APPROPRIATELY GARNISHED with preserved kumquats, barbecued pork loin is basted with a tomato-flavored, Oriental-inspired sweet and sour barbecue sauce.

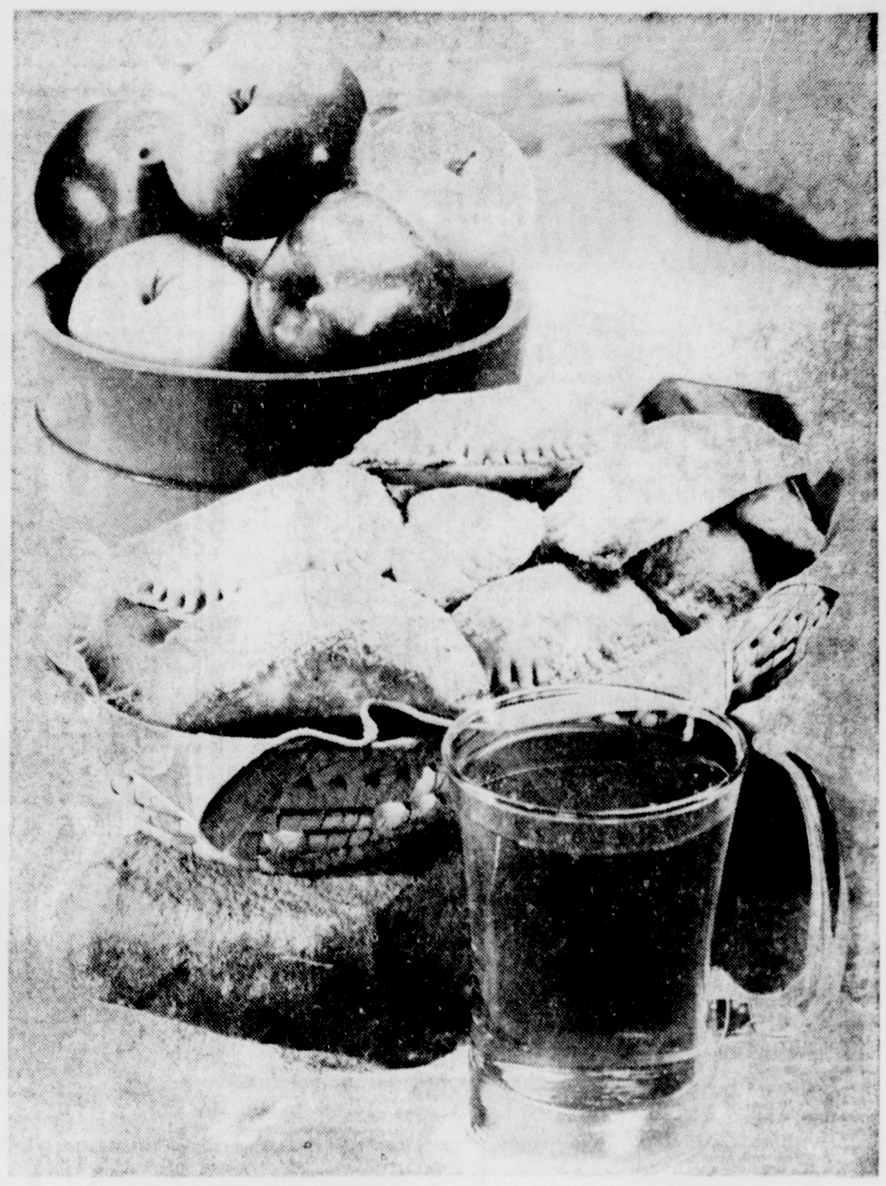
BARBECUED PORK LOIN

- 2 pounds pork tenderloin, trimmed
- 2 tablespoons molasses
- 1 tablespoon soy sauce
- 1 tablespoon vinegar
- 1 teaspoon monsodium glutamate
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- Sweet and Sour Barbecue Sauce

Split meat lengthwise in half. Blend molasses, soy sauce, vinegar, monsodium glutamate and pepper until smooth; brush over meat. Let stand at room temperature 1 hour. Meanwhile, prepare Sweet and Sour Barbecue Sauce. Insert spit of rotisserie lengthwise through meat. Cook above glowing charcoal for about 45 minutes, basting frequently with Sweet and Sour Barbecue Sauce. (Meat may also be cooked directly on grill about 5 inches above coals; turn meat frequently and baste often with sauce.) Makes 6 servings.

Sweet and Sour Barbecue Sauce: In saucepan combine 1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce, 2 tablespoons molasses, 2 tablespoons prepared mustard, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 1 tablespoon soy sauce, ¼ teaspoon rosemary and ¼ teaspoon curry powder. Simmer 5 minutes. Use for basting pork loin. Makes about 1¼ cups sauce. Incidentally, this is a superb barbecue sauce for chicken and spareribs, too.





Spike Applesauce Turnover With Minced Chutney, Lemon

Applesauce, ready to use right from the can, spiked with minced chutney and lemon juice, made crunchy with walnuts and tucked inside a turnover of flaky pastry — what a wonderful "fingerfood" dessert for a picnic! Add cubes of sharp cheddar cheese if you like, for an added flavor fillip.

APPLESAUCE TURNOVERS

- 2 packages pie-crust mix
- 1 can (1-lb.) applesauce
- ¼ cup mined chutney
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice
- ½ cup finely chopped walnuts

Prepare pie-crust mix as directed on package; wrap in foil; chill. Combine remaining ingredients. Roll out pie crust (about ¼ at a time; ⅛-inch thick on lightly floured board or canvas.

Cut with 4-inch round cookie cutter. Place spoonful of applesauce mixture on each circle; fold over; press edges together with tines of fork. If desired, brush with milk; sprinkle with cinnamon-sugar. Bake at 425 degrees for 25 minutes to 30 minutes or until deep golden brown. Makes about 24.

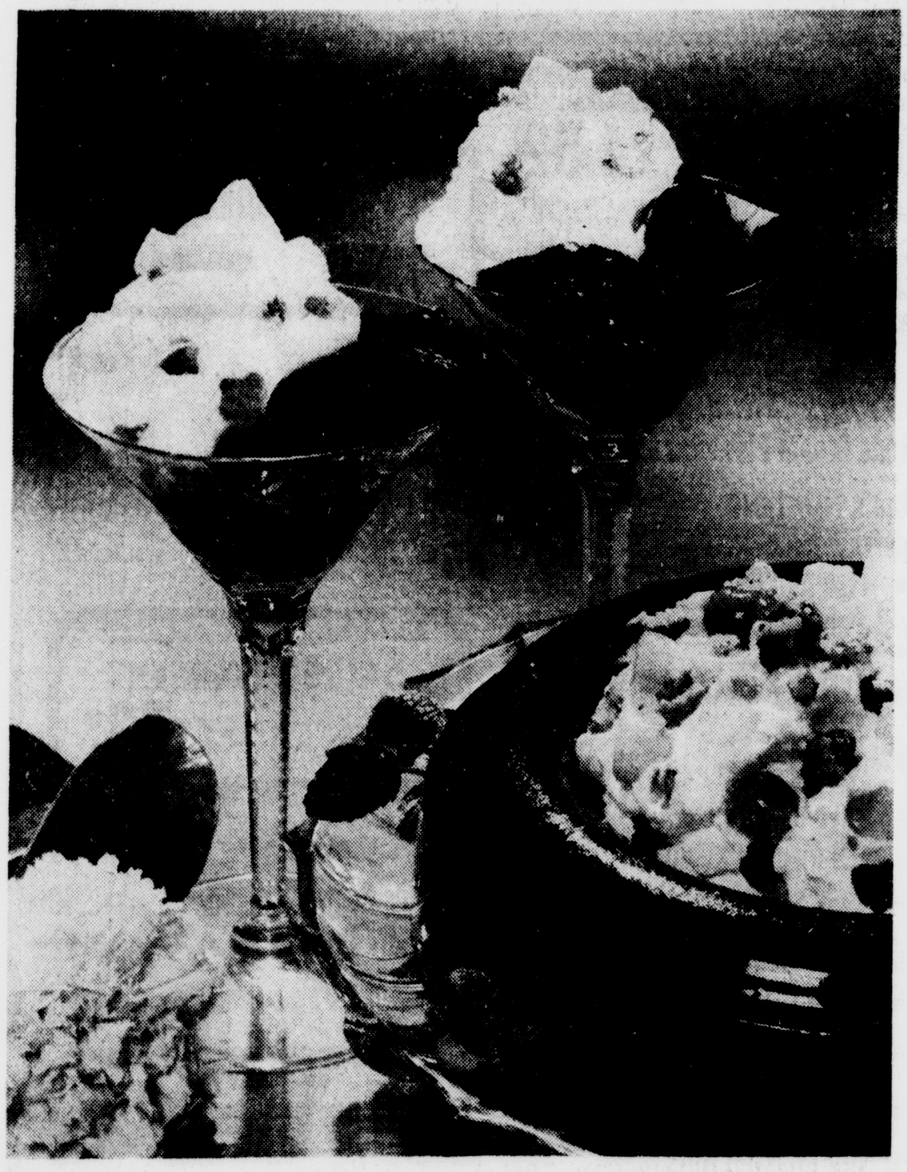
Luscious Fruit And Cream Combo Create Sparkling Ring Dessert

It's so easy to pick up a package of fruit gelatin powder. We often forget just how delicious favorite fruit juices can be when combined with plain gelatin. Choose the most colorful tropical punch mix you can find for the ring mold, and then fill it with a luscious melt-in-your mouth fruit and cream combination. The sparkly color and flavor of canned fruit cocktail combines so beautifully with the cream and macaroon crumbs, and the whole dessert is set off against the shimmering red satin color of the gelatin ring. Perfect as a special party dessert or a treat for the family.

CREAMY TORTONI MOLD

- 4 cups Hawaiian punch or other fruit juice
- 2 envelopes gelatin
- 6 almond macaroons, crushed
- ¼ cup light rum or ¼ teaspoon rum extract
- 1 cup whipping cream
- 1 tablespoon powdered sugar
- 1 can (1 lb. 1 oz.) fruit cock tail

Place 1 cup punch in a small sauce pan. Sprinkle gelatin over top. Heat to dissolve gelatin. Combine with remaining punch. Stir well and pour into 4-cup ring mold. Chill until set. To serve: Mix macaroons and rum. Whip cream with sugar. Combine whipped cream and crumbs. Drain fruit cocktail and fold into cream. Unmold fruit ring and fill center with cream mix. Makes 8 to 10 servings.



Make Some Christmas Mincemeat

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press

The moment you can lay your hands on a batch of green tomatoes, make up this old-fashioned recipe for mincemeat. Come Christmas, you can use the mincemeat for making utterly delicious pies, cookies and coffee cakes.

The green tomatoes used in testing this recipe ranged in size from large ones to some no bigger than a walnut, a few had barely started to ripen. Wash the tomatoes in slightly warm water containing detergent, then rinse well in clear cold water and dry; discard any that have decayed spots. Cut out both the stem and blossom end of the tomatoes but don't remove their skins.

If you can get veal suet at your meat market, ask for fat trimmed from quality steak.

GREEN TOMATO MINCEMEAT

- 2 quarts knife-chopped (coarse) green tomatoes
- 2 cups juice drained from chopped tomatoes
- 2½ quarts chopped pared apples
- ½ pound suet, chopped
- 2 teaspoons grated orange rind
- 2 medium seedless oranges, peeled
- 2 cups raisins
- 2 cups currants, rinsed in hot water and drained
- 2 cups mixed candied fruit
- 1 cup firmly packed dark brown sugar
- 2½ cups firmly packed light brown sugar
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 2 teaspoons ground cinnamon
- ½ teaspoon each ground allspice, nutmeg and ginger
- ¼ teaspoon ground cloves
- 1¼ to 1½ cups cider or red wine vinegar

Into a kettle turn all the ingredients. Cook over moderate heat, stirring often until liquid is about as thick as heavy cream.

Fill pint, 1½ pint or quart jars with boiling hot mincemeat to about ¼-inch of tops. Wipe off anything spilled on tops or threads of jars. Put dome lids on jars; screw bands tight. Process all three sizes of jars 20 minutes in boiling water deep enough to cover tops of jars. Water should be almost but not quite boiling when jars are lowered into it. Keep jars in straight upright position so entire bottom of jar will touch hot water at same instance. If preferred, the jars may be processed 10 minutes at 5 pounds pressure.

Makes 8 to 10 quarts. Store in cool dark place and let ripen for 2 to 4 weeks before using.

To make mincemeat pie: Turn 1 pint Green Tomato Mincemeat into a pastry-lined 8-inch pie plate. Top with lattice pastry; seal edges and flute. Bake in a preheated 425-degree oven, on rack below center, until pastry is browned — about 35 minutes.

Putting A Little Ginger In Salad Is Spirited Way To Dress Greens

To ginger, says the dictionary is to make lively or to put spirit into. Use the spice of the Orient and add "ginger" to salad greens.

HOT GINGER DRESSING

- 2 tablespoons dark corn syrup
- 2 tablespoons corn oil
- 1 tablespoon corn starch
- ½ teaspoon ginger
- ½ teaspoon grated onion
- ⅛ Teaspoon pepper
- 1 chicken bouillon cube
- 1 cup water

Mix corn syrup, corn oil, corn starch, ginger, onion, pepper and bouillon cube in small sauce-pan. Gradually stir in water. Stirring constantly, bring to boil and boil 1 minute. Pour hot dressing over greens. Toss. Serve immediately. Makes 1¼ cups dressing.

Suggested greens: Romaine, escarole, water cress, shredded cabbage, spinach.

Training Should Begin For Mothers Before Pregnancy

LONDON EXPRESS SERVICE

LONDON — Women who want a baby should get into training for their pregnancy before it starts rather like an athlete trains for a race, a doctor says.

And he provides a simple guide for women to decide for themselves whether they are in a fit state to face a pregnancy.

He also urges family doctors to use the formula on their patients. Those who are slightly more at risk of getting complications in pregnancy, such as high blood pressure, could be given help in getting their weight down before the pregnancy starts, he says.

The method is this: the woman's weight in pounds should not be much more than twice her height in inches.

This means that a woman of, say, five feet, six inches should not weigh much above 129 pounds before beginning the pregnancy.

Dr. John Taylor, from Paignton in Devon, England, has worked out the method after a study of 245 pregnancies.

Using the information could help women cut down or even avoid "the risks to health and life that are apt to arise in pregnancy and child-bearing," he says in the Journal of the Royal College of General Practitioners.

He believes that women should be supervised before they start their pregnancy instead of waiting until the pregnancy is under way.

"No athlete sets out to run a race without some training, but the aspiring mother gets none until the pregnancy is in being," he says.

"There are thin and fit young girls who can take pregnancy in their stride and there are older and fatter women who should not run for a bus," he says.

New York Stage Suffering From Shortage Of Talent

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — If that young man or young woman at your house has a rubber face, switches in and out of dialects, apes performers in the entertainment and political world — don't fret for fear you have an embryonic actor at the hearth.

Rather — fan the talent, nurture it and one day send it jetting to New York. Then sit home, fill the scrapbook with rave notices and pop the vest buttons.

YOU SEE, great talent never had such a chance to succeed on the stage side of the footlights in New York, says Jean Dalrymple, member of the National Council on the Arts and executive director of the American National Theatre and Academy.

"I don't know of any light under a bushel that goes undiscovered," said this woman who has spent scores of years backstage, onstage and in every other realm of theater.

"Talent gets discovered. And there is a shortage of great talent in New York right now, especially when a lot of young people with talent head to California and television roles."

MISS DALRYMPLE, author of "Careers and Opportunities in the Theatre" Dutton, first became involved in the theater as an actress and a writer.

She served as publicist manager for artists including Jose Iturbi, Grace Moore, Lily Pons, Glinka Milanov and Leopold Stokowski.

As general director of the New York City Center Drama Company and the City Center Light Opera Company, she has produced revivals of such major musicals as South Pacific, Pajama Game and My Fair Lady.

SHE WAS coordinator of the U. S. Performing Arts Program at the Brussels World's Fair of 1958 and received the Order of the Crown from King Baudouin of Belgium.

The aim of ANTA is to use the theater as a showcase for the best professional regional theaters nationwide. The showcase starts off in New York Sept. 29.

The American Conservatory Theatre from San Francisco will perform first — Tiny Alice, A Flea in Her Ear and Three Sisters. This will be followed by the American Shakespeare Festival from Stratford, Conn. — putting on Henry V, the mod Shakespeare.

To the young with talent, Miss Dalrymple cautions that hard work and a disciplined way of life are essential. In her book she spells it all out.

IN PRIVATE life, Miss Dalrymple is the widow of Gen. Philip DeWitt Ginder.

She thinks nudity in the theater is a bore. A lot of off-Broadway shows feature it. Most of what's on Broadway she considers family fare including "1776," about the birth of America.

"Every young person should see it to understand what this nation's about," she said.

Nothing New In Fashion Future, Students Say

By LOUISE COOK

NEW YORK (AP) — A peek into fashion's future indicates the well-dressed woman of 1979 may not look very different from her style-conscious sister of today.

The Parsons School of Design offered that peek when it presented its annual fashion show of clothes created by its graduating students.

The would-be Norman Norells and Chester Weinbergs generally chose conservative shapes and styles. Skirts were extremely short or down-to-the-floor, no midis or maxis. Shapes were fitted through the bust and waist with free-flowing skirts.

The youngsters also scorned the see-through look, although they bared much of the body with cut-outs and halter tops. Simple jersey dresses, with a bib in front and lacing in back were offered in black, burgundy and navy for both day and evening wear by several students.

There were fewer pants than one might have expected from students of the trouser revolution. When slacks were presented, they always formed part of an ensemble, topped by tunics, sleeveless vests or tweed suit jackets.

One unusual costume included a black and white tweed wool dress worn over white linen shorts which peeped out for about an inch under the hem of the skirt.

Several students made interesting use of fabrics, combining panels of tweeds and jersey, suede and shiny leather or wool and satin.

Among the hits of the show was a simple evening shirtwaist with short skirt. The front of the dress was made of layers of white organdy, the back of black velvet.

The dress was designed by Joel Kruger, 20, of Silver Spring, Md., who won the Norman Norell "Gold Thimble" award for his styles.

Other students who received Gold Thimbles from noted American designers were Betsy Gonzalez of New York City who won the Chester Weinberg and Donald Brooks awards; Jann Johnson of Sacramento, Calif., who won the David Kidd award; Louis Dell'Olio of Elmont, N.Y., who won the Ilie Wacs award; and Linda Fox of New York City, who won the Leo Narducci award.

Bill Robinson of Clark, N.J., won the John Moore Gold Thimble for outstanding resort wear, the J. C. Penny Student Designer-of-the- Year award and the Penny coat award.

PAMELA KOPAN and Steven J. Kompf, both of Mill Valley, were married in the United Methodist Church of Mill Valley. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Kopan and he is the son of Ivan Kompf and Emma Monoogan of Larkspur.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Forget The Uptight Neighbors Who Stare At Silly Family Games

DEAR HELEN:

Maybe our family acts silly, but we enjoy each other. My husband wrestles with the kids, we play exuberant games. There's always some sort of happy commotion at our house, and sometimes it overflows to the lawn where we have water fights and everyone ends up getting soaked.

The kids think all this is great, and so do we. But here is the problem: I've been noticing lately a few funny looks from neighbors and also a few roundabout remarks such as "What do you do for an encore?"

Honest, Helen, we aren't showing off. We just have fun being nutty. My husband tells me I shouldn't worry about what a few uptight neighbors think, but — SHOULD WE OR SHOULDN'T WE CHANGE?

DEAR SWOSWC:

You should listen to your husband! — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Could you give us the address of Youth Life Line, so that we may get more detailed information on how to start a teen telephone service in our town? We know that young people need a place where they can pour out their problems anonymously, and our local woman's club would like to start such a telephone listening-counseling center. — MRS. J.P.

DEAR MRS. P:

The address is, Youth Life Line, care of Town and Country Junior Womens' Club, P.O. Box 15843, Sacramento, California, 95815. Please send a stamped self-addressed envelope with your query.

Because so many clubs and individuals have asked for guidelines on starting a teen telephone service, Sacramento's Youth Life Line has prepared a complete, step-by-step booklet on organization, maintenance, financing, counselor-training, etc.

But because YLL is perennially short of funds, it must charge $1.00 per booklet.

A stamped envelope will bring you a one-page resume, but if your club is ready to go on a young peoples' telephone service, I'd suggest you send a dollar for total "how-to" information.

Good luck! — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Our last chick has flown, but we aren't lonely. How could we be with all the relatives who descend on us each vacation time? They now give as their reason, "You must really be at loose ends, rattling around in that house all alone." So of course they come in hoards to cheer us up. When our children were still home, they had other excuses, like it's so lovely for our kids to get together.

Take last night: We expected dinner for two, and we ended up feeding 12. Which meant we had to run out and buy steaks — and you know what that does to a limited budget. Oh yes, they all drink, but no one thinks to bring a bottle.

Those who couldn't crowd into our guest room and the living room couch slept on the lawn. Anything to avoid motel bills.

They make our house their headquarters, then take off to visit friends, but always return at meal time.

This is the sixth group of happy vacationers we've had in two months, and I'm sick of it. Yet I can't be rude to relatives. How do I get it across that I no longer want to provide free lodgings, food, laundry and maid service, especially since we go on trips, we never take advantage like this? — BROKE: BACK AND BUDGET

DEAR BB AND B:

So long as you're an easy mark, you'll get hit up for free services. When relatives turn up unexpectedly, suggest they go out for dinner, and recommend a good motel. Discourage the regulars by telling them your doctor insists you take it easier, and that means no more visitors for a while.

Then, take a trip and relax. You've earned your rest. — H.

Wives May Suffer From Agoraphobia

By ARLEEN ABRAHAMS
AP Newsfeatures

Susan D. has suffered from agoraphobia for 10 years but, nevertheless, she has manged to keep this crippling illness a secret from her husband. Susan, herself, probably is not aware of the technical term for her anxiety state — which is a Greek word meaning "fear of the market place." But she is very conscious of the fact that leaving the safety of her home causes her great anxiety.

Sometimes Susan runs out of excuses to stay home and must go out to do a particular errand. On those occasions, she is careful only to follow a prescribed route, or to take along a prop or another person.

Susan's neighbor, Virginia M., is another nervously ill housebound housewife, but her case is not as acute as Susan's. She can take a vacation trip, with some help. But once at her destination, she will not unpack. Her suitcase must always be ready for quick escape "just in case."

ALTHOUGH SUSAN D. and Virginia M. rarely discuss their sickness with anyone, they are not alone. It is estimated that in England 100,000 people suffer with this complaint and that in America there are at least 300,000 nervously ill housebound housewives. There are male agoraphobiacs too, but not as many.

Dr. Claire Weekes, an Australian physician who specializes in treating anxiety states, is convinced that agoraphobiacs can recover. "And part of their cure and the cure of others in varying degrees of anxiety states (not psychotics) rests with the individuals themselves," she says.

DR. WEEKES doesn't like to discuss agoraphobia or other fears by their technical names because she believes that labeling a patient's illness does more harm than good. "Patients are individuals," asserts the veteran doctor who is now consulting physician to the Rachel Forster Hospital in Sydney, "and labeling a patient only tends to give him added fears."

During all the years in which she has engaged in private practice, Dr. Weekes claims that she has found only one person in an anxiety state who needed to undergo analysis to recover. She comments: "In my experience most nervous people who come for help have no deep-seated cause for their illness. Indeed, many have no particular problem that is keeping them ill other than the difficulty of finding a way to recovery, after having been 'tricked' into illness by sensitization, bewilderment and fear.

THE AVERAGE person, she claims, helps to increase or maintain his fear by doing exactly the opposite of things that could foster recovery. "The anxiety-laden person tries to withdraw from his symptoms," she observes. "He tenses himself to meet the feelings or attempts to forcefully forget, either by fighting or running away. Because he's impatiently hoping for an overnight miracle, he refuses to let time pass."

She suggests a four-point program: "Facing, accepting, floating, and letting time pass." The clue, she believes, lies in letting your feelings come and functioning with them. "The main thing in life" she says is "to learn how to walk through it not so immaculately. Accept what can't be rectified."

If, for example, "a nervously ill housebound housewife can go forward, however hesitatingly, understanding what is happening and ready to accept the tricks that fear may play on her," Dr. Weekes believes that the patient's reactions and sensitized nerves gradually calm down.

"The fear is within the patient, not the place or the distance. If she can go out even to the corner, then ultimately she can go anywhere."

Self-Help Ideas Cure Common Nervous Ills

These four treatment principles, developed by Dr. Claire Weekes, form the basis of her book "Hope and Self-Help for Your Nerves." Dr. Weekes cautions the reader, however, that no matter how deceptively simple the advice seems, a nervously ill person learning to stand on his own feet needs constant support and encouragement, especially at the beginning.

1. Face the fact that you do have fears. Do not shrink or withdraw from the sensations that have been upsetting you. "It's withdrawal that is the jailer." Analyze each sensation and describe it to yourself.

2. Accept your fears and realize that you must live with them for the time being. Don't make the mistake of thinking your fears will vanish as soon as you cease to fear them. Your nerves are sensitized, claims Dr. Weekes, and take time to recover. By true acceptance, you break the fear-adrenalin cycle.

3. Float, don't fight. Let your body go with the feelings the nervous reactions bring instead of trying to withdraw from them or force your way through them. When you float you relax and this helps action.

4. Let time pass. As long as it's a positive program be prepared to let time pass.

EMPHASIS ON EYES

"Moon Bonnet," left, is the name Paris hatmaker Jean Barthot gave this creation in fluffy white wool rings with matching glasses. Genuine diamonds, sapphires, amethysts and rubies surround the eyes of the jeweled creation, right, from the new Christian Dior eyeglass and sunglass collection. The price is the same, $22,000, for plain or prescription lenses. But, if you are economy minded, Dior offers the same model with imitation jewels for $250.

Pregnancy Isn't For All Women

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Annette Benjamin, co-author with her internist-husband of the book, "New Facts of Life for Women," believes that some women should never be mothers.

"Just because we have the same reproductive capacity," she said, "doesn't mean that we should all employ it, or to the same degree."

She pointed out that "some women get scared to death when they discover they are pregnant, for fear of an entire lifetime of attachment and responsibility."

The medical writer feels that today, with the presence of the pill, the choice of becoming pregnant is the woman's.

PRESS GUIDE IS AVAILABLE

A new guide for press chairmen of organizations which are interested in getting news to the Marin Women's Section of the Independent-Journal is now available at the San Rafael main office and the Novato, Mill Valley and Southern Sonoma I-J offices.

The booklet, "Getting News Into Your Newspaper," is issued as a service of the Independent-Journal Women's Section to assist press chairmen for women's organizations.

The guide explains policies of coverage, how to prepare news stories and meeting notices, and the special stories and features emphasized by the section.

The booklets at the San Rafael office may be obtained from the switchboard on the main floor.

FINALLY COMES TO WESTERN

Since hardly a movie goes by these days without at least one bedroom scene, it was only a matter of time before the covers were figuratively removed from that hardy American staple—the Western. It appears, however, that James Stewart doesn't really appreciate the charms of his bearded, walnut-cracking friend, Henry Fonda, in a scene from National General's comedy-western, "The Cheyenne Social Club," now in production.

OPENING NIGHT

San Francisco In The Opera Spotlight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The printed program for the opening of the nation's opera season said, "No applause during performance."

But a sellout audience of 3,500 which paid from $12 to $50 a seat stopped the performance of Verdi's "La Traviata" with a burst of applause after each aria by Jeanette Pilou last night.

The New York Metropolitan Opera had canceled its Monday night opening—traditionally first in the country—because of a labor dispute. So the honor of opening the season fell to San Francisco.

At the end of the first act, Gov. Ronald Reagan of California left his box seat to congratulate Herbert Kurt Adler, director of the San Francisco Opera Co.

In a box half a house away was Reagan's prospective Democratic challenger in next year's gubernatorial election, Mayor Joseph Alioto.

Hundreds of spectators, clotted outside the San Francisco Opera House as always for an opening, saw the governor roll up to the red carpeted entrance in a Rolls Royce.

The patrons of the opera came from a champagne dinner in the San Francisco Art Museum across the mall from the opera house.

They had barely settled into their seats when the curtain rose on a champagne party on stage, which stage director August Everding enlivened by having a corps of waiters pop the corks and send them flying across the stage.

The Reagans were taken backstage by Adler after the second act and met Toni Businger, who designed the production.

They congratulated Miss Pilou, tenor Frank Bonisolli who sang Alfredo and Swedish baritone Ingvar Wixell who played Germont.

Businger's new production of "La Traviata" has an ending that likely will be talked about for years.

As Violetta—Miss Pilou—sings her dying aria she recalls the champagne party at which she met Alfredo. Suddenly in the back of the dingy bedroom the walls seem to give way and there is another Violetta and Alfredo climbing a curving staircase between the tall candelabra—a re-creation of the first scene.

As it fades, the audience knows the now silent Violetta, crumpled on the floor, is dead.

The North Carolina legislature has voted the gray squirrel the state's official mammal.

New Dancers Ready For Marin Ballet

The number of men in the Marine Corps Reserve is now about 45,000.

New Jurors For Festival In Mill Valley

Artists Serge Trubach of Sausalito and Maggie Hazel Rosen of Mill Valley have been named as jurors for the juried section of the Mill Valley Fall Arts Festival to be held Oct. 11 and 12 in Old Mill Park.

Entries for the juried show will be received from 2 to 4 p.m. Sept. 25 and from 2 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. Sept. 26 at the Mill Valley Library.

Final date to reserve panels and spaces for the show is Sept. 30. Applications are available at most Marin County art stores and from Mrs. Richard J. Young of Mill Valley.

Cincinnati pitcher Gary Nolan sits in the corner of the dugout after watching his 1-0 shutout turn into a 2-1 defeat at the hands of the Los Angeles Dodgers. Nolan was relieved with the bases loaded in the ninth inning of last night's first game of a double-header. A walk brought in one Dodger run and the winner scored on a throwing error by catcher Johnny Bench. Things got worse when the Reds lost the second game, 3-2. (UPI Telephoto)

Ford Vs. Chevy At Sears Point

I don't want to start any feuds between you Ford and Chevy drivers. Lord knows, you have enough problems fighting the commute traffic these days without starting a deliberate fender war.

But you should approach this weekend's Trans-American Sedan Championship Series 200-miler at Sears Point Raceway with more than casual interest.

DAN GURNEY

The main interest in this series for both large and small sports sedans is on the Detroit-built pony cars of the Mustang, Camaro, Javelin and Firebird class limited to 3-liter (302 cubic inch) engines. But after 10 races, it all boils down to Chevrolet versus Ford. You Chevy Camaro owners can look forward to Sunday's 80-lap main event with a feeling of smug pride while you Ford Mustang fans should have fire in your eyes.

You see, the Roger Penske Camaro team featuring Mark Donohue, Ed Leslie and Ron Bucknum already has clinched at least a tie for its second straight Trans-Am crown, needing only a first at Sears or the 1969 finale at Riverside to pick up all the marbles.

It's Do Or Die For Mustangs

Which means, simply, there is no tomorrow for the Mustangers who dominated this glamorous series in 1966 and '67. They must win the final two races to tie in the final standings, giving each manufacturer six victories and three seconds (only the best nine races count).

To put it a little more bluntly, blanking Camaro is something akin to telling the Giants to shut out the Reds in both ends of a doubleheader or asking the 49ers to stop the Colts for eight downs inside the five-yard line.

But Ford won't give up without a fight. The Mustangs have rented exclusive use of the Sears facility on three of the four available days this week with American Motors' Javelins, led by Ron Grable, taking the other day. Friday is an open practice day.

(There is no truth to the rumor, by the way, that Ford tried to rent the track on Sunday to assure itself of victory, making Donohue & Co. park their Camaros out in the public lots and buy admission tickets.)

Glittering Array Of Drivers

I don't want to sound like a name-dropper, but Ford (how's that for a start?) is bringing in its most glittering array of drivers in an attempt to Stop Camaro. Like Parnelli Jones of Indianapolis fame. And Dan Gurney, the versatile international headliner who gained much of his motoriety on the Grand Prix circuit. He is the only American to have won championships in the four major classifications of international racing.

With them in the Mustang corral will be fast-rising Peter Revson and former U.S. Road Racing champ George Follmer.

Names like Parnelli and Gurney and Donohue alone should give Sears Point its biggest gate of the year. Blend them with the bitter Ford-Chevrolet rivalry, the Mustangs' do-or-die situation and the challenge of Sears Point's 11-turn, twisting, 2.5-mile road circuit and it adds up to the greatest motorsports spectacle ever staged in this neck of the woods. I look for a crowd in excess of 20,000.

Main Event On Sunday

Practice, qualifying and regional races will be held both Saturday and Sunday with the main event scheduled for a flying start at 2 p.m. on the Sabbath.

To ease post-race traffic pains Sunday afternoon, a third lane from the track to the intersection of highways 37 and 121 will be ready for use.

49ers Cut Veteran Bosley

REDWOOD CITY (AP)—Bruce Bosley, the No. 1 old pro on the San Francisco 49ers, stepped aside today for a center who is younger, faster and bigger.

The 35-year-old Bosley, who with 14 years was the longest serving player on the roster, was cut along with three other players yesterday.

The move was "something I really hated to make," said 49er coach Dick Nolan. "With the emphasis on youth, I felt it was the only thing to do. Boz is a helluva guy but I'm building something here with the kids."

YOUNGER

Bosley had lost the first string center job to second-year man Forrest Blue from Auburn. Blue is 6-foot-5, weighs 250 and is 12 years younger than Bosley.

Bosley, a graduate of West Virginia, first appeared in the Pro Bowl game in 1961 as a guard, and appeared in the Pro Bowl again in '66, '67 and last season as a center. Since he made the switch in positions in 1964, Bosley had been considered one of the top centers in the National Football League.

Other players cut were soccer-style kicker Momcilo Gavric, halfback Tom Manning and defensive end Tom Holzer, a No. 2 draft choice in 1967. Gavric joins five other players on the taxi squad.

The 49ers' roster total dropped to 40 as linebacker Jim Sniadecki, No. 4 draft choice this year, reported to his military draft board. Kevin Hardy, recuperating from a knee operation, is expected to be put on the injured list, cutting the roster to 39.

New Women's Golf Champion For Peacock Gap

The Peacock Gap Women's Golf Club has a new champion.

That's news, because Mrs. Harold Baer has had a stranglehold on the championship of the San Rafael course for the past four years. Until yesterday, that is.

Mrs. Seymour Hyman finished with a 264 total over three days of play yesterday to wrest the crown from Mrs. Baer, who finished second, six strokes behind at 270.

Mrs. Hyman, who runs the Bay Area Weightwatchers Club with her husband, is a San Franciscan who joined the club this past spring.

Low net winner was Mrs. Richard DeKay with a 216.

Other results from Peacock Gap:

First Flight — Mesdames Arthur Cerf, 213; Hal Suhrke, 215; Robert Bond, 217.

Warriors' Mieuli Rips Into ABA

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Franklin Mieuli says there will never be a merger of the two professional basketball leagues until "the other guys come to the table with clean hands."

By other guys the outspoken owner of the NBA San Francisco Warriors was referring to the rival ABA. He made his remarks yesterday at a club luncheon.

"We are in no hurry for a merger, though," said Mieuli. "We feel we are in a better position to last out the battle than they are. We'll talk with them any time they want but they will have to come to the table with clean hands."

Mieuli accused the ABA of upsetting merger talks and said he was the only NBA owner to vote against holding talks with the ABA in the first place. He said he questioned ABA motives all along.

"After we signed Lew Alcindor the ABA filed a suit against us and later came forward and said they would dismiss the suit if we voted for a merger," Mieuli said. "Well, I'll say it now and get the record straight. The vote in the NBA was 13-1 for talks and I voted against."

Mieuli said for a while he was beginning to question the motives of some of his fellow NBA owners but added that now "they seem to be acting as one after realizing what kind of the game the ABA was playing."

Mieuli concluded that it would be pretty hard now to get anyone in the NBA to vote for merger talks.

"That's a pretty dead issue now," he said, "unless there is some kind of change of attitude on the other side."

Bears Practice Against Texas T

BERKELEY (AP) — The California Bears are looking for defenses against the Texas wishbone T offense, which features the running and passing of option specialist James Street and the power plunges of fullback Steve Worster.

The Bears, who open the football season Saturday at home against the Longhorns, figure Worster is the key to the Texas offense.

A key Bear defensive player, end Irby Augustine of Port Arthur, Tex., remained a doubtful starter. Augustine, ailing with a knee sprain, wore pads yesterday but was held out of contact drills.

Candlestick Park Crowds Not Up To Expectations

13,802 See Marichal's Shutout

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—With the San Francisco Giants in the midst of a torrid scramble for the National League West pennant, the turnouts at Candlestick Park should be much larger than they have been.

Take last night for instance. With San Francisco only a half game behind Atlanta, only 13,802 braved the night to take in the Giants-Braves encounter.

As it turned out, those who attended were the ones who were richly rewarded. Not only did the Giants beat the Braves, 2-0, to move into first place, they also watched masterful Juan Marichal turn in another one of his superb pitching performances.

19-19 RECORD

Marichal, who upped his season record to 19-10 with the win, raised his career shutout total to 45—highest among active pitchers in the major leagues—with the four-hitter.

It was the second straight whitewash performance by the 30-year-old righthander, who only six days ago stopped another power-hitting team, the Cincinnati Reds, on just one safety.

In fact, even Marichal agreed the back-to-back shutouts were the best he's put together since he joined the Giants nine seasons ago.

"These two have got to be my best," Marichal said, "especially since they came against two of the best-hitting teams in the league."

OVATION

The fans were well aware of Marichal's performance, too. In the eighth inning when he came to bat, Marichal was greeted with a standing ovation.

"It surprised me but it made me feel good," he said of the sudden burst of enthusiasn. "It's been a long time since I had a hand that big."

All told, Marichal struck out nine and walked only one as he permitted only one Atlanta runner to advance as far as third base.

Former teammate Orlando Cepeda got two of the Brave hits with Gil Garrido and Rico Carty the other pair. Garrido kept the third base coach company briefly in the third when he moved to the far bag on a sacrifice and groundout after his safety.

HAL'S HIT

And the guy who got Marichal the only run he needed was Hal Lanier, who knocked in the game's only tally last Friday when Marichal went against the Reds.

The run came in the third when the San Francisco shortstop singled after hits by Ken Henderson and Jack Hiatt. Just prior to the first hit, Bobby Bonds was robbed of a home run when Atlanta leftfielder Carty leaped high and over the fence to make a sensational catch.

Marichal got an insurance run in the fifth when Tito Fuentes singled and scored on Willie Mays' double to the centerfield fence.

The Giants, who hold a slim half-game lead over Atlanta and Los Angeles, opened a two-game stand against Houston today with Gaylord Perry (17-13) toiling for the hometowners against the Astros' Larry Dierker (19-10).

Cossacks' Home Games In Petaluma

Sonoma State College will play its home football games at Petaluma High School's Durst Field, it was learned today.

The Cossacks, fielding a football team this season for the first time in the school's history, weren't able to get bleachers installed on their field and financial problems indicate there will be none this year. So the SSC eleven will rent Petaluma High's home field.

Thus Durst Field now has seven "tenants." In addition to Petaluma High and Sonoma State, Rancho Cotate, St. Vincent and Tomales high schools and the city's two Pop Warner teams — the Chicks and the Cougars — play their home games there.

Sonoma State opens the season Saturday when it hosts Arizona Western College at 1 p.m.

Sagging A's Move Into K.C.

KANSAS CITY (UPI)—They started tolling the bells over the Oakland A's 10 days ago and now the countdown has reached six.

That means any combination of Minnesota Twins victories and A's losses totalling six will give the American League West title to Minnesota.

That's been a pretty foregone conclusion for awhile now and the A's did nothing to slow the Twins down in a two game set at Minnesota, dropping a 6-3 decision on Monday and an 11-3 count yesterday.

The A's moved into Kansas City today for a two-game series.

Harmon Killebrew hit his 44th homer, a three-run poke in the first, yesterday, and the game was over almost at that early point. But Leo Cardenas and John Roseboro added circuit clouts and the Twins kept right on rolling along.

Jim Nash was tagged for five runs and five hits inside of four innings and took his eighth defeat in 16 decisions.

Indians To End Heavy Drills

STANFORD (AP)—The Stanford Indians planned to conclude heavy contact drills today in preparation for Saturday's home football opener against San Jose State.

Coach John Ralston said work outs were "starting to pick up quite a bit," after yesterday's practice.

Two injured players, defensive back Dick Oliver and fullback Howie Williams, returned to action and are expected to start against San Jose. Williams suffered a hip pointer and Oliver received a whiplash injury in an auto accident.

O.J. A Big Threat As Pass Catcher

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Coach Wally Lemm of the Houston Oilers thinks O. J. Simpson is "possibly a greater threat as a receiver than as a runner."

"He's one hell of a threat," Lemm said yesterday after viewing a film of Simpson's performance with the Buffalo Bills against the New York Jets last Sunday, his first regular season pro game.

Lemm said the fabled running back from Southern Cal should make the Oilers' clash with Buffalo a tough game, even though he believes he has the best potential Oiler team since he returned as head coach in 1966.

IMPROVED

"Simpson wasn't with the Bills when we beat them 24-7 in August so we know they are improved," Lemm said.

Simpson was limited to 35 yards in 10 carries, including an eight-yard run for his first pro touchdown. But he showed his breakaway ability on two pass receptions for a 64-yard gain and on three kickoff returns for another 68 yards.

Simpson's heroics were not enough, however, as the Bills lost to the world champion Jets 33-19.

Houston dropped the opener against Oakland 21-17 but Lemm said "Oakland had two weeks to prepare for us and came out with some defense patterns we hadn't seen before. We didn't solve our adjustments entirely until we got to the blackboard at halftime."

Lemm said his only line-up change at Buffalo will find eight-year veteran Sonny Bishop at right guard in place of Jim Lemoine, a three-year man, "because we'll need Sonny's greater experience and ability to adjust to situations."

FINAL CUTS

In other developments, National Football League clubs revealed final, no-recall cuts made to reach Monday's 40-man limit.

Minnesota said it had claimed aging quarterback Zeke Bratkowski on waivers from Green Bay where he's serving as an assistant coach. But it's been reported Bratkowski will retire rather than play for the Vikings, and remain on the Green Bay staff.

A Minnesota spokesman said Vikings' General Manager Jim Finks probably will talk to Bratkowski today.

Washington sprung a mild surprise by cutting veteran running back A. D. Whitfield, who gained 72 yards on 17 carries in preseason games. Coach Vince Lombardi also dropped receiver Sonny Randle.

Late Inning Homers Plague Gaylord Perry

Home runs harass the best of pitchers. No pitcher enjoys immunity from the gopher ball. Warren Spahn used to serve them by the score each season. Juan Marichal yields his share each year.

Most home runs are incidental statistics in most ball games. Some are spectacular smashes such as Bobby Thomson's homer in the final game of the 1951 playoffs that made the Giants a pennant-winner over the Dodgers. Every baseball fan knows about Thomson's "shot that was heard round the world."

Less important homers fade in memory. Usually only the batter and pitcher can recall them or the fans who personally witnessed them. Marichal never will forget two homers, one a happy hit, the other depressing.

SEVERAL YEARS ago in Candlestick Park Marichal and Spahn dueled each other for 15 scoreless innings. In the 16th Willie Mays hit a homer off Spahn and Marichal became a 1-0 winner.

A month ago in New York Marichal shutout the Mets for 13 innings. In the 14th he became a 1-0 loser to a homer by Tommie Agee.

GAYLORD PERRY now is plagued by the memory of recent homers that beat the rangy righthander of the Giants in late innings. Donn Clendenon hit a 10th inning homer in Candlestick Aug. 30 to beat Perry 3-2 for the Mets. Denis Menke beat him in the Astrodome 2-0 Sept. 5 with a two-run ninth inning homer. And last Saturday in Candlestick Lee May hit Perry for a two-run ninth inning homer and a 6-4 win for the Reds.

May's homer was the 20th off Perry this season. The first one was a grand slam by Felix Millan that beat him in his first 1969 start at Atlanta. Most fans have forgotten that one. Perry, of course, hasn't.

NEITHER HAS he forgotten a pair of homers Jim Wynn hit off him May 2 in the Astrodome for a 3-1 Houston decision nor one Ed Charles hit May 31 in New York for a 4-2 Met win.

Still, Perry, a fierce competitor, has done a good job in not permitting the memory of his game-losing homers to depress him to the point of ineffectiveness.

FOLLOWING the Clendenon and Menke shocks, Perry pulled the Giants out of a skid on their last road trip with a six-hit win over the Reds in Cincinnati. It was his 17th win.

With two weeks remaining in the 1969 season, Perry hopes to bring in three more wins for his second 20-game season. His teammates heartily approve of that because top prize money in this year's World Series is a guaranteed $15,000.

THE OTHER money guarantees of $10,000 to the losing World Series team and $5,000 to division winners have their fascination, too.

Like Holiday For Walker Cup Golfers

SOUTHPORT, England (AP) — The 42-year-old Ryder Cup got around today to the simple question of whether the relaxed rich will win again or will the battling poor pull off an upset.

The 12-man American professional team, which has won $1.5 million this year, scratched around Royal Birkdale's 7,140-yard par 74 golf course as though on holiday.

There being no money at stake, they acted like kids—except for one.

Jack Nicklaus, 29, of Columbus, Ohio, who already is rich but made the Ryder Cup team for the first time only this year crushed Birkdale's punishing back nine in six under par yesterday afternoon and then promptly went back to the practice tee.

"I've had no match play competition since the Walker Cup a long time ago and I want to prove myself on this," the blond bomber said.

Sam Snead, the nonplaying American captain, watched the practice just to decide as he said "who to leave out and who to leave in."

That means which formation the Americans will present in foursome, four-balls and singles matches from tomorrow to Saturday in the Anglo-American competition unique in golf history.

The British, spurred by Scottish captain Eric Brown, sharpened their games in serious, dour fashion.

The Americans relaxed.

BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Juan's Fantastic Candlestick Record

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bacon and eggs . . . ham and swiss . . . lettuce and tomatoes. None of them go together as well as Juan Marichal and Candlestick Park.

Marichal, the high-kicking right-hander, pitched the San Francisco Giants into first place in the National League's hectic West Division race last night, beating Atlanta 2-0 on a four-hitter.

It was routine, almost automatic for Marichal, who is virtually unbeatable in Candlestick Park. The victory gave him a 13-1 record at home this season. He is 19-10 over-all, meaning away from home. Juan's mark is a somewhat mediocre 6-9.

SCORES

Elsewhere in the National League yesterday, Chicago tripped Montreal 5-4, San Diego drubbed Houston 8-1, Pittsburgh downed Philadelphia 9-5 and Los Angeles swept a doubleheader from Cincinnati, winning the opener 2-1 and taking the nightcap 3-2 in 12 innings. New York's game at St. Louis was postponed by rain.

In the American League, New York nipped Detroit 7-6 in 13 innings, Kansas City trimmed Seattle 2-1, Minnesota blasted Oakland 11-3, Cleveland clipped Boston 5-2, Baltimore blanked Washington 1-0 and Chicago took a doubleheader from California 7-4 and 3-2.

TO SECOND

L.A.'s sweep moved the Dodgers into second place, one-half game behind the Giants and one percentage point ahead of the Braves.

Wes Parker drove in all three Dodger runs in the nightcap victory including the winner on a 12th inning single after Ted Sizemore had doubled and reached third on a fielder's choice.

The Dodgers rallied for two runs in the ninth inning to take the opener. The first run scored on a bases-loaded walk to Willie Crawford and the second on Johnny Bench's throwing error as the Cincinnati catcher attempted an inning-ending double play.

San Diego dealt another jolt to Houston's waning hopes, tagging the Astros with their sixth consecutive loss. Tommie Sisk coasted on a seven-hitter with Nate Colbert and rookie Ron Slocum slamming home runs.

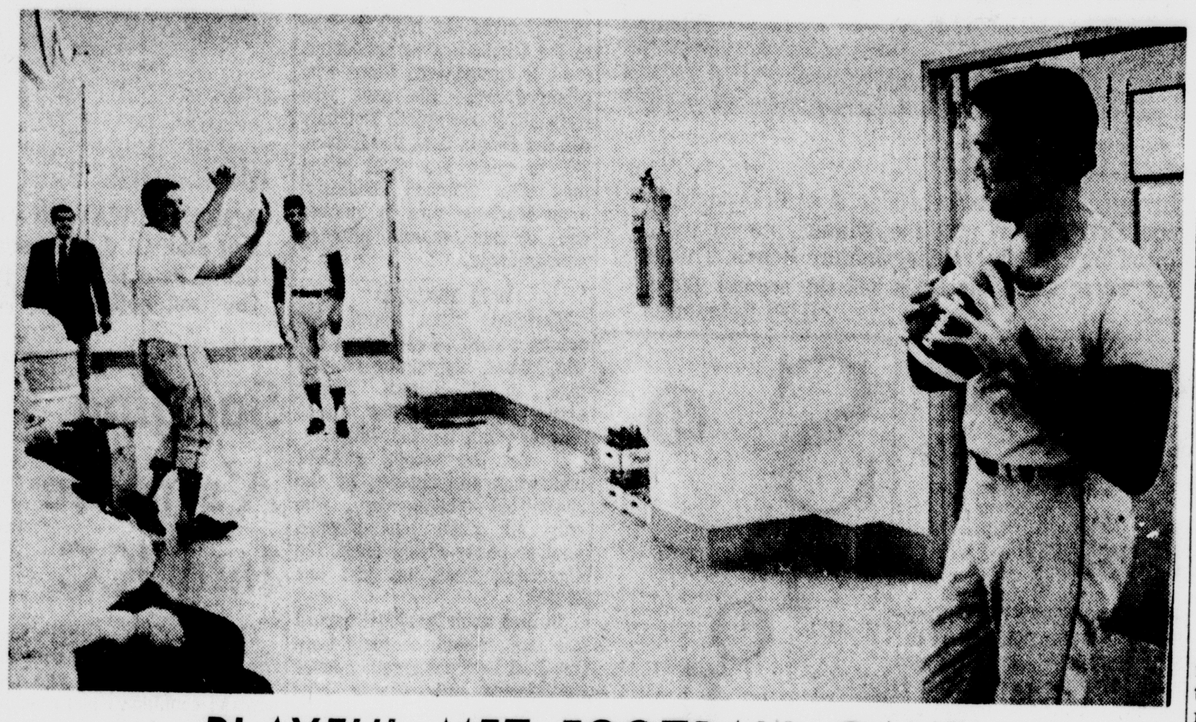
SIX OUT

The loss left the fifth place Astros six games behind the Giants with just 16 games remaining.

Chicago used home runs by rookie Oscar Gamble and veteran Billy Williams to beat Montreal. The victory combined with the Mets' rainout at St. Louis, moved the Cubs back to within four games of New York. The Mets' magic number remained at 11.

Pittsburgh used a 13-hit attack including homers by Jose Pagan and Al Oliver to whip Philadelphia. Matty Alou tagged three hits and Bob Moose, 11-3, struck out 13 Phillies for the victory.

Johnny Callison homered for the Phillies.



PLAYFUL MET FOOTBALL GAME

A trio of New York Mets playfully wait out the rain in St. Louis with a game of indoor football as quarterback Art Shamsky fades back to hit end Tom Seaver with a pass, while defensive back Duffy Dyer just watches. The rain never did stop and the game was postponed. (UPI Telephoto)

Raiders Report No Injuries

OAKLAND (UPI) — Coach John Madden says his Oakland Raiders emerged from their victory over Houston "quite well physically." He said yesterday that the club will be healthy for Saturday night's contest against the Miami Dolphins.

Madden praised strong-side safety Howie Williams for his play against the Oilers in the league opener Sunday. The Raiders, hit by injuries in their defensive backfield, had planned to start rookie Jackie Allen. But Madden brought Williams up from the taxi squad and the 32-year-old veteran stymied the Oilers' game plan by blanketing their tight end Alvin Reed.

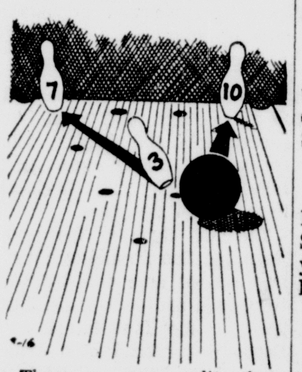
BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG



There are some splits that can be converted with a little nerve and maybe some luck. One of those is the 3-7-10. Hit the 3-pin on the right side. It may bounce into the 7, while your ball picks up the 10. If the shot is successful, think of the thrill you'll get.

THE LONG WAIT

Al Kaline Feels For Ernie Banks

NEW YORK (UPI)—Al Kaline feels for Ernie Banks.

He knows what it is to wait. And wait. And wait.

For Al Kaline the wait ended one year ago tonight. Maybe you remember that night. It was the night the Tigers officially assured themselves the 1958 American League pennant by beating the Yankees, 2-1. It was also the night Kaline was assured his first taste of a World Series after 16 frustrating seasons.

MORE WAITING

For Ernie Banks it's beginning to look as if he may have to wait some more and that's rather said because he has gone 17 years already without being in a World Series, he'll be 39 in four months and if there is such a thing as a ballplayer earning the right to play in a World Series, then Ernie Banks earned that right a long time ago.

It says something for Ernie Banks that a majority of the other ballplayers are rooting more for him personally to make it than they are for the Chicago Cubs.

Al Kaline doesn't care to put himself in the middle between the Cubs and Mets—"I have friends on both clubs"—but he'd be less than human if he wasn't pulling for Ernie Banks a little bit.

He is.

"You have no idea how much respect I have for Ernie Banks," Kaline says. "I think he's one of the finest advertisements for baseball. Everybody knows what a fine person he is. Always cheerful and full of optimism. I remember him at the (World Series) games last year. I believe he was doing some commentating for a Chicago radio station. I had a chance to say a few words to him and I could see he was enjoying the series atmosphere."

BIG SERIES

Al Kaline had an excellent series against the Cardinals. He batted .379, knocked in eight runs with two homers, two doubles and seven singles and had a great deal to do with the Tigers winning the world championship. Consequently a number of stories were written about him during and after the series.

"A lot of nice things were said about me, and about me waiting a long time," Kaline says. "When I read the stories, Ernie Banks' name came into my mind. I thought about how he had waited as long as I did and he still hadn't gotten into a World Series."

Oilers' Coach Blasts Raiders' Home Field

HOUSTON (UPI) — Wally Lemm, head coach of the Houston Oilers, thinks he has found the worst playing field in professional football.

Lemm, though he said he was not making excuses about his teams 21-17 loss to the Oakland Raiders last Sunday, said the dusty baseball infield at one end of Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum made footing difficult for his players.

"It's the worst pro football field I've ever seen," he said.

Lemm said Oilers defensive back Zeke Moore slipped on the grassless ground where a pitchers mound used to be and the man he was covering, Raider Warren Wells, caught the pass and went for a touchdown. The score turned a 17-14 Oiler lead into a win for Oakland.

Lemm said a little grass in that area might have kept Moore from falling.

The Houston coach also complained about a sandy area extending out of one end zone to the 15-yard line. He said wide receiver Mac Haik slipped in the dust as he tried to cut on a crucial pass pattern during the Oilers final possession. The Houston team had a second and 10 inside the Raider 30-yard line with less than two minutes to play.

Puck Means Luck

DENVER (AP) — One swing of a hockey stick won a new automobile for Charles Horner, 19-year-old junior college student from the Denver area. He was the first holder of a lucky ticket to knock a puck 120 feet down the ice and into a six-inch opening in a rectangle of plyboard fastened over the goal. This was a regular feature between periods of Denver Spurs games in the Western Hockey League.

All-Time Grid Team Announced

NEW YORK (AP) — Harold "Red" Grange is the only unanimous choice on the modern all-time college football team named today by the Football Writers of America.

Grange ran to college football immortality from 1923 through 1925 as Illinois' Galloping Ghost.

Just one vote shy of unanimous selection was Bronislaw "Bronko" Nagurski who starred at tackle for Minnesota from 1927-29.

Only one player on the team played his college ball after 1940—Jim Parker, Ohio State guard from 1954-56.

Other members of the team are ends Bennie Oosterbann, Michigan, and Don Hutson, Alabama; tackle Frank "Bruiser" Kinard, Mississippi; guard Bob Suffridge, Tennessee; center Mel Hein, Washington State, and backs Sammy Baugh, Texas Christian; Jay Berwanger, Chicago, and Ernie Nevers, Stanford.

Steve Wynne Will Report From Sonoma

Steve Wynne, former sports writer for the Petaluma Argus-Courier, has joined the Independent-Journal's Petaluma news bureau as sports correspondent for Southern Sonoma County.

Wynne, a senior at Petaluma High School, joins the staff in time to bring I-J readers complete football coverage at Petaluma, St. Vincent of Petaluma, Sonoma and Rancho Cotate of Rohnert Park high schools in addition to Sonoma State College. He also will cover all other major sports events in the area.

Wynne will share the I-J's Petaluma office with full-time news reporter Bonnie Bard, area circulation manager John Reichard and part-time women's news reporter Gen Huddleston. The Petaluma office is linked via teletype with the San Rafael office.

William Siler serves Southern Sonoma County in display advertising.

The Petaluma bureau's new sports writer resides with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wynne at 21 Juniper Court, Petaluma. Until recently, the 17-year-old Wynne wrote sports for the Argus-Courier on a part-time basis since 1966.

MARIN, SONOMA GOLF NOTES

Club Titles On The Line

By RALPH CHATOIAN

It's club championship time for many of the golf clubs scattered throughout Marin and Sonoma counties, a high point of the golf season.

At Indian Valley Golf Club in Novato, they'll be going into the quarterfinals Sunday, eight golfers surviving first round matches in the Championship Flight.

It will be George Scherba, a former champ, vs. Jim Creighton; Mike Dunham vs. Bud Sparrow; Al Randig vs. Bill Malstrom, and Bob Hachmyer vs. Al DeLucas.

BYRON EGGLESTON will be defending his title at the Mill Valley Men's Golf Club Championship tourney starting Sunday. There will be more than 140 golfers competing in 13 flights. It will be all match play, running four straight Sundays.

THE CHAMPIONSHIP Flight of the Rohnert Park club tourney has been pared to four. Defending champ Barrett Lewis defeated Vern Lull of San Anselmo, 1-up, in the quarterfinals Sunday. Other results were Burl Kroener defeating John Henderson, 2 and 1; Bill Davis defeating Sam Nofziger, 2 and 1, and Don Davis downing Eldon Davis by default.

FIRST ROUND pairings are up for the Marin Country Club Championship tourney, beginning this weekend at the Novato course. Two rounds will be played this weekend, one each Saturday and Sunday, with the final two rounds the final weekend.

New pro Wally Murray of Marin Country Club has brought in two new assistants. Tom Beene has come over from DeAnza Country Club at Borrego Springs, San Diego County, and Jayne O'Connor, a women's golf teacher, came over from Riviera Country Club in Los Angeles, where Murray was head pro.

OVER AT Peacock Gap course in San Rafael, golfers will be moving to the second round of their championship tournament. Pairings for the second round will be John Sterling vs. Gordon Hellwig; Bob Bond vs. Bill Cardinal; Robert Baciocco vs. Bill Breen, and Jack Hurley vs. Sid NuDellman. Defending champ Al Newman has moved to Los Angeles and defending runner-up John D. Culp Jr. has moved out of the area, so the tourney is wide open.

Cardinal, one of the championship flight winners in the first round, is also still on Cloud Nine after scoring a hole-in-one during the Leftie-Rightie tourney last weekend at Incline Village. He used a seven-iron on the 175-yard 15th hole.

BUT CHARLES MERCER, a retired lawyer, thought he'd score his hole-in-one a little closer to home. Mercer, playing in one of the Peacock Gap lower flights, used a two-iron on the 165-yard 16th in the tourney's first round Saturday to score his ace. Merver, who lives at "The Knoll" in Peacock Gap, has been playing golf 47 years and it was his first hole-in-one. It was witnessed by Stan Park and Roger Atkinson.

DON RUMPF, 26, is still trying to get acquainted with his new job as head pro at San Geronimo National course. Former assistant pro at Olympic Club in San Francisco, this is his first job as head pro. He and wife Nancy still live in San Francisco, "but we're looking for a place in Marin," says Rumpf.

EVEN THE GALS are getting in their championship tourneys. At Petaluma Golf and Country Club, defending champ Jan Ley was favored to beat Dede Gilardi in today's finals.

Jan's husband, Gene, and Dr. Wayne Musser are defending their Sorenson Cup team match title as the annual tourney moves into the quarterfinals this weekend at Petaluma. The defending champs have already won their first two matches.

THE WOMEN AT Rohnert Park course have started their new club rolling and have two people running the show. Serving as president are both Mrs. H. V. Stratton and Mrs. Willard Wicklund. Secretary-treasurer is Mrs. Fred Carter.

They held their first tournament yesterday and according to pro Bob Porter, it was the first game of golf for many of them. And by the way, adds Porter, membership is still open.

WINNERS OF the Marin Country Club Invitational Best Ball Twosome tourney for women were Mrs. Tom Major and Mrs. Betty Hanson, their Friday score of 252 doing the job. Runners-up were Mrs. Robert Vannucci and Mrs. Jean Marchant, 255.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Where Did South Leave The Straight And Narrow Path?

You don't have to call out the bloodhounds to detect the criminal in today's hand: South is clearly the criminal. But get out your magnifying glass to make sure that you spot exactly where he left the straight and narrow path.

Opening lead — ♣ Q

TRUMP SETUP

West opened the queen of clubs, and South won with the ace in order to lead a low trump as quickly as possible from his own hand. West took the ace of spades and led the jack of clubs.

Declarer played the king of clubs from dummy, and East ruffed. South still had to lose a club and a diamond, and he was eventually down one.

All of the evidence is in. Decide for yourself, before you read on, how South should have played the hand and where he committed his crime.

CORRECT TRUMP PLAY

It was correct for South to lead the first trump from his own hand. This made West accept only small trumps for his ace, leaving it possible for South to draw the jack and the ten of spades with dummy's queen and his own king.

If South had led the first trump from dummy he would have made the natural play of the king from his own hand, losing to the ace. Then East would have a natural trump trick, with either the jack or the ten.

South was in such a hurry to get to his own hand for a trump lead that he won the first club in the wrong hand. The correct play is to win the first trick with the king of clubs and then get to the South hand with the ace of hearts. This puts South in position to lead a low trump from his hand.

NO DAMAGE

West takes the ace of trumps and leads the jack of clubs, but East can do no damage. If East ruffs, he gets only South's losing club, not a high club. The contract is safe, and nobody would call South a criminal.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player bids two clubs.

You hold:
♠ J 10 3
♥ Q 10 5 2
♦ Q 10 5 3 2
♣ 7

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

You would surely raise partner's suit if he had opened with one heart or one diamond, but your support for spades is a bit thin. Some experts would raise to two spades even with this hand, but the majority would pass.

Tobacco Link

SCARBOROUGH, Tobago (UPI)—Tobago's name is a corruption of the word tobacco. One version of its origin is that Spanish explorers found Indians growing tobacco on the island and another is that the island is shaped like a typical Indian pipe.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Sept 17, the 260th day of 1969 with 105 remaining.

The moon is approaching its first quarter. The morning stars are Venus and Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1787, the U.S. Constitution was completed in Philadelphia, and signed by a majority of the 55 delegates.

In 1796, President George Washington delivered his farewell address and warned the American people to avoid foreign alliances.

In 1939, Russia invaded Poland, 16 days after Poland had been invaded by Nazi Germany.

In 1968, George Wallace, former governor of Alabama, was nominated for president by the American Independent party.

A thought for the day: British philosopher Bertrand Russell said, "A good society is a means to a good life for those who compose it; not something having an excellence on its own account."

Popular Names

HELSINKI (UPI)—Marja is the most popular girl's name in while Kari is the most popular among boys. Other popular names for girls: Pirjo, Riitta, Tuula, Anne, Eija, Tarja, Merja, Piivi and Leena; for boys: Markku, Hannu, Jukka, Timo, Juha, Jari, Pekka, Matti and Ari.

Piano Saves Day

LONDON (UPI)—A bride waited half an hour outside St. Peter's Church while the vicar tried to force open the locked church organ. The couple finally decided to settle for "Here Comes the Bride" on the piano.

Although certain press and office equipment of Trans Rotary Co., 580 Irwin Street, San Rafael, goes up for auction Saturday at 10 a.m., printing operations of owner William Shirley are not being discontinued.

In order to settle certain major obligations, Shirley recently elected to go voluntarily in the Board of Trade and liquidators are disposing of some equipment. He owns the building at 580 Irwin and will put up about 7,200 square feet of this for lease, retaining the rest for his printing business which still includes the Holiday Magic account.

Meanwhile he is establishing his sales office and headquarters at 681 Market Street, San Francisco, under the corporate name, Trans Forms, Inc.

MARIN COUNTY real estate sales were down again in August.

Almost paralleling July, the monthly total of August reported multiple listing sales was $7,378,418, down from $10,055,524 for the same month a year ago and a 26.6 per cent drop. (July was down 28 per cent).

Completed sales totaling $7,522,387 were also down from $8,973,797 a year ago, but due to a margin built up during the first six months of this year, 1969 completed sales to date are still ahead ($51 million to $44 million).

WILLIAM M. ROTH of Ross has been elected a director of Norton Simon, Inc. of Fullerton. He was board chairman of Pacific National Life Assurance Co., San Francisco, before entering government service in 1963 as deputy special representative for trade negotiations in Washington, D. C., with the rank of ambassador. Appointed special representative in 1967, he held this post until last January. He is currently a director of Pacific National Life.

Dyna-Growth is engaged in the development, construction and sale of convalescent hospitals and apartments. It will operate as a wholly owned subsidiary of Congeneric, with Meislin retaining his present post.

INSURANCE: Michael G. Bunker and Walter O. Johnson, field underwriters with Mutual of New York at Northgate Industrial Park, have qualified for the company's Career Conference next week in New York. . .

BECAUSE OF A SHORT vacation period, there will be no Other People's Business column in this space until sometime next week.

NIXON'S CHOICE — Dean Burch, Tucson, Ariz. lawyer who managed Sen. Barry Goldwater's presidential campaign, has been nominated as chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, a $40,000-a-year post. President Richard M. Nixon announced the selection yesterday, along with that of Kansas radio executive Robert Wells to fill another FCC vacancy. (UPI Telephoto)

Flap Over Equipment Ironed Out

In the wake of a mixup yesterday which delayed a Black Students Union forum, the student government at College of Marin issued new policies taking over authority for issuing public address equipment for student functions.

The BSU forum, which is continuing through the week, was held up yesterday because the union was unable to get microphones and loudspeakers without clearance of student adviser David Garber, who was at a meeting.

The BSU went to the council where the problem was argued out. The council ordered that students and student groups can use facilities in the student center with clearace of Ron Davis, center commissioner.

A second resolution said use of audio-visual equipment will be open to all students and student groups if one member of the group takes responsibility for the equipment.

The council said it will buy public address equipment solely for student use as soon as possible.

The council also passed a rule on distribution of pamphlets and printed material on campus. It says students and student groups may distribute any free material on campus, but sale of material will require approval of the executive council. The rule formalizes what has been an unwritten practice.

Nevada School Bus Flips; 22 Injured

RENO, Nev. (UPI)—A school bus carrying 50 children overturned today near Washoe Lake 15 miles south of here.

Twenty-two youngsters were taken to Washoe Medical Center here for treatment, mostly for cuts and bruises.

To Transit Panel

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Richard M. Nixon today named a Republican Arizona state senator, Mrs. Isabel A. Burgess, to the $38,000-a-year post on the National Transportation Safety Board, succeeding Joseph H. O'Connel, who resigned.

TV Set Stolen

A burglar who climbed through a window at the home of Geraldine K. Nowell of 209 Julia Street, Almonte, last Wednesday took a portable color television set valued at $250 apparently wrapped up in a bedsheet, sheriff's officers said today.

Expensive Burglary

Burglars who crawled through a bedroom window at the home of Emmy G. Miller fo 463 Live Oak Drive, Tamalpais Valley, last Wednesday took a stereo-radio set, portable television set, transistor radio, .44-caliber revolver and 100 record albums, sheriff's deputies said today.

Manzanita School Looted Of Items

Several windows and doors were broken and several pieces of equipment were stolen at Manzanita School last night, deputies at the Marin City Sheriff's substation reported today.

Preliminary reports said one 16-millimeter projector, an adding machine and two typewriters were taken but the inventory of the recently refurbished school's property was still underway.

In addition, deputies said, thieves broke at least one window and kicked panels out of three doors.

Logging Protesters Get Charges Dropped

Criminal charges against four persons arrested last spring during protests of logging on the Righetti Ranch on Bolinas Ridge have been dismissed by the district attorney's office, the lawyer for the protesters said today.

Robert P. Praetzel said that Bruce B. Bales, district attorney, had dropped misdemeanor charges "in the interest of justice" after discussion of the cases set for trial tomorrow.

"We had planned to call the board of supervisors and others as witnesses at the trial," Praetzel said.

(The supervisors recently blasted the logging operation, calling it a mess yesterday asked for checks on erosion control and fire safety regulations. See story page 10.)

"The jury probably would have hung medals around the necks of the defendants after we had shown them the situation on the ranch," Praetzel continued.

Those charged with failing to yield the right of way to vehicles and failure to disperse were Gillian LeProvest Baxter, 18; Michael Alan Bond, 26; Lorraine Barrow, 35, and Leslie Allen Ferris, 18, all of Bolinas.

Marijuana Case To Superior Court

William Stephen Weir, 29, of Covello, Mendocino County, was bound over to Marin Superior Court yesterday on a charge of possessing marijuana, to appear Monday for arraignment.

Weir, who originally gave his name as Stephen Michael Miller, was arrested Sept. 8 by the California Highway when officers saw him writhing on the ground along Highway 101 near San Pedro Road.

Chicagoans Sue Auto Companies Over Pollution

CHICAGO (AP) — A $3-billion damage suit has been filed against the Big Three auto manufacturers, charging that they conspired to delay development of antipollution devices on cars, trucks and buses.

The suit filed yesterday in U.S. District Court alleged that Chrysler Corp., Ford Motor Co., and General Motors Corp. had conspired since 1953 to "restrain trade in the distribution of motor vehicle air pollution control equipment."

A similar suit was filed in California by the Justice Department last January. But Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell announced last Thursday in Washington that agreement on a consent decree had been reached in that case, which in effect amounted to abandonment of the suit.

Defendants in the government action in U.S. District Court in Los Angeles were the Big Three, American Motors Corp., and their trade association, the Automobile Manufacturers Association.

METER SHOPPING PROPOSAL

Pay A Dime, Get A Dime Back

By JOANNE GRANT

A proposal to provide free parking in downtown San Rafael while doubling the city's revenue from the meters involved sounds almost too good to be true.

But the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, which is promoting the idea, believes it will work, and a host of downtown merchants are backing it.

The plan calls for changing meters in the shopping area from 5 cents to 10 cents an hour and adding a token-return mechanism.

Then, when a shopper inserts the dime, a token, probably a golden circle, would pop out. The token would be redeemed when purchases are made in participating stores.

Charles W. Try, manager of the San Rafael J. C. Penney Co. store and chairman of a chamber committee working on the proposal, estimated it would cost merchants about one-half of 1 per cent of their gross revenue.

Costs for changing parking meters would be absorbed by the increase in price per hour, he added.

More definite statistics on costs and results are expected soon with a visit of the manufacturer's representative planned to discuss the program with the city.

The idea originally came from the late City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen, Glenn Adair, manager of the chamber, said. Anderson had apparently read of other cities which are using the system.

In the last fiscal year, San Rafael parking meters brought in $113,577. The change would involve about half of them, and increase total revenue to about $163,000, Adair estimated.

Chamber officials reported merchants are ready to go for the plan and a random sampling of Fourth Street businessmen confirmed the report.

Only one of several merchants surveyed indicated displeasure with the idea.

Men's clothier Carl Schwartz objected on the grounds "a dime doesn't mean that much." He wondered if people would be embarrassed to ask to have their parking money returned.

He suggested instead picking up overtime parking tickets — "a much better gesture," he contended.

He and other merchants also suggested increasing the time limit on some of the meters so shoppers wouldn't have to leave in the middle of a shopping trip.

Following the visit of the manufacturer's representative, the proposal is expected to go to the chamber board of directors for a final decision before the city council is asked to act.

Prices of all farm products have risen 5 per cent over 1968, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reports.

Docking Grants Pardon To Inmate

TOPEKA, Kan. (UPI)—Gov. Robert B. Docking today pardoned Frank Sawyer, 70-year-old Kansas State Penitentiary inmate serving time for a bank robbery confessed to by the once-notorius Alvin Karpis.

Sawyer, serving a 20-to-100-year sentence for the holdup of a Fort Scott, Kan., bank in 1932, said he was innocent of the crime.

Karpis, a former member of the Ma Perkins gang, said in an affidavit to Kansas authorities that he participated in the robbery and Sawyer did not.

Karpis was released last year from federal prison at McNeil Island, Wash., and is living in Canada.

Woman Accused Of Auto Theft

A 19-year-ol d Forest Knolls woman, Victoria Ann Wilson, was arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on a car theft charge, but no charge was filed against Richard Sheldon Knowles, 17, of San Rafael, who was arrested with her Monday.

Miss Wilson's case was continued until today for entry of plea.

The pair was stopped in a Volkswagen bus reported stolen from San Francisco but Knowles told officers that, although he knew Miss Wilson, he was just a hitchhiker.

COLLEGE SHOW—Actor Jack Aranson will present "The World of Dylan Thomas" in a one-man show at 8:15 p.m. Friday in the Fine Arts Theater at the College of Marin. The performance will open the college's new season of concerts and lectures.

Sausalito School Bloc Organizing

Organization of a new citizen group in Sausalito School District, called Citizens for Excellence in Integrated Education, was announced today.

It is not a booster group, but is intended to weld together those who are dissatisfied with the present course of the school district for various reasons, according to Barbara Nelson, chairman.

"For some time now, many people in the Sausalito School District have been dissatisfied with the implementation of a goal they set for themselves four years ago," she said. "That is, to make available excellent, integrated education for all children in the district.

"If all the people who have been dissatisfied in the past could join with the people who are dissatisfied now, there'd be no question that they could decide a course of action that would better see their aims carried out."

She asked that persons interested in organizing for that purpose write her at P.O. Box 245, Sausalito.

Market Robbery Prison Sentence

I-J Special Report

SAN LUIS OBSIPO — A 34-year-old man who said he lived in San Rafael has been sentenced in San Luis Obispo County Superior Court to a state prison term of not less than five years for the armed robbery of a food market here on June 28.

Billy Ray Jackson, who gave an address on Stevens Place, was sentenced Monday by Judge Richard F. Harris.

Jackson and Jerome William Jenks, 36, who also gave a San Rafael address, pleaded guilty to the armed robbery. They took $895 and then had a gunfight with officers when cornered.

Jenks was sentenced earlier to a similar term.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

The Specific Meaning Of Felony Conviction

I saved your editorial of May 5, 1965 and on reading it over again, and realizing the many young people facing some sort of punishment at this time, would it not be well to reprint this editorial? Who knows, it may be the deterrent some young person needs.

Mrs. SYDNEY ALEXANDER
San Anselmo

Here is the Independent-Journal editorial which appeared May 5, 1965, reprinted at Mrs. Alexander's suggestion as equally applicable today:

CRIME DOES NOT pay. Honesty is best policy.

These are high-sounding phrases but almost meaningless to a large segment of modern society. The young, in particular, are unimpressed by trite and generalized expressions handed down from the elders. They want specifics. They want to be shown before they will begin to accept any tenet as truth.

A district court judge in Grinnell, Iowa, recently did get down to specifics. Before him stood two juveniles convicted of car theft, a felony. The judge did not pound the table. He gave no prolonged lecture. He did not shout, "Crime does not pay!"

He merely laid out the law in language that youth can understand. We pass it on to you, in the hope that specifics will sink in where generalizations are treated with cynical contempt.

Here, in essence, is what the judge told the juveniles;

YOU STAND CONVICTED of a felony. The record will be here as long as the courthouse stands. No amount of good conduct in the future can ever erase it. Next year, or 10 years from now, or when you are old men, if you are ever called to be witnesses in any court, some lawyer will point his finger at you and ask: "Have you ever been convicted of a felony?"

And you will hang your head and admit that you have . . .

Some day you may have a chance to get into one of the expanding countries of South America, and you apply for a passport. You will not get it. No country will allow you to become a resident.

Your world is, oh so much smaller than it was.

You may seek a position in civil service. On the application blank you will find this question: "Have you ever been convicted of a felony?" Your truthful answer will bar you from examination . . .

IN A FEW YEARS you will be 21 and others of your age will have the right to vote, but you will not. Your father may be a candidate for public office, but you will not be allowed to vote for him . . .

You will be a citizen of your state and country, but you will have no voice in public affairs.

It may be that some day the governor will pardon you and restore your rights, but it is going to be humiliating to ask him. He'll want to know your whole record. It is a bad one.

Your country is calling men to the colors. Its need is such that men are being drafted. But the Army will never accept you, nor will the Navy. Military men are proud of the service; they will not permit it to be debased by enlistments of convicted felons . . .

I AM GRANTING you a parole. A parole is in no sense a pardon. You will report to the men who have accepted your parole as often as they may ask. Your convenience is not a matter of importance.

You will also obey your parents. If your parents send you to bed at 9 o'clock you will go without complaint. You will perform such tasks as are assigned to you. Your parole is a fragile thing.

Should the slightest complaint of your conduct be received, your probation will be revoked immediately and you will begin serving your sentence. You will not be brought back here for questioning or explanations. You will be picked up and taken to prison without notice to you and without delay.

THESE WERE the words of a judge sentencing two young car thieves.

You may sneer at phrases like "Crime does not pay." But let's hope the specifics have a more sobering effect.

"Greetings: You have been chosen by your fellow workers to fight inflation . . ."

THE DRUMMONDS

Republicans Need To Appeal To Youth And Suburbanites

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — The evidence is increasing that Richard Nixon and the Republican Party can't build their political future on a southern strategy.

If Mr. Nixon and his Republicans expect to shed their minority status, they will find that appealing to those who voted for George Wallace for racial reasons will be a delusion and a trap.

They would lose more than they could gain.

If the President expects to lift his squeak-through 43 per cent vote to a durable national consensus capable of keeping the GOP in power for some years, he will have to go where the voters are in the '70s, not just where they were in the '60s.

THE GREAT MAJORITY of voters came to rest last fall at the political center about evenly divided between Hubert Humphrey and Mr. Nixon.

But they are not going to remain that way. A new and commanding voter coalition is within the President's reach — if he doesn't reach in the wrong direction. The principal ingredients are these:

1—The mounting number of young people who, because of the post-World War II baby boom, will be coming to voting age in the early '70s.

2—The relatively affluent, well-educated suburban voter earning $10,000 a year or more. Their numbers are growing fast at a time when 55 per cent of all high school students are going on to college.

In 1968, for the first time, the relatively affluent suburban voters became a major voting bloc in a national election. They accounted for 28 per cent of the electorate. In 1972 they will be more than 35 per cent and by 1976 they will make up over 40 per cent of all voters.

But the often overlooked political reality is that Mr. Nixon and the GOP will repel most of these suburban voters if they try to woo the race-oriented Wallace supporters.

Basing his findings on all the polls on issues taken during the 1968 campaign, pollster Louis Harris gives this profile of the suburban voters:

"The mark of this affluent group is that it is committed to change. These dominantly white people are in favor of open housing, in favor of accommodation with the Communist nations and for compromise in Vietnam, and are highly tolerant of student, hippie and antiwar demonstrations, as well as boys with long hair and girls with short skirts."

AS TO MUCH of American youth, the Republicans could make a grievous mistake if they assume they are Democratic liberal traditionalists hopelessly lost to the opposition. They aren't, in part, because they have benefited from the post-World War II prosperity without having been persuaded during the New Deal and the war that government, not private enterprise, was most responsible for that prosperity. As the Republican Ripon Society points out, "Their philosophy is ours, of impatience with bureaucracies and concerned with the results of social policies."

The number of young people reaching voting age has recently been increasing by one million a year, but in the years immediately ahead they will be increasing by two million a year.

The suburban voter and the young voter are now in the process of becoming the dominant elements in the electorate and neither is resistant to change nor attracted to the Wallace philosophy.

THERE IS LITTLE prospect that Mr. Nixon could draw to the GOP those southern voters and northern lower-middle-class workers who supported Wallace on racial grounds, especially the blue-collar laborers fearful of losing their jobs to Negroes.

President Nixon's progressive, problem-solving approach has the best chance of building a durable coalition on the foundation of the big states where Republican governors already prevail everywhere in the nation except New Jersey and Texas. That's where the voters of the '70s are and that's where Mr. Nixon will have to win if he is to be more than a one-term President.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Townsend Plan Should Be Revived

I am in full accord with Mr. Harvey Anderson, in regard his recent remarks concerning Social Security. It's about time that people who are retired, or about to, should join together and ask for a more equitable rate of benefit.

Most working people don't even live long enough to collect anything. And if they do, must exist like paupers. In the early '30s a plan was proposed by Dr. (Francis E.) Townsend, and in my opinion, should be revived. At present the payment for a lifetime of work is about $150 a minth. How can anyone live on that? The average skilled worker may earn $7,000 to $8,000 per year. Of this amount, he must furnish tools, transportation, etc. There is no room here to acquire large sums of money for his old age. So most of these people work until they drop dead.

ARTHUR ROSCOE
Petaluma.

Letters to "What Our Readers Say" are welcomed. Only letters with signatures and addresses will be considered. Please keep them under 200 words. We reserve the right to cut letters.

(The Townsend Plan, to which reader Roscoe refers, called for payment of $200 per month to all those over the age of 60. It was immensely popular, and "Townsend Clubs" sprang up over the country. The amount, however, was regarded by fiscal experts as excessive at that time, when average income was considerably below $200 per month. — Editor.)

A FOREIGN REPORTER'S VIEW

'End Of Rioting' May Prove Too Optimistic

By RANDAL HEYMANSON
Of the Melbourne Herald

NEW YORK — The Nixon administration, with a weakness for self-congratulation inherited from the administration's of Presidents Kennedy and Johnson, has been smugly proclaiming that the days of major rioting and violence are past.

True, the long hot summer — one of the most unpleasant in many years — has been only meteorologically discomforting. The big cities have been spared arson and looting. However, the National Guard was called out to cool disorders in no less than 40 towns and the New York Times may not be unduly pessimistic in predicting that the administration's "self-serving political statements may go up in smoke."

Even officials in Washington admit to concern about the possibility of renewed violence in the universities and schools now that the academic year is underway for America's seven million students.

THAT THE universities should be regarded as focal points of trouble is something new in American history, and a sad commentary on the corruption of student activism which, in the early '60s, was essentially idealistic in outlook and non-violent in methods.

The tide began to turn in the closing years of the Johnson administration. Since that time most universities have been battlefields.

Qualified administrators refuse to accept college presidencies. There are more than 50 now going begging. Even Columbia, one of America's most prestigious universities, has been unable to persuade anyone to direct it and Dr. Andrew Cordier, a former assistant secretary-general of the United Nations who was called out of retirement as a stopgap, has agreed to stay, despite his age, while the search goes on.

IRONICALLY, THE student revolt, which began in the early '60s as a movement for free speech and civil rights, now threatens freedom of speech and the rights of the majority. Radical white students and black militants disrupt meetings and classes, harass and even assault professors who teach anything that displeases them, deny their right to conduct research without interference, and in their dealings with university administrations, declare that their demands are "non-negotiable."

They reject as naive and outdated the liberal position that scientific and scholarly pursuits must be protected against political interference and passion. Their views are the mirror image of the neanderthal right and, contrary to their claims to be innovators, break no new ground. It has all happened before, notably in Germany during the last years of the Weimar Republic when Nazis and Communists — the youth parties of that day — had more in common with each other than with liberal democracy.

NATURALLY, right-wing politicians are reacting in kind. The New York Times points out that "the old guard and the young radicals, with a strangely shared contempt for intellectual leadership and the democratic process of consensus, may together erode the independence of the universities."

To its credit, the Nixon administration is resisting congressional pressures for repressive legislation. The President believes that the universities can and should solve their own problems.

The noble American tradition of freedom of thought may depend on their solution.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

'Right Of Privacy' Urged In New Attempt At Secrecy

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The question of an individual's right of privacy can be carried to ridiculous extremes at times.

Take for instance, the request of Assemblyman William Campbell, R-Hacienda Heights, for a "blue ribbon committee" to study "the possible detrimental effects of the state Department of Motor Vehicles releasing registrant records to the general public."

This is the same Campbell who was author of a bill earlier this year which would have prevented the department from selling lists of automobile owners to private companies.

THE ASSEMBLYMAN suffered a crushing defeat when he attempted to get legislation through on this subject. His measure was defeated in the Assembly transportation committee, which realized the economic importance of making the lists public.

The department has followed this policy for many years. It allowed private concerns to check its files free of charge at one time, and commenced selling the lists when the traffic got so heavy that it interfered with normal work.

However, the department did not attempt to cut off the supply of information. It merely established a policy of performing the work of looking up names and addresses and charging for them on a cost basis.

CAMPBELL, HAVING lost his battle to halt the free flow of information to the people from the peoples' government, now wants to squelch commercial organizations from obtaining lists of public records from which hundreds of persons throughout the state make a living.

He has asked Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, chairman of the special Assembly committee on state-wide information policy, to investigate the state's sale of motor vehicle registrants, and has indicated he will again introduce his measure to deny the public the right to obtain such lists.

Campbell's theory is that giving the name of a car registrant is a violation of the owner's "right of privacy;" which is about as far out as a legislator can go to drum up an issue against freedom of information.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

A persistent office seeker had been endeavoring unsuccessfully to bribe; bully, or wheedle his way into President Abraham Lincoln's office for weeks, and finally wrote a heart-breaking note to Lincoln begging for an appointment. Lincoln knew the man to be an incompetent bore, and turned down the request with this typically Lincolnian letter:

"When I was young, I was pleased to receive an invitation to a dance; and bought a fine new hat for the occasion. I was among the last to leave the dance, and at the cloakroom the attendant handed me a shabby, battered old hat. I, told him, 'This isn't my hat, sir. I wore a brand new one.' The attendant replied, 'Mr. Lincoln, the new ones were all gone an hour ago.'"

The office seeker never bothered Lincoln again.

Nixon Could Alter Draft Without Changing Law

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — President Nixon has been assured by the experts that he can alter military draft procedures, pretty much to his own dimensions, by executive order and without congressional action.

That is the substance of a joint study prepared for the White House by the Defense Department and the Selective Service System.

Some advocates of draft reform are cautioning; however, that presidential action in the complex field is still uncertain. They will believe it when they actually see the presidential order and resulting directives to local draft boards across the nation.

EARLY IN the summer the President asked Congress to enact draft reforms. He envisioned a system under which 19-year-olds, and older students deferred after four years of college, would face a year's vulnerability to military service, with selection determined by a random choice lottery; rather than the current induction of oldest eligibles first.

Only the proposed lottery system really required action by the House and Senate. President Nixon, like President Johnson before him, has had the power to shift from inducting the oldest eligibles and focus on the 19-year-olds. The military brass have long favored such a shift.

The joint study indicates that the resident could couple a shift to the 19-year-old group with adjustments in the frequency and size of draft calls so as to produce a haphazard, lottery-like process for selecting among the younger eligibles. The effect would be quite similar to the plan recommended to Congress.

For the individual young man, the plan would mean that after a year of draft vulnerability — at about 19 years old or after four years of college — he could be sure, barring an all-out emergency, that he would not have to serve. That sort of assurance might help to quiet the unrest on college campuses.

THE PLAN for presidential action evolved after leaders in the House and Senate made it clear that congressional action was out of the question this year. Some of those congressional experts have long argued that most of the proposed reforms could be effected by the White House.

There are, however, perils and pitfalls for the plan for independent action by the President.

For one thing, there are some technical problems. As draft calls diminished it would be less effective as a random selection system among draft eligibles.

Then there is the question of the position of the unpredictable draft boss, Gen. Lewis B. Hershey. The venerable Selective Service director has been supporting the reform proposals of Presidents Johnson and Nixon, but his enthusiasm for them is much in doubt.

Action by Congress will eventually be required to extend and modify the Selective Service law.

"Polluted thinking could wipe out mankind before air and water get that bad."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By FRANK FARRARA

Survey Of Students Spans Generation Gap—Sort Of

The over-30 crowd recently has been wondering what high school students are thinking, but apparently few have bothered to ask tham.

Field Research Corp. did the asking for a fee supplied by Tamalpais High School District.

They got 704 students — a representative sampling, I gather — to answer questionnaires on various aspects of school life and perhaps even more revealing, current social and political attitudes.

The way it was worked, students didn't express their thinking directly, but agreed, disagreed, or neither to a series of statements.

THIS IS SOMEWHAT limiting, and statistics are never too thrilling, but for the sake of those who won't get to see a report on the survey, here are some of the findings in the realm of society!

"Our country should solve its domestic problems before we police the rest of the world" 80 per cent agree, 6 per cent disagree, others either giving no opinion or no answer.

"Countries should give up national pride in favor of the brotherhood of man": 65 per cent agree, 14 per cent disagree.

"Social rules are bad if they prevent people from doing their thing when they aren't hurting others": 66 per cent agree, 18 per cent disagree.

"The democratic process is too slow for today's problems": 37 per cent agree, 27 per cent disagree.

"Living up to a valid commitment our country makes with another is always worth fighting for": 35 per cent agree, 37 per cent disagree.

"Civil disobedience and breaking the law are never justified": 32 per cent agree, 43 per cent disagree.

"It is often important to do away with a bad system even before you can think of a better one": 31 per cent agree, 45 per cent disagree.

"Resistance to the draft is never justified": 25 per cent agree, 57 per cent disagree.

"An education is important as a way to change things, rather than as a way to make out well in the established system": 51 per cent agree, 17 per cent disagree.

Field Research advised that "such findings, as isolated statements, can be made to appear rebellious," and should be put into context, but conceded that there is "a tendency for students to disagree with and reject the traditional obedient-citizen values."

While the students lean toward involvement in social change, they don't seem willing to accept "solutions" offered by the direct activists, the firm concluded.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

Poll Shows What Areas Students Think Important

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Last spring at Walt Whitman High School in Bethesda, Md., students ran the school for a week. They arranged the classes, brought in guest speakers, introduced such new subject as Israeli folk dancing and current trends in religion.

Generally favorable faculty impressions were reported by the National School Public Relations Association. But there was no suggestion the students should dictate curriculum for the whole year.

Many students think they should, though, and an increasing number of educators urge that students at least be given a voice in curriculum planning.

WHAT KIND of studies would be emphasized if the students planned the program? Some indications were provided last week when Field Research Corp., the organization that conducts the California Poll, reported results of a survey it made for Tamalpais High School District.

The survey was to assess attitudes among students, faculty and community. The sample included about 12 per cent of the enrollees in the district's three high schools.

One section of the questionnaire asked for importance ratings of a list of educational tasks, including subject areas and other matters emphasized by the schools.

The students rated "developing ability to get along with others" as the most important of these, with 72 per cent of those responding calling it "very important."

Next in order of importance in the students' ratings were counseling (68 per cent), developing a spirit of inquiry (63), preparation for jobs (54), and developing a sense of social responsibility (52).

The only subject fields rated very important by more than half the students were English and sciences, each of which received a 51 per cent vote. Humanities were rated very important by 44 per cent, athletics and physical education by 33 per cent, and fine arts by 27 per cent.

NEARLY HALF the faculty members in the district were polled. They gave first priority in importance to developing social responsibility (82 per cent), but followed that with English (77), developing a spirit of inquiry (71), getting along with others (67), job preparation (66), counseling (65), humanities (44), fine arts (41), science (25), and athletics (21).

In the community poll, only about 4 per cent of registered voters were questioned, but they gave far higher ratings to subject matter than did either students or teachers. In the community sample, English was rated very important by 84 per cent to top the list. Sciences (75) and humanities (64) also were rated very important by more than half.

Other "vey important" ratings by the community: developing spirit of inquiry, 79 per cent; developing social responsibility, 76; counseling, 71; job preparation, 66; getting along with others, 64; fine arts, 32, and athletics, 28.

ALTHOUGH FINE ARTS were rated very important by only 27 per cent of the students, 50 per cent of them said art was one of the subjects they found most interesting — the highest for any subject, with history second at 42 per cent. Athletics (36 per cent) and physical education (35) nosed out English composition (34) and literature (33) as subjects of most interest. Only 23 per cent gave top rating to chemistry, 22 per cent to foreign languages, and 14 per cent to physics.

Most of the Tamalpais district students agree with those educators who think there should be more "student power." Sixty-eight per cent said students should have a bigger voice in running the schools than they now have.

Tucked away in the questionnaire was a query as to how much planning of their own futures the students had done. Only 27 per cent said they had definite plans, with 66 per cent checking, "I have some thoughts, but nothing definite."

But of the seniors — polled when they were within a few weeks of graduation from the high school someone else had planned for them — 54 per cent checked, "I have definite plans."

Doctor Sets Interim Policy On Rape Case

Rape victims in Marin will be examined and treated by the counuty medical staff — at least until a definite policy is established — to prevent a recurrence of Monday's fiasco when a Novato rape victim was refused immediate attention.

Dr. Donovan O. Cooke, county medical director said he has instructed his staff to examine and treat rape victims, although he doesn't believe it is a legal responsibility.

However, "as a citizen of the community it is our responsibility," said Dr. Cooke.

He said he planned to contact all of the agencies involved, hospitals, county health officials and law enforcement soon. "We have to work up a definite policy," he said.

He was uncertain where, other than Marin General Hospital, county staff would provide treatment.

The Novato woman, 28-year-old mother of three and the wife of a Vietnam serviceman, told police she was bound, raped twice and robbed by two men.

Police took her to Novato General Hospital where she was refused treatment by two doctors and then to Marin General where a private physician finally agreed to care for her.

The private physician, police said, first established that his fee would be paid. The Marin Medical Society which is investigating the problem said he was misunderstood.

"We find that he simply was trying to clarify whether the patient or the Novato police, who brought the woman to the hospital, would accept the responsibility for payment for her treatment," said Don W. Sower, executive director of the medical society.

Sower pointed out "a physician is free to choose who he serves, unless it's an emergency." He maintained the woman was treated without delay at Marin General "although her case was not a medical emergency."

Jury Convicts Brothers In Brutal Novarro Slaying

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two young brothers were convicted of first-degree murder today in the brutal slaying last year of Ramon Novarro, last of the dashing Latin lover the the silent screen.

The seven-man, five-woman jury returned the verdict against Paul Ferguson, 23, and his brother Thomas, 18, soon after beginning its second day of deliberation.

The brothers, from Chicago, maintained their innocence throughout the trial before Superior Court Judge Mark Brandler. Each blamed the other for the 69-year-old actor's death.

Novarro's nude, bound body was found last Oct. 31 in a blood-spattered bedroom of his luxirious $150,000 home in suburban Studio City.

Police said he had been bludgeoned with a cane he kept as a memento from one of his movies. He suffocated in his own blood, officers said.

The younger brother will receive an automatic life sentence because he was a minor, 17 years of age, when the crime was committed. The elder brother faces a penalty of either life imprisonment or death in the gas chamber. The penalty will be set by the same jury.

The Fergusons were arrested after police traced long-distance telephone calls from the Novarro home the night before his body was found.

Deputy Dist. Atty. James Ideman contended the brothers intended to rob the aging actor, then tortured him when he persisted in saying he had no money hidden.

Paul Ferguson testified that on the night of Novarro's death he passed out on a sofa after drinking too much. He awakened, he said, when his younger brother told him, "This guy is dead."

When Thomas took the stand, he told the exact opposite story. He testified he made a long-distance call while Paul fought with the actor. He said he found his older brother standing over the body.

Thomas said at first he tried to take the blame to shield his brother, but that when court testimony indicated Novarro had been beaten with a cane, "it turned my stomach against Paul."

Paul denied that he and his brother had tried to rob Novarro.

He said that during dinner at the actor's home Novarro talked of a potential movie career for the elder brother as a superstar, "a young Burt Lancaster . . . another Clint Eastwood."

A defense psychiatrist testified early in the trial that the brothers had told him Thomas beat Novarro after the actor made improper advances.

From instant fame as the chariot - driving "Ben Hur" in 1925, Novarro became the last of the silent screen Latin lovers. In recent years he had taken bit parts on television.

Shortly before his death he had been working on a book of his life in which he promised to "tell everything."

Mideast Crisis Talks To Renew

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. and Soviet governments have agreed to resume discussions of the Middle East crisis in New York tomorrow, a State Department spokesman said today.

The New York meeting will be held by sst. Secretary of State Joseph J. Sisco and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin who originally began the talks on the Israeli-Arab crisis in Washington early this year.

State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey said Sisco and Dobrynin were trying to arrange their meeting for 1 p.m. tomorrow. He thought it would be at either the U.S. or Soviet delegation, United Nations headquarters.

Another Hike In Discount Rate

BRUSSELS (UPI)—The Belgian National Bank today announced a 0.50 per cent increase in its discount rate to 7.5 per cent as of tomorrow.

It was the fifth bank rate raise this year. Previous hikes upped the rate from 4.50 in December 1968, to 7 per cent on July 31.

The move followed by one week a 1 per cent increase in the German bank rate which went up from 5 to 6 per cent last Thursday.

Novatans Find A Rabid Skunk

A rabid skunk was found Saturday in a Novato pasture near Wilson Avenue and 200 Mill Road, reported Marin County health officer Carolyn B. Albrecht.

Dogs and other household animals in the area should be vaccinated, urged Dr. Albrecht. There was no human contact with the skunk but the health department is unsure of animal contact.

This is the third rabid animal found in the County this year: In July a rabid steer was found near the Point Reyes National Seashore and a skunk in the Indian Valley area of Novato.

Low Income May Reduce Expected Federal Surplus

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lower-than-expected income may reduce the federal budget surplus below the target figure of $6 billion this year, the Budget Bureau said today.

In its tentative seasonal review of the budget, the bureau estimated a surplus of $5.9 billion will remain when the fiscal year ends next June 30. That would be a $400-million reduction from the estimate of $6.3 billion made last April. Last year the surplus was $3.1 billion.

A surplus of about $6 billion is essential to fight against inflation, the government contends but a spokesman said no major conclusions should be drawn from the $5.9 billion.

"These figures are as close as you can come and they're all guess work," he said.

The bureau assumed in making the estimate that Congress will extend the income surtax from January to June at 5 per cent and will accept all of the administration's tax reform recommendations.

The administration's budget watchers say spending still will go no higher than the $192.2 ceiling President Richard M. Nixon set in April. But income, instead of totaling $199.2 billion as predicted in May, will be $198.8 billion.

The largest single reduction in income is in the estimated yield from corporate income taxes.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Several Forms Of Lung Cancer Not Related To Cigarette Smoking

We recently received a letter from Mrs. H. G. who is tired of hearing people harping about cigarettes. "It hasn't been proven that they cause cancer or heart trouble. Furthermore, a friend of mine just found out she has cancer in both lungs and throughout her bloodstream and she never smoked a cigarette in her life. I have had a heart condition for years and do not smoke now and never have smoked. One gets a little tired of hearing these unfounded threats all the time."

VAN DELLEN

The decision to smoke or not to smoke should be made by each and every individual. This woman should read Dr. Harold S. Diehl's new book, Tobacco and Your Health: The Smoking Controversy (McGraw-Hill Book Company, New York.)

DR. DIEHL wrote it because he was surprised how many people were ill informed on the subject. His purpose was to explore many of the questions concerning cigarettes that still trouble smokers and nonsmokers alike. He also discusses in depth the cleverness of advertising campaigns that promote the habit and the misleading propaganda of those whose interests are strictly on a financial basis.

There are different forms of lung cancer and some are unrelated to smoking. The type described in the letter has all the earmarks of a malignancy that began elsewhere in the body and spread to the lungs via the lymph passageways and bloodstream. It may have originated in the uterus, gastrointestinal tract, or breast. The lung cancer caused by smoking is in the wall of the bronchus where the irritation occurs. It is not in the lung tissue along the edge of the chest nor do the cancerous lesions arise in other organs.

IN ADDITION, many forms of heart disease are unrelated to tobacco. These include congenital heart defects, rheumatic heart disease, subacute bacterial endocarditis, and syphilitic involvement of the aorta and aortic valve. On the other hand, government statistics show that cigarette smokers have a higher death rate from coronary artery disease than do nonsmokers.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

MANY REASONS FOR FAINTING

Y. N. writes: Can blackouts be due to a heart condition even though numerous electrocardiograms are normal?

REPLY

Yes. Not all heart conditions that cause blackouts can be diagnosed via the electrocardiogram. Certain heart blocks tend to come and go and they cannot be detected unless the EKG is attached a moment or two before the blackout occurs. Furthermore, fainting has many origins, the least common of which is heart disease.

FOOD, NOT SURGERY

Mrs. M. writes: I would like to know if a woman who has had gallbladder surgery can keep from gaining weight. I had this operation two years ago and have put on a few pounds since then — 20 pounds, to be exact.

REPLY

Don't blame the operation. Possibly you are eating too much because you feel better. Eat one-third less than you do or consult your medico for a low-calorie diet.

SALT NOT ABSORBED

O. O. writes: Is salt absorbed by the body while bathing in sea water?

REPLY

No. On the other hand, the average swimmer is bound to swallow small amounts.

First Business For Industrial Park Approved

The Petaluma Planning Commission last night approved the use permit and site design for Colloidal Products Corp. As the first business at the Petaluma Industrial Park.

The business, which will abandon its Sausalito headquarters, will be located on a four-acre site at 1300 North McDowell Boulevard.

The firm manufactures nontoxic agricultural spray additives.

Construction is scheduled to begin in December with occupancy by April.

The Petaluma Planning Commission also:

SUBDIVISION — Approved the final map for the Castlewood subdivision planned by Cherry Valley Estates, off Schuman Lane. The approval was subject to final rezoning of the land.

DUPLEX — Approved the site design for a duplex at 607 Fourth Street planned by Lorraine Smith.

SALES OFFICE — Approved the site design of a sales office and open wood deck display area at 741 Petaluma Boulevard South planned by Henris Supply.

USE REVIEW — Reviewed use permit conditions of a beauty salon at 1617 Jeffrey Drive operated by James and Barbara Zurcher. Neighbors had complained about parking problems caused by patrons. Possible revocation was dropped when Zurcher said they planned to move the shop to the Petaluma Plaza when completed.

PLAN LINES — Set a public hearing for Oct. 7 at 7:30 p.m. on the proposed Washington Street plan lines.

Debbie Reynolds Bows In A Bread-And-Butter Show

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — NBC-TV's Debbie Reynolds series, a half-hour comedy that had its premiere Tuesday night, is simply an attempt by the network to add a bread-and-butter show to its schedule.

It is a straight situation comedy, with plenty of slapstick, that is obviously trying to follow in the tradition of the Lucille Ball series. It is, in fact, the kind of series one would normally expect to find on Miss Ball's network, CBS-TV, rather than on NBC-TV.

But NBC-TV knows it has a pretty surefire thing in Miss Reynolds, who is cut to form for just such a show, being "cute" in the popular sense, an adept comedienne, wholesome in the old girl-next-door way, and pre-sold as a film star.

So it was hardly likely that NBC-TV was going to mess around with anything experimental or unique involving Miss Reynolds, or, for that matter, that the comedienne would have wanted to try anything unique or experimental.

There is, therefore, really nothing much to say about Miss Reynolds' show, in which, married to a sports columnist, she repeatedly tries to prove her ability to become a newspaper feature writer. It should be made clear that this is a domestic comedy above all, not a newspaper comedy.

In the premiere, Miss Reynolds disguised herself as a golf caddy in attempting to land a "scoop" I believe that is the word used in the press release about the show. The half-hour got a few good moments out of the comedienne, but thus far it is not in the "I Love Lucy" league.

Miss Reynolds, however, is a deceptively strong performer — in my opinion one of the truly natural and superior talents in popular show business. And if given the material there is little reason why she cannot be a long-term ratings success. It is, in fact, a good bet, for she definitely has the same kind of appeal as Miss Ball.

Tonight, on CBS-TV Dionne Warwick, an exceptionally fine singer with a glowing inner beauty, has an hour variety special of her own. The only moment that mars it is a tasteless plug for an album. Other than that, however, it is often buoyant and listenable, particularly when composer Burt Bacharach joins Miss Warwick, who has recorded his songs.

George Kirby is of help also, with comedy; the Creedence Clearwater Revival is good too; and Glen Campbell, a ratings booster, works nicely enough with Miss Warwick, although one would have preferred to hear more of her and less of him.

Sets Interviews

Ann Halprin will hold scholarship interviews and preregistration for her teen-age dance class from 4:30 to 6 p.m. tomorrow at the Newman Center at College of Marin, the Marin Dance Co-op has reported.

The origin of the word honeymoon may have come from an old custom of eating honey at the marriage feast.

Breathing Peril Alarms Doctors

NEW YORK (UPI)—With the death rate from bronchitis and emphysema showing an increase of approximately nine times in the past 20 years, this health problem is one of the country's most alarming, according to Robert M. Cooney, C.P.T. coordinator of inhalation of the Catholic Medical Center for Brooklyn and Queens.

At the present rate of increase, approximately 180,000 persons will die of the disease in 1983, according to Cooney. In the light of this estimate by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, modern medical science is seeking ways of control and new methods of treatment.

Garbage Trucks On Way Out?

NEW YORK (UPI)—The garbage truck as we know it may be headed for the scrap heap.

The ultimate solution to the nation's mounting refuse problem will include removal of trash and garbage from the home by pipelines or pneumatic tubes, according to John H. Abrahams Jr., manager of environmental pollution control programs for the Glass Container Manufacturers Institute.

He said studies at Philadelphia and the University of Pennsylvania have proved that refuse can be removed pneumatically from the home and ground up and piped as a slurry to a central collection point.

Bad Salesmanship

STEINKJAER, Norway (UPI)—The Polish seaman who went ashore with a couple of bottles of vodka hidden in a bag will be more careful the next time he tries to sell his illegal moonshine to Norwegians. The first man he approached promptly arrested him and confiscated the liquor. It was the local chief of police.

U.C. Students Learning To Grow Food

(Special to the I-J)

BERKELEY — One hundred and twenty University of California families are learning first hand about agriculture. They have signed up to grow food on 20 by 25-foot plots of University land adjacent to their living quarters in the U.C.-owned Albany Village, near Berkeley.

The project was proposed by the University's College of Agricultural Sciences and is being coordinated by Dr. R. L. Doutt, chairman of the division of biological control for the University. The gardens are designed to give married students and their families in Albany Village a chance to grow their own vegetables — and to give these mostly urban students some experience in food production.

The land has been plowed and prepared by the University's staff. It will be up to the student and his family to plant, cultivate, and harvest his own patch. The University staff will see that the gardens are irrigated, along with the adjoining research plots. The University's cultivation crew will be available to advise the students on planting and culture of their vegetables.

Agricultural Extension and Agricultural Experiment Station circulars on vegetable gardening will be made available. A sheltered bulletin board will be erected to provide information on crops most suitable for planting, best planting dates, and the irrigation schedule.

The land has been made available through the U.C. genetics department, which uses several acres of the tract each year for research. Planting is moved annually to prevent concentration of root diseases in the soil. Usually the land is allowed to lie fallow for a season, but University officials said it certainly would be suitable for a season's use by student gardeners. Harvesting, however, will have to be completed by Oct. 1.

Negro Watchmaker Scores Two Firsts

NEW YORK (UPI)—Benjamin Banneker, the first watchmaker to make a clock in America, also was the first Negro to receive a presidential appointment, according to researchers, for a watch company.

President George Washington appointed Banneker, who was born a free man in Maryland in 1731, to assist in the survey of what was to become Washington, D. C. Banneker, who was also an expert on astronomy, the science on which timekeeping is based, again to issue annual astronomical almanacs, starting in 1791.

Meet The People In Travel By Bus

By BRUCE HANDLER
Associated Press Writer

Pick out any two cities in South America, and the chances are pretty good that you can get from one to the other by bus. Despite the lack of good roads on this huge continent, buses are found just about any place there are people. For millions of South Americans the bus is the only available transportation.

To really "meet the people" in South America, all you have to do is climb on a bus. The person next to you might be a mining engineer in Surinam on his way to inspect a hydroelectric project, an Otavalo Indian in Ecuador with handwoven blankets for sale, or a wealthy grandmother in Argentina on her way to the beach.

The quality of bus service in South America varies with the place. On paved highways between certain major cities, buses often are equipped with reclining seats, heating and a toilet. Some companies even provide piped-in music, stewardesses — even a bar.

But, in the more remote and impoverished sections of the continent, buses are drafty, rattling junkpiles that agonizingly wheeze up and down roads, which often are merely dirt trails.

Except on extremely heavily traveled routes (Rio de Janeiro to Sao Paulo, Brazil, or Buenos Aires to Mar Del Plata, Argentina), bus schedules in South America are wildly unreliable.

Delays can amount to hours — sometimes days.

One Brazilian driver accidentally locked himself and all the passengers out of the bus during a breakfast stop. Bus drivers in the mountains of Peru often don't remember to fill up with gas and oil until all passengers are aboard and anxious to leave.

Another problem is lack of coordination among most bus companies in South America. The people in one city know nothing about bus connections to other cities. The non-native must ask lots of questions.

When the bus stops, roadside vendors converge outside the windows and shove fruit, bread and drinks at the passengers, hoping to make a quick sale before the driver pulls away.

Unlike bus trips in the United States — where one buys a ticket and climbs aboard — South American bus travel can involve lots of red tape. To ride an intercity bus in Peru it's necessary to state your name, age and profession and to show proof of identity.

In Colombia, Ecuador, Peru and Bolivia the police stop buses for spot checks of passengers and baggage. In Chile inspectors board buses to confiscate fruit. In Paraguay, Argentina, Brazil and Uruguay, the authorities usually leave bus travelers alone.

Many South American buses are homemade, while others are imported from the United States, Europe or Japan. The newly independent nation of Guyana has a fleet of leaky wooden buses laughingly called "Luxury Liners."

One company in Peru bought some old U.S. buses, but never bothered to remove the destination markers. Thus, you can ride from Piura to Trujillo, along the northern Peruvian coast, in a bus that says "Tallahassee" over the front window.

THE PENNEY STORY

Mrs. Penney's answer to her husband

By ROBERTA NASH

One day we were up in Mr. Penney's office talking about how hard it is to get "the Penney difference" across to people outside the company. Mr. Penney told this anecdote:

"Once after a very inspiring meeting with store managers, I said to Mrs. Penney, 'You know, I am not yet satisfied that I have ever been able to tell the real story of this company. Why?'

"Mrs. Penney turned to me. 'Because you cannot define the soul,' she answered."
